Budget Accord Reached

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A two-house conference committee today presented the Legislature with a $6.59 billion budget for the next fiscal year which includes $102 million in new funds for schools.

The 1970-71 budget originally proposed by Gov. Ronald Reagan was $6.48 billion. The record spending program for the new fiscal year must be signed into law by midnight Tuesday.

Assemblyman Frank Lanterman, R-La Canada, chairman of the conference committee, said the added funds came primarily from transfering revenue to the general fund from the budgets of proposed construction projects.

"We can't keep on doing that into perpetuity," said Lanterman.

The conference committee also restored a 2.25 per cent cut made by the Senate in the salaries of the University of California and state college professors. But the conference committee refused to restore a five per cent cost of living salary increase which lawmakers earlier had stricken from the spending program.

"They don't get any less," said Lanterman. "They don't get any more."

The 5 per cent salary increase was granted, however, to other state employes.

"The state employes were the ones who had a higher priority," said Lanterman.

SMOKING RUINS OF BOLINAS HOME

Firemen continue to pour water on the ruins of a $28,000 Bolinas home which was destroyed today. The fire in the home at the intersection of Elm and Fern roads reportedly started when a stove exploded at about 9 a.m. Despite the efforts of Bolinas, Stinson Beach and Marin County firemen, the house burned to the ground within a half-hour. The home was owned by James M. Groshong of San Francisco, who was said to have been in the house when the fire began but escaped without injury. (Jeffrey Paganini photo)

Gls Finish Cambodian Withdrawal

Massive Arms Airlift To Phnom Penh Begins

SAIGON (UPI) — The United States today completed withdrawal of U.S. troops from Cambodia a full day ahead of President Nixon's June 30 deadline, military sources reported. At the same time, the United States and South Vietnam began a massive airlift of arms to Phnom Penh.

Informed sources in Phnom Penh said eight American C130s and three South Vietnamese C119 cargo planes arrived at Phnom Penh today with arms and ammunition for the hard-pressed Cambodian army that is still being aided by South Vietnamese troops and U.S warplanes.

The military sources said nearly 1,700 American troops slogged on foot through monsoon mud to cross into South Vietnam from Cambodia's Fish Hook sector northwest of Saigon. They said 300 Ameriacn advisers were still in Cambodia with the 39,000 South Vietnamese still there but would return Tuesday.

Back in Washington, hawkish lawmakers hailed the Cambodian pullout today as evidence that President Nixon knows what he is about in the Vietnam war. Dovish members were glad the operation was over but questioned whether it meant anything.

"I think the Cambodian operation was the most successful military operation of the entire war," said Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., "It shows that those people who criticized the President for going into Cambodia ought to know by now to let the commander-in-chief run the war."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he was not surprised at the Cambodian pull-out, which met President Nixon's deadline.

In a brief session with reporters, Mansfield said, "I fully expected the President would keep his word and all troops would be removed."

The withdrawal came one day before the Senate scheduled a

Wind Gusts Fan Fires, Down Lines And Limbs

Sharp, gusty winds whipped through Marin yesterday, fanning grass fires and causing scattered damage from fallen limbs and downed power lines. Steady 55-mile-an-hour winds were reported atop Mount Tamalpais. Hamilton Air Force Base reported winds of 40 miles an hour.

A grass fire at 12:23 p.m. in Jewell in West Marin burned 50 acres on the Truppman Brothers and Don McIsaac ranches, but no structure was damaged.

Power lines were blown down in Kentfield, Fairfax, and Novato between 3:10 and 3:45 p.m. An outage at 3:18 p.m. cut off electricity to the Joseph H. Sitenauer home, 687 Orange Avenue, Novato.

In Fairfax, the downed lines ignited a grass fire near Maiden Lane Kennels which burned 100 square feet.

Another outage at 10:05 p.m. on Vineyard Road in Novato cut off service to 12 customers for 45 minutes.

The Sonoma-Marin Fair in Petaluma came to a windblown conclusion with carnival tents flapping loose and attendance held down by the weather. Yesterday's parade saw flagbearers struggling to keep their footing and beauty queens trying to save their hairdos.

Fair manager Arthur F. Canavan blamed winds and cool weather for a drop in attendance of more than 5,000 from last year.

A limb blown off a tree on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo at 2:20 p.m. hit a car driven by William Feldman of 250 Redwood Road, San Anselmo, smashing the windshield and denting the roof.

A traffic signal was blown down at the intersection of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Tunstead Avenue in San Anselmo.

In Novato, one tree was broken off and six others bent on Grant Avenue, and branches blown off five trees on Ignacio Boulevard.

Wind aided another grass and brush fire which burned 30 acres in Loma Verde on land owned by the Trousdale Corp.

PLANNED PARENT GROUPS

Their Target—Teen Pregnancies

By C. P. McCARTHY

Marin teen-agers need birth control information and supplies, according to the Planned Parenthood Association of Marin, and Planned Parenthood is providing both.

Last month, 126 teen-agers showed up at the group's San Rafael office for one or the other, and the number is increasing every month, said Thomas A. Knight, executive director.

But apparently enough of them are not going soon enough. In addition to the teen-agers seeking information or contraceptives, 45 young, single women showed up with unwanted pregnancies.

Hoping to cut the number of unwanted teen pregnancies, Planned Parenthood began a program for teen-agers last September.

The program begins with a mandatory "rap" session, in which the teenagers discuss sex, marriage, love, birth control, their parents and other subjects.

Following the rap session, a teen-age girl can make an appointment with a Planned Parenthood doctor for medical examination. About half of them do.

If the doctor decides birth control is needed, the girl will get a prescription. The major requirement is that the girl already be sexually active.

The sexually inexperienced teen-ager will not get the pill from Planned Parenthood.

Parental consent or knowledge is not needed. Knight conceded there is some legal risk in dispensing contraceptive supplies to minors, but said the Planned Parenthood board had decided the need was greater than the risk.

The need he blamed on a society which saturates young people with sex and a lack of communication between parents and children.

The second point is discussed at length during the rap sessions. Clinic director Barbara George, a registered nurse who conducts the sessions, urges the teen-agers to keep trying to break down the walls between themselves and their parents.

Thirteen young people attended the session last week. Three said they were there with their parents' knowledge and permission. One boy said his family would probably move if they knew he was there.

Mrs. George said most parents become irate if they learn their children have been to Planned Parenthood. The parents are usually asked, she said, which is better for their daughter, since they can't prevent sexual activity, pregnancy or contraception.

Only one father has chosen pregnancy, she said. The father reasoned that if the girl were pregnant he could claim she was raped, or forced to submit, or on drugs or drunk. Mrs. George invited him to come down to Planned Parenthood and talk with her at the clinic, but he refused. The girl eventually left home, Mrs. George said.

The teen program has never been advertised, Knight said, but word-of-mouth publicity among teen-agers has led to a constant stream of young people to Planned Parenthood.

The program began with a rap session and a medical clinic every other week. The demand has led to a rap session and two medical clinics every week.

Attending last week's session were three boys. Girls are encouraged to bring their boy-

Screening Panel To Submit Lone Name For Mental Health Post

Only one name was to be submitted to the Marin County Board of Supervisors and Marin Hospital District Board this afternoon for selection as director of the county's community mental health center.

The name reportedly was that of a Dr. Peck of New York.

It was learned reliably that the nine-member committee set up to screen candidates for the position eliminated all but one at a session on Saturday. The committee had been instructed by the board of supervisors to submit three names.

County Administrator Alan Bruce, a member of the screenisg committee, refused today to say whether one name or three was to be submitted, but told the Independent-Journal:

"I don't recall anything that I would call an instruction that we submit three names."

The proposal for a nine-member committee to ssbmit three names was drawn up by Thomas F. Campanella, Bruce's assistant, and submitted in February to the Marin Mental Health Advisory Board. It was approved by that board and subsequently by the board of supervisors and the hospital directors. At a June 8 meeting at which makeup of the committee was criticized, the board of supervisors voted 3-to-2 to have the screening committee complete its work and submit three names. Supervisors Louis H. Baar and William A. Gnoss wanted to either reorganize or scrap the committee.

Baar was the only supervisor reached today who had heard of the decision to submit only one name, but Mrs. Marion C. Ibach of the hospital board said she had been so informed.

"It sounds like a lead pipe job," commented Baar.

Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. called "very interesting" the report that only one name would be submitted.

Arrigoni said he did not expect an appointment to come out of this afternoon's joint meeting with the hospital board. Bruce, however, said the meeting was set up to make the appointment.

Supervisor Gnoss said he had heard nothing about the screening committee decision. Chairman John F. McInnis and Supervisor Michael Wornum could not be reached this morning.

Death Toll Rises In Belfast Riots

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—The death toll in a weekend of death and destruction in Northern Ireland rose to six today when one of the victims of Catholic-Protestant rioting died in a hospital. Shotgun blasts by snipers wounded two more British soldiers today.

Prime Minister Edward Heath called his cabinet into emergency session in London and announced he was sending 3,000 more troops into Northern Ireland to try to enforce peace. Previously 3,000 troops had been sent there.

An army spokesman said in addition to the two soldiers hit by snipers another six soldiers were injured in Belfast and 32 in Londonderry during clashes Sunday night. Police said "hundreds" of persons were being treated in hospitals, many for gunshot wounds.

Rioting erupted when Bernodette Devlin, 23, member of parliament and civil rights leader of the Catholic minority in Northern Ireland, was sent to prison Friday for six months for her part in rioting last year.

In Belfast, burned out buses and automobiles lay where mobs used them for barricades. Dozens of buildings were smoldering ruins. British troops patroled with orders to shoot anyone seen with a gun.

Police said special security precautions were being taken to protect Heath's home secretary, Reginald Maudling, who will arrive Tuesday for a 30-hour inspection of the Northern Irish problem he is charged with solving.

The army said it had fired 225 gas grenades in Belfast and 208 in Londonderry Sunday night and this morning, arrested 89 persons in the two cities, and been the garget of 49 Molotov cocktails.

Police said 16 women and girls, five of them under 17, were among 48 persons arrested in the outbreaks Sunday and today. Four were boys about 11 or 12.

Belfast bus depot officials said 15 buses had been seized and used as barricades or transportation for rioters from one area of the city to another. Many of them were deliberately destroyed by fire.

The Rev. Ian Paisley, the militant Protestant leader, arrived in London to take his newly won seat in the British Parliament and said he would not try to prevent Miss Devlin, his arch foe, from taking her seat when she gets out of jail.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Newsman Ousted

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today ordered the expulsion of CBS correspondent William Cole for "activities incompatible with the status of a foreign journalist," Tass said.

A one sentence item by the Soviet news agency did not elaborate on the order.

Cole, who has been in Moscow since Aug. 1, 1968, said he was summoned to the Soviet foreign ministry today and was told he must leave the country. No time limit was set by the ministry but Cole said he will leave within a week.

Factory Bombed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Seven fire bombs were hurled into a factory building early today in the predominantly Negro Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn.

No one was injured and only slight damage was caused by the bombs, which started small fires.

Fire authorities were investigating a possible link between the bombings and plans by firms in the building not to close down in support of today's Italian-American Unit Day observances.

Fiery Deaths

KAWASAKI, Japan (UPI) — A motorbike collided with a dump truck loaded with boiling asphalt Sunday. The load splashed on two youths, burning them to death.

Tourist Money

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Commerce Department has announced Americans spent a record $5.4 billion last year on foreign travel, an increase of 14 per cent over 1968.

The excess of U.S. payments to foreigners over receipts from foreign visitors was $.2 billion, the department said Sunday, aggravating the nation's chronic balance of payments problems.

City Birthday

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — San Francisco began a two-day birthday celebration Sunday with a wreath laying and concert in Golden Gate Park.

The city, celebrating its 194th birthday, will continue the activities Monday morning with a Mass at Mission Dolores and a luncheon at the Presidio Officers Club where Mayor Joseph L. Alioto will speak.

Sunday, a wreath was laid at the base of the statue of Father Junipero Serra. A concert featuring Spanish dancer Teresita Osta and a Mariachi band followed.

An estimated 2,000 persons filled the park to watch the ceremonies.

Price Hiked

MANCHESTER, N.H. (UPI) — The Manchester Union Leader, the state's largest newspaper, raised its newstand price today from 12 to 15 cents.

The paper cited increased production costs.

Tragic Wedding

Iowa Governor Safe After Plane Mishap

CRESCO, Iowa (UPI)—A single engine Cessna 172 carrying Gov. and Mrs. Robert D. Ray, a press aide and the pilot went off the runway at the Cresco airport Sunday. No one was injured and the aircraft was undamaged.

William Jackson, the governor's press aide, said the plane nosed into a ditch at the end of the runway. He said wind gusts of up to 35 miles per hour apparently caused the plane to bounce on landing and carried the craft off the runway.

It takes 25,000 gallons of water, five tons of air and 700 horsepower hours of electricity to produce one ton of steel.

Prince Hurt

LONDON (UPI) — Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth, injured his shoulder Sunday in a fall from his polo pony. His son, Prince Charles, also fell off a horse in the same game but was not hurt.

In a weekend report, assistant commissioner Don Davies said there were more than two million full and part-time public school teachers last fall for a pupil-teacher ratio of 22.7 to 1.

Interest Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Home Loan Bank Board reports the interest cost of conventional mortgages for new homes reached an average of 8.44 per cent in May.

The board, which regulates the nation's savings and loan institutions, reported Sunday the May rate was up from 8.41 per cent in April, approaching the alltime high of 8.47 recorded in March.

Hatfield Issues Warning To Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Unless the administration ends the Vietnam War and swings the economy upward, President Nixon may be denied renomination in 1972, says Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore.

"If the war is still going on by 1970, that is in November of this year in any great intensity, and the economics of the country continue to slide and disintegrate, there just may not be a Nixon-Agnew ticket in 1972," Hafiteld said Sunday.

He also said continued administration policies on inflation and Southeast Asia could send GOP congressional candidates reeling to defeat in November.

Hatfield accused Nixon of leading the Republican Party toward destruction through the so-called "Southern Strategy."

He added Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, at Nixon's behest, is engaged in a campaign that is alienating moderates from the Republicans and is polarizing the country.

Hatfield's attack on the Nixon leadership was made in a radio interview, "Profile"—Metromedia.

"The President feels, and the vice president speaking for the President feels, that he can sacrifice any of the so-called more moderate groups who we might seek to attract, and can even sacrifice the possibility of further splitting his counry and disuniting this country," he said.

Hatfield, a leading Republican liberal, said the strategy is to undermine support for George Wallace in case the former Alabama governor runs for president again in 1972.

"You can't be a national party on that kind of a narrow base," he said, adding that a shift to the right would set he party up for "some kind of insurgency" by Gov. Ronald Reagan of California in 1972.

"Mr. Nixon has to deliver," he said. "The people are not going to tolerate, in my opinion, a continued slump in the economy, high unemployment, high inflation, cruel tax robbing the people of their money, and still sending their sons to die in Vietnam."

Hatfield, who has cosponsored legislation to force a pullout of U.S. troops from Vietnam by the end of 1971, also accused the White House of conducting a "grand strategy" to avoid a confrontation on the issue in the Senate.

"Thet think they will lose and...I believe they will lose," he said.

Some of his Republican business friends have told him they will not contribute to the party in the fall election campaign, Hatfield said, because they are "terribly disturbed by the direction of the economy."

The senator assailed Nixon for receiving at the White House hardhat construction workers who had clashed with antiwar demonstrators un New York; for his southern appointments; and for his "Southern Strategy."

"For me this spells possible disaster for the Republican Party in the future, beyond 1972," he said. "The Southern Strategy tends to create a more exclusive party, and that, to me, spells an end to the Republican Party."

Postmen Look For Teen Jobs

Under the program, letter carriers on business routes take time to ask employers if they have any summer jobs available for teens.

PRESIDENT'S JET FLEET IS DEPLETED

SAN CLEMENTE (UPI) — The departure today of Julie Eisenhower for Japan in Air Force Two depleted the entire presidential jet fleet, leaving President Nixon with a top secret C135 cargo plane.

Mrs. Richard M. Nixon flew to Peru Sunday in Air Force One to deliver relief supplies to earthquake victims.

Julie and David Eisenhower are scheduled to leave today for Japan on Air Force Two as the president's special representatives at the World Far in Osaka.

If the President should need an aircraft in a hurry, it would be supplied by the National Emergency Airborne Command Post, which has a converted C135 equipped with the most sensitive top secret communications facilities he can use.

Nixon tried out the secret craft last year on a return trip to Washington from his Florida White House. Former President Johnson kept four Air Force 707 jets, but Nixon reduced the White House fleet by half.

Pablo Casals, 93, Sits To Conduct, Still Gets Cheers

STANHOPE, N. J. (UPI)—At 93, Pablo Casals needs help getting to the swivel chair from which he conducts.

Once there, however, the master cellist is his own man, conducting with vigor and inspiration.

Casals received ovations Saturday night following the performance of Mozart's Symphony No. 41, the "Jupiter," at the Waterloo Village Music Festival here.

Smiling, sometimes humming, Casals often stood up from his chair to encourage his musicians — occasionally tapping a foot to set the tempo.

End Of Surtax Has Economists Worried

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The weekly paychecks of the average American will be a dollar or so fatter next week and middle income groups will soon get an even bigger boost in take home pay as the surtax and some Social Security withholding come to an end.

Although government economists minimized the effect of the added overall purchasing power on the economy, others believed it would only add to the inflation still plaguing the nation.

The first tax reduction occurs midnight Tuesday when the surtax, imposed to defray costs of the Vietnam War, expires. It is expected to put an additional $2 billion into the collective pockets of the nation's taxpayers.

The surcharge was 5 per cent for the first half of this year. It was originally 10 per cent of regular income tax bill from April 1, 1968 until Dec. 31, 1969.

Even more significant for middle-income groups is the annual phase out of Social Security contributions that will begin in mid-August for those earning $12,000 a year and early July for those earning $15,000, adding $11 and $14 respectively to their takehome pay.

Each worker covered by Social Security is taxed 4.8 per cent of the first $7,000 he earns in a year. After the income ceiling is reached, the worker pays no more Social Security taxes for the rest of the year.

Administration economists contend the present inflationary trend is caused by the "push" of rising costs — including labor —on the price of finished goods than it is by the pull of excessive demand in the form of spendable income. They say inflationary pull, in the form of excessive buying power bidding up the price of scarce goods, has been brought under control through monetary controls and resulting unemployment.

But other economists believe the present round of tax reductions is ill-timed and will only slow down efforts to halt inflation.

The government has been reported considering new "value-added" taxes which would affect the consumer much as a sales tax, but they would not be applicable until next year at the earliest if enacted.

The Nixon administration has estimated the federal budget will show a deficit of $1.3 billion during the business year that begins Wednesday.

The government collected about $2 billion as a result of the surtax during the first half of this year.

A single person earning $10,000 annually will get to keep an extra $1.10. The amount withheld from his check will decline from $34.50 to $33.40 a week.

A married couple with two children earning $7,500 a year will get an extra $1.10 takehome pay. Their withholding will decline from $13.50 to $12.40.

A family of four earning $10,000 annually will get $1.70 when the withholding rate declines from $23 to $21.30

Ak family of four with income of $15,000 would take home $1.60 more. The withholding for that family would decline from $41 to $38.40 a week.

Critics Fear U.S.-Asian Ties Growing

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Nixon administration is seeking to stabilize disturbing developments in Cambodia with a series of moves some congressional critics fear will widen U.S. involvement in Southeast Asia.

The administration plan for "stabilizing" Cambodia appeared to consist of increasing U.S. military assistance to the government of Premier Lon Nol, encouraging Thailand and South Vietnam to come to the government's defense, and supporting an Asian initiative to seek a negotiated settlement.

Nixon will report to the nation Wednesday that all U.S. troops have been withdrawn from Cambodia following the Allied strike against North Vietnamese sanctuaries announced by the President April 30.

ASIA CONFERENCE

Officials here said he is likely to emphasize diplomatic efforts stemming from the recent conference of 12 Asian nations in Jakarta which sought to convene an international conference on ending the war in Indochina and to reactivate the International Control Commission in Cambodia.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers, scheduled to meet with President Nixon today at the Wesern White House in San Clemente before embarking on a two-week Asian tour, has already discussed the Asian peace initiative with representatives of the Jakarta conference.

NIXON TELEPHONES

Rogers conferred with a three-nation delegation — Indonesia, Japan and Malaysia — at the State Department Saturday. Nixon also communicated with the delegaion by telephone from San Clemente to express his support for the Asian peace initiatives.

After the meeting, Rogers and delegation leader Tan Sri Mohammad Ghazali of Malaysia, said they hoped efforts to revive the Control Commission for Cambodia, established by the 1954 Geneva Conference on Indochina, would be successful.

But administration moves on other fronts aroused fears among war critics in Congress the United States would be drawn into deeper and deeper military involvement in the defense of the Cambodian government and away from disegnagement in Indochina. These included:

—U.S. consideration of Cambodian arms request with the likelihood the Lon Nol government will be given small arms aid in 1971 substantially exceeding the $7.9 million given in 1970. The exact figure is still uncertain as officials here tally up what kinds of equipment the poorly trained Cambodian army effectively could absorb.

—Possible U.S. underwriting of Thai troop costs if Thailand decides to send troops into Cambodia to fight there.

—Administration plans to strengthen diplomatic ties with the Lon Nol government shortly by naming an ambassador to Phnom Pehn.

Soldier Arrested For Being AWOL

Roy Lee Jones, 19, of Santa Rosa, was arrested Saturday by Rohnert Park police for being absent without leave efrom the Army.

Police said that Jones had been missing from Fort Ord since June 3. He was turned over to military police.

Draft Officials Ready Capsules For Lottery

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Selective Service officials today began stuffing 730 plastic capsules with dates and numbers that will determine the 1971 draft sequence of hundreds of thousands of youths with 19th birthdays this year.

The dates of the year were inserted into 365 red capsules and the numbers one through 365 were placed in an equal number of green capsules.

The red and green capsules will be placed in separate plastic drums under tight security until Wednesday when they will be drawn out to determine the order in which the new draft eligible youths will be called for military service next year.

In order to ensure more impartiality in the lottery, draft officials this year have added refinements to the process since the first post World War II lottery was held last December.

For instance elaborate procedures were taken today to ensure a random selection of the sequence in which the dates and numbers were inserted into the capsules and in turn the sequence in which the capsules were placed into the drums.

On Wednesday, the drums will be rotated for an hour before the drawing begins and between the drawing of each capsule to ensure a good mix, Selective Service officials said.

In the drawing Wednesday, dates and numbers will be drawn in turn to determine the draft sequence for youths whose 19th birthdays fell this year on those dates. For instance, if the first number drawn was 12, and the first day was June 29, all youths who were 19 years old would be 12th in the draft sequence.

This differed from last December when only birthdayes were drawn in order of one through 365.

Larry Sumner, president of the student body at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and one of three official observers for the lottery, started the procedure off today by selecting one of 25 sealed envelopes containing computer selected random arrangements of dates.

Hope Shrugs Off Threat To Mar Rally

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Comedian Bob Hope said today he expects no trouble from dissidents of the New Left during his July 4 pro-American rally which he predicts will bring "around 400,000" people to the Lincoln Memorial.

Hope was asked to comment on plans, announced by Chicago 7 defendant Rennie Davis last week for a hippie-style marijuana "smoke-in" to counter the Honor American Day program.

Hope quipped, "After this is all over, I may smoke some of that myself." Then, growing serious, he said, "I don't expect any trouble."

Hope said he has invited the Smothers Brothers to join the entertainment bill which is heavily weighed with the stars of the 1940s and 50s with a sprinkling of rock groups.

He said he also invited black comedian Dick Gregory, but "I don't think he can make it."

Gregory and the Smothers Brothers have been outspoken in their opposition to the Vietnam War. Hope said he wanted antiwar entertainers, but would not permit the show to be used for political speeches by anyone.

The progam was originally devised to counter demonstrations which Hope and Evangelist Billy Graham consider anti-America. But Hope insisted at a news conference, "We're not trying to sell any political message here. We are just trying to observe July 4 like we used to."

Hope predicted the attendance would be "the biggest crowd that has ever gathered for any show." Asked for numbers, he said, "around 400,000."

Hope was asked if the New Left would be invited to share the platform. "The New Left can come in if they have some entertainers to present. I'd be happy to audition them if they have any talent," he said.

JACKSON STATE INQUIRY

Biracial Grand Jury Set

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—A biracial 23-member federal grand jury was empaneled here today to investigate the violence last month at Jackson State College which left two Negro youths dead and nine others wounded.

U.S. District Judge Harold Cox, in his opening statement to the panel stressed the special jury session was called to determine whether any violation of federal laws was involved in the May 15 disturbance.

The panel included five Negroes.

Cox said the district court would "not provide a sancuary for militant anarchists or revolutionaries of any kind..."

He also told the jury that "no peace officer has any right to unnecessarily kill anybody" or inflict bodily injury without provocation

The special grand jury was ordered aftr Assistant Attorney General Jerris Leonard accused Mississippi officials of failing to cooperate in the government probe of the incident. Leonard charged state officials would not permit highway patrolmen to undergo FBI interrogation and refused to turn over the weapons used in the shooting.

Attorney General John Mitchell said in granting the request for the special jury the U. S. District Court directed the panel "to make a complete investigation of all aspects surrounding the incidents . . . to determine whether any federal laws were violated . . ."

The inquiry was expected to center on whether Mississippi officers violated federal civil rights laws in the deaths of the youths during the gunfire. Both Mississippi highway patrolmen and Jackson City policemen were present during the violence. Mayor Russell Davis said an investigation by his biracial committee showed the local police did not fire a single round.

Two Negroes were shot to death and nine others wounded May 15 during the predawn hours when law enforcement officers fired a barrage of shots into a women's dormitory on the predominantly-Negro campus of the state college.

The gunfire came on the second night of rock and bottle-throwing by students and others on the campus near the end of the school's spring semester. Police maintained the officers responded to sniper fire during the long night of violence when they pened up a 30 second volley of fire.

The federal probe precedes a Hinds County grand jury investigation next Monday in which District Attorney Jack Travis of Jackson said he would determine "where the responsibility lies" for the violence. Travis subpoenaed 150 persons, including top federal, state and local officials, for his investigation.

The district attorney said he had the Justice Department's pledge of full cooperation in his investigation.

Three Suspects In Cell Stabbing

San Quentin Prison officials said today they have three suspects in the ice pick stabbing of a 30-year-old inmate found unconscious yesterday in front of his cell with four wounds in back.

Thomas D. Peters, serving five years to life for a 1961 Los Angeles burglary, is in good condition at the prison hospital, officials reported today.

They said the prison could not release the names of the three inmates suspected of the attack until further investigation.

Roman Catholic Priest Is Republican Senate Hopeful

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UPI)—The Rev. John M. McLaughlin, who hopes to be the first Roman Catholic priest to sit in the U.S. Senate, admits some Rhode Islanders are finding his clerical collar "disquieting."

McLaughlin was nominated Thursday by Rhode Island Republicans as their candidate to oppose Sen. John O. Pastore, D—R. I., who recently announced he plans to run for re-election to a fifth Senate term.

Pastore, known for his oratorical skills and popularity with the voters, is the heavy favorite.

But McLaughlin's toughest opposition may come from members of his own faith, rather than from Pastore.

"The clerical collar is giving some people pause," McLaughlin says, "Chiefly some older Catholics of Irish extraction." McLaughlin, 43, attributes this to a common belief his candidacy is causing him to neglect parish duties.

"I have never been assigned to a parish," the Jesuit insists.

"I have been a teacher, writer, a lecturer, a social and political critic, a counselor, and from time to time, I have publicly administered the sacraments," says the former associate editor of the Jesuit weekly "America."

The priest, who describes himself as a "progressive Republican," views his candidacy as an extension of his priestly role of public service. "The ministry that goes with holy orders is my most exalted form of public service, a form that permits me to meet the religious and moral needs of men through administering the sacraments to them," he says.

"But the other expressions of my public service-teaching, writing, lecturing, counseling and now, politics—these are all valid extensions of my public service," he added.

The cleric claims there is a distinct line between legality and morality.

"So, too, I can support the legality of, let us say, federally-subsidized birth control clinics without in any way compromising whatever my beliefs may be on the morality of contraceptive birth control and without compromising my personal and internal compliance with what the Pope teaches about the morality of birth control," he says.

Critics Fear U.S.-Asian Ties Growing

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Nixon administration is seeking to stabilize disturbing developments in Cambodia with a series of moves some congressional critics fear will widen U.S. involvement in Southeast Asia.

The administration plan for "stabilizing" Cambodia appeared to consist of increasing U.S. military assistance to the government of Premier Lon Nol, encouraging Thailand and South Vietnam to come to the government's defense, and supporting an Asian initiative to seek a negotiated settlement.

Nixon will report to the nation Wednesday that all U.S. troops have been withdrawn from Cambodia following the Allied strike against North Vietnamese sanctuaries announced by the President April 30.

ASIA CONFERENCE

Officials here said he is likely to emphasize diplomatic efforts stemming from the recent conference of 12 Asian nations in Jakarta which sought to convene an international conference on ending the war in Indochina and to reactivate the International Control Commission in Cambodia.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers, scheduled to meet with President Nixon today at the Wesern White House in San Clemente before embarking on a two-week Asian tour, has already discussed the Asian peace initiative with representatives of the Jakarta conference.

NIXON TELEPHONES

Rogers conferred with a three-nation delegation — Indonesia, Japan and Malaysia — at the State Department Saturday. Nixon also communicated with the delegaion by telephone from San Clemente to express his support for the Asian peace initiatives.

After the meeting, Rogers and delegation leader Tan Sri Mohammad Ghazali of Malaysia, said they hoped efforts to revive the Control Commission for Cambodia, established by the 1954 Geneva Conference on Indochina, would be successful.

But administration moves on other fronts aroused fears among war critics in Congress the United States would be drawn into deeper and deeper military involvement in the defense of the Cambodian government and away from disegnagement in Indochina. These included:

—U.S. consideration of Cambodian arms request with the likelihood the Lon Nol government will be given small arms aid in 1971 substantially exceeding the $7.9 million given in 1970. The exact figure is still uncertain as officials here tally up what kinds of equipment the poorly trained Cambodian army effectively could absorb.

—Possible U.S. underwriting of Thai troop costs if Thailand decides to send troops into Cambodia to fight there.

—Administration plans to strengthen diplomatic ties with the Lon Nol government shortly by naming an ambassador to Phnom Pehn.

Soldier Arrested For Being AWOL

Roy Lee Jones, 19, of Santa Rosa, was arrested Saturday by Rohnert Park police for being absent without leave efrom the Army.

Police said that Jones had been missing from Fort Ord since June 3. He was turned over to military police.

Draft Officials Ready Capsules For Lottery

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Selective Service officials today began stuffing 730 plastic capsules with dates and numbers that will determine the 1971 draft sequence of hundreds of thousands of youths with 19th birthdays this year.

The dates of the year were inserted into 365 red capsules and the numbers one through 365 were placed in an equal number of green capsules.

The red and green capsules will be placed in separate plastic drums under tight security until Wednesday when they will be drawn out to determine the order in which the new draft eligible youths will be called for military service next year.

In order to ensure more impartiality in the lottery, draft officials this year have added refinements to the process since the first post World War II lottery was held last December.

For instance elaborate procedures were taken today to ensure a random selection of the sequence in which the dates and numbers were inserted into the capsules and in turn the sequence in which the capsules were placed into the drums.

On Wednesday, the drums will be rotated for an hour before the drawing begins and between the drawing of each capsule to ensure a good mix, Selective Service officials said.

In the drawing Wednesday, dates and numbers will be drawn in turn to determine the draft sequence for youths whose 19th birthdays fell this year on those dates. For instance, if the first number drawn was 12, and the first day was June 29, all youths who were 19 years old would be 12th in the draft sequence.

This differed from last December when only birthdayes were drawn in order of one through 365.

Larry Sumner, president of the student body at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and one of three official observers for the lottery, started the procedure off today by selecting one of 25 sealed envelopes containing computer selected random arrangements of dates.

5 State Initiatives Fail To Make Ballot

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Five initiative measures proposed for the November general election ballot, from legalizing abortions to prohibiting student tuition, have failed to get enough signatures to qualify for the ballot.

Secretary of State H. P. Sullivan reported today that all of the measures were far short of the number of signatures needed by Thursday's deadline.

This will be the first general election for at least a decade that will not include a measure submitted by the people under the state's 60-year-old initiative plan.

The proposal to legalize abortions came closest, but only got about 170,000 of the 325,173 signatures it needed, Sullivan reported. It would have repealed all antiabortion laws and permitted a woman to decide whether to have an abortion. Any physician would have been allowed to perform an abortion.

The other four measures required 520,276 signatures each, since they called for amendments to the state constitution.

They were:

TUITION — A proposal to bar levying tuition and other fees of any kind against students at the University of California or the state colleges did not qualify because petitions for it were not filed. However, because it got a late start, its backers have until October to circulate petitions, and it still could qualify for the 1972 ballot.

SINGLE TAX — A proposal by Dr. Irene Hickman, Sacramento County assessor, to provide for taxation only of land got 1,078 signatures. Improvements on land would have been exempted from property taxes under the measure.

TAX LIMIT — A measure to limit taxes on owner-occupied dwellings got 15,002 signatures. Sponsored by Assemblyman Joe A. Gonsalves, D-Norwalk, the measure would have required $150 million in revenue from other unspecified sources to cover to loss of taxes on homes.

BINGO — An initiative to permit cities and counties to license bingo games for charitable and nonprofit organizations got only 263 signatures.

Measures that fail to qualify cannot be revived without starting the petition campaign from scratch.

final vote on an amendment denying the President funds after June 30 to retain American combat forces in Cambodia.

In Phnom Penh, Cambodian Premiere Lon Nol said the Communist threat to the Cambodian capital had diminished, but he appealed again for continued U.S. air support.

"I certainly hope the Americans will return to Cambodia if the situation deteriorates," Lon Nol added.

As the last Americans were leaving Cambodia the South Vietnamese opened a new offensive. Military sources said a 5,000-man armored column was driving inland across northeastern Cambodia toward the new Communist supply route down the Mekong River Valley.

The sources said the offensive was moving along Route 19 toward Stung Treng, 160 miles northeast of Phnom Penh. Stung Treng has been in North Vietnamese hands for six weeks and is one the new supply routes running down through Laos.

BUDGET

The committee also restored a $10 million Senate-approved cut in the state's medical care program for the poor and aged and replaced $100,000 for the Coordinating Council on Higher Education.

"We added language to say (to the council) "shape up," said Lanterman.

The academic senates of the university and state colleges also had their appropriations restored.

Lanterman said the $102 million for schools included an $88 million "cost of living" increase plus $14 million for programs which had been underestimated previously.

He said the $102 million maintains the current level of school spending.

Legislators writing the compromise budget bill encountered unanticipated snarls Sunday night while wrapping up final details.

The Republican governor, seeking re-election, recently proposed an additional $70 million in school aid but Assembly Democratic leaders had insisted on at least $304 million as their price for support of the spending program.

The Senate version of the budget proposed $98 million for schools, financed mostly from a drastic 2.25 per cent across-the-board reduction in the budget.

Lanterman previously ruled out $304 million on the basis that such an increase would require new taxes, a move Reagan has rejected as a last resort action.

He said it was the 2.25 per cent reduction proposed by the Senate that caused the last-minute hangup.

Assembly Democratic leaders have indicated they are prepared to again stall passage of the budget if demands for more school aid are not satisfied. They did so last year for three days in a successful effort to gain more state aid for schools.

At the same time, however, they tempered their implied threat with the statement that they wanted to study the conference committee's report before making any final decision.

Left Leg Broken In Cycle Crash

A Mill Valley woman was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a fractured left leg suffered in a motorcycle accident yesterday.

The driver of the motorcycle, Charles Phillip McKee, 40, of 164 Linden Lane, Mill Valley, was uninjured, the highway patrol said.

Traffic Accident Leads To Arrest

A 21-year-old Woodacre man was arrested on suspicion of possessing marijuana Saturday afternoon by California Highway Patrol officers who were investigating a traffic accident.

Booked into Marin County Jail and held in lieu of $985 bail was Steven J. Steen-Larson, of Box 64.

Officers said Steen-Larson's car ran off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Railroad Avenue near Greenbrae and crashed through a fence. Officers making a routine investigation said they found marijuana in the car. Steen-Larson was treated for cuts at Marin General Hospital and then booked.

He was freed on $985 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Piatek refused medical aid.

Art Student Dies In San Francisco Blaze

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A 24-year-old art student died early today trying to save his guitar when fire swept through a battered wood frame building that housed a "family" of young people.

About 40 artists, musicians, craftsmen and students escaped barefoot and clad only in night clothes before the four-story structure became enveloped in flames.

Richard Johnson, a senior majoring in art at the College of Marin, was found crumpled over his guitar in a first-floor hallway.

College of Marin reported a 25-year-old student, Richard D. Johnson, was enrolled for the summer session but had not been a student there before. His address was given by the college as 3 Castle Rock Drive, Woodacre.

Arson inspector Jim King said the blaze started in a first-floor flat occupied by seven persons working on a rush order of candles. King said a cigaret might have started the fire.

Fireman William Murray estimated the damage from the three-alarm fire at $40,000. The first alarm sounded at 4:56 a.m. and the fire was brought under control at 5:25 a.m.

Burglars Get Change From Bowling Alley

5 State Initiatives Fail To Make Ballot

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Five initiative measures proposed for the November general election ballot, from legalizing abortions to prohibiting student tuition, have failed to get enough signatures to qualify for the ballot.

Secretary of State H. P. Sullivan reported today that all of the measures were far short of the number of signatures needed by Thursday's deadline.

This will be the first general election for at least a decade that will not include a measure submitted by the people under the state's 60-year-old initiative plan.

The proposal to legalize abortions came closest, but only got about 170,000 of the 325,173 signatures it needed, Sullivan reported. It would have repealed all antiabortion laws and permitted a woman to decide whether to have an abortion. Any physician would have been allowed to perform an abortion.

The other four measures required 520,276 signatures each, since they called for amendments to the state constitution.

They were:

TUITION — A proposal to bar levying tuition and other fees of any kind against students at the University of California or the state colleges did not qualify because petitions for it were not filed. However, because it got a late start, its backers have until October to circulate petitions, and it still could qualify for the 1972 ballot.

SINGLE TAX — A proposal by Dr. Irene Hickman, Sacramento County assessor, to provide for taxation only of land got 1,078 signatures. Improvements on land would have been exempted from property taxes under the measure.

TAX LIMIT — A measure to limit taxes on owner-occupied dwellings got 15,002 signatures. Sponsored by Assemblyman Joe A. Gonsalves, D-Norwalk, the measure would have required $150 million in revenue from other unspecified sources to cover to loss of taxes on homes.

BINGO — An initiative to permit cities and counties to license bingo games for charitable and nonprofit organizations got only 263 signatures.

Measures that fail to qualify cannot be revived without starting the petition campaign from scratch.

final vote on an amendment denying the President funds after June 30 to retain American combat forces in Cambodia.

In Phnom Penh, Cambodian Premiere Lon Nol said the Communist threat to the Cambodian capital had diminished, but he appealed again for continued U.S. air support.

"I certainly hope the Americans will return to Cambodia if the situation deteriorates," Lon Nol added.

As the last Americans were leaving Cambodia the South Vietnamese opened a new offensive. Military sources said a 5,000-man armored column was driving inland across northeastern Cambodia toward the new Communist supply route down the Mekong River Valley.

The sources said the offensive was moving along Route 19 toward Stung Treng, 160 miles northeast of Phnom Penh. Stung Treng has been in North Vietnamese hands for six weeks and is one the new supply routes running down through Laos.

BUDGET

The committee also restored a $10 million Senate-approved cut in the state's medical care program for the poor and aged and replaced $100,000 for the Coordinating Council on Higher Education.

"We added language to say (to the council) "shape up," said Lanterman.

The academic senates of the university and state colleges also had their appropriations restored.

Lanterman said the $102 million for schools included an $88 million "cost of living" increase plus $14 million for programs which had been underestimated previously.

He said the $102 million maintains the current level of school spending.

Legislators writing the compromise budget bill encountered unanticipated snarls Sunday night while wrapping up final details.

The Republican governor, seeking re-election, recently proposed an additional $70 million in school aid but Assembly Democratic leaders had insisted on at least $304 million as their price for support of the spending program.

The Senate version of the budget proposed $98 million for schools, financed mostly from a drastic 2.25 per cent across-the-board reduction in the budget.

Lanterman previously ruled out $304 million on the basis that such an increase would require new taxes, a move Reagan has rejected as a last resort action.

He said it was the 2.25 per cent reduction proposed by the Senate that caused the last-minute hangup.

Assembly Democratic leaders have indicated they are prepared to again stall passage of the budget if demands for more school aid are not satisfied. They did so last year for three days in a successful effort to gain more state aid for schools.

At the same time, however, they tempered their implied threat with the statement that they wanted to study the conference committee's report before making any final decision.

'A MEMORABLE DAY' — That's how President Nixon described the wedding as he kissed the bride, the former Lawrene Nixon, his niece, who was married Saturday at Newport Beach to Thomas E. Anfinson, an accountant. (UPI Telephoto)

Nixon Clan Gather For Wedding; 'Uncle Dick' Happy, Kisses Bride

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—"Now look happy," President Nixon advised the pretty schoolteacher as they posed for photographers.

"I am very happy, as a matter of fact," replied the bride, niece of the Chief Executive.

Moments earlier Saturday, the President kissed his brunette niece, Lawrene Nixon, 26, when she became the beaming bride of Thomas E. Anfinson in a simple, candlelight Presbyterian ceremony.

"This has been one of the more memorable days since I took high office," Nixon told the new Mrs. Anfinson in the yard of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian church.

"Uncle Dick" gave his niece a kiss on the cheek and gathered the Nixon clan around him, joking the group was too large for one family picture.

Pat Nixon went around hugging the bridesmaids and ushers. She said it was "a beautiful wedding."

It was the first time the first family had met the bridegroom, a 28-year-old accountant and fourth generation California.

Donald Anthony Nixon, 24, the bride's brother, escorted Mrs. Nixon, wearing a pink linen jacket dress, and Tricia, 24, was taken down the aisle by her cousin, Richard Nixon, 17, the President's namesake.

Lawrene is the daughter of Nixon's brother, Donald, vice president of the Marriott Corp., a hotel and catering firm. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Anfinson of South Gate, Calif.

The bride wore a gown of silk organza embroidered with handmade French lace. Her chapel length veil was attached to a tiara of appliqued roses. She carried a bouquet of lillies of the valley and white roses.

Four of the eight bridesmaids, who all wore floor length crepe gowns, were cousins of the bride. The President's daughters, Tricia and Julie, were not included in the wedding party for security reasons.

The newlyweds planned a northern California honeymoon.

Outside the church after the ceremony Mrs. Anfinson introduced Nixon as "my uncle" to her new husband and threw her arms around the minister, the Rev. Charles Dierenfield.

"We made it," she exclaimed.

Ex-Treasury Secretary Says LBJ Policies Damaged U.S. Economy

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Former Treasury Secretary Joseph W. Barr says the Johnson administration, in which he served, did "grave damage" to the nation's economy by failing to press for wage-price controls as soon as the Vietnam War intensified.

Barr, asserting it is now too late to impose such controls, suggested a "rule of thumb" that would require the government to accompany future military operations with immediate calls for higher taxes and standby controls.

"My rule of thumb, if I ever have any public service again," he said, "is that if anyone deploys as many as 100,000 troops on foreign soil, you go for a tax increase and complete standby controls across the board."

Barr held the treasury post for less than a month at the end of the Johnson administration, between the resignation of Henry Fowler on Dec. 23, 1968, and the takeover of the Nixon administration on Jan. 20, 1969. He is now president of American Security and Trust Co., one of Washington's biggest banks.

The former treasury official was asked, in UPI Washington Window interview Sunday, if his "rule of thumb" would tend to discourage overseas military adventures by generating strong opposition to the accompanying war taxes.

"I'm sure this would be true" he said. "They would look at it a lot longer."

In his final appearance before a congressional committee during his brief tenure as treasury secretary, Barr predicted the country would face a "taxpayer's revolt" unless the tax laws were reformed to remove inequities and close loopholes.

The phrase was quickly picked up by tax reform enthusiasts and helped to mobilize opinion behind the tax reform act passed by Congress last year.

Barr indicated his satisfaction with reform legislation and said the only flagrant loophole "left for the very rich" was the tax exemption on income derived from municipal bonds.

The bank official emphasized the important role of economic controls when the nation is involved in major overseas troop deployment.

'There is no question that we did grave damage to the country —we in the (Johnson) administration and in Congress —by refusing to raise taxes until 1968 and by not going to controls early on," he said.

The failure to do so has been cited by some economists and congressional war critics as the basic cause of the nation's soaring inflation.

But Barr said he agreed with President Nixon that imposing controls on wages and prices would do little good now because "it is probably too late in the game."

ROTC Goes Co-ed At Atlanta School

ATLANTA (UPI)—The Air Force ROTC program at Emory University will open its ranks to women students this fall.

Vice President Judson C. Ward said Emory will be one of the first coed schools to take advantage of a change in Air Force regulations opening its reserve officer training program to women students.

Maj. Henry Mathews of the Emory unit said officers have no idea how many women cadets the ROTC program will attract. The program had about 80 male students from an enrollment of 5,500 last year.

Directors of the Gallinas Village Improvement Association have called a special meeting for 8 p.m. today at Santa Venetia Presbyterian Church to consider expenditures for the Fourth of July program at Pueblo Park.

Generation Gap In Spotlight As Unitarian Parley Opens

SEATTLE (UPI)—The traditionally liberal Unitarian Universalist Association opens its ninth annual general assembly today, exhibiting the same generation gap that affects other institutions of society.

About 1,000 Unitarians are expected for the convention but the distance between the older and younger church members is a physical as well as psychological one.

The majority of delegates will stay at the posh Olympic Hotel, the center for convention activities. About 200 young persons have set up a radical Unitarian headquarters in the aging Fremont hotel outside the central business.

Unitarian minister — without pulpit — the Rev. James L. Stoll said the old hotel was chosen to dramatize the differences between the radical and the establishment delegates.

The bearded Stoll was formerly a Unitarian minister in Kennewick, Wash., and then joined the Institute for Sex Research as a researcher. H left the research position following the Kent State slayings and the Cambodian invasion to devote himself to breaking down social barriers.

He said the radical caucus at the old hotel was an attempt to unite all of the elements within the church rather than to further divide it. "We decided to make one last attempt to bring people together, to bring down the barriers," he said.

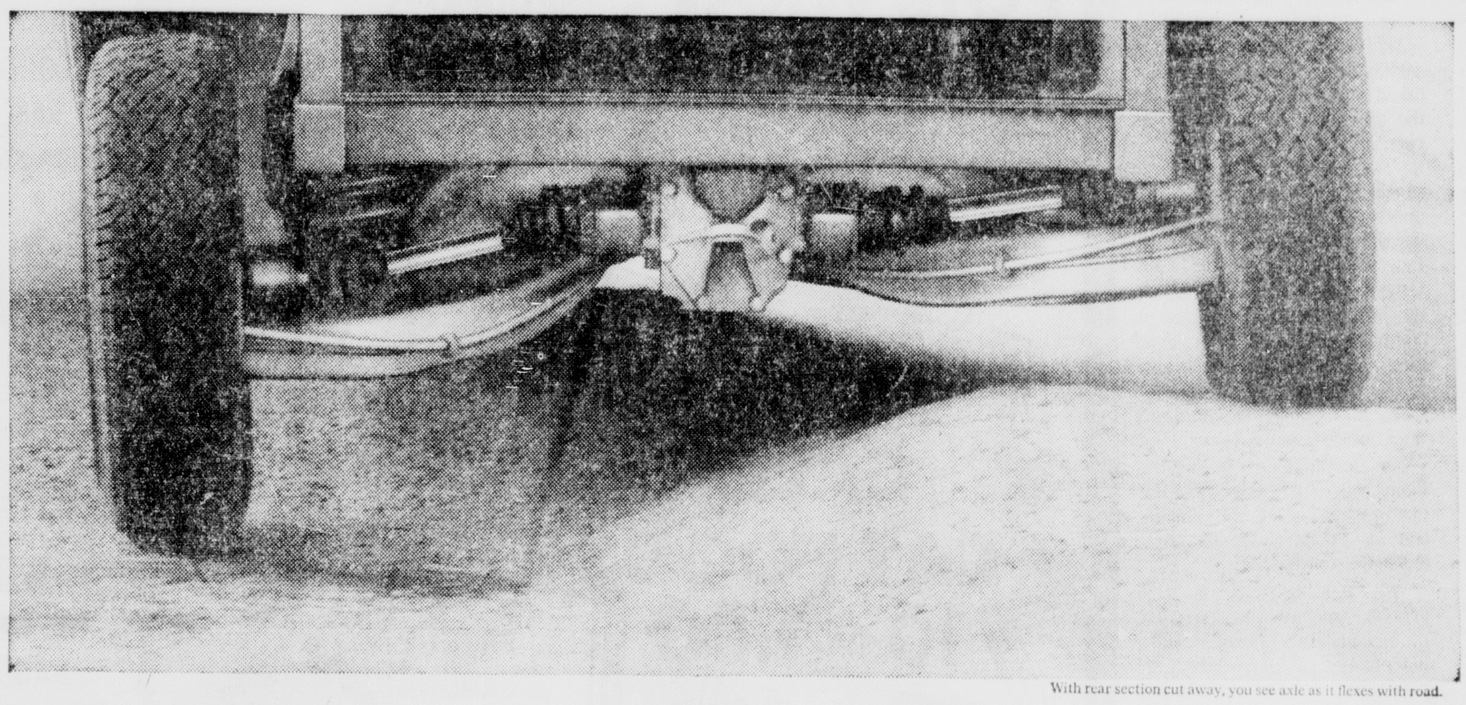
"If you want the kids, the third-world people, the low income people to be involved, you don't hold the general assembly in a hotel where rooms are $18 a day," he said.

The radical caucus expressed dissatisfaction with the convention agenda as well as the physical setup. The young persons were unhappy that resolutions asking for an end to discrimination against homosexuals and another asking legalization of marijuana were not placed on the agenda.

Resolutions before the assembly include a proposal for a $50,000 grant to Chicanos and another calling for U.S. withdrawal from Southeast Asia and an end to American commitments there.

Among the featured speakers scheduled to address the Unitarians are author Jesica Mitford and theologian Dr. Howard Thurman.

The Rev. Andrew Young, executive vice president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, will speak Thursday and will be followed by an appearance by the cast of "Hair."



With rear section cut away, you see axle as it flexes with road.

"Mercedes-Benz cars have to cope with the roughest roads in Europe. That's why we build our axles this way— not as a rigid, one-piece beam."

EVER make the mistake of taking what you thought was a shortcut?

You chose a road that looked quicker on the map. But you were soon jolted into admitting your error. You had to fight to keep control as your car bottomed and bounced at every rut and bump.

That's because most cars are designed to provide a "boulevard ride." Provided you stay on boulevards and turnpikes.

Articulated rear axle tames rough roads.

Try that same shortcut with a Mercedes-Benz. You'll appreciate the feeling of control when you slam into that first unexpected chuckhole. And you'll notice less pitching and bouncing over bumps and railroad crossings. Even washboard surfaces and cobblestones won't produce that skitterish, you're-about-to-lose-it feeling.

Independent rear suspension

Our secret: An articulated rear axle. A sophisticated and tough combination of shafts and joints that allows each rear wheel to move up and down independently of the other. Just as the front wheels do. To give you a smooth ride without compromising road-holding.

But the advantages of independent rear suspension aren't limited to rough going. On a turnpike the benefits are more subtle, but perhaps even more important.

Tracks like an arrow

When you aim a Mercedes-Benz down an expressway, you'll find it tracks like an arrow, without those tiny steering corrections you used to make for "road wander."

Slap it over tar strips. The suspension soaks them up with firm control. Not four or five reverberations.

And if you've ever been lulled by high-speed expressway driving into taking an exit just a bit too fast, you'll appreciate the adhesive cornering power of Mercedes-Benz' independent suspension. It gives you an extra margin of control that somehow keeps your palms a little drier and your brake foot a little less itchy.

Disc brakes on all four wheels

Automotive editors and engineers agree that disc brakes are superior to common drum brakes. So when it comes to brakes, our philosophy is simple. Use disc brakes. Not just on the front wheels. Not as optional extras. Use them on all four wheels. Offer no options.

The four disc brakes on a Mercedes-Benz will help you stop surer, smoother and reduce the chances of fade and lockup.

How to judge a car

Before you judge the character of a car, you should view it as a totality. Somewhat the way you judge the character of a person. So here are a few more points to help you judge a Mercedes-Benz.

1. Our overhead camshaft engines are precisely machined, balanced and bench tested to withstand the rigors of Germany's Autobahns. At American speed limits, a Mercedes-Benz is literally loafing.

2. Subtle characteristics of tires have profound effects on the overall performance of a car. Tires used on our cars are tuned to the movements of our suspension, so they'll work as integral parts of the total system.

3. All the engineering and automotive theory in the world isn't going to build a great car. The actual building is up to the craftsmen in the factory.

That's why we use skilled cabinetmakers to craft and fit the wood trim. Former dressmakers to sew the upholstery. And an assembly line that pokes along, always willing to switch off an imperfect car when one of our 2,000 or so inspectors says, "No that's not good enough."

A Challenge: Help Restore The Derelicts

By ROBERT D. INDERMAN

DALLAS (UPI)—Phillip Lewis, 26, is in jail this summer to rub elbows and swap stories with society's derelicts — the drunks and drifters who spend their lives bouncing in and out of jails.

Lewis is the Dallas Police Department's new sociologist, the city's first. He is a graduate of Sam Houston State University and is charged with trying to help those who need help to stay out of trouble — and out of jail.

He knows the job will be tough.

"Solving the problem of a man who has spent every other week in jail for the past 10 or 20 years isn't going to be easy," he acknowledged in an interview. "I have a long and difficult job before me. It's no one day or overnight affair. Not only must I try to find the root of the problem of our habitual offenders but also some way in which to solve it."

He does not lack for patients . . . Jimmy the Up and Down Man who works off another sentence between booze binges by running the city jail's elevator . . . Bill the Cook, a 50-year-old wino who acts as chef for other down and outers... Harmonica playing Oscar— Screaming Jeff . . . Bayou Billy.

All told, 200 or more of society's misfits who have taken up virtual residence in the city jail. Every city in the country has their like.

"The goal of any society is to reach a point where law and order prevail among its people with minimal enforcement," Lewis said.

"But, ironically, despite all the advances we have made in our technology and our styles of life, we have not reached that level of discipline. And we can trace the problem essentially back to our society."

Our fast-moving society, in many ways, is responsible for the offender being an offender and for the alcoholic being an alcoholic, Lewis said.

"We live in such a high pressure society that inadequacy is constantly springing up—inadequacy in our jobs, our education, our social standing, or even in our role as parent and family provider. The inability of the individual to cope with his particular inadequacy leads him to some form of escape, such as drinking or some other social deviation."

Lewis explained that these down-and-outers do not accept this form of life because they like it.

"Alcoholics don't drink necessarily because they like the taste of liquor," he said. "Many of them want to stop, but they don't have the strength or the drive to do so. This holds true for most of the other derelicts. They want help, but they don't know how to go about finding it."

And in that, Lewis said, lies the major portion of the police departmental sociologist job.

"One of my first tasks will be a study to determine the best meethods for serving those brought to jail," he said.

Lewis, who holds a Master's degree in social rehabilitation and social services from the Institute of Contemporary Corrections at Sam Houston State, has strong feelings about the concept of rehabilitation.

"You can take a drunk or derelict out of jail, bathe, clothe and feed him, but you still haven't removed his problems," he said. "A person burdened by problems—family dissension, lack of education, lack of job skills—will continue to get into trouble until his problems are solved."

Lewis places primary interest on establishing a stable family atmosphere to which the offender can return.

Burglar Hits Fotomat

A burglar last night entered the Fotomat booth in the Co-Op parking lot at 71 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera police reported, emptied the cash register and ransacked the booth. Police on patrol discovered the break-in at 2:03 a.m. No estimate of the loss was available.

Novato Slates Budget Hearing

The Novato City Council will hold a second public hearing on its $2 million budget for 1970-71 at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Novato Community House.

It will also consider wage increases for all city employees, including department heads.

The council also will complete items continued from last Tuesday's meeting. These include plans and specifications for the Cherry-Chase Street improvement, awarding of a contract for reconstruction of a portion of Ignacio Boulevard, plans for a Pizza Hut in the Novato Square for Ben Ostlind and year-end fund transfers.

CDC Delays Nod For Tunney On Boycott Issue

FRESNO (UPI)—Because he has not openly supported the California grape boycott, U.S. Senate candidate John V. Tunney has yet to receive the blessing of the California Democratic Council, but the group's support may come in time.

During a weekend meeting here, the CDC directors voted to delay a vote on endorsement of the Democratic nominee until their next meeting Sept. 12.

The CDC executive committee called on the directors to vote in favor of supporting the entire Democratic ticket.

But another motion urged the volunteer political group to endorse only those candidates who support the grape boycott fostered by Cesar Chavez's farm workers union.

Tunney, a congressman from Riverside representing the grape growing areas of the Coachella Valley, has so far refused to take a stand.

Other agenda items include salary hike proposals from the district's nonteaching employees, approval of a 6.8 per cent across-the-board pay increase for teachers and discussion of a districtwide recreation program.

Black Africa: Where Life Ends At 40

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)— For many of the world's people, life does not begin at 40. Because by 40 life has ended.

The people of Black Africa die at an average age of 35. In Asia, life expectancy in several developing countries runs from somewhat above 40 to around 50. A similar situation prevails in Latin America.

The long-living people are the inhabitants of Europe, North America, Australia and Japan. They live to be an average 70 years or older. In the United States the average life span for men is 67 years, for women 74.2.

Figures on life expectancy in various regions of the world are contained in the newest demographic yearbook published by the United Nations. They are based on findings gathered mostly during the 1960s, either from official census results or from sample surveys.

DATA ON LIVING

When compared with other U.N. data on living standards and economic progress, they convey one certain message: poverty—lack of food, housing and health facilities—is still the number one shortener of human life.

According to the yearbook, the male population of Gabon in West Africa is the national group with the shortest life line —an average of 25 years. Their opposite, at the top of longevity lists, are the women of Iceland, who live an avraege of 76.2 years, more than three times as long as the male Gabonese.

Other African countries listed with low life expectancy (ages for male and female population respectively,) are Guinea 26 and 28; Chad 29 and 35; Upper Volta 32.1 and 31.1; Togo 31.6 and 38.5.

Kenya, with a 40-year average for both sexes is one of the highest in Africa except for the non-self-governed territories which register an average age of up to 50 years for their black populations and 70 for the whites.

Among Asians on the list, India is at the bottom with 41.89 and 40.55 respectively, followed by Burma 40.8 and 43.8, and Cambodia 44.2 and 43.3.

Asians with a long life expectancy include China (Taiwan) 66.84 and 70.44, Hong Kong 66.74 and 73.29, Japan 68.35 and 73.61, and Malaysia 62.4 and 64.

HEART DISEASE

Heart disease, cerebral strokes and cancer are the worst killers of the well-fed peoples of the world. The poorer succumb in larger numbers to tuberculosis, if they survive high infant mortality due to birth injuries or infections.

As an affluent nation, the Japanse still show a remarkably low rate of death by heart attacks. The United States figure, one of the highest, is 216.3 per 100,000 population, far ahead of the two other U.S. killers: cancer (157.2) and cerebral strokes (102.2).

On an average, the cancer death rate is at least twice as high in Europe as it is in Asia. South Americans have somewhat lower rates than the Asians.

Concerts Set

The College of Marin Community Band will present summer outdoor concerts Sunday at 4 p.m. at the Marin Art and Garden Fair, Ross, and July 26 at 4:30 p.m. in front of the college's Fine Arts Building.

Black Africa: Where Life Ends At 40

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—For many of the world's people, life does not begin at 40. Because by 40 life has ended.

The people of Black Africa die at an average age of 35. In Asia, life expectancy in several developing countries runs from somewhat above 40 to around 50. A similar situation prevails in Latin America.

The long-living people are the inhabitants of Europe, North America, Australia and Japan. They live to be an average 70 years or older. In the United States the average life span for men is 67 years, for women 74.2.

Figures on life expectancy in various regions of the world are contained in the newest demographic yearbook published by the United Nations. They are based on findings gathered mostly during the 1960s, either from official census results or from sample surveys.

DATA ON LIVING

When compared with other U.N. data on living standards and economic progress, they convey one certain message: poverty—lack of food, housing and health facilities—is still the number one shortener of human life.

According to the yearbook, the male population of Gabon in West Africa is the national group with the shortest life line—an average of 25 years. Their opposite, at the top of longevity lists, are the women of Iceland, who live an avraege of 76.2 years, more than three times as long as the male Gabonese.

Other African countries listed with low life expectancy (ages for male and female population rspectively,) are Guinea 26 and 28; Chad 29 and 35; Upper Volta 32.1 and 31.1; Togo 31.6 and 38.5.

Kenya, with a 40-year average for both sexes is one of the highest in Africa except for the non-self-governed territories which register an average age of up to 50 years for their black populations and 70 for the whites.

Among Asians on the list, India is at the bottom with 41.89 and 40.55 respectively, followed by Burma 40.8 and 43.8, and Cambodia 44.2 and 43.3.

Asians with a long life expectancy include China (Taiwan) 65.84 and 70.44, Hong Kong 66.74 and 73.29, Japan 68.35 and 73.61, and Malaysia 62.4 and 64.

HEART DISEASE

Heart disease, cerebral strokes and cancer are the worst killers of the well-fed peoples of the world. The poorer succumb in larger numbers to tuberculosis, if they survive high infant mortality due to birth injuries or infections.

As an affluent nation, the Japanse still show a remarkably low rate of death by heart attacks. The United States figure, one of the highest, is 316.3 per 100,000 population, far ahead of the two other U.S. killers: cancer (157.2) and cerebral strokes (102.2).

On an average, the cancer death rate is at least twice as high in Europe as it is in Asia. South Americans have somewhat lower rates than the Asians.

Concerts Set

The College of Marin Community Band will present summer outdoor concerts Sunday at 4 p.m. at the Marin Art and Garden Fair, Ross, and July 26 at 4:30 p.m. in front of the college's Fine Arts Building.

Explosion Rips Drake's Science Hall

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—An explosion believed to have been caused by dynamite tore through a block-long science building at Drake University today, the fourth such predawn bombing across Iowa in six weeks.

The blast came shortly after police quelled a night of rock throwing in the campus area.

Police Chief Wendell Nichols said damage to the science building and its contents could run as high as $200,000.

Nichols said circumstances fit the blast "into the same pattern of the other bombings."

The explosion knocked out windows in five university buildings, including two student dormitories in the central Drake campus area.

No one was reported injured.

Nichols called today's bombing "a direct attack against the university." One policeman said, "I think they're trying to tell us they're fighting the establishment. This is the start of guerrilla warfare against the establishment."

Police moved in about 4 am., a few minutes after the blast, to rope off the science center area. Men with geiger counters were called in soon after the blast because it was feared radioactive material might have been stored in the laboratory areas. No such material was found. Police said the building would stay closed until acid and other chemicals sprayed throughout the building were cleaned up.

The explosion occurred shortly after police had succeeded in quieting a six-block area along University Avenue after a night of rock throwing. Officers said what started out as a firecracker and noise disturbance in the predominantly black area erupted into rock throwing at about midnight, and officers had calmed the area by about 3 a.m.

Nichols said he thought the bombing was engineered by the same group of persons who earlier bombed the Des Moines police station, the Ames City Hall and the Des Moines Chamber of Commerce Building. Damage from the three previous dynamite blasts has been placed in excess of $500,000.

Dove Hits Nixon, Press Over War

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI)—Rep. Allard Lowenstein, D-N.Y., an antiwar congressman, says President Nixon has been misinforming the country on the Indochina war and the news media have helped him.

"We deal with a terrible problem with the media giving the President endless opportunities to express his point of view with no way to reply to it," Lowenstein said Sunday.

"How do you answer that? How do you get the facts across to the people?" Lowenstein asked a youth caucus at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

"The only way we can get facts to the people is through human beings doing the work, one by one, one by one, one by one," he said.

Lowenstein, a freshman congressman credited with starting the antiwar movement that ended in former President Johnson's decision not to run for re-election, said, "The country is being increasingly squandered by paying for the war."

He said the government spends $91 billion on the military budget and only $1.9 billion on the war against poverty.

"The time has come," he said, "when if we want to make America whole ... the way to do it is to reverse the course the country is on, to stop the President from misleading people with his speeches as to what his purpose is, to show that what we are doing in Vietnam is not an orderly withdrawal, as he likes to say, but a disorderly staying-on."

More than 1,000 persons attended the youth caucus sponsored by the Movement for a New Congress.

Fairgoer Arrested On Drug Sale Count

James Allen Byrd, 22, of Santa Rosa, was arrested Saturday on suspicion of selling LSD and benzedrine at the Sonoma-Marin Fair, Petaluma.

Byrd was booked into the Sonoma County Jail for arraignment today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court. Police made the arrest after an amusements operator at the carnival complained that Byrd had tried to sell his son the drugs.

Cardinal Cooke Assails New York Abortion Law As 'Tragic Chapter'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cardinal Terence Cooke says New York state's liberalized abortion law that goes into effect Wednesday will begin a "tragic chapter" in the state's history. He urged all Roman Catholics to reject it.

Speaking Sunday for the Roman Catholic bishops of New York, Cooke said, "We call upon all people of goodwill to join with us in a campaign to reverse the life-destroying trends in society which abortion and euthanasia represent."

The new law permits a woman to have an abortion performed by a licensed physician during the first six months of pregnancy. New York City may become the nation's abortion capital because it has few residence requirements and treats married and unmarried women equally. It will give first consideration to a resident, however.

A Blue Cross official estimated Sunday 100,000 abortions will be performed in the New York City metropolitan area alone within the year—with Blue Cross providing some hospital benefits to 65 per cent of the women.

A spokesman for Planned Parenthood of New York City said the organization has "been getting 50 to 60 telephone calls a day on abortion." Hospitals throughout the state appear to be setting their own guidelines. The New Rochelle Hospital, for instance, will limit abortions to city residents with the only exceptions being nonresidents who have been treated by a New Rochelle physician prior to the current pregnancy.

There may be some problems initially implementing the law in New York City. The City Board of Health only last week established stringent guidelines for clinics. Board officials believe it will take several weeks to approve the clinics for abortion operations.

Another problem is a potential strike by nonmedical workers at the city's 33 voluntary hospitals. City officials have indicated only emergency abortions would be performed in the city's 18 municipal hospitals that have affiliations with the nonprofit institutions if the strike occurs Wednesday.

The New York City Health nounced last week city hospitals would perform abortions on minors without parental consent if the patient is married, and Hospital Corporation an- "emancipated," or at least 17 years old.

Blue Cross of Greater New York also announced last week it would file plans with the state insurance commissioner to cover hospital fees for abortions.

Blue Shield, which covers doctors' fees, is expected to file similar plans.

Capital Outlay Is Due Discussion

Capital outlay items in the 1970-71 budget will be considered by the Petaluma City Council today at 7:30 p.m.

Also to be considered are requests for travel and meeting expenses by department heads.

Fairfax Budget Talks To Begin

The Fairfax City Council will begin discussion of a proposed $556,171 1970-71 budget at 8 p.m. today.

The meeting, adjourned from a meeting last Monday, will include consideration of extra engineering charges for slide repair work on Forrest Avenue and a report from Police Chief James R. Orr regarding procedures for handling abandoned automobiles.

The council has scheduled future budget sessions at 8 p.m. Thursday and July 6, 9 and 16.

Collector's Display

An exhibit by collector Sonia Brandt of paintings and works by Bay Area artists will be held July 12 at 3 p.m. at the Larkspur Public Library.

Court Paves Way To Challenge Panel

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court paved the way today for a federal court trial challenging the constitutionality of the House Internal Security Committee, formerly called the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

In a brief order, the Court refused to hear an appeal by the Justice Department, which sought reversal of a ruling Aug. 5, 1969, by the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago. This meant the circuit court ruling was left standing.

The circuit court's decision, which reversed a lower court ruling ordered to trial a suit by three Chicago residents who contended that the committee's investigations of alleged subversion violated the First Amendment guarantees of freedom of speech and association.

The lower court directed the three plaintiffs to present evidence and legal arguments concerning the constitutionality of the act giving the committee its authority, not just the circumstances of their own cases. It could call for court review of the committee's controversial 31-year history.

The three Chicagoans were indicted on contempt of Congress charges for refusing to testify before a subcommittee of the House group in 1965. They have not yet been tried.

In its petition for Supreme Court review of the Circuit Court decision, the Justice Department said such a court hearing would put the committee "on trial for its life."

"The basic charter of a Congressional committee—what is attacked in this case—is necessarily committed to the discretion of Congress," not the courts, the Justice Department said.

In contrast, the Circuit Court ruling said, "Congress has no more right, whether through legislation or investigations conducted under an overbroad enabling act, to abridge the First Amendment freedoms of the people, than do the other branches of government."

The suit was brought by Dr. Jeremiah Stamler, a Chicago heart specialist nad executive director of the Chicago Health Research Foundation; Mrs. Yolanda F. Hall, research nutritionist for the same foundation and Milton M. Cohen, executive director of a home for the aged in Chicago.

They were subpoenaed to testify before subcommittee hearings in Chicago concerning alleged Communist activity in Illinois. All three appeared May 25, 1965, but refused to answer questions.

In its final actions before adjourning until probably early October, the Court also:

—Agreed to rule on a controversial Charlotte, N.C., school busing dispute in the future but for the time being reinstated a federal district judge's order directing complete segregation of the city's schools.

—Rejected an appeal by the Norfolk, Va., school board opposing a 4th circuit ruling which struck down a local desegregation plan for the city. The plan had been approved by Federal District Judge Walter E. Hoffman of Norfolk, but —The 4th circuit said the plan "preserves the traditional racial characteristics of Norfolk schools and has the effect of excluding many black pupils on account of their race," and ordered a new plan to be submitted by July 27.

—Put off until next fall a decision on whether a draftee may claim conscientious objector status solely on his moral opposition to the Vietnom war.

—Ruled unanmously that a state may not imprison an indigent for more than the legal minimum time permitted by law because of his inability to pay a fine and court costs.

—Agreed to decide next term a complaint by a group of Negro employes of the Dan River station of the Duke Power Co., in North Carolina that they were illegally denied job promotions by use of achievement tests which had nothing to do with the work involved.

—Delayed until next fall any ruling on eight cases that had been heard in the term that just ended They involved a variety of cases dealing with federal involvement in state court procedures, including a Boston case on whether prosecutions should be banned in that area for film distributors showing the Swedish sex film "I am Curious (Yellow).

—Refused to reopen consideration of the El Paso natural gas antitrust case which was sent back to federal district court in Denver a year ago.

—Ordered more Interstate Commerce Commission hearings on the price the Penn Central Railroad must pay for the bankrupt New York, New Haven and Hartford line.

Why Dubcek Lost His Party Card

PRAGUE (UPI)—Alexander Dubcek refused to save his career and Communist party membership by denouncing his own policies as the party's reformist leader, Czechoslovakia's leading newspaper said today.

Miroslav Moc, editor of the official party newspaper Rude Pravo, wrote that Dubcek did not "make a contribution to clarifying the causes of the (reform) developments in the country and his share in them."

Dubcek was expelled from the party by the Central Committee last week. Moc's article was the first official comment on that expulsion.

Moc listed Dubcek's "violation of rules, his responsibility for ideological and organizational disruption, his double-faced policy, ideological capitulation, lack of principles and firmness, which enabled the disruption of a political organization of socialist society and caused serious damage to the national economy, his responsibility for violating ... the alliance with the Soviet Communist party ... capitulation to counter-revolutionary forces."

Diplomatic sources said the party is intensifying purges of Dubcek's supporters.

Hardline party officials had complaned that purges were more lenient in some parts of the country than in others.

WEATHER CUTS TURNOUT AT FAIR'S FINALE

The Sonoma-Marin Fair came to a wind blown conclusion yesterday with carnival tents blowing loose and a drop in attendance.

Arthur F. Canavan, fair manager, said the total attendance for the four-day fair was 51,831 for a drop of more than 5,000 from last year. He blamed cool weather and the high velocity winds for the decrease.

Floats and marching units struggled against the wind in a one-hour parade yesterday that saw beauty queens trying to save their hairdos and flag bearers trying to keep in step.

Dairymen gathered at the Petaluma Fairgrounds today for the annual heifer replacement sale and bidding on animals that won top awards in 4-H and Future Farmers of America competition.

Mrs. Nixon Arrives In Peru With U.S. Relief Package

LIMA (UPI)—The First Ladies of Peru and the United States walked side by side into Peru's most impressive church today to attend a traditional holiday mass before flying into the Andes to view the damage of Peru's most catastrophic earthquake.

President Juan Velasco Alvarado aso attended the special mass along with the members of his cabinet. He walked half a block from the presidential palace and entered after the first ladies. He did not meet Mrs. Richard Nixon but nodded to her when he entered.

The president's schedule called for him to remain in Lima while Mrs. Nixon and Consuelo Velasco, wife of the president, fly into the once beautiful Andean valley of Callejon de Huaylas to view at first hand the earthquake destruction. More than 50,000 were killed in the May 31 quake, most of them in the narrow volley Peruvians call their "Little Switzerland."

Because it was a national holiday the streets in downtown Lima were largely deserted. Those curious who did gather to catch a glimpse of the first ladies were held at a distance by police.

The historic Plaza de Armas where the mass was held was ringed by government troops carrying submachine guns.

Mrs. Nixon had on a knee-length turquoise suit and a black lace mantilla and Mrs. Velasco wore a grey tweed suit and a beige mantilla.

The first ladies arrived in a black Cadillac limousine flying both the Peruvian and American flags.

Immediately after the mass they were whisked away to the Lima Airport for their flight into the Callejon de Huaylas valley 250 miles northeast of Lima.

Mrs. Nixon brought with her two planeloads of relief supplies for thousands of the earthquake survivors left homeless. She said the supplies and cash she carried, including a check from her husband, were only the beginning of American aid Peruvians can expect.

Shortly after her arrival she was briefed on the "terrible holocaust" by members of the Peruvian disaster relief organization.

Augusto Zimmerman, national information director, said the stricken area covered more than 53,000 square miles—as big as Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg combined.

He showed Mrs. Nixon photographs of the former site of the town of Yungay, wiped out by a landslide triggered by the quake.

Mrs. Nixon today will walk in part of the valley that is now a vast tomb. U.S. Ambassador Taylor Garrison Belcher, who will be Mrs. Nixon's host while she is here, described the quake as feeling "like a thousand express trains all coming through at once."

Belcher Sunday night hosted a dinner at the embassy residence for Mrs. Nixon.

44,224 degrees°

can put a lot of heat under your business

44,224 is the degree of "heat" that I-J circulation gives your store's message.

And does it penetrate! In every neighborhood in Marin and So. Sonoma Counties . . . in almost 7 out of every 10 Marin homes.

This puts your store where the buying decisions are made, and in the ONE medium where most people make them. Simply because Marin families look to the I-J for merchandise, for values, for news of new things, new prices.

This is why advertising in the I-J generates immediate buying action . . . connects your store, your merchandise, with people who WANT to buy . . . but who must know first what they're buying and where.

If you've slackened off on advertising you can be sure people will "slacken off" on your store. Out of sight, out of mind. And it takes still more promotion to get them back!

Don't make this mistake. Successful merchants know that only consistent advertising builds a store, builds customer confidence and all-important store traffic. And only the daily newspaper can do the job.

The I-J's dominant circulation is the true measure of its acceptance. For the I-J is bought to be READ . . . something you can't say for direct mail or neighborhood throwaways. And that acceptance is why YOUR message will be accepted, read, digested, and acted upon.

If you want more business, turn on the heat. Put the I-J's 44,224 "degrees" to work for you. Hottest thing in advertising!

IF BUSINESS IS DOWN . . .

Explosion Rips Drake's Science Hall

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—An explosion believed to have been caused by dynamite tore through a block-long science building at Drake University today, the fourth such predawn bombing across Iowa in six weeks.

The blast came shortly after police quelled a night of rock throwing in the campus area.

Police Chief Wendell Nichols said damage to the science building and its contents could run as high as $200,000.

Nichols said circumstances fit the blast "into the same pattern of the other bombings."

The explosion knocked out windows in five university buildings, including two student dormitories in the central Drake campus area.

No one was reported injured.

Nichols called today's bombing "a direct attack against the university." One policeman said, "I think they're trying to tell us they're fighting the establishment. This is the start of guerrilla warfare against the establishment."

Police moved in about 4 am., a few minutes after the blast, to rope off the science center area. Men with geiger counters were called in soon after the blast because it was feared radioactive material might have been stored in the laboratory areas. No such material was found. Police said the building would stay closed until acid and other chemicals sprayed throughout the building were cleaned up.

The explosion occurred shortly after police had succeeded in quieting a six-block area along University Avenue after a night of rock throwing. Officers said what started out as a firecracker and noise disturbance in the predominantly black area erupted into rock throwing at about midnight, and officers had calmed the area by about 3 a.m.

Nichols said he thought the bombing was engineered by the same group of persons who earlier bombed the Des Moines police station, the Ames City Hall and the Des Moines Chamber of Commerce Building. Damage from the three previous dynamite blasts has been placed in excess of $500,000.

Cardinal Cooke Assails New York Abortion Law As 'Tragic Chapter'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cardinal Terence Cooke says New York state's liberalized abortion law that goes into effect Wednesday will begin a "tragic chapter" in the state's history. He urged all Roman Catholics to reject it.

Speaking Sunday for the Roman Catholic bishops of New York, Cooke said, "We call upon all people of goodwill to join with us in a campaign to reverse the life-destroying trends in society which abortion and euthanasia represent."

The new law permits a woman to have an abortion performed by a licensed physician during the first six months of pregnancy. New York City may become the nation's abortion capital because it has few residence requirements and treats married and unmarried women equally. It will give first consideration to a resident, however.

A Blue Cross official estimated Sunday 100,000 abortions will be performed in the New York City metropolitan area alone within the year—with Blue Cross providing some hospital benefits to 65 per cent of the women.

A spokesman for Planned Parenthood of New York City said the organization has "been getting 50 to 60 telephone calls a day on abortion." Hospitals throughout the state appear to be setting their own guidelines. The New Rochelle Hospital, for instance, will limit abortions to city residents with the only exceptions being nonresidents who have been treated by a New Rochelle physician prior to the current pregnancy.

There may be some problems initially implementing the law in New York City. The City Board of Health only last week established stringent guidelines for clinics. Board officials believe it will take several weeks to approve the clinics for abortion operations.

Another problem is a potential strike by nonmedical workers at the city's 33 voluntary hospitals. City officials have indicated only emergency abortions would be performed in the city's 18 municipal hospitals that have affiliations with the nonprofit institutions if the strike occurs Wednesday.

The New York City Health nounced last week city hospitals would perform abortions on minors without parental consent if the patient is married, and Hospital Corporation an- "emancipated," or at least 17 years old.

Blue Cross of Greater New York also announced last week it would file plans with the state insurance commissioner to cover hospital fees for abortions.

Blue Shield, which covers doctors' fees, is expected to file similar plans.

Dove Hits Nixon, Press Over War

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI)—Rep. Allard Lowenstein, D-N.Y., an antiwar congressman, says President Nixon has been misinforming the country on the Indochina war and the news media have helped him.

"We deal with a terrible problem with the media giving the President endless opportunities to express his point of view with no way to reply to it," Lowenstein said Sunday.

"How do you answer that? How do you get the facts across to the people?" Lowenstein asked a youth caucus at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

"The only way we can get facts to the people is through human beings doing the work, one by one, one by one, one by one," he said.

Lowenstein, a freshman congressman credited with starting the antiwar movement that ended in former President Johnson's decision not to run for re-election, said, "The country is being increasingly squandered by paying for the war."

He said the government spends $91 billion on the military budget and only $1.9 billion on the war against poverty.

"The time has come," he said, "when if we want to make America whole ... the way to do it is to reverse the course the country is on, to stop the President from misleading people with his speeches as to what his purpose is, to show that what we are doing in Vietnam is not an orderly withdrawal, as he likes to say, but a disorderly staying-on."

More than 1,000 persons attended the youth caucus sponsored by the Movement for a New Congress.

Fairgoer Arrested On Drug Sale Count

James Allen Byrd, 22, of Santa Rosa, was arrested Saturday on suspicion of selling LSD and benzedrine at the Sonoma-Marin Fair, Petaluma.

Byrd was booked into the Sonoma County Jail for arraignment today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court. Police made the arrest after an amusements operator at the carnival complained that Byrd had tried to sell his son the drugs.

REAL ROCKY ROAD — Rock festival spectators (foreground) throw rocks and chase a fleeing motorcycle gang at the community of Iola, Wis. The festival broke out into a brawl yesterday and three persons were wounded by gunshots and 26 were arrested. Today only a few thousand of the extimated 45,000 still were milling around the area. AFTERMATH TO ROCK FESTIVAL

3 Wounded, 26 Arrested In Brawl

IOLA, Wisc. (UPI)—Three persons were hospitalized with gunshot wounds and 26 persons were in custody after an outdoor rock festival erupted into a brawl between a motorcycle gang and festival patrons Sunday.

The 26—19 men and seven women—were held overnight at the Portage County Jail in Stevens Point, but District Attorney William A. Bablitch said charges were uncertain and contingent on getting identifications.

The fight, which began about 7 a.m. Sunday, brought an end to the order which had generally prevailed at the festival since noon Friday and the estimated 45,000 young people began leaving the 200-acre grounds. Only one disorderly conduct arrest had been made prior to Sunday. The show itself, featuring 35 rock and blues groups, closed down early Sunday evening, several hours ahead of schedule. However, 3,000 to 4,000 young people continued to mill about the cluttered area early Monday.

In addition to the three youths who were shot, uncounted others were treated on the grounds or at hospitals in Stevens Point, Iola and Waupaca for cuts, bruises and drug reactions.

Not all injuries were related to the brawl. Terry Morgan, 18, of Davenport, Iowa, was in critical condition at a Marshfield hospital with injuries suffered when he fell from the hood of a moving car near the grounds. The driver was arrested.

There were rumors of up to 45 rapes or attempted rapes, but Bablitch said authorities had received no formal complaints of rape.

Those wounded by gunshot were identified as Michael Maclaurin, 26, of Madison, Wis., in good condition with arm wounds; Frank Reese, 21, of Bellwood, Ill., in satisfactory condition with a chest wound, and Kevin Henry, 19, of Downers Grove, Ill., in good condition with a wound in the groin.

Henry and Reese were at St. Michel's hospital in Stevens Point and Meclaurin was transferred to a Madison hospital. Authorities said the cyclists, some of whom apparently had been drinking heavily, began harassing other spectators early Sunday. Some of them began ganging up and beating a small group of young people, while other spectators came to their defense by throwing rocks at the attackers from the top of a hill.

The cyclists then charged up the hill on their vehicles and a shot was fired. Authorities were uncertain whether it had been fired by a spectator or by the cyclists.

Other shots were fired, and the cyclists fled. A sheriff's roadblock stopped them nearby, authorities ordered the cyclists to strip so they would make no further attempt to flee, then rounded them up.

Sheriff Nick Check went to the stage and appealed for witnesses to the fight. He said many of the young people were highly cooperative.

Fortune Magazine Sees An Upswing In Economy

NEW YORK (UPI)—The U.S. economy has turned the corner and will accelerate during the next 18 months, say the editors of Fortune magazine.

A magazine survey also concluded the federal budget will move back toward a surplus within the 18-month period.

The nation's economic growth will take place despite a continuing reduction in defense expenditures, the editors said, maintaining the reduction rate will be the same as that of the past 18 months to the lowest level since 1965.

Inflation will slow down from the peak annual rate of 6 per cent reached in the first quarter of this year to 3 per cent in 1971 the survey predicted. It said savings will pick up to a real annual rate of 3 per cent and consumer spending will rise only 1 per cent this year and possibly 2 per cent next year.

The editors said capital goods spending will continue to decline at an annual rate of 4 per cent, but said there would be an upturn in capital outlays by 1972 because total industrial capacity will have fallen 3.6 per cent by then.

They said inventories already appear to have stabilized, credit conditions have begun to ease a bit and residential housing has improved enough to indicate the nation may be starting a housing boom.

New Round On British Market Entry

LUXEMBOURG (UPI) — Foreign ministers of the six European Common Market countries Tuesday begin preliminary discussions on Britain's third bid to join the prosperous economic club from which it was twice barred by French vetoes.

Officials said success could provide a major boost to the goal of European unity. Another failure, they warned, would end any hopes of a united Europe in the foreseeable future.

The six Common Market countries are France, West Germany, tIaly, The Netherklands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

Their foreign ministers meet Tuesday for the formal opening of negotiations with Britain and three other countries which also have applied for membership—Ireland, Denmark, and Norway.

Real horsetrading discussions were not scheduled to begin until fall. Officials predicted they would last 18 months to two years.

Opening of this new round of talks followed France's withdrawal of the two-time veto against Britain by former President Charles de Gaulle.

Britain's new conservative government is committed to joining, provided it can obtain acceptable conditions.

It will be represented at the opening session by Foreign Secretary Sir Alec Douglas-Home and Anthony Barber, new British minister for European affairs. British sources said that in a statement to the conference Tuesday Britain will stress three main points:

—Western Europe sooner or later must shoulder a greater share of its own defense burden from the United States. This will involve closer cooperation between Britain and the six in defense, including the nuclear field.

—Britain and the Six must work increasingly closely together in foreign policy in which they have more and more interests in common.

—Britain wants to be brought in on political, economic and financial planning by the Six, even before it becomes a Common Market member.

British sources said Britain will seek a fairly quick agreement on the broad principles for joining, without becoming bogged down in minor trading details.

However, both British and Common Market officials conceded a major roadblock is likely to be the market's common farm policy and the price Britain would have to pay to join.

The British have estimated it could cost them up to $2.64 billion annually in payments to the fund for subsidizing continental farmers and could add up to one fourth of the British housewives' food bill.

Roman Catholic Conservatives Protests Sweeping Mass Changes

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—More than 100 Roman Catholic conservatives, protesting sweeping changes in the Mass, prayed through the night Sunday in St. Peter's Square within view of the apartment window of Pope Paul VI.

The "Traditionalists," as they call themselves, oppose disappearance of Latin as the language of the Mass as well as other radical changes in the celebration of Mass.

Hundreds began the sit-down vigil around the Egyptian obelisk at dusk Sunday after marching nearly two miles across Rome. Several priests and nuns were among them.

The reformed Mass becomes mandatory worldwide Nov. 1, 1871, by order of Paul. But many Traditionalists said they would continue to attend Latin Masses in defiance of the papal order.

Sunday the Traditionalists attended a Latin Mass in the Colosseum where Christian martyrs were once thrown to the lions.

The group, estimated at 2,000 by Traditionalist leaders, took oaths in St. Mary Major cathedral and St. Peter's Basilica to uphold the old Mass.

In St. Mary Major, they swore separately in Latin with their hands on the tomb of St. Pius V, the 16th Century Pope who promulgated the Latin Mass. In St. Peter's they took the oath in unison with their right hands upraised.

Elizabeth Gerstner of Immekeppel, West Germany, said the pope had refused the Traditionalists an audience.

The vicariate of Rome, which has jurisdiction over the Colosseum, barred a suspended French priest from celebrating the Mass there. A German priest substituted.

The Rev. Annibale Bugnini, secretary of the Vatican department which drew up the new liturgy, watched the oath-taking in both churches. Few Traditionalists noticed him.

The procession between the two churches lasted about two hours and was trailed by five truckloads of police as it crossed the city. The orderly demonstrators sang hymns in Latin almost every step of the way.

Most of the Traditionalists were German and French, but the organizers said there also were persons from Spain, Italy and Portugal, Britain and Switzerland.

In St. Peter's they prayed and sang in Latin. Outside they remained quiet while hundreds of Italians and tourists watched.

Romney Pledges Berlin Protection

Romney gave his pledge Sunday in a statement issued after a tour of East Berlin and Communist-built wall.

Crash On Bridge Injures Man, 37

A San Francisco man was injured in a two-car accident on the Golden Gate Bridge Friday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Ronald Eugene Sarff, 37, said he would see his own doctor after he complained of pain in his forehead and right arm caused when the car he was driving hit one driven by Larry Wesley Forsyth, 38, also of San Francisco.

The highway patrol said Forsyth's vehcile was stopped on the bridge with engine trouble when it was struck from behind by Sarff's vehicle.

Operation Wheat Haul Under Way

ADA, Kan. (UPI)—A train of empty railroad cars finally came to town Sunday and workers began hauling to the freight depot to move to market 60,000 bushels of wheat piled along three blocks of Main Street.

The Ada Grain Co. stored the mountain of grain in the street after its 350,000-bushel elevator was filled in this tiny central Kansas town.

"It's the first train of empty cars we've had here in some time, said Carl McGavran, elevator manager. "We've got men down there now moving the grain off the street, down to the tracks and out of town."

The small train did not solve Ada's wheat overflow problems, however. The boxcar shortage remained critical for farmers in the nation's largest wheat-producing state.

Kansas' railroad officials blame eastern railroads for the boxcar shortage. Officials say the eastern roads rent cars from the midwestern lines during growing season and are supposed to return the cars in time for harvest.

Court Paves Way To Challenge Panel

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court paved the way today for a federal court trial challenging the constitutionality of the House Internal Security Committee, formerly called the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

In a brief order, the Court refused to hear an appeal by the Justice Department, which sought reversal of a ruling Aug. 5, 1969, by the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago. This meant the circuit court ruling was left standing.

The circuit court's decision, which reversed a lower court ruling ordered to trial a suit by three Chicago residents who contended that the committee's investigations of alleged subversion violated the First Amendment guarantees of freedom of speech and association.

The lower court directed the three plaintiffs to present evidence and legal arguments concerning the constitutionality of the act giving the committee its authority, not just the circumstances of their own cases. It could call for court review of the committee's controversial 31-year history.

The three Chicagoans were indicted on contempt of Congress charges for refusing to testify before a subcommittee of the House group in 1965. They have not yet been tried.

In its petition for Supreme Court review of the Circuit Court decision, the Justice Department said such a court hearing would put the committee "on trial for its life."

"The basic charter of a Congressional committee—what is attacked in this case—is necessarily committed to the discretion of Congress," not the courts, the Justice Department said.

In contrast, the Circuit Court ruling said, "Congress has no more right, whether through legislation or investigations conducted under an overbroad enabling act, to abridge the First Amendment freedoms of the people, than do the other branches of government."

The suit was brought by Dr. Jeremiah Stamler, a Chicago heart specialist nad executive director of the Chicago Health Research Foundation; Mrs. Yolanda F. Hall, research nutritionist for the same foundation and Milton M. Cohen, executive director of a home for the aged in Chicago.

They were subpoenaed to testify before subcommittee hearings in Chicago concerning alleged Communist activity in Illinois. All three appeared May 25, 1965, but refused to answer questions.

In its final actions before adjourning until probably early October, the Court also:

—Agreed to rule on a controversial Charlotte, N.C., school busing dispute in the future but for the time being reinstated a federal district judge's order directing complete segregation of the city's schools.

—Rejected an appeal by the Norfolk, Va., school board opposing a 4th circuit ruling which struck down a local desegregation plan for the city. The plan had been approved by Federal District Judge Walter E. Hoffman of Norfolk, but —The 4th circuit said the plan "preserves the traditional racial characteristics of Norfolk schools and has the effect of excluding many black pupils on account of their race," and ordered a new plan to be submitted by July 27.

—Put off until next fall a decision on whether a draftee may claim conscientious objector status solely on his moral opposition to the Vietnom war.

—Ruled unanmously that a state may not imprison an indigent for more than the legal minimum time permitted by law because of his inability to pay a fine and court costs.

—Agreed to decide next term a complaint by a group of Negro employes of the Dan River station of the Duke Power Co., in North Carolina that they were illegally denied job promotions by use of achievement tests which had nothing to do with the work involved.

—Delayed until next fall any ruling on eight cases that had been heard in the term that just ended They involved a variety of cases dealing with federal involvement in state court procedures, including a Boston case on whether prosecutions should be banned in that area for film distributors showing the Swedish sex film "I am Curious (Yellow).

—Refused to reopen consideration of the El Paso natural gas antitrust case which was sent back to federal district court in Denver a year ago.

—Ordered more Interstate Commerce Commission hearings on the price the Penn Central Railroad must pay for the bankrupt New York, New Haven and Hartford line.

WEATHER CUTS TURNOUT AT FAIR'S FINALE

The Sonoma-Marin Fair came to a wind blown conclusion yesterday with carnival tents blowing loose and a drop in attendance.

Arthur F. Canavan, fair manager, said the total attendance for the four-day fair was 51,831 for a drop of more than 5,000 from last year. He blamed cool weather and the high velocity winds for the decrease.

Floats and marching units struggled against the wind in a one-hour parade yesterday that saw beauty queens trying to save their hairdos and flag bearers trying to keep in step.

Dairymen gathered at the Petaluma Fairgrounds today for the annual heifer replacement sale and bidding on animals that won top awards in 4-H and Future Farmers of America competition.

Mrs. Nixon Arrives In Peru With U.S. Relief Package

LIMA (UPI)—The First Ladies of Peru and the United States walked side by side into Peru's most impressive church today to attend a traditional holiday mass before flying into the Andes to view the damage of Peru's most catastrophic earthquake.

President Juan Velasco Alvarado aso attended the special mass along with the members of his cabinet. He walked half a block from the presidential palace and entered after the first ladies. He did not meet Mrs. Richard Nixon but nodded to her when he entered.

The president's schedule called for him to remain in Lima while Mrs. Nixon and Consuelo Velasco, wife of the president, fly into the once beautiful Andean valley of Callejon de Huaylas to view at first hand the earthquake destruction. More than 50,000 were killed in the May 31 quake, most of them in the narrow volley Peruvians call their "Little Switzerland."

Because it was a national holiday the streets in downtown Lima were largely deserted. Those curious who did gather to catch a glimpse of the first ladies were held at a distance by police.

The historic Plaza de Armas where the mass was held was ringed by government troops carrying submachine guns.

Mrs. Nixon had on a knee-length turquoise suit and a black lace mantilla and Mrs. Velasco wore a grey tweed suit and a beige mantilla.

The first ladies arrived in a black Cadillac limousine flying both the Peruvian and American flags.

Immediately after the mass they were whisked away to the Lima Airport for their flight into the Callejon de Huaylas valley 250 miles northeast of Lima.

Mrs. Nixon brought with her two planeloads of relief supplies for thousands of the earthquake survivors left homeless. She said the supplies and cash she carried, including a check from her husband, were only the beginning of American aid Peruvians can expect.

Shortly after her arrival she was briefed on the "terrible holocaust" by members of the Peruvian disaster relief organization.

Augusto Zimmerman, national information director, said the stricken area covered more than 53,000 square miles—as big as Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg combined.

He showed Mrs. Nixon photographs of the former site of the town of Yungay, wiped out by a landslide triggered by the quake.

Mrs. Nixon today will walk in part of the valley that is now a vast tomb. U.S. Ambassador Taylor Garrison Belcher, who will be Mrs. Nixon's host while she is here, described the quake as feeling "like a thousand express trains all coming through at once."

Belcher Sunday night hosted a dinner at the embassy residence for Mrs. Nixon.

Why Dubcek Lost His Party Card

PRAGUE (UPI)—Alexander Dubcek refused to save his career and Communist party membership by denouncing his own policies as the party's reformist leader, Czechoslovakia's leading newspaper said today.

Miroslav Moc, editor of the official party newspaper Rude Pravo, wrote that Dubcek did not "make a contribution to clarifying the causes of the (reform) developments in the country and his share in them."

Dubcek was expelled from the party by the Central Committee last week. Moc's article was the first official comment on that expulsion.

Moc listed Dubcek's "violation of rules, his responsibility for ideological and organizational disruption, his double-faced policy, ideological capitulation, lack of principles and firmness, which enabled the disruption of a political organization of socialist society and caused serious damage to the national economy, his responsibility for violating ... the alliance with the Soviet Communist party ... capitulation to counter-revolutionary forces."

Diplomatic sources said the party is intensifying purges of Dubcek's supporters.

Hardline party officials had complaned that purges were more lenient in some parts of the country than in others.

44,224 degrees°

can put a lot of heat under your business

44,224 is the degree of "heat" that I-J circulation gives your store's message.

And does it penetrate! In every neighborhood in Marin and So. Sonoma Counties . . . in almost 7 out of every 10 Marin homes.

This puts your store where the buying decisions are made, and in the ONE medium where most people make them. Simply because Marin families look to the I-J for merchandise, for values, for news of new things, new prices.

This is why advertising in the I-J generates immediate buying action . . . connects your store, your merchandise, with people who WANT to buy . . . but who must know first what they're buying and where.

If you've slackened off on advertising you can be sure people will "slacken off" on your store. Out of sight, out of mind. And it takes still more promotion to get them back!

Don't make this mistake. Successful merchants know that only consistent advertising builds a store, builds customer confidence and all-important store traffic. And only the daily newspaper can do the job.

The I-J's dominant circulation is the true measure of its acceptance. For the I-J is bought to be READ . . . something you can't say for direct mail or neighborhood throwaways. And that acceptance is why YOUR message will be accepted, read, digested, and acted upon.

If you want more business, turn on the heat. Put the I-J's 44,224 "degrees" to work for you. Hottest thing in advertising!

Is Novato Freeway History About To Repeat Itself?

A decade ago, many residents of Novato protested strongly against plans of the California Division of Highways to convert Highway 101 through their community to a full freeway.

The highway already split the community, they objected. To turn it into a freeway would be to divide Novato into two pieces forever and irretrievably.

There was, however, only one way they could prevent this from happening. That was to incorporate. State law provides that a freeway cannot be run through an incorporated city without the approval of that city's government.

WHEN NOVATANS voted overwhelmingly for incorporation in 1960, they were at the same time voting against a freeway through the heart of the city. The first city council, elected from a field of 27 candidates, was aware of that. And it went to bat immediately to change the state's plans.

Two years later, a route was finally agreed upon between city and state. Taking off from the present Highway 101 a short distance north of the Black Point Cutoff interchange, it crosses the Northwestern Pacific Railroad on an overpass, crests a hill and proceeds on a curve via Olive and Atherton avenues.

There was much discussion and many meetings before the route was approved by both city and state. And repeatedly, the Division of Highways warned that the delay in selecting a route would mean further delay in building the road. In the meantime, the highway would continue to run where Novato didn't want it — on its present route.

All that is history. Also history is the obvious dislocation of Novato development caused by a highway running through what should be the heart of the principal business district.

BUT IT IS HISTORY which appears about to start repeating itself.

Last week, the city council reneged on a May 26 agreement on alignment of Atherton Avenue with San Marin Drive which is part of the freeway bypass plan. Councilman George C. Quesada, who had been in the minority in voting against the alignment earlier, succeeded in winning over his fellow councilmen. And the council ordered the public works director not to sign the agreement with the state.

The basis of Quesada's objection was that by moving the intersection 200 feet north, considerably less cut of the hillside would be required.

This appears valid on the face of it. However, one wonders whether eight years of engineering work can be so easily second-guessed.

AT ANY RATE, the result of the council's action will be to further delay construction of the freeway bypass. The odds are good that after more complete inspection of the plans, and after hearing the reasons for locating the intersection as proposed, the new city councilmen will agree to what the Division of Highways wants to do.

In the meantime, they have added another delay during which Novato's development will be hampered by the present highway location.

And when other elections come along, voters disgruntled at the way their city is growing will vote these councilmen out and a new batch in to protest — as they have done before.

This could keep going on indefinitely. The harm to Novato would be much greater than that caused by cutting the side of one hill.

Lawmaker Soundly Attacks Noise; How About Proliferating Boards?

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

A grove of whispering pine is hereby awarded to Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, for trying to do something about the bane of modern life — noise.

Knox, in a resolution requesting the state director of public health to recommend how to control noise, offered a legislative finding that said "some of the blame for the disorientation and frustration of today's urban life can be placed on the high noise levels that act as subliminal irritants."

Knox's resolution, citing the "irritation and harmful effects of noise," proposed that the state consider controlling noise from "industrial equipment, construction, motor vehicles, boats, aircraft, home appliances, electric motors, combustion engines and any other noise-producing objects."

He did not mention dogs, but they certainly are noise-producing objects in our suburbia. With this four-legged amendment, Knox would have a really fine measure.

GROWING ALMOST as fast as the noise level is the number of state boards and commissions, most of them barely visible to the public. There are now 368 of them in the executive branch alone, according to the California State Chamber of Commerce.

Serving on these boards and commissions are 2,663 persons, of whom 1,939 are appointed by the governor, the chamber reported. These figures did not include hundreds of additional advisory committees to statutory boards, for which no central record exists, the chamber noted.

To top off this fine record of governmental efficiency, California legislators have introduced bills this session which, if enacted, would add 112 new boards and commissions. Only 13 of these would replace existing boards and commissions, according to the chamber's count.

Of the 112, 99 would need 1,050 appointments. The number of members on the other 13 was not detailed in the bills. Only 11 of the 112 would have automatic termination dates.

Virtually all of the bills were silent on the cost of the new boards and commissions.

SACRAMENTO subsidizes its bus system, just as all public systems must. That city's experience may hold lessons for Marin as local officials work toward solutions to this county's transportation problems.

Sacramento subsidized its bus operation to the tune of $125,500 in fiscal 1961-62. The subsidy for 1970-71 is to be $1,535,000.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Thanks To Ecology Drive Participants

We wish to express our appreciation to the Novato 4-H Clubs, Boy Scout troops, schools, Teen Club, and Blue Birds whose hard work helped to make the Ecology Drive held June 20, at the parking lot of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints such a success. . .

This letter would not be complete without also thanking the many people throughout the city who took the extra time to save, collect, and bring cans and papers to the drive. . .

Bridge Connection Better Than Tube

My purpose of this letter is to promote my plan for a double deck bridge from San Francisco to Marin County over Alcatraz and Angel Islands to Tiburon, a natural foundation for such a structure, with a connecting span from Angel Island to Richmond.

. . .I think the people of the Bay Area are making a mistake in not bridging this route, which I have advocated for some 10 years or more, instead of looking to a tube across this area, which to me seems impractical, very costly, and doubt in fact that it would be feasible and would carry only the rapid transit trains. . .

Why put this system underground and deprive the commuter, visitors and people of the Bay Area the beauty San Francisco Bay offers?. . .

Money spent on this crossing would fulfill a greater need than the so-called southern crossing, which is really not needed as they will have rapid transit service by 1971.

I do hope that this bridge will be built and by the time it is completed that we will have smog-free motor cars or that the electric car will be perfected to a point that it will afford adequate transportation and that we will again have pollution free air and water throughout the Bay Area.

'Romantic' Rodeo Brutal Spectacle

It is disheartening to all who deplore violence and cruelty to see on the front page of your June 22 issue a young calf being roped and flung wildly in the air. Your endorsement of the various rodeos in the area is most discouraging for all who work so diligently for animal welfare. Do you, the various other newspapers, sponsoring clubs, and the people who patronize these affairs ever stop to think of the pain inflicted on these helpless animals?. . .

More than 3,000 commercial rodeos are held in the United States every year. Many thousands of animals are abused and injured in these events. Animals are injured until they bleed — by spurs, by violent falls, and by ropes. They are whipped, clubbed, kicked, and goaded mercilessly. Tired old horses are driven to frenzied bucking by a strap cinched to agonizing tightness. The tails of calves and steers are twisted violently to make them run. And all of this is done in the name of sport and under the guise of entertainment.

Promoters have glamorized rodeo as a tradition and glory of the early West. Their propaganda ignores the use of pain-producing techniques and cruel devices. The general public has accepted this image and each year pays millions of dollars to see a glamorized form of entertainment that is, behind the scenes, a really brutal exploitation of animals for profit. . .

It is time for humanitarians and humane societies to take a strong stand against cruelty in rodeos at every opportunity. The phony romanticism connected with rodeos does not alter the fact that they are spectacles of brutality.

Thompson Attack Called Unwarranted

I deplore exceedingly, as a fair-minded citizen, the kind of attempt at villifying the character of Mr. Austin J. Thompson, executive director of the Human Rights Department of Marin County, which appeared in (David) Dietz' column in the I-J for June 22. . .

As a volunteer, but one who has been working with the Human Rights Commission and department as editor of the newsletter, "We Not They," I have had occasion to be in the office at the Civic Center very often. I have seldom seen such a hard-working or dedicated staff. I believe that whatever "coolness' we have enjoyed in Marin County has been in a large measure due to the behind-the-scenes efforts of Mr. Thompson and his able staff members. The commissioners, too, have been dedicated, but they could not have achieved what has been accomplished without long hours on the part of the staff.

It appears to me that at this time, when the county is taking drastic measures to reduce the tax rate, many causes of more value than the tax dollar are on the block. Economy measures should not cause us to lose our perspective, for we would thereby lose much more in the end. The efforts to cut down the Human Rights Department director by character assassination appear to be part of this effort to economize. I believe this is not to be condoned under any circumstances.

THE DRUMMONDS

Pentagon Fails To Adapt To Role In Nixon Doctrine

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Substantial cuts in military spending must be made to get the money to deal with pressing domestic needs.

There's little argument about that.

The defense budget will probably be reduced an additional $6 billion next year. That's all right, too.

But there is a very serious danger that the cutting will be done by a meat ax instead of a scalpel and that we will end up with a military establishment little related to the post-Vietnam world and poorly designed to serve emerging U.S. foreign policy.

THIS DANGER is already coming into view. It results from this rather appalling development:

No adequate planning is being done in the Pentagon to implement the Nixon doctrine.

This means that while the President is reshaping U.S. foreign policy, the Defense Department is not reshaping its defense posture to carry out that policy.

Even at a time of expanding military spending, this would be a hurtful and wasteful mistake.

At a time of contracting military spending — now and for some years ahead — this can be a dangerous and fateful mistake.

IT'S HAPPENING now — and three things contribute most to bringing it about: haste, pressure and traditional thinking within the services.

The Pentagon is being harried and heckled by many in Congress to cut back the military budget substantially, to cut it now and to find out later whether the cuts were the right ones.

It is being pushed by the President to make a good showing as rapidly as possible so that before the voting this fall Republican candidates can get the political advantage of new priorities on spending.

Finally, the tendency of the military is to keep it as it is rather than to re-examine the total defense posture to adapt it to serve the new post-Vietnam policies Mr. Nixon has laid down.

THE NEED to reshape the contracting defense establishment to carry out the Nixon doctrine is beginning to be discussed at high level strategy conferences of the military planners. But there is a wide gulf between planning to do something and getting it done.

The premise of the administration is no more Koreas and no more Vietnams. Since that is the premise of the commander-in-chief, it must also be the premise of the Pentagon, and reduced post-Vietnam defense spending must be shaped around it.

The announced intention of the President is that the United States is going to reduce its role in peace-keeping. President Nixon says that the central thesis of his doctrine is "that the United States will participate in the defense and development of allies and friends, but that America cannot — and will not — conceive all the plans, design all the programs, execute all the decisions and undertake all the defense of the free nations of the world. We will help where it makes a real difference and is considered in our interest."

This certainly suggests that the United States will be disposed to help only those allies willing and able to help themselves and that U.S. troops will not be used unless vital American interests are directly at stake.

ONLY THE MILITARY planners can well decide how the reduced defense establishment can be shaped to carry out the Nixon doctrine. But just somewhat less of the same is not the way to do it. The post-Vietnam defense posture needs to be reappraised with a fresh eye to the special needs of the Nixon doctrine, if the Nixon doctrine is to be made to work. Defense and the new Nixon foreign policy must not be kept in separate compartments.

Thus far little has been done to take them out of their separate compartments and match them up. Right now we are in the never-never land of knowing that it needs to be done but not coming to grips with it. Military spending must be cut, but what is left must be reshaped to fit the world of post-Vietnam.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Military Budget Squeeze Revives Service Rivalries

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon's budget squeeze is apparently causing a revival of old inter-service rivalries which have been mostly dormant in recent years.

With the money pie to be baked a little smaller, the armed services are becoming more interested in the other guy's slice. Already there are indications that some of the service brass are less than enthusiastic about weapons planned for other services.

Insiders report, for example, that Navy and Air Force staff officers are noticeably cooling on the Army's Safeguard anti-ballistic missile system. On the other hand, the Navy may face renewed opposition from the other services to its aircraft carrier plans.

By next year it appears that the Nixon administration will have trimmed Pentagon spending by some $9 billion a year to about $70 billion. Much of the reduction has been in reduced Army manpower, and the other services will almost certainly acquiesce in further force cuts.

THE CLIMATE is beginning to resemble that which prevailed after World War II and into the 1950s. It has not yet reached the point where the services propadandize more or less publicly against one another.

One intra-Pentagon dispute could reach that stage, however. It involves Army plans for the Cheyenne helicopter and Air Force plans for the A-X, a single-seat, subsonic attack plane.

Both aircraft are designed to provide close support for ground troops. So the two programs reopen an old controversy: does the Army or the Air Force have the job, or "mission," of supporting troops with tactical air strikes?

Complicating the controversy over close air support is the fact that the Marine Corps is buying a plane of its own. The Marines' air support plane is the Harrier — a V/STOL aircraft, one designed for almost vertical take-off and landing with the use of rotating jet engines.

Harrier is a British plane, built by Hawker-Siddley, and that has caused some congressional concern. The Marines have therefore arranged that Harriers be assembled under license in the United States — at an additional cost of $1.4 million for each of 18 planes.

RESURGENT controversies of this sort can make life difficult for Adm. Thomas Moorer, who takes over this week as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Some Pentagon experts think revived service rivalries constitute one of two problems which will be increasingly difficult for Moorer.

The other is a different sort, the manpower problem: how to keep the armed services supplied with experienced officers and enlisted men at a time when an unpopular war casts an unpleasant shadow over military careers.

AFTERMATH TO ROCK FESTIVAL

3 Wounded, 26 Arrested In Brawl

IOLA, Wisc. (UPI)—Three persons were hospitalized with gunshot wounds and 26 persons were in custody after an outdoor rock festival erupted into a brawl between a motorcycle gang and festival patrons Sunday.

The 26—19 men and seven women—were held overnight at the Portage County Jail in Stevens Point, but District Attorney William A. Bablitch said charges were uncertain and contingent on getting identifications.

The fight, which began about 7 a.m. Sunday, brought an end to the order which had generally prevailed at the festival since noon Friday and the estimated 45,000 young people began leaving the 200-acre grounds. Only one disorderly conduct arrest had been made prior to Sunday. The show itself, featuring 35 rock and blues groups, closed down early Sunday evening, several hours ahead of schedule. However, 3,000 to 4,000 young people continued to mill about the cluttered area early Monday.

In addition to the three youths who were shot, uncounted others were treated on the grounds or at hospitals in Stevens Point, Iola and Waupaca for cuts, bruises and drug reactions.

Not all injuries were related to the brawl. Terry Morgan, 18, of Davenport, Iowa, was in critical condition at a Marshfield hospital with injuries suffered when he fell from the hood of a moving car near the grounds. The driver was arrested.

There were rumors of up to 45 rapes or attempted rapes, but Bablitch said authorities had received no formal complaints of rape.

Those wounded by gunshot were identified as Michael Maclaurin, 26, of Madison, Wis., in good condition with arm wounds; Frank Reese, 21, of Bellwood, Ill., in satisfactory condition with a chest wound, and Kevin Henry, 19, of Downers Grove, Ill., in good condition with a wound in the groin.

Henry and Reese were at St. Michel's hospital in Stevens Point and Meclaurin was transferred to a Madison hospital. Authorities said the cyclists, some of whom apparently had been drinking heavily, began harassing other spectators early Sunday. Some of them began ganging up and beating a small group of young people, while other spectators came to their defense by throwing rocks at the attackers from the top of a hill.

The cyclists then charged up the hill on their vehicles and a shot was fired. Authorities were uncertain whether it had been fired by a spectator or by the cyclists.

Other shots were fired, and the cyclists fled. A sheriff's roadblock stopped them nearby, authorities ordered the cyclists to strip so they would make no further attempt to flee, then rounded them up.

Sheriff Nick Check went to the stage and appealed for witnesses to the fight. He said many of the young people were highly cooperative.

Fortune Magazine Sees An Upswing In Economy

NEW YORK (UPI)—The U.S. economy has turned the corner and will accelerate during the next 18 months, say the editors of Fortune magazine.

A magazine survey also concluded the federal budget will move back toward a surplus within the 18-month period.

The nation's economic growth will take place despite a continuing reduction in defense expenditures, the editors said, maintaining the reduction rate will be the same as that of the past 18 months to the lowest level since 1965.

Inflation will slow down from the peak annual rate of 6 per cent reached in the first quarter of this year to 3 per cent in 1971 the survey predicted. It said savings will pick up to a real annual rate of 3 per cent and consumer spending will rise only 1 per cent this year and possibly 2 per cent next year.

The editors said capital goods spending will continue to decline at an annual rate of 4 per cent, but said there would be an upturn in capital outlays by 1972 because total industrial capacity will have fallen 3.6 per cent by then.

They said inventories already appear to have stabilized, credit conditions have begun to ease a bit and residential housing has improved enough to indicate the nation may be starting a housing boom.

New Round On British Market Entry

LUXEMBOURG (UPI) — Foreign ministers of the six European Common Market countries Tuesday begin preliminary discussions on Britain's third bid to join the prosperous economic club from which it was twice barred by French vetoes.

Officials said success could provide a major boost to the goal of European unity. Another failure, they warned, would end any hopes of a united Europe in the foreseeable future.

The six Common Market countries are France, West Germany, Italy, The Netherklands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

Their foreign ministers meet Tuesday for the formal opening of negotiations with Britain and three other countries which also have applied for membership—Ireland, Denmark, and Norway.

Real horsetrading discussions were not scheduled to begin until fall. Officials predicted they would last 18 months to two years.

Opening of this new round of talks followed France's withdrawal of the two-time veto against Britain by former President Charles de Gaulle.

Britain's new conservative government is committed to joining, provided it can obtain acceptable conditions.

It will be represented at the opening session by Foreign Secretary Sir Alec Douglas-Home and Anthony Barber, new British minister for European affairs. British sources said that in a statement to the conference Tuesday Britain will stress three main points:

—Western Europe sooner or later must shoulder a greater share of its own defense burden from the United States. This will involve closer cooperation between Britain and the six in defense, including the nuclear field.

—Britain and the Six must work increasingly closely together in foreign policy in which they have more and more interests in common.

—Britain wants to be brought in on political, economic and financial planning by the Six, even before it becomes a Common Market member.

British sources said Britain will seek a fairly quick agreement on the broad principles for joining, without becoming bogged down in minor trading details.

However, both British and Common Market officials conceded a major roadblock is likely to be the market's common farm policy and the price Britain would have to pay to join.

The British have estimated it could cost them up to $2.64 billion annually in payments to the fund for subsidizing continental farmers and could add up to one fourth of the British housewives' food bill.

Roman Catholic Conservatives Protests Sweeping Mass Changes

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—More than 100 Roman Catholic conservatives, protesting sweeping changes in the Mass, prayed through the night Sunday in St. Peter's Square within view of the apartment window of Pope Paul VI.

The "Traditionalists," as they call themselves, oppose disappearance of Latin as the language of the Mass as well as other radical changes in the celebration of Mass.

Hundreds began the sit-down vigil around the Egyptian obelisk at dusk Sunday after marching nearly two miles across Rome. Several priests and nuns were among them.

The reformed Mass becomes mandatory worldwide Nov. 1, 1871, by order of Paul. But many Traditionalists said they would continue to attend Latin Masses in defiance of the papal order.

Sunday the Traditionalists attended a Latin Mass in the Colosseum where Christian martyrs were once thrown to the lions.

The group, estimated at 2,000 by Traditionalist leaders, took oaths in St. Mary Major cathedral and St. Peter's Basilica to uphold the old Mass.

In St. Mary Major, they swore separately in Latin with their hands on the tomb of St. Pius V, the 16th Century Pope who promulgated the Latin Mass. In St. Peter's they took the oath in unison with their right hands upraised.

Elizabeth Gerstner of Immekeppel, West Germany, said the pope had refused the Traditionalists an audience.

The vicariate of Rome, which has jurisdiction over the Colosseum, barred a suspended French priest from celebrating the Mass there. A German priest substituted.

The Rev. Annibale Bugnini, secretary of the Vatican department which drew up the new liturgy, watched the oath-taking in both churches. Few Traditionalists noticed him.

The procession between the two churches lasted about two hours and was trailed by five truckloads of police as it crossed the city. The orderly demonstrators sang hymns in Latin almost every step of the way.

Most of the Traditionalists were German and French, but the organizers said there also were persons from Spain, Italy and Portugal, Britain and Switzerland.

In St. Peter's they prayed and sang in Latin. Outside they remained quiet while hundreds of Italians and tourists watched.

Romney Pledges Berlin Protection

BERLIN (UPI) — George Romney, U. S. secretary of housing and urban affairs, left today for Hamburg after assuring West Berliners that the United States will defend their freedom.

Romney gave his pledge Sunday in a statement issued after a tour of East Berlin and Communist-built wall.

Crash On Bridge Injures Man, 37

A San Francisco man was injured in a two-car accident on the Golden Gate Bridge Friday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Ronald Eugene Sarff, 37, said he would see his own doctor after he complained of pain in his forehead and right arm caused when the car he was driving hit one driven by Larry Wesley Forsyth, 38, also of San Francisco.

The highway patrol said Forsyth's vehcile was stopped on the bridge with engine trouble when it was struck from behind by Sarff's vehicle.

Operation Wheat Haul Under Way

ADA, Kan. (UPI)—A train of empty railroad cars finally came to town Sunday and workers began hauling to the freight depot to move to market 60,000 bushels of wheat piled along three blocks of Main Street.

The Ada Grain Co. stored the mountain of grain in the street after its 350,000-bushel elevator was filled in this tiny central Kansas town.

"It's the first train of empty cars we've had here in some time, said Carl McGavran, elevator manager. "We've got men down there now moving the grain off the street, down to the tracks and out of town."

The small train did not solve Ada's wheat overflow problems, however. The boxcar shortage remained critical for farmers in the nation's largest wheat-producing state.

Kansas' railroad officials blame eastern railroads for the boxcar shortage. Officials say the eastern roads rent cars from the midwestern lines during growing season and are supposed to return the cars in time for harvest.

Public Works' 'Empire Building' May Get Scrutiny From Outside

If one message was clear throughout the cacophony of county budget hearings, it was that the board of supervisors views with growing alarm rising costs in the public works department.

In fact, public works Director Donald R. Frost has been accused of being as guilty of "empire-building" as former Planning Director Paul C. Zucker, fired by the board earlier this month.

As a result, an outside effort is under way to form a fact-finding committee to delve into the operations of Frost's department, which has a budget of $4.7 million.

Supervisor Louis H. Baar is a leading critic of Frost's spending program and opposed an employee increase during budget sessions. In an unexpected flurry of actions at the close of the hearings, Baar won board approval to reduce the civil engineering staff by one, contending the overall department workload was the lowest on record because of the slumping economy.

Another department critic, though less vocal, is Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr.

MEANTIME, David Greenlee, a representative of the industry-backed Marin Builders Exchange, quietly appeared during the hearings to pose questions to Frost about his staffing and expenditures.

Although Frost's answers were quick and cordial, Greenlee said later it was impossible to assess them because of a lack of knowledge about the department. Subsequently he said his organization would be willing to help form a committee of retired engineers to look into department operations with an eye on cost-trimming measures.

The effort has Baar's endorsement.

"We have nothing against Don," Greenlee said. "We realize he's trying to do the job as he sees it and that his staff is trying to do the best job it can."

He explained the exchange was merely acting in response to board concerns about overstaffing.

"Who knows how much an employee should do?" he said. "All the committee could do is look at a man's workload and see whether he's not doing it or he is."

FROST WAS suprised to learn of the committee proposal but said he felt questions raised by Greenlee and other members of the audience during the hearing were valid.

But he added: "I feel these questions are raised because we are a big department. And we've grown simply because we've added a lot of services we weren't providing before."

He cited the new traffic section, which provides technical services to cities as well as dealing with the unincorporated area; the flood control division, which had no staff six years ago; the addition of responsibility for the county airport, and a tripling in maintenance responsibility for county buildings.

Meantime, he said, the road force has been reduced by 10 since he became director and the county has "not been trapped" into hiring a large janitorial staff, choosing to contract for services.

Our Avowed 'Nonconformist' Is A Parrot And A Fraud

The practicing, posturing, professional nonconformist of our times is a ludicrous character. He is a caricature of a nonconformist. With his wild-eyed enthusiasms, his blatant and flatulant evaluations of the social and political milieu and his formalized taboos — patriotism, the flag, duty and responsibility, etc. — he is far more predictable than the conformists he so loudly despises.

His bizarre dress, his tasteless behavior, his automatic reactions, gestures, words, even the stereotyped phrases and slogans he uses, reveal him not as the nonconformist he likes to believe he is, but more as a third-rate actor parroting lines from an obscene play.

It's amusing how the would-be nonconformist berates in speech and print the conforming behavior of the "straights" and the "squares." Our nonconformist friend would have us believe that a conformist must necessarily be a zombie who has accepted the values, tastes and judgements thrust upon him without thought or examination.

NONCONFORMITY in its richest, most productive sense is found in thought and independent responsible action. In its most superficial sense it is reflected in undisciplined action, behavior and dress. Unhappily, the so-called nonconformist in our midst has deluded himself into believing that the latter course is nonconformity at its best.

If the practicing nonconformist were to remove his blinders, he would discover the conformists, the conservatives and the "straights" have granted more freedom to dissent than the nonconformists dare grant in return.

Public figures, exposed to the crudest possible behavior, are prevented from voicing their views directly from the open forum. Even the President would find it embarrassing to speak at any number of our universities that curiously enough, take pride in their liberalism and "academic freedom."

This simple fact seems to have escaped our ubiquitous nonconformist. Or perhaps he is simply and conveniently disregarding this fact since the realization of it would conflict with his infantile beliefs — just as he refuses to acknowledge the astonishing range of freedom the western world permits all sorts of outlandish and widely deviant behavior and the remarkable toleration it has for destructive actions and disruptive ideas.

IT'S CURIOUS to note that our nonconformist seems to be aloof to the unconscious forces that compel him to flaunt and advertise his "differences". Or to note how he is blind to the dictator within his own breast, or how he yearns for the "Big Brother" he so roundly disavows.

And it's odd indeed, how he sees his world as a flat, two-dimensional, black and white still life. It is this pathetic soul who "speaks with a forked tongue" crying for toleration, love and peace when by his actions he stands revealed as a petty tyrant or a flimsy imitation of a filthy Rasputin.

Nonconformism as it now exists is a shabby and cheap facade. It is dishonest, deceptive and hypocritical. In other times it may have been the trademark of the intellectual, the delineation of the individual, the stamp of the maverick. Today, it is almost totally bankrupt. Mob action, mob emotionalism and mob technique is its forte for it is a thoroughly regulated, hobnail booted, regimented robot — and a monstrous fraud.

Coral Sea To Sail Into Bay Wednesday

The aircraft carrier Coral Sea — trailed later by a squadron of other naval vessels — will sail under the Golden Gate Bridge at 9 a.m. Wednesday after nine months' duty in Southeast Asia.

The huge carrier is due to dock at Alameda Naval Air Station in Alameda about 10:30 a.m.

The 11 other ships, led by the frigate Truxton, one of four nuclear-powered surface vessels in the Navy, will sail into San Francisco Bay at 10:30 a.m. for the annual visit of the Pacific Midshipman Training Squadron.

The Truxton will be open for public inspection July 3 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Alameda.

The other ten ships, the guided missile destroyers Somers and Hoel, and destroyers Cunningham, DeHaven, Ozbourn, T. E. Chandler, Hollister, Hepburn, Collett and Blue, will be open to the public from 1-4 p.m. July 3-5 at Piers 33 and 41 on the Embarcadero in San Francisco.

Sprinkled among the crews of the 11 ships are 375 midshipmen on summer cruise.

Grass Fire Hits 50-Acre Tract

A grass fire blown by winds which gusted to 75 miles per hour raged across 50 acres near Jewell yesterday before being contained by Marin County Fire Department firefighters.

The fire broke out about 12:30 p.m. and burned until almost 2 p.m. before firemen were able to contain it. Cause of the blaze is unknown.

The fire burned grass and brush on land owned by the Truppman Brothers Ranch and the Don McIsaac Ranch, firemen reported.

Water District To Eye Budget Draft, Candidates

The Marin Municipal Water District's proposed 1970-71 fiscal budget will be discussed by the district board at its meeting tomorrow at the district office.

The meeting will begin at 1 p.m., with the board interviewing nine candidates for the Division 2 seat on the board.

Discussion of the budget will include consideration of Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger's recommendation that water rates be increased 25 per cent.

The Division 2 seat was made vacant by the death last month of William Herup, who had served on the board since 1942.

Nine persons have filed for the seat. They are: Robert J. Brusatori, retired secretary-treasurer of the water district; William R. Cannon Jr., a student at the College of Marin; J. Mansfield Lewis, retired Marin County director of communications; Ronald A. MacMillan, financial investigator and a director of the Marin Conservation League; John M. MacPhail Jr., executive vice president of McPhail's Inc.; Eugene Morrison, head of Morrison Tree Experts of San Anselmo; Richard Oesterman, San Rafael mortgage broker; Herbert Walton Jr., San Rafael attorney, and Harry M. Williams, San Rafael mortician.

The board will make the appointment at its regular meeting July 8.

Is Novato Freeway History About To Repeat Itself?

A decade ago, many residents of Novato protested strongly against plans of the California Division of Highways to convert Highway 101 through their community to a full freeway.

The highway already split the community, they objected. To turn it into a freeway would be to divide Novato into two pieces forever and irretrievably.

There was, however, only one way they could prevent this from happening. That was to incorporate. State law provides that a freeway cannot be run through an incorporated city without the approval of that city's government.

WHEN NOVATANS voted overwhelmingly for incorporation in 1960, they were at the same time voting against a freeway through the heart of the city. The first city council, elected from a field of 27 candidates, was aware of that. And it went to bat immediately to change the state's plans.

Two years later, a route was finally agreed upon between city and state. Taking off from the present Highway 101 a short distance north of the Black Point Cutoff interchange, it crosses the Northwestern Pacific Railroad on an overpass, crests a hill and proceeds on a curve via Olive and Atherton avenues.

There was much discussion and many meetings before the route was approved by both city and state. And repeatedly, the Division of Highways warned that the delay in selecting a route would mean further delay in building the road. In the meantime, the highway would continue to run where Novato didn't want it — on its present route.

All that is history. Also history is the obvious dislocation of Novato development caused by a highway running through what should be the heart of the principal business district.

BUT IT IS HISTORY which appears about to start repeating itself.

Last week, the city council reneged on a May 26 agreement on alignment of Atherton Avenue with San Marin Drive which is part of the freeway bypass plan. Councilman George C. Quesada, who had been in the minority in voting against the alignment earlier, succeeded in winning over his fellow councilmen. And the council ordered the public works director not to sign the agreement with the state.

The basis of Quesada's objection was that by moving the intersection 200 feet north, considerably less cut of the hillside would be required.

This appears valid on the face of it. However, one wonders whether eight years of engineering work can be so easily second-guessed.

AT ANY RATE, the result of the council's action will be to further delay construction of the freeway bypass. The odds are good that after more complete inspection of the plans, and after hearing the reasons for locating the intersection as proposed, the new city councilmen will agree to what the Division of Highways wants to do.

In the meantime, they have added another delay during which Novato's development will be hampered by the present highway location.

And when other elections come along, voters disgruntled at the way their city is growing will vote these councilmen out and a new batch in to protest — as they have done before.

This could keep going on indefinitely. The harm to Novato would be much greater than that caused by cutting the side of one hill.

Lawmaker Soundly Attacks Noise; How About Proliferating Boards?

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

A grove of whispering pine is hereby awarded to Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, for trying to do something about the bane of modern life — noise.

Knox, in a resolution requesting the state director of public health to recommend how to control noise, offered a legislative finding that said "some of the blame for the disorientation and frustration of today's urban life can be placed on the high noise levels that act as subliminal irritants."

Knox's resolution, citing the "irritation and harmful effects of noise," proposed that the state consider controlling noise from "industrial equipment, construction, motor vehicles, boats, aircraft, home appliances, electric motors, combustion engines and any other noise-producing objects."

He did not mention dogs, but they certainly are noise-producing objects in our suburbia. With this four-legged amendment, Knox would have a really fine measure.

GROWING ALMOST as fast as the noise level is the number of state boards and commissions, most of them barely visible to the public. There are now 308 of them in the executive branch alone, according to the California State Chamber of Commerce.

Serving on these boards and commissions are 2,663 persons, of whom 1,939 are appointed by the governor, the chamber reported. These figures did not include hundreds of additional advisory committees to statutory boards, for which no central record exists, the chamber noted.

To top off this fine record of governmental efficiency, California legislators have introduced bills this session which, if enacted, would add 112 new boards and commissions. Only 13 of these would replace existing boards and commissions, according to the chamber's count.

Of the 112, 99 would need 1,050 appointments. The number of members on the other 13 was not detailed in the bills. Only 11 of the 112 would have automatic termination dates.

Virtually all of the bills were silent on the cost of the new boards and commissions.

SACRAMENTO subsidizes its bus system, just as all public systems must. That city's experience may hold lessons for Marin as local officials work toward solutions to this county's transportation problems.

Sacramento subsidized its bus operation to the tune of $125,500 in fiscal 1961-62. The subsidy for 1970-71 is to be $1,535,000.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Thanks To Ecology Drive Participants

We wish to express our appreciation to the Novato 4-H Clubs, Boy Scout troops, schools, Teen Club, and Blue Birds whose hard work helped to make the Ecology Drive held June 20, at the parking lot of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints such a success. . .

This letter would not be complete without also thanking the many people throughout the city who took the extra time to save, collect, and bring cans and papers to the drive. . .

Bridge Connection Better Than Tube

My purpose of this letter is to promote my plan for a double deck bridge from San Francisco to Marin County over Alcatraz and Angel Islands to Tiburon, a natural foundation for such a structure, with a connecting span from Angel Island to Richmond.

. . .I think the people of the Bay Area are making a mistake in not bridging this route, which I have advocated for some 10 years or more, instead of looking to a tube across this area, which to me seems impractical, very costly, and doubt in fact that it would be feasible and would carry only the rapid transit trains. . .

Why put this system underground and deprive the commuter, visitors and people of the Bay Area the beauty San Francisco Bay offers?. . .

Money spent on this crossing would fulfill a greater need than the so-called southern crossing, which is really not needed as they will have rapid transit service by 1971.

I do hope that this bridge will be built and by the time it is completed that we will have smog-free motor cars or that the electric car will be perfected to a point that it will afford adequate transportation and that we will again have pollution free air and water throughout the Bay Area.

'Romantic' Rodeo Brutal Spectacle

It is disheartening to all who deplore violence and cruelty to see on the front page of your June 22 issue a young calf being roped and flung wildly in the air. Your endorsement of the various rodeos in the area is most discouraging for all who work so diligently for animal welfare. Do you, the various other newspapers, sponsoring clubs, and the people who patronize these affairs ever stop to think of the pain inflicted on these helpless animals?. . .

More than 3,000 commercial rodeos are held in the United States every year. Many thousands of animals are abused and injured in these events. Animals are injured until they bleed — by spurs, by violent falls, and by ropes. They are whipped, clubbed, kicked, and goaded mercilessly. Tired old horses are driven to frenzied bucking by a strap cinched to agonizing tightness. The tails of calves and steers are twisted violently to make them run. And all of this is done in the name of sport and under the guise of entertainment.

Promoters have glamorized rodeo as a tradition and glory of the early West. Their propaganda ignores the use of pain-producing techniques and cruel devices. The general public has accepted this image and each year pays millions of dollars to see a glamorized form of entertainment that is, behind the scenes, a really brutal exploitation of animals for profit. . .

It is time for humanitarians and humane societies to take a strong stand against cruelty in rodeos at every opportunity. The phony romanticism connected with rodeos does not alter the fact that they are spectacles of brutality.

Thompson Attack Called Unwarranted

I deplore exceedingly, as a fair-minded citizen, the kind of attempt at villifying the character of Mr. Austin J. Thompson, executive director of the Human Rights Department of Marin County, which appeared in (David) Dietz' column in the I-J for June 22. . .

As a volunteer, but one who has been working with the Human Rights Commission and department as editor of the newsletter, "We Not They," I have had occasion to be in the office at the Civic Center very often. I have seldom seen such a hard-working or dedicated staff. I believe that whatever "coolness' we have enjoyed in Marin County has been in a large measure due to the behind-the-scenes efforts of Mr. Thompson and his able staff members. The commissioners, too, have been dedicated, but they could not have achieved what has been accomplished without long hours on the part of the staff.

It appears to me that at this time, when the county is taking drastic measures to reduce the tax rate, many causes of more value than the tax dollar are on the block. Economy measures should not cause us to lose our perspective, for we would thereby lose much more in the end. The efforts to cut down the Human Rights Department director by character assassination appear to be part of this effort to economize. I believe this is not to be condoned under any circumstances.

Pentagon Fails To Adapt To Role In Nixon Doctrine

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Substantial cuts in military spending must be made to get the money to deal with pressing domestic needs.

There's little argument about that.

The defense budget will probably be reduced an additional $6 billion next year. That's all right, too.

But there is a very serious danger that the cutting will be done by a meat ax instead of a scalpel and that we will end up with a military establishment little related to the post-Vietnam world and poorly designed to serve emerging U.S. foreign policy.

THIS DANGER is already coming into view. It results from this rather appalling development:

No adequate planning is being done in the Pentagon to implement the Nixon doctrine.

This means that while the President is reshaping U.S. foreign policy, the Defense Department is not reshaping its defense posture to carry out that policy.

Even at a time of expanding military spending, this would be a hurtful and wasteful mistake.

At a time of contracting military spending — now and for some years ahead — this can be a dangerous and fateful mistake.

IT'S HAPPENING now — and three things contribute most to bringing it about: haste, pressure and traditional thinking within the services.

The Pentagon is being harried and heckled by many in Congress to cut back the military budget substantially, to cut it now and to find out later whether the cuts were the right ones.

It is being pushed by the President to make a good showing as rapidly as possible so that before the voting this fall Republican candidates can get the political advantage of new priorities on spending.

Finally, the tendency of the military is to keep it as it is rather than to re-examine the total defense posture to adapt it to serve the new post-Vietnam policies Mr. Nixon has laid down.

THE NEED to reshape the contracting defense establishment to carry out the Nixon doctrine is beginning to be discussed at high level strategy conferences of the military planners. But there is a wide gulf between planning to do something and getting it done.

The premise of the administration is no more Koreas and no more Vietnams. Since that is the premise of the commander-in-chief, it must also be the premise of the Pentagon, and reduced post-Vietnam defense spending must be shaped around it.

The announced intention of the President is that the United States is going to reduce its role in peace-keeping. President Nixon says that the central thesis of his doctrine is "that the United States will participate in the defense and development of allies and friends, but that America cannot — and will not — conceive all the plans, design all the programs, execute all the decisions and undertake all the defense of the free nations of the world. We will help where it makes a real difference and is considered in our interest."

This certainly suggests that the United States will be disposed to help only those allies willing and able to help themselves and that U.S. troops will not be used unless vital American interests are directly at stake.

ONLY THE MILITARY planners can well decide how the reduced defense establishment can be shaped to carry out the Nixon doctrine. But just somewhat less of the same is not the way to do it. The post-Vietnam defense posture needs to be reappraised with a fresh eye to the special needs of the Nixon doctrine, if the Nixon doctrine is to be made to work. Defense and the new Nixon foreign policy must not be kept in separate compartments.

Thus far little has been done to take them out of their separate compartments and match them up. Right now we are in the never-never land of knowing that it needs to be done but not coming to grips with it. Military spending must be cut, but what is left must be reshaped to fit the world of post-Vietnam.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Military Budget Squeeze Revives Service Rivalries

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon's budget squeeze is apparently causing a revival of old inter-service rivalries which have been mostly dormant in recent years.

With the money pie to be baked a little smaller, the armed services are becoming more interested in the other guy's slice. Already there are indications that some of the service brass are less than enthusiastic about weapons planned for other services.

Insiders report, for example, that Navy and Air Force staff officers are noticeably cooling on the Army's Safeguard anti-ballistic missile system. On the other hand, the Navy may face renewed opposition from the other services to its aircraft carrier plans.

By next year it appears that the Nixon administration will have trimmed Pentagon spending by some $9 billion a year to about $70 billion. Much of the reduction has been in reduced Army manpower, and the other services will almost certainly acquiesce in further force cuts.

THE CLIMATE is beginning to resemble that which prevailed after World War II and into the 1950s. It has not yet reached the point where the services propadandize more or less publicly against one another.

One intra-Pentagon dispute could reach that stage, however. It involves Army plans for the Cheyenne helicopter and Air Force plans for the A-X, a single-seat, subsonic attack plane.

Both aircraft are designed to provide close support for ground troops. So the two programs reopen an old controversy: does the Army or the Air Force have the job, or "mission," of supporting troops with tactical air strikes?

Complicating the controversy over close air support is the fact that the Marine Corps is buying a plane of its own. The Marines' air support plane is the Harrier — a V/STOL aircraft, one designed for almost vertical take-off and landing with the use of rotating jet engines.

Harrier is a British plane, built by Hawker-Siddley, and that has caused some congressional concern. The Marines have therefore arranged that Harriers be assembled under license in the United States — at an additional cost of $1.4 million for each of 18 planes.

RESURGENT controversies of this sort can make life difficult for Adm. Thomas Moorer, who takes over this week as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Some Pentagon experts think revived service rivalries constitute one of two problems which will be increasingly difficult for Moorer.

The other is a different sort, the manpower problem: how to keep the armed services supplied with experienced officers and enlisted men at a time when an unpopular war casts an unpleasant shadow over military careers.

Group To Challenge Cutbacks In Budget

A group calling itself Marin County Employees for a More Effective Government will appear tomorrow before the board of supervisors asking reconsideration of budget cuts in "People-centered services."

Claiming such services are the first to be cut back or eliminated, the group has indicated it will present the "other side of the picture" given Thursday by 300 irate taxpayers who demanded a rollback in next year's county spending program.

A spokesman for the group, James Edmondson, employed in the probation department, said the county's refusal to grant more than a 5 per cent pay raise to management employees is part of the issue.

This, coupled with the board's refusal to allocate additional positions in county departments to meet predcited workload increases, could decrease government's effectiveness, the group says.

He explained that without automatic hiring of new employees by departments as workloads increase, existing staffs in such agencies as probation, social services, human rights and the sheriff's office will have to spread themselves thinner.

Other agenda items for tomorrow's board session, beginning at 9 a.m., are approval of a directive giving emergency powers to the county administrator in event of a walkout by probation and social service employees Wednesday, a report from the public works director on plans and specifications for landscaping South San Pedro Road, and a 3 p.m. hearing on the extension of the natural resources interim ordinance.

Larkspur, Corte Madera Open Recreation Programs

Playground programs, tennis, baseball and other sports are included in the summer recreation program of Larkspur and Corte Madera.

Parents are to register their children at the playground today or tomorrow.

A junior baseball instruction program for boys six through eight will be held at Town Park and Larkspur's Bundy Field. Registration will be at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at Henry C. Hall playground.

Tennis lessons for children between 9 and 12 will be given at the town park tennis courts at 10 a.m. daily, and for adults at 11 a.m. daily.

Six field trips are planned, the first on Wednesday to Candlestick Park to watch the Giants.

Redwood High School gymnasium will be open on Tuesday and Thursday nights for adults, and on Wednesday nights for high school students, for unorganized basketball, volleyball and other sports.

Recreation program details are available at Larkspur City Hall.

Graham Pleads For Spiritual Awakening

NEW YORK (UPI)—Evangelist Billy Graham, winding up his five-day crusade here, said Sunday that a national spiritual awakening could provide a solution for the wave of turmoil on campuses in the United States.

"Spiritual renewal has happened to America before in the hours of national despair," Graham told a crowd of 36,000 at Shea Stadium. "It needs to happen again."

Moral uplift could help reduce other problems in the country in addition to campus troubles, Graham said, including increasing narcotics use and environmental pollution.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By DAVID DIETZ

Public Works' 'Empire Building' May Get Scrutiny From Outside

If one message was clear throughout the cacophony of county budget hearings, it was that the board of supervisors views with growing alarm rising costs in the public works department.

In fact, public works Director Donald R. Frost has been accused of being as guilty of "empire-building" as former Planning Director Paul C. Zucker, fired by the board earlier this month.

As a result, an outside effort is under way to form a fact-finding committee to delve into the operations of Frost's department, which has a budget of $4.7 million.

Supervisor Louis H. Baar is a leading critic of Frost's spending program and opposed an employee increase during budget sessions. In an unexpected flurry of actions at the close of the hearings, Baar won board approval to reduce the civil engineering staff by one, contending the overall department workload was the lowest on record because of the slumping economy.

Another department critic, though less vocal, is Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr.

MEANTIME, David Greenlee, a representative of the industry-backed Marin Builders Exchange, quietly appeared during the hearings to pose questions to Frost about his staffing and expenditures.

Although Frost's answers were quick and cordial, Greenlee said later it was impossible to assess them because of a lack of knowledge about the department. Subsequently he said his organization would be willing to help form a committee of retired engineers to look into department operations with an eye on cost-trimming measures.

The effort has Baar's endorsement.

"We have nothing against Don," Greenlee said. "We realize he's trying to do the job as he sees it and that his staff is trying to do the best job it can."

He explained the exchange was merely acting in response to board concerns about overstaffing.

"Who knows how much an employee should do?" he said. "All the committee could do is look at a man's workload and see whether he's not doing it or he is."

FROST WAS suprised to learn of the committee proposal but said he felt questions raised by Greenlee and other members of the audience during the hearing were valid.

But he added: "I feel these questions are raised because we are a big department. And we've grown simply because we've added a lot of services we weren't providing before."

He cited the new traffic section, which provides technical services to cities as well as dealing with the unincorporated area; the flood control division, which had no staff six years ago; the addition of responsibility for the county airport, and a tripling in maintenance responsibility for county buildings.

Meantime, he said, the road force has been reduced by 10 since he became director and the county has "not been trapped" into hiring a large janitorial staff, choosing to contract for services.

Our Avowed 'Nonconformist' Is A Parrot And A Fraud

The practicing, posturing, professional nonconformist of our times is a ludicrous character. He is a caricature of a nonconformist. With his wild-eyed enthusiasms, his blatant and flatulant evaluations of the social and political milieu and his formalized taboos — patriotism, the flag, duty and responsibility, etc. — he is far more predictable than the conformists he so loudly despises.

His bizarre dress, his tasteless behavior, his automatic reactions, gestures, words, even the stereotyped phrases and slogans he uses, reveal him not as the nonconformist he likes to believe he is, but more as a third-rate actor parroting lines from an obscene play.

It's amusing how the would-be nonconformist berates in speech and print the conforming behavior of the "straights" and the "squares." Our nonconformist friend would have us believe that a conformist must necessarily be a zombie who has accepted the values, tastes and judgements thrust upon him without thought or examination.

NONCONFORMITY in its richest, most productive sense is found in thought and independent responsible action. In its most superficial sense it is reflected in undisciplined action, behavior and dress. Unhappily, the so-called nonconformist in our midst has deluded himself into believing that the latter course is nonconformity at its best.

If the practicing nonconformist were to remove his blinders, he would discover the conformists, the conservatives and the "straights" have granted more freedom to dissent than the nonconformists dare grant in return.

Public figures, exposed to the crudest possible behavior, are prevented from voicing their views directly from the open forum. Even the President would find it embarrassing to speak at any number of our universities that curiously enough, take pride in their liberalism and "academic freedom."

This simple fact seems to have escaped our ubiquitous nonconformist. Or perhaps he is simply and conveniently disregarding this fact since the realization of it would conflict with his infantile beliefs — just as he refuses to acknowledge the astonishing range of freedom the western world permits all sorts of outlandish and widely deviant behavior and the remarkable toleration it has for destructive actions and disruptive ideas.

IT'S CURIOUS to note that our nonconformist seems to be aloof to the unconscious forces that compel him to flaunt and advertise his "differences". Or to note how he is blind to the dictator within his own breast, or how he yearns for the "Big Brother" he so roundly disavows.

And it's odd indeed, how he sees his world as a flat, two-dimensional, black and white still life. It is this pathetic soul who "speaks with a forked tongue" crying for toleration, love and peace when by his actions he stands revealed as a petty tyrant or a flimsy imitation of a filthy Rasputin.

Nonconformism as it now exists is a shabby and cheap facade. It is dishonest, deceptive and hypocritical. In other times it may have been the trademark of the intellectual, the delineation of the individual, the stamp of the maverick. Today, it is almost totally bankrupt. Mob action, mob emotionalism and mob technique is its forte for it is a thoroughly regulated, hobnail booted, regimented robot — and a monstrous fraud.

Coral Sea To Sail Into Bay Wednesday

The aircraft carrier Coral Sea — trailed later by a squadron of other naval vessels — will sail under the Golden Gate Bridge at 9 a.m. Wednesday after nine months' duty in Southeast Asia.

The huge carrier is due to dock at Alameda Naval Air Station in Alameda about 10:30 a.m.

The 11 other ships, led by the frigate Truxton, one of four nuclear-powered surface vessels in the Navy, will sail into San Francisco Bay at 10:30 a.m. for the annual visit of the Pacific Midshipman Training Squadron.

The Truxton will be open for public inspection July 3 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Alameda.

The other ten ships, the guided missile destroyers Somers and Hoel, and destroyers Cunningham, DeHaven, Ozbourn, T. E. Chandler, Hollister, Hepburn, Collett and Blue, will be open to the public from 1-4 p.m. July 3-5 at Piers 33 and 41 on the Embarcadero in San Francisco.

Sprinkled among the crews of the 11 ships are 375 midshipmen on summer cruise.

Grass Fire Hits 50-Acre Tract

A grass fire blown by winds which gusted to 75 miles per hour raged across 50 acres near Jewell yesterday before being contained by Marin County Fire Department firefighters.

The fire broke out about 12:30 p.m. and burned until almost 2 p.m. before firemen were able to contain it. Cause of the blaze is unknown.

The fire burned grass and brush on land owned by the Truppman Brothers Ranch and the Don McIsaac Ranch, firemen reported.

Water District To Eye Budget Draft, Candidates

The Marin Municipal Water District's proposed 1970-71 fiscal budget will be discussed by the district board at its meeting tomorrow at the district office.

The meeting will begin at 1 p.m., with the board interviewing nine candidates for the Division 2 seat on the board.

Discussion of the budget will include consideration of Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger's recommendation that water rates be increased 25 per cent.

The Division 2 seat was made vacant by the death last month of William Herup, who had served on the board since 1942.

Nine persons have filed for the seat. They are: Robert J. Brusatori, retired secretary-treasurer of the water district; William R. Cannon Jr., a student at the College of Marin; J. Mansfield Lewis, retired Marin County director of communications; Ronald A. MacMillan, financial investigator and a director of the Marin Conservation League; John M. MacPhail Jr., executive vice president of McPhail's Inc.; Eugene Morrison, head of Morrison Tree Experts of San Anselmo; Richard Oesterman, San Rafael mortgage broker; Herbert Walton Jr., San Rafael attorney, and Harry M. Williams, San Rafael mortician.

The board will make the appointment at its regular meeting July 8.

New Abortion Eligibility

NEW YORK (UPI) — Seventeen-year-old "emancipated" unmarried girls will be eligible for abortions in New York City when the state's liberalized abortion law goes into effect Wednesday, it was announced Friday.

At the same time, Blue Cross of Greater New York decided for the first time to provide maternity benefits for single females, including dependent children of subscribers, provided the original contract originated in a group. Blue Shield was expected to follow suit, a spokesman said.

Blue Cross covers hospital bills and Blue Shield covers doctors' bills. It was estimated that cash payments would range up to $150 for Blue Cross, and up to $100 for Blue Shield, when approved.

Officials of city hospitals said abortions would be performed without parental consent if the patient is married, "emancipated," or at least 17 years old. It was noted the new state law does not have age limitations.

THE NEW LAW, passed recently in Albany after an emotional legislative battle, repealed the old measure that allowed abortions only in the event the patient's life was endangered.

By "emancipated," authorities meant a girl "who is self supporting or living away from home under such circumstances that she makes most of her own decisions," a spokesman for the City Hospital Corporation said.

The board of directors of the corporation gave its unanimous approval to the new policy, the spokesman said. The body takes control of the city's 18 hospitals on the same day the liberalized abortion law takes effect.

Under the new abortion law, women may obtain abortions from licensed physicians during the first six months of pregnancy. Abortions may be performed in a doctor's office provided it is properly equipped.

THE HOSPITAL board said it intended to make every effort to provide medically sound abortions for New York City women seeking them and to make the availability of the service widely known.

The change in the Blue Cross policy will affect about half of Blue Cross contracts in New York City and surrounding counties.

The community relations coordinator of Blue Cross, William Walpole, said the cash benefits probably will range from $80 to $150 for subscribers treated in member hospitals as in-patients or out-patients. The amount depends on the type of contract.

He said Blue Shield payments would range from $50 to $100. The change will not become official until approved by the New York State Insurance Department, but Walpole said he was certain such approval would be forthcoming. He said the approval for payments will be retroactive, providing benefits from July 1.

Mentally Ill Children Benefitted From Massive Doses Of Vitamins

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —A San Diego psychologist said today that 40 per cent of 200 mentally ill children benefitted from treatments with massive vitamin doses.

Dr. Bernard Rimland of the Institute of Child Behavior Research reported on the study before the closing sessions of the Second Annual Conference of the National Society for Autistic Children.

Rimland reported on data he has collected during the past two years on the condition of children suffering from schizophrenia and autism. He said Nobel Laureate Linus Pauling is conducting similar tests at Stanford University.

Dr. Rimland said that about 40 per-cent of the nation-wide group with which he worked were reported "as noticeably improved by the parents and physicians who judged the behavior of the children."

Rimland said massive doses of Vitamins C and B were used in the experiment, which he said was conducted to test theories that certain types of mental illnesses are caused by defects in the body's ability to absorb certain vitamins.

He contended that other evidence recently has shown biochemical normalities in children "whose withdrawn and disturbed condition used to be attributed to faulty environment."

In other reports to the conference:

—Dr. Edwin W. Martin of the Bureau of Education for the Handicapped in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare said the government is putting high priority in increasing public understanding for emotionally disturbed children.

—Parents of three autistic children who recovered to become self-supporting adults reported that they turned out to have surprising skills. One of the three youths is a shipping clerk and two are piano tuners. All are considered top workers by their bosses.

Group To Challenge Cutbacks In Budget

A group calling itself Marin County Employees for a More Effective Government will appear tomorrow before the board of supervisors asking reconsideration of budget cuts in "People-centered services."

Claiming such services are the first to be cut back or eliminated, the group has indicated it will present the "other side of the picture" given Thursday by 300 irate taxpayers who demanded a rollback in next year's county spending program.

A spokesman for the group, James Edmondson, employed in the probation department, said the county's refusal to grant more than a 5 per cent pay raise to management employees is part of the issue.

This, coupled with the board's refusal to allocate additional positions in county departments to meet predcited workload increases, could decrease government's effectiveness, the group says.

He explained that without automatic hiring of new employees by departments as workloads increase, existing staffs in such agencies as probation, social services, human rights and the sheriff's office will have to spread themselves thinner.

Other agenda items for tomorrow's board session, beginning at 9 a.m., are approval of a directive giving emergency powers to the county administrator in event of a walkout by probation and social service employees Wednesday, a report from the public works director on plans and specifications for landscaping South San Pedro Road, and a 3 p.m. hearing on the extension of the natural resources interim ordinance.

Parents are to register their children at the playground today or tomorrow.

A junior baseball instruction program for boys six through eight will be held at Town Park and Larkspur's Bundy Field. Registration will be at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at Henry C. Hall playground.

Tennis lessons for children between 9 and 12 will be given at the town park tennis courts at 10 a.m. daily, and for adults at 11 a.m. daily.

Six field trips are planned, the first on Wednesday to Candlestick Park to watch the Giants.

Recreation program details are available at Larkspur City Hall.

Graham Pleads For Spiritual Awakening

NEW YORK (UPI)—Evangelist Billy Graham, winding up his five-day crusade here, said Sunday that a national spiritual awakening could provide a solution for the wave of turmoil on campuses in the United States.

"Spiritual renewal has happened to America before in the hours of national despair," Graham told a crowd of 36,000 at Shea Stadium. "It needs to happen again."

Moral uplift could help reduce other problems in the country in addition to campus troubles, Graham said, including increasing narcotics use and environmental pollution.

Driver Arrested On Drug Charge

Frank Leslie Grant, 25, of 1116 Skillman Lane, Petaluma, was arrested on suspicion of possession of marijuana Friday.

Police said they stopped Grant for a traffic violation on Petaluma Boulevard South near Mountain View Avenue and found marijuana cigarettes on the dashboard. Police said a passenger in the car escaped on foot.

Grant was released on his own recognizance for arraignment today in Southern Municipal Court.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'We Aren't Guilty Because We Leave Our Keys In The Car

DEAR HELEN:

I'm an avid radio listener. Like so many others, I am constantly being blasted by a familiar voice telling me I'm a big "baddy" if I leave my keys in the car — thus leading some poor innocent child astray.

Now I mean really! I was a teen-ager not too long ago (I'm 21 now) and I knew when a car didn't belong to me, whether the keys were in it or not.

So why don't they place the blame where it belongs? We aren't guilty because we leave our keys in the car — dumb maybe, but we certainly aren't turning a good boy into a thief. A kid who will jump in a car which doesn't belong to him and drive away isn't "innocent." He'd cross the wires just as readily.

It's bleeding hearts like this announcer who may turn kids bad, not careless car owners. Right? — GUILTY BEFORE PROVEN INNOCENT

DEAR GBPI:

Right on! A straight reminder to "lock your car before leaving it" would irritate a lot less people. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am married to a dear, dear man who may be the death of me. Helen, for 22½ years, he has worked me to a frazzle. I have had an outside job in all except two years of our life together, when I was having babies.

Every time my husband got into debt, because of a whim or a good deal that went sour I was always there to supply the extra money. About 10 years ago we bought a cabin at the mountains so we could rest over the weekends. Some rest.

I crowd all my home work into my after-work week day so I can spend a weekend housecleaning and cooking at the cabin. I even do men's work like cleaning the basement and garage, washing the car and making minor repairs. My husband comes in, eats my nice dinner, goes to sleep on the davenport, awakens at 11 p.m. for a cup of tea (which I make), and so to bed.

I don't mind working, but I could use some help. A lot of my money has gone for skis, a boat and equipment for the cabin, but I never get any time to use them as I'm always busy in the house.

Arguments don't change my husband. When I point out how much I do, he just gets lazier. Solution please? — IN A BAD WAY

DEAR IABW:

It's going to rile you, but I must say this: You've dug the rut you're in; and if you didn't secretly enjoy self-pity, you'd long ago have stopped being so darn efficient.

Are you a perfectionist who takes over jobs so they'll be done right? No man will compete with a compulsive cleaner. Result: You slave trying to show him up, and he gets lazier out of resentment.

My suggestion: Simmer down. Ignore some of the chores that make you feel important while wearing you to a frazzle. Spend those mountain weekends on the lake with your husband. Be a companion, not a harried maid. Let him know he's got a new, relaxed, somewhat helpless woman on his hands — and she can be quite a handful. Your two houses may look unkempt for a while, until he realizes you've really shucked the super-manager role, but my guess is he'll gladly take on some responsibilities in exchange for a less duty-ridden wife. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

In reply to the man who can't sleep because of his wife's snoring: Stop trying to blot out the noise — it will only irritate you more. My solution is — listen. The rhythmic snort or puff or whatever will soon lull you to sleep, like listening to raindrops on the roof. I learned this when I worked nights and my mother did home typing. I tried wrapping my head in the pillow to no avail. Then one day I listened, and I was bored to sleep. Try it. — G.A.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

New Federal Restrictions On Fourth Of July Fireworks

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — The Food and Drug Administration is making sure that Americans are getting less and less of a bang out of July Fourth celebrations.

The aim is not less patroitism but fewer injuries, especially to youngsters. An estimated 10,000 persons are hurt each year, some fatally, by fireworks. About 6,000 are children 15 years of age or less.

And the toll is rising, according to the National Fire Protection Association, despite enactment of the Child Protection Act of 1966.

The FDA has used its increased authority under this law to crack down on the more dangerous types of explosives. "Make-it-yourself" fireworks kits have been almost completely driven off the market as a result of prosecutions by the federal agency.

THE LATEST regulation went into effect Saturday. It seeks to broaden a previous rule barring interstate sale of the most dangerous types of fireworks to adults as well as children.

The only exception has been for fireworks "intended solely for bona fide crop protection purposes." The FDA has found widespread diversion of high-powered fireworks from farm use to the general public. Eight deaths and 41 serious injuries are blames on these products.

Principal targets of the FDA are cherry bombs, M-80 salutes, silver salutes, aerial bombs and other large firecrackers.

Not included under the interstate ban are so-called "Class C fireworks." These are paper caps, cone fountains, cylinder fountains, whistles without blasts and sparklers.

But even these can be dangerous, especiallly if not used properly, says the National Fire Protection Association. The organization recently leveled a blast at the FDA for not also banning Class C products.

IT SAID A survey of 2,000 incidents involving fireworks indicated that 42 per cent of all injuries came from these firecrackers, including sparklers, Roman candles and similar devices.

These injuries, said the association, accounted for about half of all eye injuries and 40 per cent of all hand injuries.

Sparklers alone, said the association, caused six per cent of all injuries, including 28 eye injuries. It pointed out that the temperature of sparklers reaches 1,800 degrees, a powerful hazard in the hands of a child.

The association, a clearinghouse of fire safety information located in Boston, cited "the critical deficiency" of the Child Protection Act, but it was even more critical of the FDA's handling of the law.

"As administered by the FDA," said the association, "the only present requirement is that (Class C fireworks) carry a hazardous warning label, with the pious hope that children will read and heed the warning."

Three who didn't were burned severely in Nebraska last year when they accidentally caused an explosion with gasoline inside a large water tank which they entered to show off the sparklers better in the dark. Four others were injuried when they tried to make a "jet" engine of sparklers propel a skateboard.

An article in the June issue of "Today's Health" tells the story best: "Safe fireworks? There aren't any in the hands of children."

Ban The Bra?

Ban the bra? No. So said nine out of 10 designers interviewed by the Contour Council, whose members keep the innerwear industry going. The designers supported underpinnings for their softer, slinkier, longer, sexier-than-ever collections for fall and winter.

IN NEW YORK CITY

New Abortion Eligibility

NEW YORK (UPI) — Seventeen-year-old "emancipated" unmarried girls will be eligible for abortions in New York City when the state's liberalized abortion law goes into effect Wednesday, it was announced Friday.

At the same time, Blue Cross of Greater New York decided for the first time to provide maternity benefits for single females, including dependent children of subscribers, provided the original contract originated in a group. Blue Shield was expected to follow suit, a spokesman said.

Blue Cross covers hospital bills and Blue Shield covers doctors' bills. It was estimated that cash payments would range up to $150 for Blue Cross, and up to $100 for Blue Shield, when approved.

Officials of city hospitals said abortions would be performed without parental consent if the patient is married, "emancipated," or at least 17 years old. It was noted the new state law does not have age limitations.

THE NEW LAW, passed recently in Albany after an emotional legislative battle, repealed the old measure that allowed abortions only in the event the patient's life was endangered.

By "emancipated," authorities meant a girl "who is self supporting or living away from home under such circumstances that she makes most of her own decisions," a spokesman for the City Hospital Corporation said.

The board of directors of the corporation gave its unanimous approval to the new policy, the spokesman said. The body takes control of the city's 18 hospitals on the same day the liberalized abortion law takes effect.

Under the new abortion law, women may obtain abortions from licensed physicians during the first six months of pregnancy. Abortions may be performed in a doctor's office provided it is properly equipped.

THE HOSPITAL board said it intended to make every effort to provide medically sound abortions for New York City women seeking them and to make the availability of the service widely known.

The change in the Blue Cross policy will affect about half of Blue Cross contracts in New York City and surrounding counties.

The community relations coordinator of Blue Cross, William Walpole, said the cash benefits probably will range from $80 to $150 for subscribers treated in member hospitals as in-patients or out-patients. The amount depends on the type of contract.

He said Blue Shield payments would range from $50 to $100. The change will not become official until approved by the New York State Insurance Department, but Walpole said he was certain such approval would be forthcoming. He said the approval for payments will be retroactive, providing benefits from July 1.

Mentally Ill Children Benefitted From Massive Doses Of Vitamins

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —A San Diego psychologist said today that 40 per cent of 200 mentally ill children benefitted from treatments with massive vitamin doses.

Dr. Bernard Rimland of the Institute of Child Behavior Research reported on the study before the closing sessions of the Second Annual Conference of the National Society for Autistic Children.

Rimland reported on data he has collected during the past two years on the condition of children suffering from schizophrenia and autism. He said Nobel Laureate Linus Pauling is conducting similar tests at Stanford University.

Dr. Rimland said that about 40 per-cent of the nation-wide group with which he worked were reported "as noticeably improved by the parents and physicians who judged the behavior of the children."

Rimland said massive doses of Vitamins C and B were used in the experiment, which he said was conducted to test theories that certain types of mental illnesses are caused by defects in the body's ability to absorb certain vitamins.

He contended that other evidence recently has shown biochemical normalities in children "whose withdrawn and disturbed condition used to be attributed to faulty environment."

In other reports to the conference:

—Dr. Edwin W. Martin of the Bureau of Education for the Handicapped in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare said the government is putting high priority in increasing public understanding for emotionally disturbed children.

—Parents of three autistic children who recovered to become self-supporting adults reported that they turned out to have surprising skills. One of the three youths is a shipping clerk and two are piano tuners. All are considered top workers by their bosses.

Your Own Formula For Housework

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI) — Memo to housewives: Faith Prior, home economist with the University of Vermont Extension Service, has some help for you if you're looking for a 25-hour day.

"There's no magic formula for saving time and energy," she advises. "You have to develop your own formula that works best for your home and family."

She's written a pamphlet, "What To Do About Housework," which contains a couple of quick hints:

— Question the job: Why do it? Who should do it? When and how well should it be done.

— Question setups: What's the best place to store needed equipment and is the equipment all it should be.

— Question work conditions: Am I dressed comfortably. Is the room warm or cool enough.

— Clutter: Have a central spot for unclaimed clutter, such as a chest, deep drawer or cupboard and as claimants appear, let him or her dig out the item. Works wonders on childhood clutterbugs.

Drape Meant Drab

NEW YORK (UPI) — The word "drape" comes from a corruption of the word "drab." In earlier days the word "drab" was applied to dull, lackluster fabrics used as hangings at doors and windows.

Their Husbands Aren't Listening

URBANA, Ill. (UPI) — A survey of about 300 young married couples in Peoria and Decatur, Ill., seems to confirm what some wives have suspected all along. Their husbands aren't listening.

"More wives than husbands reported having had discussions," a report on the ongoing project by the Survey Research Laboratory of the University of Illinois noted. For example, nine out of 10 wives reported discussing the purchase of a new car with their mates. But only eight out of 10 husbands indicated discussing new cars with their wives.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'We Aren't Guilty Because We Leave Our Keys In The Car

DEAR HELEN:

I'm an avid radio listener. Like so many others, I am constantly being blasted by a familiar voice telling me I'm a big "baddy" if I leave my keys in the car — thus leading some poor innocent child astray.

Now I mean really! I was a teen-ager not too long ago (I'm 21 now) and I knew when a car didn't belong to me, whether the keys were in it or not.

So why don't they place the blame where it belongs? We aren't guilty because we leave our keys in the car — dumb maybe, but we certainly aren't turning a good boy into a thief. A kid who will jump in a car which doesn't belong to him and drive away isn't "innocent." He'd cross the wires just as readily.

It's bleeding hearts like this announcer who may turn kids bad, not careless car owners. Right? — GUILTY BEFORE PROVEN INNOCENT

DEAR GBPI:

Right on! A straight reminder to "lock your car before leaving it" would irritate a lot less people. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am married to a dear, dear man who may be the death of me. Helen, for 22½ years, he has worked me to a frazzle. I have had an outside job in all except two years of our life together, when I was having babies.

Every time my husband got into debt, because of a whim or a good deal that went sour I was always there to supply the extra money. About 10 years ago we bought a cabin at the mountains so we could rest over the weekends. Some rest.

I crowd all my home work into my after-work week day so I can spend a weekend housecleaning and cooking at the cabin. I even do men's work like cleaning the basement and garage, washing the car and making minor repairs. My husband comes in, eats my nice dinner, goes to sleep on the davenport, awakens at 11 p.m. for a cup of tea (which I make), and so to bed.

I don't mind working, but I could use some help. A lot of my money has gone for skis, a boat and equipment for the cabin, but I never get any time to use them as I'm always busy in the house.

Arguments don't change my husband. When I point out how much I do, he just gets lazier. Solution please? — IN A BAD WAY

DEAR IABW:

It's going to rile you, but I must say this: You've dug the rut you're in; and if you didn't secretly enjoy self-pity, you'd long ago have stopped being so darn efficient.

Are you a perfectionist who takes over jobs so they'll be done right? No man will compete with a compulsive cleaner. Result: You slave trying to show him up, and he gets lazier out of resentment.

My suggestion: Simmer down. Ignore some of the chores that make you feel important while wearing you to a frazzle. Spend those mountain weekends on the lake with your husband. Be a companion, not a harried maid. Let him know he's got a new, relaxed, somewhat helpless woman on his hands — and she can be quite a handful. Your two houses may look unkempt for a while, until he realizes you've really shucked the super-manager role, but my guess is he'll gladly take on some responsibilities in exchange for a less duty-ridden wife. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

In reply to the man who can't sleep because of his wife's snoring: Stop trying to blot out the noise — it will only irritate you more. My solution is — listen. The rhythmic snort or puff or whatever will soon lull you to sleep, like listening to raindrops on the roof. I learned this when I worked nights and my mother did home typing. I tried wrapping my head in the pillow to no avail. Then one day I listened, and I was bored to sleep. Try it. — G.A.

New Federal Restrictions On Fourth Of July Fireworks

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — The Food and Drug Administration is making sure that Americans are getting less and less of a bang out of July Fourth celebrations.

The aim is not less patroitism but fewer injuries, especially to youngsters. An estimated 10,000 persons are hurt each year, some fatally, by fireworks. About 6,000 are children 15 years of age or less.

And the toll is rising, according to the National Fire Protection Association, despite enactment of the Child Protection Act of 1966.

The FDA has used its increased authority under this law to crack down on the more dangerous types of explosives. "Make-it-yourself" fireworks kits have been almost completely driven off the market as a result of prosecutions by the federal agency.

THE LATEST regulation went into effect Saturday. It seeks to broaden a previous rule barring interstate sale of the most dangerous types of fireworks to adults as well as children.

The only exception has been for fireworks "intended solely for bona fide crop protection purposes." The FDA has found widespread diversion of high-powered fireworks from farm use to the general public. Eight deaths and 41 serious injuries are blames on these products.

Principal targets of the FDA are cherry bombs, M-80 salutes, silver salutes, aerial bombs and other large firecrackers.

Not included under the interstate ban are so-called "Class C fireworks." These are paper caps, cone fountains, cylinder fountains, whistles without blasts and sparklers.

But even these can be dangerous, especiallly if not used properly, says the National Fire Protection Association. The organization recently leveled a blast at the FDA for not also banning Class C products.

IT SAID A survey of 2,000 incidents involving fireworks indicated that 42 per cent of all injuries came from these firecrackers, including sparklers, Roman candles and similar devices.

These injuries, said the association, accounted for about half of all eye injuries and 40 per cent of all hand injuries.

Sparklers alone, said the association, caused six per cent of all injuries, including 28 eye injuries. It pointed out that the temperature of sparklers reaches 1,800 degrees, a powerful hazard in the hands of a child.

The association, a clearinghouse of fire safety information located in Boston, cited "the critical deficiency" of the Child Protection Act, but it was even more critical of the FDA's handling of the law.

"As administered by the FDA," said the association, "the only present requirement is that (Class C fireworks) carry a hazardous warning label, with the pious hope that children will read and heed the warning."

Three who didn't were burned severely in Nebraska last year when they accidentally caused an explosion with gasoline inside a large water tank which they entered to show off the sparklers better in the dark. Four others were injuried when they tried to make a "jet" engine of sparklers propel a skateboard.

An article in the June issue of "Today's Health" tells the story best: "Safe fireworks? There aren't any in the hands of children."

Ban The Bra?

Ban the bra? No. So said nine out of 10 designers interviewed by the Contour Council, whose members keep the innerwear industry going. The designers supported underpinnings for their softer, slinkier, longer, sexier-than-ever collections for fall and winter.

DRAMA REVIEW

Title Of Play Misleading; Not Another 'Oh! Calcutta!'

By JAC KGAVER

NEW YORK (UPI) — Let's face it. A production titled "The Dirtiest Show in Town" has to pique the interest.

It stirs up thoughts of naked orgies — possibly another "Oh! Calcutta!" — Heaven forfend!

This Saturday arrival at the off-Broadway Astor Place Theater turns out to be a document by Tom Eyen supporting the current ecological crusade, as witness this statement in the program:

"A documentary of the destructive effects of air, water and mind pollution in New York City."

Who can quarrel with such high purpose? There is also this author's note of some possible import that would seem to have been transmitted by Western Union:

"We no longer lead complete lives — stop — only parts — stop — and even those parts are not our own — STOP!"

It is well that these guidelines are spelled out, for the words that Eyen has given his 11 players are less enlightening during the intermissionless show.

It is impossible to call it a play. And it is not a musical, nor is it a ballet with words, although there is a sort of chanted dialogue at times and more movement than you'll find in a performance by a dance company.

The dialogue does have the merit, if that is the proper descriptive, of being couched largely in what might be called basic English, which can be learned by even those with the lowest reading ability in any comfort station. Antipollution words, of course.

And if you think that the show's title indicates that it joins in the current trend toward stage nudity and orgy —what a nasty thought! -be advised that the program carries this credit —"costumes by Victor Bijou." Which seems rather a coincidence — "Bijou" has one meaning as "something small."

So, there it is —you can't fault Eyen for being against pollution, per se. But his show leaves you wondering if he realizes that inducing boredom is one of the worst types of pollution.

Anyway, the members of the cast, who may or may not be thankful for lack of identification here, seem, on rather close inspection, to be a cleanly lot that bathes regularly —all over.

MUSIC REVIEWS

Fine Pianists Abound At Dominican Opener

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Last night's chamber music recital in Caleruega Hall, the first program in the four-concert Dominican College summer series, showed the unmistakable guidance of that master pianist-chamber musician, Adolph Baller, its director.

There was an especially strong group of fine pianists performing either as full-fledged members of ensembles or skillful accompanists.

The three outstanding numbers for me were the Beethoven trio, Opus No. 1, performed by violinist Michael Gerling, cellist Elizabeth Musser and pianist Carol Roth; the Brahms trio, Opus 114, played by clarinetist Bert Baylin, pianist Barbara Baum with Miss Musser again the cellist; and soprano Jean Murphy's Beethoven song cycle. This was the "An Die Ferne Geliebt," Opus 98, accompanied on the piano by Judith Storss.

Rapport was admirable in the trios, though balance was not always perfect owing to slight predominance of the pianos in forte passages. Gerlin and Baylin were in complete command of their instruments, but the big contrast was in Miss Musser's playing. In the Beethoven trio it was often not quite forceful enough whereas in the Brahms trio the song of the cello was one of its greatest attractions.

In the Beethoven cycle Miss Murphy was most impressive with a powerful, well controlled voice of lovely quality, effective in communicating meaning and emotion. She has matured and gained assurance since I last heard her.

Miss Baum and Baylin proved a well matched pair as they demonstrated their technical skill in the rather dry and percussive but often dramatic Hindemith sonota for clarinet and piano.

The other numbers on the program were the opening "Premiere Sonate" by Milhaud, performed quite well by violist Elizabeth Birnbaum and pianist Emily Ross; and Ravel's "Chansons Madescasses" sung by soprano Jan Leidel, accompanied by a trio composed of flutist Jean Chandler, with Miss Baum and Miss Musser again performing on the piano and cello, respectively.

Miss Leidel was very successful in conveying mood with understandable French diction so that the program notes were hardly necessary, but her vocal quality needs mellowing.

Dances To Help Music Magazine

The Mill Valley publishers of a soon-to-be-distributed music magazine, called Hard Road, will sponsor dances Friday, Saturday and Sunday from 8 p.m. to midnight at Brown's Hall, Mill Valley.

Michael Goldberg, partner in the magazine slated for release April 20, said profits from the dances will help defray publishing costs.

Tickets for the dances, which will feature Clover and the Muskadine Blues Band on Friday, Beefy Red and Wide Hole on Saturday and Ofoedian Den on Sunday, are on sale at the Sound Shop in San Rafael, Village Music and Prune Music in Mill Valley.

Virginia GOP Snubs Byrd As Candidate

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Virginia Republicans unwilling to adopt incumbent Sen. Harry F. Byrd, a former Democrat, as their candidate for the U.S. Senate have nominated one of their own in an effort to end the Byrd family dynasty in the state.

The action at the Virginia GOP convention in Richmond was a victory for Republican Gov. Linwood Holton, who had insisted the party had enough strong candidates without endorsing a former leader of the opposition.

Byrd, who bolted from the Democratic ranks earlier this year and is running for re-election as an independent, never formally sought the GOP omination but got strong support from many convention delegates, including Rep. Joel Broyhill.

The new GOP candidate is Ray L. Garland, 36, a member of the state House of Delegates. He was chosen on the first ballot over two other aspirants. In addition to Byrd, Garland will have to battle a Democratic nominee to be elected in a July 14 primary.

While the Virgnia Republicans were meeting Saturday, Democrats in Connecticut convened in New Haven to fill the void created by another defection —that of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, who withdrew as a candidate for renomination but has not ruled out an independent race.

The Connecticut Democrats settled on Alphonsus Donahue, a millionaire who is credited with forcing Dodd to pull out of the party contest. But Donahue did not receive enough votes to head off a unique primary fight. Two of his rivals, the Rev. Joseph Duffey of West Hartford and State Sen. Edward L. Marcus of New Haven, polled enough ballots to force a primary in August.

Any candidate who gets 20 per cent of the convention cote can demand a primary, although the state has never had one. The Connecticut GOP, which held a convention the previous weekend, will hold a primary August 12.

Rep. Emilio Q. Daddario, D-Conn., won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Across the Connecticut border in Massachusetts, delegates to another GOP convention Saturday endorsed Josiah A. Spaulding to oppose Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's bid for re-election.

Spaulding, an outspoken critic of President Nixon's war policy, won the endorsement by a 2 to 1 margin over John J. McCarthy, a former Massachusetts administration and finance commissioner who had the unofficial blessing of the White House after voicing support of Nixon's policy.

Spaulding still must be chosen by the voters in a September primary and McCarthy said he would be in the race.

Directors For Festival Named

Directors for the tenth anniversary season of the Marin Shakespeare Festival to run from July 17 through Sept. 26 have been named by John Brebner, managing dircoetr.

Directing the plays, to be performed [illegible] through Sept. [illegible] urdays at 8 p.m. and Sundays at [illegible] p.m. at Forest Meadows Theater, next to Dominican College, San Rafael, will be John O. Scrimgeour, "The Tempest," Dan Caldwell, "The Taming of the Shrew," and Mark Bramhall, "Henry V."

Performances of these plays will rotate with six special performances of "Brigadoon" also to be given.

Discipline Debate

A detailed discussion of student discipline and control will be held when the Fairfax School District board meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow at White Hill School.

Your Own Formula For Housework

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI) — Memo to housewives: Faith Prior, home economist with the University of Vermont Extension Service, has some help for you if you're looking for a 25-hour day.

"There's no magic formula for saving time and energy," she advises. "You have to develop your own formula that works best for your home and family."

She's written a pamphlet, "What To Do About Housework," which contains a couple of quick hints:

— Question the job: Why do it? Who should do it? When and how well should it be done.

— Question setups: What's the best place to store needed equipment and is the equipment all it should be.

— Question work conditions: Am I dressed comfortably. Is the room warm or cool enough.

— Clutter: Have a central spot for unclaimed clutter, such as a chest, deep drawer or cupboard and as claimants appear, let him or her dig out the item. Works wonders on childhood clutterbugs.

Drape Meant Drab

NEW YORK (UPI) — The word "drape" comes from a corruption of the word "drab." In earlier days the word "drab" was applied to dull, lackluster fabrics used as hangings at doors and windows.

Their Husbands Aren't Listening

URBANA, Ill. (UPI) — A survey of about 300 young married couples in Peoria and Decatur, Ill., seems to confirm what some wives have suspected all along. Their husbands aren't listening.

"More wives than husbands reported having had discussions," a report on the ongoing project by the Survey Research Laboratory of the University of Illinois noted. For example, nine out of 10 wives reported discussing the purchase of a new car with their mates. But only eight out of 10 husbands indicated discussing new cars with their wives.

Rites Hail Morgan Horse

By LARRY MOWELL

A reminiscing horse lover who doubles as governor of Vermont stole the show from a movie star turned senator as the National Park Service dedicated its Morgan horse farm at Point Reyes National Seashore Saturday.

Governor Deane C. Davis, president of the national Morgan Horse Club, outlined his life-long affection for the breed which originated in Vermont after the wisecracking ex-dancer, Sen. George Murphy, R-California, explained his interest in America's first native horse breed and his role in recent Point Reyes appropriations.

Garbed in a field jacket and, occasionally a ranger hat, Murphy told of cornering President Richard M. Nixon at a White House cocktail party to tell him that subdividers were about to gobble up Point Reyes if the federal government didn't act.

Nixon, according to Murphy, looked into the matter and promised to appropriate the money.

"My interest in Morgan horses may amaze you," he said. "I wasn't always interested in being Shirley Temple's grandfather and soft-shoe dancing."

He said his uncle, a harness racing driver, raced a famous Morgan, and a friend, actor James Cagney, has a stable of them.

The governor, of course, had richer stories about the official animal of Vermont.

He recalled his experiences as a child with Morgans at his grandfather's farm. He said the all-purpose horses were used to plow the fields, pull the milk wagon, race and take the family to church.

"It was a matter of great prestige to be able to drive up with good-looking pair of Morgans," he said.

Noting the esteem that Vermonters have for the horse, he said, "It is not only their stability and endurance and temperament, but their ability to associate with human beings. They are the family horse. They can do anything another horse can do in closer association with people than any other horse."

The National Park Service, which already has a Morgan farm in Wakefield, Va., is breeding the horse for use by park rangers throughout the country precisely because of its steady character, according to Nathan L. Bill, deputy director of the National Park Service, who spoke first.

The seashore has about 20, some of which are on loan, according to Supt. John L. Sansing.

A speech by Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, was sandwiched between Murphy's and Davis'. He credited testimony by Supervisor Louis H. (Bud) Baar, Marin County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney and West Marin rancher Boyd Stewart before the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee for breaking the logjam holding up land appropriations.

He pointed out that the horse farm would "give some of those people locked up in the asphalt jungle a sample of our country livin'."

According to Davis, Justin Morgan is the only horse in history given credit for beginning a breed all by himself. "That takes some doing, I can tell you, but he did it," Davis said.

Justin Morgan was born in 1789 and became the property of the Vermont singing master he was named after. The graceful, compact mutant imprinted his features on so many offspring that a breed was created.

The park rangers held a "barn warming" following the dedication and accepted gifts for the barn and pastures near the main gate to the Seashore.

Murphy gave a picture of Nixon signing a Point Reyes appropriation and the pen he used. Davis gave something more practical: a harness with decorative yarn balls made by his wife.

A plaque for the farm carved in a 10-foot section of Redwood driftwood by Redwood City artist Jim Loree was unveiled by the assembled dignitaries

Neighbors Bring Feud Into Court

Tiburon's feuding neighbors, the Marans and the Greens, finally made it to Marin Superior Court today, where Judge Thomas F. Keating is being called upon to settle a barrage of complaints and cross-complaints.

The attorney for Nathaniel and Violet Marana, William O. Weissich, cliamed today that a dispute over the boundary line between the two houses on a hill overhooking Raccoon Straits was only a pretext.

The real basis, he said, was testimony given by Mrs. Marans in a case in municipal court in 1967 where James Lewis Green was convicted of resisting arrest.

It was at this time, Weissich said, harrassment by Green and his wife, Claire, began which continued until as recently as two weeks ago when the two arrested each other after an incident involving wet cement and garden hoses.

The feud's highlights, as outlined by Weissich, include ripped-out fence posts and vines, a torn-up peach tree, strategically placed floodlights and flat tires.

Green, according to Weissich, has at times hidden in a hedge and shaken it to frighten Mrs. Marans, and the Marans have found calla lilies, symbol of death, in their mailbox.

Green's attorney, James Murray, said that he did not wish to go "into these miserable little details," but if they had to be aired in court he felt that actions by the Marans against the Greens would balance out.

The Marans are asking the judge to determine the property line and to award them $5,660 damages, including $10 for mental emotional distress.

The Greens have set a higher price on their misery ,asking $75,000 for assault and "intentionally caused emotional distress."

Their cross-complaint alleges that the Marans have taunted and mocked them, and that Green has uttered "obscene and loathsome oral declarations to them."

Judge Keatings' first task in the case today was to hear testimony by a surveyor in an effort to determine if the two couples could agree on his determining the biundary line.

Settlement Near In Social Workers Rift

The threat of a walkout on Thursday by more than 160 Marin County social and probation workers may be averted by successful negotiation on new contracts.

Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella said negotiations were concluded Friday night pending new instructions from the board of supervisors.

"We're getting very close at this point," Campanella said. "After we get some new instructions, hopefully we can settle tonight."

Campanella, who is heading the three-member county negotiating team with the unions, said he would meet in closed session with the supervisors late today to get instructions.

Local 535 of the social workers union, which represents both unions in the bargaining talks with the county, is scheduled to seek strike sanction fror some 90 probation employees tonight from the Marin County Labor Council.

No formal sanction request has been made for more than 70 social workers.

Contracts with both groups will expire at midnight Wednesday.

Campanella said wages are the major issue, but said details would be disclosed only after agreement was reached. William Schutt, chairman of the social workers' negotiating team, said it has asked for a 7.5 per cent hike, although indicating it would be willing to settle for 5 per cent if caseloads are reduced.

I-J Takes Two National Paper Awards

I-J Special Report

DES MOINES — The San Rafael Independent-Journal has won two awards in the 1970 National Newspaper Contest in the freedom of information and best feature picture categories.

The National Newspaper Association, presenting the awards at its annual convention here on Saturday, awarded the I-J the first place award for freedom of information.

The judges said the I-J "consistently brought to light through news columns, special columns and editorials the folly of closed-door official sessions."

Photographer Jim Kean won the second prize for his picture of Novato Little League players exploding with joy when they won last July's Marin County All-Star Tournament at Corte Madera. The judges said that Kean's "lively action shot, 'Winners,' tells the story. It is clear and sharp in detail and has a great deal of human interest."

The Novato Advance won third place for excellence in typography for newspapers with 3,000 to 6,000 circulation.

Prizes in 42 categories went to 175 newspapers from 41 states. There were 3,491 entries submitted to the judges.

DRAMA REVIEW

Title Of Play Misleading; Not Another 'Oh! Calcutta!'

By JAC KGAVER

NEW YORK (UPI) — Let's face it. A production titled "The Dirtiest Show in Town" has to pique the interest.

It stirs up thoughts of naked orgies — possibly another "Oh! Calcutta!" — Heaven forfend!

This Saturday arrival at the off-Broadway Astor Place Theater turns out to be a document by Tom Eyen supporting the current ecological crusade, as witness this statement in the program:

"A documentary of the destructive effects of air, water and mind pollution in New York City."

Who can quarrel with such high purpose? There is also this author's note of some possible import that would seem to have been transmitted by Western Union:

"We no longer lead complete lives — stop — only parts — stop — and even those parts are not our own — STOP!"

It is well that these guidelines are spelled out, for the words that Eyen has given his 11 players are less enlightening during the intermissionless show.

It is impossible to call it a play. And it is not a musical, nor is it a ballet with words, although there is a sort of chanted dialogue at times and more movement than you'll find in a performance by a dance company.

The dialogue does have the merit, if that is the proper descriptive, of being couched largely in what might be called basic English, which can be learned by even those with the lowest reading ability in any comfort station. Antipollution words, of course.

And if you think that the show's title indicates that it joins in the current trend toward stage nudity and orgy —what a nasty thought! -be advised that the program carries this credit —"costumes by Victor Bijou." Which seems rather a coincidence — "Bijou" has one meaning as "something small."

So, there it is —you can't fault Eyen for being against pollution, per se. But his show leaves you wondering if he realizes that inducing boredom is one of the worst types of pollution.

Anyway, the members of the cast, who may or may not be thankful for lack of identification here, seem, on rather close inspection, to be a cleanly lot that bathes regularly —all over.

MUSIC REVIEWS

Fine Pianists Abound At Dominican Opener

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Last night's chamber music recital in Caleruega Hall, the first program in the four-concert Dominican College summer series, showed the unmistakable guidance of that master pianist-chamber musician, Adolph Baller, its director.

There was an especially strong group of fine pianists performing either as full-fledged members of ensembles or skillful accompanists.

The three outstanding numbers for me were the Beethoven trio, Opus No. 1, performed by violinist Michael Gerling, cellist Elizabeth Musser and pianist Carol Roth; the Brahms trio, Opus 114, played by clarinetist Bert Baylin, pianist Barbara Baum with Miss Musser again the cellist; and soprano Jean Murphy's Beethoven song cycle. This was the "An Die Ferne Geliebt," Opus 98, accompanied on the piano by Judith Storss.

Rapport was admirable in the trios, though balance was not always perfect owing to slight predominance of the pianos in forte passages. Gerlin and Baylin were in complete command of their instruments, but the big contrast was in Miss Musser's playing. In the Beethoven trio it was often not quite forceful enough whereas in the Brahms trio the song of the cello was one of its greatest attractions.

In the Beethoven cycle Miss Murphy was most impressive with a powerful, well controlled voice of lovely quality, effective in communicating meaning and emotion. She has matured and gained assurance since I last heard her.

Miss Baum and Baylin proved a well matched pair as they demonstrated their technical skill in the rather dry and percussive but often dramatic Hindemith sonota for clarinet and piano.

The other numbers on the program were the opening "Premiere Sonate" by Milhaud, performed quite well by violist Elizabeth Birnbaum and pianist Emily Ross; and Ravel's "Chansons Madescasses" sung by soprano Jan Leidel, accompanied by a trio composed of flutist Jean Chandler, with Miss Baum and Miss Musser again performing on the piano and cello, respectively.

Miss Leidel was very successful in conveying mood with understandable French diction so that the program notes were hardly necessary, but her vocal quality needs mellowing.

Dances To Help Music Magazine

The Mill Valley publishers of a soon-to-be-distributed music magazine, called Hard Road, will sponsor dances Friday, Saturday and Sunday from 8 p.m. to midnight at Brown's Hall, Mill Valley.

Michael Goldberg, partner in the magazine slated for release April 20, said profits from the dances will help defray publishing costs.

Tickets for the dances, which will feature Clover and the Muskadine Blues Band on Friday, Beefy Red and Wide Hole on Saturday and Ofoedian Den on Sunday, are on sale at the Sound Shop in San Rafael, Village Music and Prune Music in Mill Valley.

Dual Scholarships To Hub Couple

A San Anselmo couple has received two undergraduate scholarships at the University of California at Berkeley. Brian M. Hunt and Brenda Joy Hunt of 111 Sturdivant Street, attended College of Marin before transferring to Brekeley.

Hunt received the Stephen Tyng Mather scholarship and Mrs. Hunt the Robert G. and Ida A. Sproul scholarship.

Virginia GOP Snubs Byrd As Candidate

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Virginia Republicans unwilling to adopt incumbent Sen. Harry F. Byrd, a former Democrat, as their candidate for the U.S. Senate have nominated one of their own in an effort to end the Byrd family dynasty in the state.

The action at the Virginia GOP convention in Richmond was a victory for Republican Gov. Linwood Holton, who had insisted the party had enough strong candidates without endorsing a former leader of the opposition.

Byrd, who bolted from the Democratic ranks earlier this year and is running for re-election as an independent, never formally sought the GOP omination but got strong support from many convention delegates, including Rep. Joel Broyhill.

The new GOP candidate is Ray L. Garland, 36, a member of the state House of Delegates. He was chosen on the first ballot over two other aspirants. In addition to Byrd, Garland will have to battle a Democratic nominee to be elected in a July 14 primary.

While the Virgnia Republicans were meeting Saturday, Democrats in Connecticut convened in New Haven to fill the void created by another defection —that of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, who withdrew as a candidate for renomination but has not ruled out an independent race.

The Connecticut Democrats settled on Alphonsus Donahue, a millionaire who is credited with forcing Dodd to pull out of the party contest. But Donahue did not receive enough votes to head off a unique primary fight. Two of his rivals, the Rev. Joseph Duffey of West Hartford and State Sen. Edward L. Marcus of New Haven, polled enough ballots to force a primary in August.

Any candidate who gets 20 per cent of the convention cote can demand a primary, although the state has never had one. The Connecticut GOP, which held a convention the previous weekend, will hold a primary August 12.

Rep. Emilio Q. Daddario, D-Conn., won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Across the Connecticut border in Massachusetts, delegates to another GOP convention Saturday endorsed Josiah A. Spaulding to oppose Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's bid for re-election.

Spaulding, an outspoken critic of President Nixon's war policy, won the endorsement by a 2 to 1 margin over John J. McCarthy, a former Massachusetts administration and finance commissioner who had the unofficial blessing of the White House after voicing support of Nixon's policy.

Spaulding still must be chosen by the voters in a September primary and McCarthy said he would be in the race.

Directors For Festival Named

Directors for the tenth anniversary season of the Marin Shakespeare Festival to run from July 17 through Sept. 26 have been named by John Brebner, managing dircoetr.

Performances of these plays will rotate with six special performances of "Brigadoon" also to be given.

Looking The Wrong Way Can Be Costly–Two Extra Losers

"I don't know what happened to me," South muttered bewilderedly. "I started the hand with only two losers, and while I was looking the other way two other losers suddenly developed. If a man can't trust a six-card trump suit, nothing in the world is safe any more."

FIRST TRICK

South correctly played a low spade from dummy at the first trick and ruffed with the three of hearts. Then declarer led the seven of trumps to dummy's king and returned dummy's low trump.

East discarded a diamond, and South saw that his planned trump finesse was not going to work. Still fearing nothing, South took the ace of hearts and continued with the jack to force out the queen.

West led another spade, and South had to ruff again. This left declarer with only one trump, which he had to use at once to draw West's last trump.

SEES DANGER

Too late, South saw his danger. He could take his four diamonds in addition to the five trumps he had already won, but then he was through. As soon as South touched the clubs, East was ready to take the ace of clubs and his good spades.

South should make his contract by looking the right way. When South leads a trump at the second trick, he must try a finesse with dummy's nine. When this succeeds, declarer can cash the king of hearts and enter his hand with a diamond to lead the ace of hearts. Then he concedes the ace of clubs and the queen of hearts to make his contract.

SAFE WAY

South would be safe even if East had the queen of hearts because East would be unable to continue the attack on spades with the K-5 in the dummy. South had to keep West, the dangerous opponent, out of the lead to prevent a second spade lead through dummy's king.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player doubles.

You hold:
♠- 10 6 2
♥- Q 6 4 2
♦-9 5 2
♣-9 3.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two spades.

This weak raise promises trump support but practically nothing else. If the intervening player had passed instead of doubling, you would have passed also; but the double gives you the chance to show your trump support and your pitiful weakness at the same time.

Politician's Right?

CHANDIGARH, India (AP) — During a recent political crisis in northern Punjab state, one member of the State Assembly changed his affiliation three times in one day. Basant Singh, the only member of the conservative Swatantra party in the assembly, voted to support Chief Minister Gurnam Singh, later said he was neutral and in the afternoon told newsmen he had gone over to the opposition.

Saturday's Answer

By LARRY MOWELL

A reminiscing horse lover who doubles as governor of Vermont stole the show from a movie star turned senator as the National Park Service dedicated its Morgan horse farm at Point Reyes National Seashore Saturday.

Governor Deane C. Davis, president of the national Morgan Horse Club, outlined his life-long affection for the breed which originated in Vermont after the wisecracking ex-dancer, Sen. George Murphy, R-California, explained his interest in America's first native horse breed and his role in recent Point Reyes appropriations.

Garbed in a field jacket and, occasionally a ranger hat, Murphy told of cornering President Richard M. Nixon at a White House cocktail party to tell him that subdividers were about to gobble up Point Reyes if the federal government didn't act.

Nixon, according to Murphy, looked into the matter and promised to appropriate the money.

"My interest in Morgan horses may amaze you," he said. "I wasn't always interested in being Shirley Temple's grandfather and soft-shoe dancing."

He said his uncle, a harness racing driver, raced a famous Morgan, and a friend, actor James Cagney, has a stable of them.

The governor, of course, had richer stories about the official animal of Vermont.

He recalled his experiences as a child with Morgans at his grandfather's farm. He said the all-purpose horses were used to plow the fields, pull the milk wagon, race and take the family to church.

"It was a matter of great prestige to be able to drive up with good-looking pair of Morgans," he said.

Noting the esteem that Vermonters have for the horse, he said, "It is not only their stability and endurance and temperament, but their ability to associate with human beings. They are the family horse. They can do anything another horse can do in closer association with people than any other horse."

The National Park Service, which already has a Morgan farm in Wakefield, Va., is breeding the horse for use by park rangers throughout the country precisely because of its steady character, according to Nathan L. Bill, deputy director of the National Park Service, who spoke first.

The seashore has about 20, some of which are on loan, according to Supt. John L. Sansing.

A speech by Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, was sandwiched between Murphy's and Davis'. He credited testimony by Supervisor Louis H. (Bud) Baar, Marin County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney and West Marin rancher Boyd Stewart before the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee for breaking the logjam holding up land appropriations.

He pointed out that the horse farm would "give some of those people locked up in the asphalt jungle a sample of our country livin'."

According to Davis, Justin Morgan is the only horse in history given credit for beginning a breed all by himself. "That takes some doing, I can tell you, but he did it," Davis said.

Justin Morgan was born in 1789 and became the property of the Vermont singing master he was named after. The graceful, compact mutant imprinted his features on so many offspring that a breed was created.

The park rangers held a "barn warming" following the dedication and accepted gifts for the barn and pastures near the main gate to the Seashore.

Murphy gave a picture of Nixon signing a Point Reyes appropriation and the pen he used. Davis gave something more practical: a harness with decorative yarn balls made by his wife.

A plaque for the farm carved in a 10-foot section of Redwood driftwood by Redwood City artist Jim Loree was unveiled by the assembled dignitaries

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, MONDAY, JUNE 29, 1970 19

Neighbors Bring Feud Into Court

Tiburon's feuding neighbors, the Marans and the Greens, finally made it to Marin Superior Court today, where Judge Thomas F. Keating is being called upon to settle a barrage of complaints and cross-complaints.

The attorney for Nathaniel and Violet Marana, William O. Weissich, cliamed today that a dispute over the boundary line between the two houses on a hill overhooking Raccoon Straits was only a pretext.

The real basis, he said, was testimony given by Mrs. Marans in a case in municipal court in 1967 where James Lewis Green was convicted of resisting arrest.

It was at this time, Weissich said, harrassment by Green and his wife, Claire, began which continued until as recently as two weeks ago when the two arrested each other after an incident involving wet cement and garden hoses.

The feud's highlights, as outlined by Weissich, include ripped-out fence posts and vines, a torn-up peach tree, strategically placed floodlights and flat tires.

Green, according to Weissich, has at times hidden in a hedge and shaken it to frighten Mrs. Marans, and the Marans have found calla lilies, symbol of death, in their mailbox.

Green's attorney, James Murray, said that he did not wish to go "into these miserable little details," but if they had to be aired in court he felt that actions by the Marans against the Greens would balance out.

The Marans are asking the judge to determine the property line and to award them $5,660 damages, including $10 for mental emotional distress.

The Greens have set a higher price on their misery ,asking $75,000 for assault and "intentionally caused emotional distress."

Their cross-complaint alleges that the Marans have taunted and mocked them, and that Green has uttered "obscene and loathsome oral declarations to them."

Judge Keatings' first task in the case today was to hear testimony by a surveyor in an effort to determine if the two couples could agree on his determining the biundary line.

Settlement Near In Social Workers Rift

The threat of a walkout on Thursday by more than 160 Marin County social and probation workers may be averted by successful negotiation on new contracts.

Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella said negotiations were concluded Friday night pending new instructions from the board of supervisors.

"We're getting very close at this point," Campanella said. "After we get some new instructions, hopefully we can settle tonight."

Campanella, who is heading the three-member county negotiating team with the unions, said he would meet in closed session with the supervisors late today to get instructions.

Local 535 of the social workers union, which represents both unions in the bargaining talks with the county, is scheduled to seek strike sanction fror some 90 probation employees tonight from the Marin County Labor Council.

No formal sanction request has been made for more than 70 social workers.

Contracts with both groups will expire at midnight Wednesday.

Campanella said wages are the major issue, but said details would be disclosed only after agreement was reached. William Schutt, chairman of the social workers' negotiating team, said it has asked for a 7.5 per cent hike, although indicating it would be willing to settle for 5 per cent if caseloads are reduced.

I-J Takes Two National Paper Awards

I-J Special Report

DES MOINES — The San Rafael Independent-Journal has won two awards in the 1970 National Newspaper Contest in the freedom of information and best feature picture categories.

The National Newspaper Association, presenting the awards at its annual convention here on Saturday, awarded the I-J the first place award for freedom of information.

The judges said the I-J "consistently brought to light through news columns, special columns and editorials the folly of closed-door official sessions."

Photographer Jim Kean won the second prize for his picture of Novato Little League players exploding with joy when they won last July's Marin County All-Star Tournament at Corte Madera. The judges said that Kean's "lively action shot, 'Winners,' tells the story. It is clear and sharp in detail and has a great deal of human interest."

The Novato Advance won third place for excellence in typography for newspapers with 3,000 to 6,000 circulation.

Prizes in 42 categories went to 175 newspapers from 41 states. There were 3,491 entries submitted to the judges.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Reader Gets Advice On Investing $10,000

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I will inherit $10,000 soon and wish to invest this wisely toward retirement in 10 years. I am buying two mutual funds through the Keogh Plan and own a few shares of Teledyne. What is my best course? — C.J.

A. One of your funds and your shares of Teledyne are somewhat speculative. For that reason I would invest new money in more conservative issues with long-established dividend records. Teledyne shoruld be retained, despite its discouraging market performance, ont he basis of its long-range potential.

Three companies, representing as many industries, with a history of rising dividends and earnings are Kellogg Co., Plough, Inc., and Simplicity Pattern. Annual dividend increments have more than doubled payments on these three issues in the last decade. Kellogg is expected to report record sales and earnings for the year, reflecting increased product prices and including results of Salada Foods, acquired late in 1969. Although Plough, Inc., shares have dropped 30 per cent from the early 1970 all-time high, in the last 10 years shares have appreciated 500 per cent. Simplicity has made a practice of periodically distributing small stock dividends in addition to cash payments.

Q. I hold 200 shares of Tenneco, purchased in 1965 and 1967 at about $24. I am over 70, a widow, looking for income and security. Should I hold? — A.E.

A. Yes, Tenneco shares are currently selling to yield a generous and secure 6.6 per cent. First-quarter earnings reflecting the economic slowdown dropped 19 per cent year-to-year. There is no indication that this profit squeeze will relax its grip in the immediate future.

However, long-term outlook is enhanced by Tenneco's recent oil strike in the North Sea. The 2,000 barrel-a-day discovery is on a million-acre offshore Holland concession held jointly with two other companies. Tenneco's widely diversified operations include shipbui'ding, chemicals, packaging and petroleum production, refining and distribution. Shares should be retained for gradual appreciation and secure income.

Transamerica Sets Dividends

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — The board of directors of Transamerica Corp. have declared the following dividends on stock of the corporation.

A regular quarterly cash dividend of 13¾ cents a share was declared payable on the $1 par value Transamerica common stock on July 31 to holders of record on July 10.

A regular quarterly dividend of $1.20 on the corporation's $4.80 convertible preferred stock was also declared, payable on Aug. 1 to holders of record on July 10.

Flying Tiger Packs Record Cargo Load

LOS ANGELES (BW) — A record cargo load of 117,481 pounds, consisting mostly of fresh fruit, was flown 2,400 miles non-stop from Los Angeles to Philadelphia aboard a Flying Tiger DC8 super 63F jet frieghter, the airline announced.

A Tiger official said the tonnage figure topped a previous record of 117,111 pounds of cargo flown out of Seattle in January by FTL.

Stocks Drop With Selling Pressure Up

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks, off sharply last week, encountered further selling pressure today in the absence of constructive news. Trading was light.

The UPI Marketwide Indicator was off 1.25 per cent with 1,539 issues on the tape. Of these, 926 declined and 353 gained.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average, the blue chip barometer, showed a loss of 4.93 at 682.91.

Turnover of about 8.75 million shares compared with 9,160,000 shares Friday.

The market was in "a period of acute dullness," an analyst remarked.

Lucien Hooper, senior analyst for W. E. Hutton & Co., said that over the near term "I don't think the market will go far in either direction, but will likely go down more than it goes up."

Other analysts generally observed that Wall Street is worried about second quarter profits and wondering when the predicted turnaround in business will come.

The withdrawal of U.S. troops from Cambodia ahead of President Nixon's June 30 deadline got little reaction from Wall Street. Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., said the pullout "would hasten the time of our departure from Vietnam, but was still an open question if the Cambodian action was worth its cost."

Lumber Dealer Headquarters To Northgate Industrial Park Site

One of the state's oldest wholesale lumber dealers, Hobbs Wall Lumber Co., Inc., will soon move its headquarters from San Francisco to Northgate Industrial Park.

The company, through William W. Hoey and Co., has leased 1,800 square feet in a new building now under construction at 58 Paul Drive and plans occupancy of the new offices Sept. 1.

Hobbs Wall operations go back 103 years, starting with a lumber mill in Crescent City. The Company no longer maintains a mill and is engaged exclusively in wholesale lumber brokerage. It has been headquartered in San Francisco for the past 40 or 50 years and some 12 years at 2030 Union Street. It maintains a staff of about 15 persons.

Firm head William Johnson lives in the East Bay, but sales manager John R. Polach is a Corte Madera resident. Two of his salesmen also live in Marin — Lawrence G. Hansen in San Rafael and Walter C. Hjort in Mill Valley.

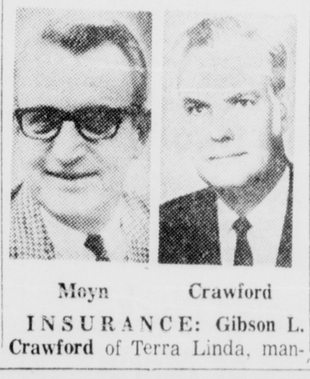
WAGNER EQUIPMENT CO., Sausalito firm specializing in representing manufacturers of measurement, control and filtration equipment for liquids and gases, has been appointed sales representative in the Northern California marketing area for Sausalito-based Chem Corp. Engineering, manufacturer of industrial poliution control components and systems.

MOTORCRAFT: William Moyn of Lucas Valley has been appointed San Francisco regional manager of Toyota Motor Distributors, Inc. His area covers 54 dealerships in Northern and Central California and Northern Nevada. Previously assistant regional manager, he joined Toyota as assistant distribution manager in 1968 following 19 years with Ford Motor Co. . . . E. R. (Bud) Oden, of Greenbrae, is celebrating his 10th anniversary as owner of Marin Sports Imports, San Rafael, with a special car purchase inducement program.



Moyn — Crawford

INSURANCE: Gibson L. Crawford of Terra Linda, manager of the San Francisco agency for Prudential Insurance Co., has just celebrated his 20th anniversary with the firm. He joined Prudential as a special agent in Honolulu and has been with the San Francisco office since 1957 . . . Representing the Marin County Independent Insurance Agents Association at the recent directors meeting of the state association in Fresno were state director Max Martin of San Anselmo; Willis Elliott of Mill Valley, vice president of the Marin association; Stuart Burt of Corte Madera, Ivor Davies of San Rafel and Leonard Peck of Mill Valley.

M. LYLE CUNNINGHAM of San Rafael has been named assistant manager of Crocker-Citizens National Bank's Van Ness-California office in San Francisco. He joined the 1 Montgomery Street office in 1954 and remained there until 1963 when he was made assistant manager at the 20th and Geary office.

FOLLOWING PUBLICATION of our recent Outdoor Living edition, which pictured one of the inflatable rubber boats which have become popular with sportsmen, we received a number of inquiries as to where they may be purchased.

The July issue of Camping Guide magazine, now on the newstands, not only features a special article on inflatable boats but also gives an extensive list of manufacturers and suppliers throughout the country.

The magazine is published monthly by Rajo Publications, Inc. in Mill Valley and is slanted toward the interest of camping-trailering families.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, June 29, the 180th day of 1970 with 185 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury and Saturn. The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

Draft-age men in the United States born on this date are number 353 in the lottery.

On this day in history:

In 1852 American statesman Henry Clay died in Washington, D.C.

In 1946 the British arrested 2,700 Jews in an attempt to put down terrorism in Palestine.

In 1961 the United States orbited three satellites at the same time.

In 1964 the sister of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro defected to Mexico.

A thought for the day: British poet Lord Byron said, "I speak not of man's creeds. They rest between man and his maker."

Pizza Parlor On Novato Agenda

Isom and a sign variance for the Copper Penny coffee shop west of Highway 101 at Lamont Avenue.

Looking The Wrong Way Can Be Costly—Two Extra Losers

"I don't know what happened to me," South muttered bewilderedly. "I started the hand with only two losers, and while I was looking the other way two other losers suddenly developed. If a man can't trust a six-card trump suit, nothing in the world is safe any more."

FIRST TRICK

South correctly played a low spade from dummy at the first trick and ruffed with the three of hearts. Then declarer led the seven of trumps to dummy's king and returned dummy's low trump.

East discarded a diamond, and South saw that his planned trump finesse was not going to work. Still fearing nothing, South took the ace of hearts and continued with the jack to force out the queen.

West led another spade, and South had to ruff again. This left declarer with only one trump, which he had to use at once to draw West's last trump.

SEES DANGER

Too late, South saw his danger. He could take his four diamonds in addition to the five trumps he had already won, but then he was through. As soon as South touched the clubs, East was ready to take the ace of clubs and his good spades.

South should make his contract by looking the right way. When South leads a trump at the second trick, he must try a finesse with dummy's nine. When this succeeds, declarer can cash the king of hearts and enter his hand with a diamond to lead the ace of hearts. Then he concedes the ace of clubs and the queen of hearts to make his contract.

SAFE WAY

South would be safe even if East had the queen of hearts because East would be unable to continue the attack on spades with the K-5 in the dummy. South had to keep West, the dangerous opponent, out of the lead to prevent a second spade lead through dummy's king.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player doubles.

You hold:
♠- 10 6 2
♥- Q 6 4 2
♦-9 5 2
♣-9 3.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two spades.

This weak raise promises trump support but practically nothing else. If the intervening player had passed instead of doubling, you would have passed also; but the double gives you the chance to show your trump support and your pitiful weakness at the same time.

Politician's Right?

CHANDIGARH, India (AP) — During a recent political crisis in northern Punjab state, one member of the State Assembly changed his affiliation three times in one day. Basant Singh, the only member of the conservative Swatantra party in the assembly, voted to support Chief Minister Gurnam Singh, later said he was neutral and in the afternoon told newsmen he had gone over to the opposition.

Two of the boat's three occupants, V. R. Dennis of Berkeley and Russ Saunders of Oakland, were rescued at 12:15 p.m. moments after the mishap by a nearby boat, the Defiance.

Rogers, Romanian Leader Have Discussion On War

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Secretary of State William P. Rogers, en route to Asia for talks on the Indochina War, stopped off in San Francisco Sunday and talked for 90 minutes with Corneliu Manescu, foreign minister of Romania.

"We discussed world problems, particularly East-West problems," Rogers said after the second high-level talk within the year between the United States and the Balkans nation which shares a border with the Soviet Union. President Nixon visited Romania last year. U. S. officials, before Rogers left Washington, said he plans to announce increased military assistance for Cambodia at a meeting in Manila of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) foreign ministers.

After the talk with Manescu, Rogers flew to the summer White House in San Clemente, Calif, to brief President Nixon today on his talk here. He returns today to address the National Conference of Editors and Broadcasters

Officials in Washington said Rogers' hopes of a peaceful settlement in Cambodia were bolstered by a 2 1-2 hour talk Saturday with a three-man delegation from a Jakarta Conference.

Concerning Romania, Rogers said the United States would provide increased assistance for flood control and that he and Manescu had agreed on a cultural exchange program. Romania has suffered from widespread floods.

"I'm encouraged by our discussions and encouraged that our relations with Romania have improved," Rogers said

Manescu, who had been in San Francisco for the United Nations' 25th anniversary celebration, requested the session with Rogers.

Angry Citizens Battle Police

PESCARAK, Italy (UPI)— Citizens angered by reports a rival city will be named capital of a new region fought police in the streets again early today, and erected more barricades in the center of the city.

Police fired tear gas into groups of demonstrators as they tried to invade the railway station.

There were no reports of injuries. More than 30 persons were hurt in clashes Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Fires Unchecked In Southwest Forests

SILVER CITY, N. M. (UPI) —Fatigued firefighters, spread thin over 1,700 charred acres, battled early today to confine 43 fires raging in New Mexico and Arizona national forests.

Officials estimated 1,700 acres of grass and timberland were destroyed by fires caused by lightning and careless weekend campers. Some 135 fires were contained Sunday, but fire lines still were manned today against danger of high winds and possible new outbreaks.

The largest single blaze Sunday swept across 800 acres of New Mexico's Little Hatchet Mountains southeast of Lordsburg, N. M.

Harlan Smith, a Bureau of Land Management official, said the blaze began during a lightning storm Friday.

"We're holding our own and hope to bring it under control today," he said.

Don Webb, Forest Service regional fire coordinator, said a fire swept across 600 acres of Arizona's famed Coronado National Forest Sunday on the U. S. -Mexico border near Nogales, Ariz.

Firefighters also were battling a second fire in the Coronado that moved northward from Mexico and destroyed an additional 100 acres of national forestland.

Webb said many firefighting crews and aircraft dropping chemical fire retardent were being shifted from smaller blazes into the Coronado.

He said 10 fires were on the San Carlos Apache Indian reservation east of Phoenix, Ariz., but the remainder were "in pretty remote spots."

Some 1,500 men, including Apache, Zuni and Taos Indians, were called to fire lines. Smoke jumper units from Silver City, N. M., were used to combat blazes in remote locations.

Webb said 13 converted World War II bombers stationed at Aalmogordon and Silver City, N. M., had dumped more than 100,000 gallons of the fire retardent on the fires.

Webb said the forests were "dry as a tinderbox," and it would be impossible to determine how many of the fires were caused by lightning and how many by carless campers.

He said fire units had been called to 425 fires since the fire season began Wednesday.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Reader Gets Advice On Investing $10,000

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I will inherit $10,000 soon and wish to invest this wisely toward retirement in 10 years. I am buying two mutual funds through the Keogh Plan and own a few shares of Teledyne. What is my best course? — C.J.

A. One of your funds and your shares of Teledyne are somewhat speculative. For that reason I would invest new money in more conservative issues with long-established dividend records. Teledyne shoruld be retained, despite its discouraging market performance, ont he basis of its long-range potential.

Three companies, representing as many industries, with a history of rising dividends and earnings are Kellogg Co., Plough, Inc., and Simplicity Pattern. Annual dividend increments have more than doubled payments on these three issues in the last decade. Kellogg is expected to report record sales and earnings for the year, reflecting increased product prices and including results of Salada Foods, acquired late in 1969. Although Plough, Inc., shares have dropped 30 per cent from the early 1970 all-time high, in the last 10 years shares have appreciated 500 per cent. Simplicity has made a practice of periodically distributing small stock dividends in addition to cash payments.

Q. I hold 200 shares of Tenneco, purchased in 1965 and 1967 at about $24. I am over 70, a widow, looking for income and security. Should I hold? — A.E.

A. Yes, Tenneco shares are currently selling to yield a generous and secure 6.6 per cent. First-quarter earnings reflecting the economic slowdown dropped 19 per cent year-to-year. There is no indication that this profit squeeze will relax its grip in the immediate future.

However, long-term outlook is enhanced by Tenneco's recent oil strike in the North Sea. The 2,000 barrel-a-day discovery is on a million-acre offshore Holland concession held jointly with two other companies. Tenneco's widely diversified operations include shipbuilding, chemicals, packaging and petroleum production, refining and distribution. Shares should be retained for gradual appreciation and secure income.

Transamerica Sets Dividends

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — The board of directors of Transamerica Corp. have declared the following dividends on stock of the corporation.

A regular quarterly cash dividend of 13¾ cents a share was declared payable on the $1 par value Transamerica common stock on July 31 to holders of record on July 10.

A regular quarterly dividend of $1.20 on the corporation's $4.80 convertible preferred stock was also declared, payable on Aug. 1 to holders of record on July 10.

Flying Tiger Packs Record Cargo Load

LOS ANGELES (BW) — A record cargo load of 117,481 pounds, consisting mostly of fresh fruit, was flown 2,400 miles non-stop from Los Angeles to Philadelphia aboard a Flying Tiger DC8 super 63F jet frieghter, the airline announced.

A Tiger official said the tonnage figure topped a previous record of 117,111 pounds of cargo flown out of Seattle in January by FTL.

Stocks Drop With Selling Pressure Up

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks, off sharply last week, encountered further selling pressure today in the absence of constructive news. Trading was light.

The UPI Marketwide Indicator was off 1.25 per cent with 1,539 issues on the tape. Of these, 926 declined and 353 gained.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average, the blue chip barometer, showed a loss of 4.93 at 682.91.

Turnover of about 8.75 million shares compared with 9,160,000 shares Friday.

The market was in "a period of acute dullness," an analyst remarked.

Lucien Hooper, senior analyst for W. E. Hutton & Co., said that over the near term "I don't think the market will go far in either direction, but will likely go down more than it goes up."

Other analysts generally observed that Wall Street is worried about second quarter profits and wondering when the predicted turnaround in business will come.

The withdrawal of U.S. troops from Cambodia ahead of President Nixon's June 30 deadline got little reaction from Wall Street. Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., said the pullout "would hasten the time of our departure from Vietnam, but was still an open question if the Cambodian action was worth its cost."

Lumber Dealer Headquarters To Northgate Industrial Park Site

One of the state's oldest wholesale lumber dealers, Hobbs Wall Lumber Co., Inc., will soon move its headquarters from San Francisco to Northgate Industrial Park.

The company, through William W. Hoey and Co., has leased 1,800 square feet in a new building now under construction at 58 Paul Drive and plans occupancy of the new offices Sept. 1.

Hobbs Wall operations go back 103 years, starting with a lumber mill in Crescent City. The Company no longer maintains a mill and is engaged exclusively in wholesale lumber brokerage. It has been headquartered in San Francisco for the past 40 or 50 years and some 12 years at 2030 Union Street. It maintains a staff of about 15 persons.

Firm head William Johnson lives in the East Bay, but sales manager John R. Polach is a Corte Madera resident. Two of his salesmen also live in Marin — Lawrence G. Hansen in San Rafael and Walter C. Hjort in Mill Valley.

WAGNER EQUIPMENT CO., Sausalito firm specializing in representing manufacturers of measurement, control and filtration equipment for liquids and gases, has been appointed sales representative in the Northern California marketing area for Sausalito-based Chem Corp. FOLLOWING PUBLICATION of our recent Outdoor Living edition, which pictured one of the inflatable rubber boats which have become popular with sportsmen, we received a number of inquiries as to where they may be purchased.

The July issue of Camping Guide magazine, now on the newstands, not only features a special article on inflatable boats but also gives an extensive list of manufacturers and suppliers throughout the country.

The magazine is published monthly by Rajo Publications, Inc. in Mill Valley and is slanted toward the interest of camping-trailering families.

Boat Member Still Missing

A sailboat that tipped in the wind and spilled its three occupants seven miles off San Francisco's Great Highway beach was recovered off Muir Beach at 5 p.m. yesterday, the Coast Guard reported today.

Two of the boat's three occupants, V. R. Dennis of Berkeley and Russ Saunders of Oakland, were rescued at 12:15 p.m. moments after the mishap by a nearby boat, the Defiance.

Joe Brooke, 35, no address available, was listed as missing after two Coast Guard helicopters and an 82-foot patrol boat searched the area of the accident.

Rogers, Romanian Leader Have Discussion On War

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Secretary of State William P. Rogers, en route to Asia for talks on the Indochina War, stopped off in San Francisco Sunday and talked for 90 minutes with Corneliu Manescu, foreign minister of Romania.

"We discussed world problems, particularly East-West problems," Rogers said after the second high-level talk within the year between the United States and the Balkans nation which shares a border with the Soviet Union. President Nixon visited Romania last year. U. S. officials, before Rogers left Washington, said he plans to announce increased military assistance for Cambodia at a meeting in Manila of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) foreign ministers.

After the talk with Manescu, Rogers flew to the summer White House in San Clemente, Calif, to brief President Nixon today on his talk here. He returns today to address the National Conference of Editors and Broadcasters

Officials in Washington said Rogers' hopes of a peaceful settlement in Cambodia were bolstered by a 2 1-2 hour talk Saturday with a three-man delegation from a Jakarta Conference.

Concerning Romania, Rogers said the United States would provide increased assistance for flood control and that he and Manescu had agreed on a cultural exchange program. Romania has suffered from widespread floods.

"I'm encouraged by our discussions and encouraged that our relations with Romania have improved," Rogers said

Manescu, who had been in San Francisco for the United Nations' 25th anniversary celebration, requested the session with Rogers.

Angry Citizens Battle Police

PESCARAK, Italy (UPI)— Citizens angered by reports a rival city will be named capital of a new region fought police in the streets again early today, and erected more barricades in the center of the city.

Police fired tear gas into groups of demonstrators as they tried to invade the railway station.

There were no reports of injuries. More than 30 persons were hurt in clashes Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Fires Unchecked In Southwest Forests

SILVER CITY, N. M. (UPI) —Fatigued firefighters, spread thin over 1,700 charred acres, battled early today to confine 43 fires raging in New Mexico and Arizona national forests.

Officials estimated 1,700 acres of grass and timberland were destroyed by fires caused by lightning and careless weekend campers. Some 135 fires were contained Sunday, but fire lines still were manned today against danger of high winds and possible new outbreaks.

The largest single blaze Sunday swept across 800 acres of New Mexico's Little Hatchet Mountains southeast of Lordsburg, N. M.

Harlan Smith, a Bureau of Land Management official, said the blaze began during a lightning storm Friday.

"We're holding our own and hope to bring it under control today," he said.

Don Webb, Forest Service regional fire coordinator, said a fire swept across 600 acres of Arizona's famed Coronado National Forest Sunday on the U. S. -Mexico border near Nogales, Ariz.

Firefighters also were battling a second fire in the Coronado that moved northward from Mexico and destroyed an additional 100 acres of national forestland.

Webb said many firefighting crews and aircraft dropping chemical fire retardent were being shifted from smaller blazes into the Coronado.

He said 10 fires were on the San Carlos Apache Indian reservation east of Phoenix, Ariz., but the remainder were "in pretty remote spots."

Some 1,500 men, including Apache, Zuni and Taos Indians, were called to fire lines. Smoke jumper units from Silver City, N. M., were used to combat blazes in remote locations.

Webb said 13 converted World War II bombers stationed at Aalmogordon and Silver City, N. M., had dumped more than 100,000 gallons of the fire retardent on the fires.

Webb said the forests were "dry as a tinderbox," and it would be impossible to determine how many of the fires were caused by lightning and how many by carless campers.

He said fire units had been called to 425 fires since the fire season began Wednesday.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Directors of North Marin County Water District will conduct a public hearing on the proposed formation of an improvement district in the Oceana Marin Unit No. 1 territory of North Marin County Water District at 8 o'clock p.m., P.D.T., on Tuesday, July 21, 1970, at the office of the District, 999 Atherton Avenue, Novato, California. Said hearing will be held pursuant to and on the matters stated in Resolution No. 831 of the Board of Directors of said District adopted on June 16, 1970, which resolution reads as follows:

'RESOLUTION NO. 831
RESOLUTION OF INTENTION TO UNDERTAKE A PROJECT IN THE OCEANA MARIN UNIT NO. 1 AREA AND TO FORM AN IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT THEREFOR

BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Directors of North Marin County Water District as follows:

1. This resolution is adopted to institute the formation of an improvement district within North Marin County Water District in the County of Marin, State of California, pursuant to Chapter 5 of Part 6 of Division 12 of the California Water Code.

2. The territory of the improvement district proposed to be formed is the same as the territory concurrently proposed to be annexed to North Marin County Water District known as the "Oceana Marin Unit No. 1 Annexation". The study is to include detailed cost estimates and assessment spreads necessary for the possible formation of a special improvement district to undertake the construction of said sewage disposal system. The improvement district will bear only the portion of the cost of the engineering study and design allocable to the territory of the improvement district. The portion of the cost allocable to the territory within Annexation No. 6 will be borne by the owners thereof.

5. This Board hereby finds that the project will be of special benefit to such improvement district.

Engineers Urge More Freeways

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Thirty-two miles of new freeway should be built in San Francisco to close gaps forced 10 years ago in the city's "freeway revolt," a panel of engineers has urged.

Citing a 75 per cent increase in traffic on the Golden Gate Bridge in the past 10 years, it urged freways to connect the bridge to the Embarcadero, Central and Junipero Serra freeways. It also called for a fourth freeway up the Panhandle to link the Central and proposed extension north of the Junipero Serra Freeway.

The panel was set up by the San Francisco section of the American Society of Civil Engineers, and its report endorsed by the section's board of directors. The section said the study was done as "a public service."

Past objections to freeways no longer are valid, the panel declared, because of improved standards for design and landscaping, and because more federal money is available to relocate residents in the path of freeways.

Members of the panel were C. F. Greene, deputy district engineer for the state Division of Highways; Harry Moses, an engineer with the Bay Area Rapid Transit District; Ross Shoaf, an assistant city engineer, and Henry K. Evans, senior vice president of the traffic engineering firm of Wilbur Smith and Associates.

The panel argued that new freeways were needed also to reduce the accident rate on city streets. "A continuously rising accident rate may not be acceptable to many San Francisco residents, and freeways would lower it significantly," it said.

The report said that the lack of freeways also was responsible for increased vehicle operating expanses and for "wasting time and money in traveling."

While the engineers said they did not intend "to detract from the need for mass transit," they insisted it was a fallacy to believe that rapid transit will cut deeply into street traffic.

"It is a fact that there are still enough motor vehicle trip desires by those who can't be served by a transit system, to justify the need for a freeway system," they reported.

The report said freeways can be beautified through compactness, conformity to the terrain, separation of roadways, landscaped medians and more attention to overall landscaping and plantings.

"The 1966 Federal-Air Highway Act requires that not one but two hearings be held in regard to all such design features," the report said.

To reach the market you have to thread the needle

For big or small-space advertisers, knowing this can help you build more profitable volume

Every store wants to reach as many customers as it can. But how many customers "reach" the store to buy—and when—is something else again.

For new findings in retailing show that at any one time only a small percentage of the market is ready to buy. The "market" then, is not what many a businessman thinks it is.

It is not a huge, faceless mass of people just waiting for the store ad to trigger it into buying action. Rather, it is a small set of people on any given day, with the set changing on Friday, for example, from what it was on Tuesday, or Wednesday.

Another finding shows an enormous shift, one week to another, in those "planning to buy" and those who didn't plan to buy but ended up doing most of the buying! Example: 61% of actual buyers of women's shoes in a given week were not even planning to buy just the week before! New people, new decisions.

This buying behavior goes for everything from women's dresses to refrigerators, tires to cameras. (The only general exception is drug/sundries and food. . .items of necessity).

The point is: if your store wants to capture the business, you must be in the market consistently with your advertising. This keeps you up in the forefront of buying decisions—at the time they're made. And they're being made by different people on different days for different reasons.

Since you can't know who is going to buy, only advertising can keep you in the market with changing groups of buyers.

And in Marin County, only the Independent-Journal can keep your advertising before the total market. Gets your message into 70% of all households. Gets you real readership. Gets you immediate sales.

That's what we mean by "threading the needle." Sews up the business.

RESOLUTION NO. 4634
RESOLUTION OF INTENTION OF THE MARIN MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT TO FORM AN IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT OF A PORTION OF THE DISTRICT IN SOUTHERN MARIN
(Water Code Sections 72.000 and following)

THAT, WHEREAS, the Sewerage Study prepared for the County of Marin in 1967, by Brown and Caldwell, recommends that a single agency be responsible for planning major elements of the sewerage plan and points out that the Marin Municipal Water District is presently empowered by law to perform this function; and

WHEREAS, at a special meeting held on April 2, 1970, by representatives from the Cities and Sanitary Districts of Southern Marin, a motion was passed requesting the Marin Municipal Water District to form an improvement district for the purposes of making a pre-engineering study for the treatment and disposal of sewerage in this area; and

WHEREAS, the Marin County Board of Supervisors, by resolution dated April 7, 1970, urged the Marin Municipal Water District to create an improvement district to provide sewerage facilities for the Southern Marin area.

NOW, THEREFORE, THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE MARIN MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT DO RESOLVE AS FOLLOWS:

1. That the Board deems it necessary to form an improvement district within the territory generally encompassing the Tiburon-Belvedere Peninsula; the Richardson Bay area; the Cities of Mill Valley and Sausalito; Tamalpais, Homestead and Tennessee Valleys and the Marin City area, and more particularly described by a map on file with the Secretary, and hereby declares its intention to form such a district within said territory which, in the opinion of the Board will be benefitted by the proposed improvement.

The extent of this proposed study is set forth in a "Work Outline", a copy of which is on file with the Secretary.

3. That the estimated cost of carrying out the aforesaid purpose is $2,500.00.

4. That taxes for carrying out the said purpose will be levied exclusively upon the taxable property in the said proposed improvement district.

5. That the aforesaid map showing the exterior boundaries of said proposed improvement district, with relation to the territory immediately contiguous thereto, is on file with the Secretary and is available for inspection by any person or persons interested, which said map shall govern for all details as to the extent of said proposed improvement district.

6. That, on the 8th day of July, 1970 at 8:00 p.m., at the Board Room of the District at 220 Nellen Avenue, Corte Madera, California, is hereby set as the time and place of a hearing by the Board on the questions of the formation and extent of said proposed improvement district, the purpose for which it is formed, and the estimated expense of carrying out such purpose.

7. At the aforesaid time and place, any person interested, including all persons owning property in the district, or in the proposed improvement district, will be heard.

8. The Secretary shall give notice of said hearing in accordance with Section 72004 of the California Water Code by posting and publication in the Independent-Journal.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON PROPOSED FORMATION OF AN IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT WITHIN THE OCEANA MARIN UNIT NO. 1 TERRITORY OF NORTH MARIN COUNTY WATER DISTRICT

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Directors of North Marin County Water District will conduct a public hearing on the proposed formation of an improvement district in the Oceana Marin Unit No. 1 territory of North Marin County Water District at 8 o'clock p.m., P.D.T., on Tuesday, July 21, 1970, at the office of the District, 999 Atherton Avenue, Novato, California. Said hearing will be held pursuant to and on the matters stated in Resolution No. 831 of the Board of Directors of said District adopted on June 16, 1970, which resolution reads as follows:

'RESOLUTION NO. 831
RESOLUTION OF INTENTION TO UNDERTAKE A PROJECT IN THE OCEANA MARIN UNIT NO. 1 AREA AND TO FORM AN IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT THEREFOR

BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Directors of North Marin County Water District as follows:

1. This resolution is adopted to institute the formation of an improvement district within North Marin County Water District in the County of Marin, State of California, pursuant to Chapter 5 of Part 6 of Division 12 of the California Water Code.

2. The territory of the improvement district proposed to be formed is the same as the territory concurrently proposed to be annexed to North Marin County Water District known as the "Oceana Marin Unit No. 1 Annexation". The study is to include detailed cost estimates and assessment spreads necessary for the possible formation of a special improvement district to undertake the construction of said sewage disposal system. The improvement district will bear only the portion of the cost of the engineering study and design allocable to the territory of the improvement district. The portion of the cost allocable to the territory within Annexation No. 6 will be borne by the owners thereof.

5. This Board hereby finds that the project will be of special benefit to such improvement district.

Engineers Urge More Freeways

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Thirty-two miles of new freeway should be built in San Francisco to close gaps forced 10 years ago in the city's "freeway revolt," a panel of engineers has urged.

Citing a 75 per cent increase in traffic on the Golden Gate Bridge in the past 10 years, it urged freeways to connect the bridge to the Embarcadero, Central and Junipero Serra freeways. It also called for a fourth freeway up the Panhandle to link the Central and proposed extension north of the Junipero Serra Freeway.

The panel was set up by the San Francisco section of the American Society of Civil Engineers, and its report endorsed by the section's board of directors. The section said the study was done as "a public service."

Past objections to freeways no longer are valid, the panel declared, because of improved standards for design and landscaping, and because more federal money is available to relocate residents in the path of freeways.

Members of the panel were C. F. Greene, deputy district engineer for the state Division of Highways; Harry Moses, an engineer with the Bay Area Rapid Transit District; Ross Snoaf, an assistant city engineer, and Henry K. Evans, senior vice president of the traffic engineering firm of Wilbur Smith and Associates.

The panel argued that new freeways were needed also to reduce the accident rate on city streets. "A continuously rising accident rate may not be acceptable to many San Francisco residents, and freeways would lower it significantly," it said.

The report said that the lack of freeways also was responsible for increased vehicle operating expanses and for "wasting time and money in traveling."

While the engineers said they did not intend "to detract from the need for mass transit," they insisted it was a fallacy to believe that rapid transit will cut deeply into street traffic.

"It is a fact that there are still enough motor vehicle trip desires by those who can't be served by a transit system, to justify the need for a freeway system," they reported.

The report said freeways can be beautified through compactness, conformity to the terrain, separation of roadways, landscaped medians and more attention to overall landscaping and plantings.

"The 1966 Federal-Air Highway Act requires that not one but two hearings be held in regard to all such design features," the report said.

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

Tricia Nixon Scored High In TV Ratings

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—President Nixon will be hard-pressed to match the ratings popularity of his daughter Tricia when he appears in a one-hour, three-network television conversation Monday night.

The attractive Miss Nixon gave a terrific ratings boost to CBS-TV's news series "60 Minutes" when she offered a partial tour of the White House in a segment of that program on May 26.

The series zoomed to third place among all shows in the national rankings. Only the Emmy awards telecast and an episode of the medical tale "Marcus Welby, M.D." finished ahead of "60 minutes" in the rating for the two-week period from May 25 to June 7.

Wednesday's three-network endeavor with the chief executive, entitled "A Conversation with the President," will be seen live and in color at 7 p.m. PDT, on ABC, CBS and NBC.

It will originate in the presidential compound at San Clemente, Calif., and Nixon has indicated he will discuss various aspects of foreign policy with his three network interviewers.

They are John Chancellor of NBC, Eric Sevareid of CBS and Howard K. Smith of ABC.

Nixon's informal, prime-time discussion with the newsmen will be the fourth such presidential conversation that television has presented. The practice was started by President Kennedy a week before Christmas in 1962. His successor, Lyndon Johnson, took part in the next two broadcasts, in 1964 and 1967.

The latest conversation will take place three days before the July 4 "Honor America Day" cremonies in Washington that will be televised in detail by all the commercial networks Saturday.

Wednesday, by the way, will be a busy day for watchers of public affairs broadcasts on video. In addition, to the nighttime Nixon discussion, NBC will cover the draft lottery drawing in a series of reports and special programs starting at 7 a.m. PDT at the Department of Commerce auditorium in Washington.

Tuesday night, meanwhile, CBS will have an hour special, "Where We Stand in Indochina," assessing America's military movement into Cambodia, and broadcast on the day U.S. forces have been scheduled to withdraw from that nation.

Tonight, ABC's news series "Now" takes a look at the "Silent Majority" in a program entitled "Straight from the Hartland," a half-hour in which residents polled in and around Grand Island, Neb., express confidence in the overall performance of President Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

The poll, conducted for ABC by Audits and Surveys Inc. of New York, also showed that 87 per cent of the persons in Grand Island and surrounding Hall County believe there is a "silent Majority," and that 68 per cent "feel they are part of that group."

Concerning the Southeast Asia war, 85 per cent said Nixon is "working for a just and honest peace." In performance ratings, "The president and vice president received the most overall support from persons 65 and older and least support from the 25-34 age group."

As for polling about religion: 46 per cent of the adults who responded to questions on youth felt that the majority of young persons in the nation "are religious and god-fearing."

Powell To Form 'People's Party'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, defeated at the polls for the first time in his life, has announced the formation of a "people's party" to put his name on the November ballot.

Powell said Sunday that his new party will include rent strike leader Jessey Gray and John Young, two of his opponents in the five-way Democratic primary won by State Assemblyman Charles Rangel.

Powell, seeking a 14th term in the House, had demanded a vote recount and charged some election machines had been "tampered with". The city elections board announced Saturday that Powell had received 7,882 votes to Rangel's 8,031.

Citizens Council Backed Protest

The Sausalito Citizens Council did officially support the taxpayer protest Thursday before the Marin County Board of Supervisors, according to vice president Donald K. Olsen.

Olsen said the Independent-Journal erred Thursday in listing the association with nine other groups who said they were not officially backing the protest.

Olsen wrote that the board of directors unanimously supported the protest and sent the supervisors a letter asking them to "take firm steps to bring a halt to the ever increasing and intolerably high costs of county government."

Director Carl W. Spring attended and spoke on behalf of the association for tax reduction, Olsen reported.

To reach the market you have to thread the needle

For big or small-space advertisers, knowing this can help you build more profitable volume

Every store wants to reach as many customers as it can. But how many customers "reach" the store to buy—and when—is something else again.

For new findings in retailing show that at any one time only a small percentage of the market is ready to buy. The "market" then, is not what many a businessman thinks it is.

It is not a huge, faceless mass of people just waiting for the store ad to trigger it into buying action. Rather, it is a small set of people on any given day, with the set changing on Friday, for example, from what it was on Tuesday, or Wednesday.

Another finding shows an enormous shift, one week to another, in those "planning to buy" and those who didn't plan to buy but ended up doing most of the buying! Example: 61% of actual buyers of women's shoes in a given week were not even planning to buy just the week before! New people, new decisions.

This buying behavior goes for everything from women's dresses to refrigerators, tires to cameras. (The only general exception is drug/sundries and food. . .items of necessity).

The point is: if your store wants to capture the business, you must be in the market consistently with your advertising. This keeps you up in the forefront of buying decisions—at the time they're made. And they're being made by different people on different days for different reasons.

Since you can't know who is going to buy, only advertising can keep you in the market with changing groups of buyers.

And in Marin County, only the Independent-Journal can keep your advertising before the total market. Gets your message into 70% of all households. Gets you real readership. Gets you immediate sales.

That's what we mean by "threading the needle." Sews up the business.

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

Tricia Nixon Scored High In TV Ratings

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—President Nixon will be hard-pressed to match the ratings popularity of his daughter Tricia when he appears in a one-hour, three-network television conversation Monday night.

The attractive Miss Nixon gave a terrific ratings boost to CBS-TV's news series "60 Minutes" when she offered a partial tour of the White House in a segment of that program on May 26.

The series zoomed to third place among all shows in the national rankings. Only the Emmy awards telecast and an episode of the medical tale "Marcus Welby, M.D." finished ahead of "60 minutes" in the rating for the two-week period from May 25 to June 7.

Wednesday's three-network endeavor with the chief executive, entitled "A Conversation with the President," will be seen live and in color at 7 p.m. PDT, on ABC, CBS and NBC.

It will originate in the presidential compound at San Clemente, Calif., and Nixon has indicated he will discuss various aspects of foreign policy with his three network interviewers.

They are John Chancellor of NBC, Eric Sevareid of CBS and Howard K. Smith of ABC.

Nixon's informal, prime-time discussion with the newsmen will be the fourth such presidential conversation that television has presented. The practice was started by President Kennedy a week before Christmas in 1962. His successor, Lyndon Johnson, took part in the next two broadcasts, in 1964 and 1967.

The latest conversation will take place three days before the July 4 "Honor America Day" cremonies in Washington that will be televised in detail by all the commercial networks Saturday.

Wednesday, by the way, will be a busy day for watchers of public affairs broadcasts on video. In addition, to the nighttime Nixon discussion, NBC will cover the draft lottery drawing in a series of reports and special programs starting at 7 a.m. PDT at the Department of Commerce auditorium in Washington.

Tuesday night, meanwhile, CBS will have an hour special, "Where We Stand in Indochina," assessing America's military movement into Cambodia, and broadcast on the day U.S. forces have been scheduled to withdraw from that nation.

Tonight, ABC's news series "Now" takes a look at the "Silent Majority" in a program entitled "Straight from the Hartland," a half-hour in which residents polled in and around Grand Island, Neb., express confidence in the overall performance of President Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

The poll, conducted for ABC by Audits and Surveys Inc. of New York, also showed that 87 per cent of the persons in Grand Island and surrounding Hall County believe there is a "silent Majority," and that 68 per cent "feel they are part of that group."

Concerning the Southeast Asia war, 85 per cent said Nixon is "working for a just and honest peace." In performance ratings, "The president and vice president received the most overall support from persons 65 and older and least support from the 25-34 age group."

As for polling about religion: 46 per cent of the adults who responded to questions on youth felt that the majority of young persons in the nation "are religious and god-fearing."

Powell To Form 'People's Party'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, defeated at the polls for the first time in his life, has announced the formation of a "people's party" to put his name on the November ballot.

Powell said Sunday that his new party will include rent strike leader Jessey Gray and John Young, two of his opponents in the five-way Democratic primary won by State Assemblyman Charles Rangel.

Powell, seeking a 14th term in the House, had demanded a vote recount and charged some election machines had been "tampered with". The city elections board announced Saturday that Powell had received 7,882 votes to Rangel's 8,034.

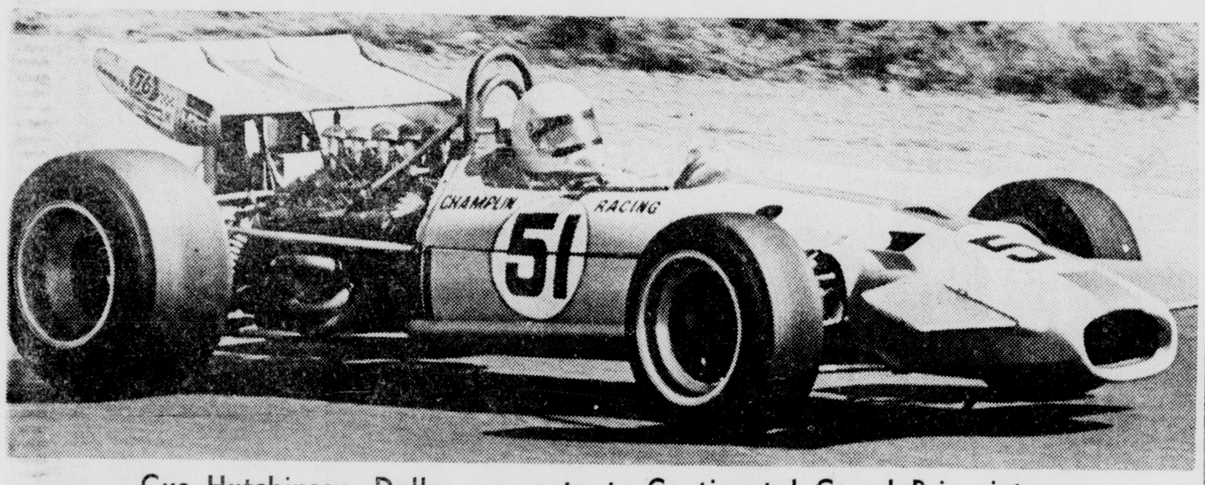
Hutchinson Is Winner In Sonoma Race



Gus Hutchinson, Dalles, en route to Continental Grand Prix victory.

Tough Luck Grable Runs Out Of Gas On Last Lap

SONOMA, Calif. (UPI) — Unheralded Gus Hutchinson of Dallas, Tex., has won the Continental 49er Grand Prix for Formula A sports cars at Sears Point Raceway.

Hutchinson took the victory Sunday after local favorite Ron Grable of Cupertino, Calif., ran out of gas with one lap remaining.

Grable was bidding for his second straight victory after taking the Continental at Monterey, Calif., two weeks ago.

SLOWING

Grable was obviously slowing in the last stages of the 39th lap. He managed to get enough gasoline to the injectors to come within a couple of feet of the finish line, but was unable to cross it under his own power.

Grable was placed last in the field of 32 drivers, according to the rules, although he completed more laps than anyone other than Hutchinson.

An extra lap had been added because Grable and George Wintersteen of Villanova, Pa., were too quick on the first lap. That extra lap cost Grable the race. Hutchinson had enough fuel for two more laps on the 2.53-mile circuit.

SECOND

Finishing second behind Hutchinson was John Gunn of Miami, Fla. Rex Ramsey of Sherman Oaks, Calif., placed third.

Gunn and Ramsey had dueled throughout the 100-mile race for third place. They ran nose-to-tail for the last 12 laps but Ramsey just couldn't get past a tight 12-turn course.

The "did not finish" ruling cost Grable the point lead in the 14-race Continental series and $5,000 first prize.

He could have passed Canadian John Cannon, who blew an engine on the seventh lap. Cannon, of Montreal, entered the race with 50 points and Grable had 40. The winner gets 20 points for first place.

PROBLEMS

Two other favorites, Wintersteen and teammate Dick Smothers of television fame, were also plagued by mechanical failure. Both suffered left inboard suspension breakdowns on their Lotus Chevrolets.

In the companion Formula B and C car feature, where the vehicles are powered by smaller engines than the Formula A cars, Mike Eyerly of Salem, Ore., romped home the winner.

Mike Hiss of Huntington Beach, Calif., was second and Alan Lader of Gresham, Ore., finished third.

YOUNG 40

McMahon Is Tough

By STEVE TOOMAJIAN

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Don McMahon found draped over his locker a white towel with the words "Thank You Ace" in big red letters.

The 40-year-old veteran had just appeared in his 700th and 701st big league games, winning the first and saving the second. The Giants took the opener 6-4 in 10 innings and won the nightcap 4-3 Sunday to send Atlanta down to its seventh straight loss.

McMahon is a brawny 6-2 Irishman, noticeably overweight around the middle, who belies his age by throwing a tough fastball more than any other pitch.

FASTBALLS

"I threw about 90 per cent fastballs," McMahon said as he put a match to a half-smoked cigar.

"I thought sure Charlie Fox) was coming to get me, though, after I loaded the bases in the ninth."

McMahon got the first two batters in the final frame of the second game. Then he gave up a double to Hank Aaron and walked Rico Carty and Orlando Cepeda before inducing Tony Gonzalez to ground out and end the contest.

"I was fine until I had to pitch from the stretch," McMahon said. "Then I lost it. My first pitch to Carty was right down the pike. I was lucky he didn't blast it."

Fox, the San Francisco manager, stuck with McMahon despite the reliever's wavering control.

SURPRISED

"I was surprised he let me pitch to Gonzalez, since Tony's a lefthanded batter," McMahon said. "The pitch I got him on was actually a ball, but he went for it and got jammed."

McMahon threw the final two innings of each game. He picked up his fifth save in the nightcap, allowing starter Rich Robertson to even his record at 6-6. In the opener, McMahon got the victory and improved his record to 4-1.

McMahon has pitched his 700-plus big league games for seven different clubs. He was picked up by San Francisco from Detroit last year and now is in his 14th season. He has been a reliever almost exclusively and he ranks high in all career statistical categories.

Alan Gallagher rewarded McMahon in the opener of the twinbill by driving his second major league homer over the rightfield screen in the 10th. Ken Henderson was aboard after singling.

GIFT TRIPLE

Frank Johnson drove in three runs in the nightcap with a single and a gift triple.

Johnson's triple, misplayed by leftfielder Carty, brought home two runs and broke a 2-2 tie in the fifth inning of the second game. Carty ran in to field the ball and watched it bounce high over his head off the artificial grass of Candlestick Park.

Willie McCovey raised his team RBI leadership to 60 by driving in a run with a

A's Still Five Games Out After Double Win

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — The Oakland Athletics had a day of rest today after their big doubleheader sweep of the Milwaukee Brewers which still left them five games out of first place in the American League West.

The A's may be glad they had the rest when they move on to Chicago Tuesday night.

IDENTICAL

In their doubleheader sweep Sunday, the A's took both games by identical scores of 4-1.

Two-run homers by Bert Campaneris and Dave Duncan made the difference in the first game and the big blow in the second was a two-run single by Tommy Davis.

Davis' hit chased Al Downing, making his first start as a Brewer and appearing in his first game since June 2.

Campaneris singled to start the game and then, after Felipe Alou walked, Reggie Jackson doubled home Campaneris.

After Downing retired Sal Bando on a foul pop, Davis singled bringing home Jackson and Alou. Ken Sanders then came in and served up a run-scoring triple to Joe Rudi.

DOBSON WINS

Chuck Dobson won his seventh game in 15 decisions while walking none and striking out six.

The only run off Dobson came in the seventh inning on singles by Tito Francona and Ted Kubiak, a fielder's choice

WIMBLEDON TENNIS

Billie Jean, Rosey Win

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI)—Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., and Rosemary Casals of San Francisco advanced to the women's semi-finals of the $100,000 Wimbledon Open tennis championships today.

Mrs. King, a three-time Wimbledon winner and the second seed this year, overcame a first-set loss to beat seventh-seeded Karen Krantzcke of Australia, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2, and Miss Casals, the No. 5 seed, routed Winnie Shaw of Scotland, 6-2, 6-0, in only 40 minutes.

Miss Shaw had reached the quaterfinals by upsetting fourth-ranked Kerry Melville of Australia on Saturday. But today she was no match for the quick-moving, hard-hitting Miss Casals.

Graebner, 26, will pit his booming serve in a quarter-finals match against Taylor, 28, a burly steelworker's son who demolished four-time Wimbledon champ Rod Laver of Australia Saturday in one of the biggest upsets in the 84-year old history of the All-England lawn tennis championships.

The last American to win the men's crown at this temple of tennis was Chuck McKinley in 1963. The last Briton was Fred Perry in the 1930's.

In two all-Australian quarter-finals matches, Tony Roche meets Ken Rosewall, defeated 1954-56 finalist, and the 1967 Wimbledon winner John Newcombe faces Roy Emerson, who won the crown in 1964-65.

Spain's Andres Gimeno, who scored Saturday's other big upset by knocking off third-seeded Arthur Ashe of Gum Spring, Va., plays Bob (Nails) Carmichael, a former Melbourne carpenter and the lone surviving unseeded male, in the other quarter-finals match.

The men's quarter-finals will probably be played Tuesday.

The other quarter-finals today matched top-seeded Margaret Court of Australia against Helga Niessen of West Germany and Cecilia Martinez of San Francisco against Francoise Durr of France.

The last eight men enjoyed a day of rest before playing their semi-finals Tuesday. Five Australians were among the quarter-finalists along with New Yorker Clark Graebner, England's Roger Taylor and Spain's Andres Gimeno.

Leach Third In NCAA Tournament

Ray Leach of Novato, sophomore at Brigham Young University, staged a strong rally Saturday, then slipped a bit, and finished third in the 72-hole National Collegiate Athletic Association golf championships at Columbus, Ohio.

The 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Leach of 69 Cambridge Heights totalled 286 — 2 under par — for the four rounds.

The individual championship went to University of Houston All-American John Mahaffey who shot a final round 68 for 284 to beat out Wake Forest's Lanny Wadkins who wound up second at 285.

Leach, who won a carload of junior championships while starring at Novato High School from 1964 through '68, shot himself into contention at the completion of the third round when he birdied four of the last five holes to go four under par at the end of 54 holes. However, he could not maintain the blistering pace and dropped two strokes on the final 18.

Houston won the team title followed by Wake Forest and Brigham Young. Behind Leach's 286 came Tom Kite of Texas at 287, and Andy North, Florida, and Tom Watson, Stanford, 289 each.

Burton Leads Pro Bowlers

FRESNO, Calif. (UPI)—Nelson Burton Jr. of St. Louis is the leader going into today's finals of the $32,000 Fresno Open Bowling Tournament.

The slender righthander, who has won two Professional Bowling Association titles this year, closed out the 24-game qualifier Sunday night with a 268 game.

Burton, whose father is a bowling hall of famer, had a 1,300 saries in his six game block. With 5,338 pins for four rounds, he held slim lead of two pins over Mike McGrath, a tenacious lefthander from El Cerrito, Calif.

Rain Helps Devlin Capture Cleveland Open Top Prize

AURORA, Ohio (UPI)—Raindrops fell on the head of Bruce Devlin and brought with them a $30,000 check.

The 32-year-old Australian pro golfer took first prize money in the $150,000 Cleveland Open, and he said he was thankful for the rain storm that postponed the second round of the tournament.

"I was three over par for the seven holes I played Friday, and I was three under par for the same holes when we played them over again," Devlin said. Friday's round, washed out, was played along with the final round Sunday.

SIX SHOTS

"That rain saved me six shots," he said.

Devlin toured the par 70, 6,661-yard Aurora Country Club course with four sub-par rounds, scoring 69s Thursday and Saturday and 66 and 64 Sunday, for a 12-under-par 268.

His final round, which included seven birdies and one bogey, tied the course record set last year by Arnold Palmer and Charles Coody, defending champion in the Cleveland Open.

In second place with 272 was Steve Eichstaedt, 23, who last year was serving in Vietnam as an Army medic, and last month was the driving range attendant at the Miami Lakes, Fla., Country Club.

Eichstaedt had played in only two tournaments this year and failed to make the cut both times.

69-68

But he withstood the pressure of the final two rounds better than any one but Devlin, shooting a 69 and 68. After he scored an eagle two on the second hole of the final nine, he briefly held the lead.

His $17,100 check was triple that of his two-year Army pay.

Grier Jones, 24, who had led after Saturday's second round, fired rounds of 77-74 to finish tied for 38th.

Bob Murphy and Larry Hinson, the first day leader, tied for third with 273s. Lou Graham, Dave Hill and Lee Trevino had 274s for fourth.

Farther back were Tom Weiskopf, 275, Bob Goalby and Homero Blancas all at 276, Ray Floyd at 278, Frank Beard at 279, Bert Greene at 281, Julius Boros 282, Gene Littler 283, Doug Sanders 286 and Coody 288.

Steady Putter Wins For Golfing Coed

EL CAJON, Calif. (UPI)—A steady putter was credited by 20-year-old Cathy Gaughan, for her victory over Arizona State teammate Jan Bastanchury in the championship round of the National Women's Intercollegiate Golf Tournament.

Miss Bastanchury, the defending champion, lost her bid to become the first woman in the 29-year history of the tournament to score a repeat victory, losing two up.

Coaches A-A Football Game Finds A Home

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—American Football Coaches Association officials said Sunday the Coaches All-American football game may stay in the city where 42,150 fans watched the 10th annual game.

"We think, and this year's game would certainly tend to prove it, that we have found a home," said Bill M. Curry, executive director of the AFCA. "We certainly didn't come to Lubbock for a one-year stop.

BE BACK

"As long as we are welcome and treated as royally as we were this year, we'll always be back," he said. "It's hard to believe that crowd."

The performance of the players in the 34-27 East victory Saturday, at least, matched the impressive crowd figures that topped the old attendance high by 5,000 fans.

A total of 10 game records were bettered and two tied during the game. Most Valuable Player Jim Otis of Ohio State set two of them and West quarterback Dennis Shaw of San Diego State set four more.

"I think this game was a tribute to both teams," said Dan Devine, coach of the losing West team. "The 90-degree heat hurt some but the players were in excellent physical condition. They did a remarkable job."

"I've said everywhere I've been, you are all-Americans," said winner Charles McClendon of LSU. "Neither team gave up in this contest. Shoot, we didn't win until the last second and you can't ask for any more than that."

An official for the American Broadcasting Company which televised the game nationally said: "You couldn't have had a better finish if we had written a script and give it to the teams to follow. It was just one of those games people don't walk away from."

The game ended with West on the East's nine yard line. Seconds before Shaw had brought his team downfield from his own 25-yard line to the East three in less than one minute.

The teams together scored 61 points, surpassing the old mark by a touchdown and an extra point. The 34 points by the East tied the record of most points scored by a team. Team records also were set in most yards passing, 384; most yards total offense, 505, and most first downs, 24.

RECORDS

Shaw garnered the total offense record with 376, the most passes ever attempted, 44; most passes completed ever 25, and most yards gained, 384.

Otis carried the ball more times than anyone had, 27, and most yards rushing, 145. Frank Foreman of Michigan State caught two touchdown passes to tie the record for the most points by one player.

Notre Dame's tackle Mike McCoy and Ron Gardin of Arizona were chosen co-receivers of the Ernie Davis Memorial Award.

Races Started October 1870

BALTIMORE (AP) — Organized thoroughbred racing began at the present site of Pimlico race course on Oct. 25, 1870.

However, the Maryland Jockey Club, which operates the track, is 227 years old. It was founded in 1743 at Annapolis.

He Never Misses

DENVER (AP) — Jerry Hendren of Idaho, leading collegiate pass receiver last season who has been signed by the Denver Broncos, started every game for his high school and university football teams—52 straight.

Bob Foster Might Turn Into Heavy

BALTIMORE (UPI) —Bob Foster, discouraged by the small purses he's been getting as light heavyweight champion, is ready to turn his attention to Joe Frazier's heavyweight title.

Foster successfully defended the light heavyweight title Saturday night for the fourth time by knocking out Mark Tessman in the 10th round. After the bout, the 31-year-old champion said he will fight in the heavyweight division, and the decision may cost him his light heavyweight title.

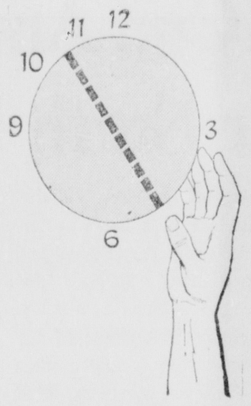
The World Boxing Assocation has ordered Foster to sign for a title bout with No. 1 contender Jimmy Dupree within 30 days. If he fails to meet the deadline, the WBA has threatened to withdraw its recognition of his title.

Football Record

NEW YORK (UPI)—Professional football attendance in 1969 rose to an all-time high of 12,567,501—an average of 47,246 for every game played.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



Get plenty of hook by setting your thumb between the 10 and 11 o'clock position as you prepare to deliver the ball. Then hold it at that angle as you make your follow-through. This places the fingers enough to the side, while still mostly behind the ball, to give you a medium hook at the finish.

Playoffs On Tap In Ruth League

Campbell-Bishop outlasted Bon Air Shell, 10-8 Saturday to win the second half championship in the Central Marin Babe Ruth League. It will meet first half champion KFRC on Wednesday to decide the overall league championship.

The first place Tigers downed the Legionaires, 4-1 in the Northgate League Saturday, and the second place Builders outslugged the Giants, 15-13.

In the Novato league Saturday, the Native Sons defeated the Machinists, 7-3, the Realtors edged the Shamrocks, 9-8 and Pini beat Nave Center, 4-1. Young Brothers shut out the Machinists Sunday, 5-0.

New Coach

Paul Westhead, former assistant coach at St. Joseph's College, is the new head basketball coach at La Salle College in Philadelphia. The Drexel Hill native is 31. He led last season's St. Joseph's freshman team to a 21-2 record.

Risch Wins In Golf Finals

PEBBLE BEACH (UPI)—Bob Risch, a 22-year old strong man from Gardena, today held the California Amateur Golf Championship. But it took the former Trojan golfer 39 holes to shake off a dogged Vic Loustalot, 23, of Sacramento, and win the title.

It was the longest state finals since 1959 when Mac Hunter outlasted former U.S. Open Champ Gene Littler over the same length.

Oddly enough, both Risch and Loustalot were teammates on coach Stan Wood's USC Trojans for two years and both are considered professional tour potentialities.

Risch, who also holds the Southern California Public Links title, won the thriller when he dropped a 32-foot birdie putt on the third extra hole, just after Loustalot had thrilled the largest state gallery in the past 10 years by blasting out of a bunker to within two feet of the hole for his par.

After Loustalot had won the final hole of the 36-hole match to send it into extra holes, the bespectacled Sacramentan put on a Houdini-like display of escape artistry to half the first two extra holes.

Vic went over the first green but made a miraculous approach shot back and dropped a four footer for his par. Then he hit two traps on the par five second hole while Risch was on the green in two. However, Vic dropped a 10-footer for the halving birdie and seemed on his way to another extra hole, when the new champ dropped his putt.

A Milestone For Kentucky

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky's 116 to 86 basketball victory over Georgia last season marked another milestone for the Wildcats.

In addition to being a home floor scoring record for Kentucky, it also marked the 10th time the Cats passed the century mark in their last 24 games against Georgia.

A Four Bagger

Bud Harrelson, New York Met shortstop, hit his first major league home run inside the park in Pittsburgh in 1967. This season he hit a four bagger in Shea Stadium against the Phillies. It was the first Met homer of the season. It came in game No. 8.

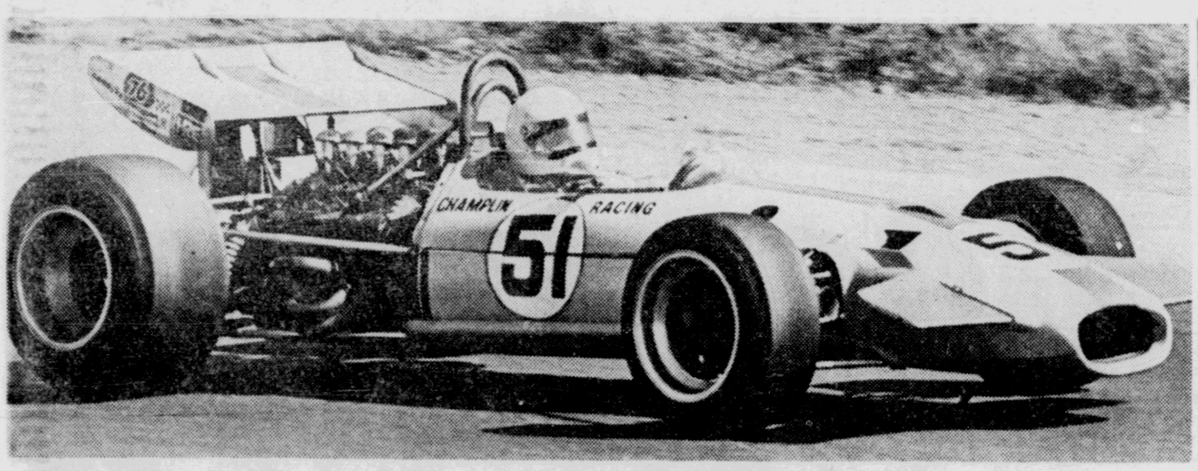
Hutchinson Is Winner In Sonoma Race



Gus Hutchinson, Dalles, en route to Continental Grand Prix victory.

Tough Luck Grable Runs Out Of Gas On Last Lap

SONOMA, Calif. (UPI) — Unheralded Gus Hutchinson of Dallas, Tex., has won the Continental 49er Grand Prix for Formula A sports cars at Sears Point Raceway.

Hutchinson took the victory Sunday after local favorite Ron Grable of Cupertino, Calif., ran out of gas with one lap remaining.

Grable was bidding for his second straight victory after taking the Continental at Monterey, Calif., two weeks ago.

SLOWING

Grable was obviously slowing in the last stages of the 39th lap. He managed to get enough gasoline to the injectors to come within a couple of feet of the finish line, but was unable to cross it under his own power.

Grable was placed last in the field of 32 drivers, according to the rules, although he completed more laps than anyone other than Hutchinson.

An extra lap had been added because Grable and George Wintersteen of Villanova, Pa., were too quick on the first lap. That extra lap cost Grable the race. Hutchinson had enough fuel for two more laps on the 2.53-mile circuit.

SECOND

Finishing second behind Hutchinson was John Gunn of Miami, Fla. Rex Ramsey of Sherman Oaks, Calif., placed third.

Gunn and Ramsey had dueled throughout the 100-mile race for third place. They ran nose-to-tail for the last 12 laps but Ramsey just couldn't get past a tight 12-turn course.

The "did not finish" ruling cost Grable the point lead in the 14-race Continental series and $5,000 first prize.

He could have passed Canadian John Cannon, who blew an engine on the seventh lap. Cannon, of Montreal, entered the race with 50 points and Grable had 40. The winner gets 20 points for first place.

PROBLEMS

Two other favorites, Wintersteen and teammate Dick Smothers of television fame, were also plagued by mechanical failure. Both suffered left inboard suspension breakdowns on their Lotus Chevrolets.

In the companion Formula B and C car feature, where the vehicles are powered by smaller engines than the Formula A cars, Mike Eyerly of Salem, Ore., romped home the winner.

Mike Hiss of Huntington Beach, Calif., was second and Alan Lader of Gresham, Ore., finished third.

YOUNG 40

McMahon Is Tough

By STEVE TOOMAJIAN

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Don McMahon found draped over his locker a white towel with the words "Thank You Ace" in big red letters.

The 40-year-old veteran had just appeared in his 700th and 701st big league games, winning the first and saving the second. The Giants took the opener 6-4 in 10 innings and won the nightcap 4-3 Sunday to send Atlanta down to its seventh straight loss.

McMahon is a brawny 6-2 Irishman, noticeably overweight around the middle, who belies his age by throwing a tough fastball more than any other pitch.

FASTBALLS

"I threw about 90 per cent fastballs," McMahon said as he put a match to a half-smoked cigar.

"I thought sure Charlie Fox) was coming to get me, though, after I loaded the bases in the ninth."

McMahon got the first two batters in the final frame of the second game. Then he gave up a double to Hank Aaron . . . walked Rico Carty and Orlando Cepeda before inducing Tony Gonzalez to ground out and end the contest.

"I was fine until I had to pitch from the stretch," McMahon said. "Then I lost it. My first pitch to Carty was right down the pike. I was lucky he didn't blast it."

Fox, the San Francisco manager, stuck with McMahon despite the reliever's wavering control.

SURPRISED

"I was surprised he let me pitch to Gonzalez, since Tony's a lefthanded batter," McMahon said. "The pitch I got him on was actually a ball, but he went for it and got jammed."

McMahon threw the final two innings of each game. He picked up his fifth save in the nightcap, allowing starter Rich Robertson to even his record at 6-6. In the opener, McMahon got the victory and improved his record to 4-1.

McMahon has pitched his 700-plus big league games for seven different clubs. He was picked up by San Francisco from Detroit last year and now is in his 14th season. He has been a reliever almost exclusively and he ranks high in all career statistical categories.

Alan Gallagher rewarded McMahon in the opener of the twinbill by driving his second major league homer over the rightfield screen in the 10th. Ken Henderson was aboard after singling.

GIFT TRIPLE

Frank Johnson drove in three runs in the nightcap with a single and a gift triple.

Johnson's triple, misplayed by leftfielder Carty, brought home two runs and broke a 2-2 tie in the fifth inning of the second game. Carty ran in to field the ball and watched it bounce high over his head off the artificial grass of Candlestick Park.

Willie McCovey raised his team RBI leadership to 60 by driving in a run with a

A's Still Five Games Out After Double Win

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — The Oakland Athletics had a day of rest today after their big doubleheader sweep of the Milwaukee Brewers which still left them five games out of first place in the American League West.

The A's may be glad they had the rest when they move on to Chicago Tuesday night.

IDENTICAL

In their doubleheader sweep Sunday, the A's took both games by identical scores of 4-1.

Two-run homers by Bert Campaneris and Dave Duncan made the difference in the first game and the big blow in the second was a two-run single by Tommy Davis.

Davis' hit chased Al Downing, making his first start as a Brewer and appearing in his first game since June 2.

Campaneris singled to start the game and then, after Felipe Alou walked, Reggie Jackson doubled home Campaneris.

After Downing retired Sal Bando on a foul pop, Davis singled bringing home Jackson and Alou. Ken Sanders then came in and served up a run-scoring triple to Joe Rudi.

DOBSON WINS

Chuck Dobson won his seventh game in 15 decisions while walking none and striking out six.

The only run off Dobson came in the seventh inning on singles by Tito Francona and Ted Kubiak, a fielder's choice

WIMBLEDON TENNIS

Billie Jean, Rosey Win

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI)—Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., and Rosemary Casals of San Francisco advanced to the women's semi-finals of the $100,000 Wimbledon Open tennis championships today.

Mrs. King, a three-time Wimbledon winner and the second seed this year, overcame a first-set loss to beat seventh-seeded Karen Krantzcke of Australia, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2, and Miss Casals, the No. 5 seed, routed Winnie Shaw of Scotland, 6-2, 6-0, in only 40 minutes.

Miss Shaw had reached the quaterfinals by upsetting fourth-ranked Kerry Melville of Australia on Saturday. But today she was no match for the quick-moving, hard-hitting Miss Casals.

Graebner, 26, will pit his booming serve in a quarter-finals match against Taylor, 28, a burly steelworker's son who demolished four-time Wimbledon champ Rod Laver of Australia Saturday in one of the biggest upsets in the 84-year old history of the All-England lawn tennis championships.

The last American to win the men's crown at this temple of tennis was Chuck McKinley in 1963. The last Briton was Fred Perry in the 1930's.

In two all-Australian quarter-finals matches, Tony Roche meets Ken Rosewall, defeated 1954-56 finalist, and the 1967 Wimbledon winner John Newcombe faces Roy Emerson, who won the crown in 1964-65.

Spain's Andres Gimeno, who scored Saturday's other big upset by knocking off third-seeded Arthur Ashe of Gum Spring, Va., plays Bob (Nails) Carmichael, a former Melbourne carpenter and the lone surviving unseeded male, in the other quarter-finals match.

The men's quarter-finals will probably be played Tuesday.

The other quarter-finals today matched top-seeded Margaret Court of Australia against Helga Niessen of West Germany and Cecilia Martinez of San Francisco against Francoise Durr of France.

The last eight men enjoyed a day of rest before playing their semi-finals Tuesday. Five Australians were among the quarter-finalists along with New Yorker Clark Graebner, England's Roger Taylor and Spain's Andres Gimeno.

Leach Third In NCAA Tournament

Ray Leach of Novato, sophomore at Brigham Young University, staged a strong rally Saturday, then slipped a bit, and finished third in the 72-hole National Collegiate Athletic Association golf championships at Columbus, Ohio.

The 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Leach of 69 Cambridge Heights totalled 286 — 2 under par — for the four rounds.

The individual championship went to University of Houston All-American John Mahaffey who shot a final round 68 for 284 to beat out Wake Forest's Lanny Wadkins who wound up second at 285.

Leach, who won a carload of junior championships while starring at Novato High School from 1964 through '68, shot himself into contention at the completion of the third round when he birdied four of the last five holes to go four under par at the end of 54 holes. However, he could not maintain the blistering pace and dropped two strokes on the final 18.

Houston won the team title followed by Wake Forest and Brigham Young. Behind Leach's 286 came Tom Kite of Texas at 287, and Andy North, Florida, and Tom Watson, Stanford, 289 each.

Burton Leads Pro Bowlers

FRESNO, Calif. (UPI)—Nelson Burton Jr. of St. Louis is the leader going into today's finals of the $32,000 Fresno Open Bowling Tournament.

The slender righthander, who has won two Professional Bowling Association titles this year, closed out the 24-game qualifier Sunday night with a 268 game.

Burton, whose father is a bowling hall of famer, had a 1,300 saries in his six game block. With 5,338 pins for four rounds, he held slim lead of two pins over Mike McGrath, a tenacious lefthander from El Cerrito, Calif.

Rain Helps Devlin Capture Cleveland Open Top Prize

AURORA, Ohio (UPI)—Raindrops fell on the head of Bruce Devlin and brought with them a $30,000 check.

The 32-year-old Australian pro golfer took first prize money in the $150,000 Cleveland Open, and he said he was thankful for the rain storm that postponed the second round of the tournament.

"I was three over par for the seven holes I played Friday, and I was three under par for the same holes when we played them over again," Devlin said. Friday's round, washed out, was played along with the final round Sunday.

SIX SHOTS

"That rain saved me six shots," he said.

Devlin toured the par 70, 6,661-yard Aurora Country Club course with four sub-par rounds, scoring 69s Thursday and Saturday and 66 and 64 Sunday, for a 12-under-par 268.

His final round, which included seven birdies and one bogey, tied the course record set last year by Arnold Palmer and Charles Coody, defending champion in the Cleveland Open.

In second place with 272 was Steve Eichstaedt, 23, who last year was serving in Vietnam as an Army medic, and last month was the driving range attendant at the Miami Lakes, Fla., Country Club.

Eichstaedt had played in only two tournaments this year and failed to make the cut both times.

69-68

But he withstood the pressure of the final two rounds better than any one but Devlin, shooting a 69 and 68. After he scored an eagle two on the second hole of the final nine, he briefly held the lead.

His $17,100 check was triple that of his two-year Army pay.

Grier Jones, 24, who had led after Saturday's second round, fired rounds of 77-74 to finish tied for 38th.

Bob Murphy and Larry Hinson, the first day leader, tied for third with 273s. Lou Graham, Dave Hill and Lee Trevino had 274s for fourth.

Farther back were Tom Weiskopf, 275, Bob Goalby and Homero Blancas all at 276, Ray Floyd at 278, Frank Beard at 279, Bert Greene at 281, Julius Boros 282, Gene Littler 283, Doug Sanders 286 and Coody 288.

Steady Putter Wins For Golfing Coed

EL CAJON, Calif. (UPI)—A steady putter was credited by 20-year-old Cathy Gaughan, for her victory over Arizona State teammate Jan Bastanchury in the championship round of the National Women's Intercollegiate Golf Tournament.

Miss Bastanchury, the defending champion, lost her bid to become the first woman in the 29-year history of the tournament to score a repeat victory, losing two up.

Budget Accord Reached

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A two-house conference committee today presented the Legislature with a $6.59 billion budget for the next fiscal year which includes $102 million in new funds for schools.

The 1970-71 budget originally proposed by Gov. Ronald Reagan was $6.48 billion. The record spending program for the new fiscal year must be signed into law by midnight Tuesday.

Assemblyman Frank Lanterman, R-La Canada, chairman of the conference committee, said the added funds came primarily from transfering revenue to the general fund from the budgets of proposed construction projects.

"We can't keep on doing that into perpetuity," said Lanterman.

The conference committee also restored a 2.25 per cent cut made by the Senate in the salaries of the University of California and state college professors. But the conference committee refused to restore a five per cent cost of living salary increase which lawmakers earlier had stricken from the spending program.

"They don't get any less," said Lanterman. "They don't get any more."

The 5 per cent salary increase was granted, however, to other state employes.

"The state employes were the ones who had a higher priority," said Lanterman.

SMOKING RUINS OF BOLINAS HOME

Firemen continue to pour water on the ruins of a $28,000 Bolinas home which was destroyed today. The fire in the home at the intersection of Elm and Fern roads reportedly started when a stove exploded at about 9 a.m. Despite the efforts of Bolinas, Stinson Beach and Marin County firemen, the house burned to the ground within a half-hour. The home was owned by James M. Groshong of San Francisco, who was said to have been in the house when the fire began but escaped without injury. (Jeffrey Paganini photo)

GIs Finish Cambodian Withdrawal

Massive Arms Airlift To Phnom Penh Begins

SAIGON (UPI) — The United States today completed withdrawal of U.S. troops from Cambodia a full day ahead of President Nixon's June 30 deadline, military sources reported. At the same time, the United States and South Vietnam began a massive airlift of arms to Phnom Penh.

Informed sources in Phnom Penh said eight American C130s and three South Vietnamese C119 cargo planes arrived at Phnom Penh today with arms and ammunition for the hard-pressed Cambodian army that is still being aided by South Vietnamese troops and U.S warplanes.

The military sources said nearly 1,700 American troops slogged on foot through monsoon mud to cross into South Vietnam from Cambodia's Fish Hook sector northwest of Saigon. They said 300 Ameriacn advisers were still in Cambodia with the 39,000 South Vietnamese still there but would return Tuesday.

Back in Washington, hawkish lawmakers hailed the Cambodian pullout today as evidence that President Nixon knows what he is about in the Vietnam war. Dovish members were glad the operation was over but questioned whether it meant anything.

"I think the Cambodian operation was the most successful military operation of the entire war," said Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C. "It shows that those people who criticized the President for going into Cambodia ought to know by now to let the commander-in-chief run the war."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he was not surprised at the Cambodian pull-out, which met President Nixon's deadline.

In a brief session with reporters, Mansfield said, "I fully expected the President would keep his word and all troops would be removed."

The withdrawal came one day before the Senate scheduled a

Wind Gusts Fan Fires, Down Lines And Limbs

Sharp, gusty winds whipped through Marin yesterday, fanning grass fires and causing scattered damage from fallen limbs and downed power lines. Steady 55-mile-an-hour winds were reported atop Mount Tamalpais. Hamilton Air Force Base reported winds of 40 miles an hour.

A grass fire at 12:23 p.m. in Jewell in West Marin burned 50 acres on the Truppman Brothers and Don McIsaac ranches, but no structure was damaged.

Power lines were blown down in Kentfield, Fairfax, and Novato between 3:10 and 3:45 p.m. An outage at 3:18 p.m. cut off electricity to the Joseph H. Sittenauer home, 687 Orange Avenue, Novato.

In Fairfax, the downed lines ignited a grass fire near Maiden Lane Kennels which burned 100 square feet.

Another outage at 10:05 p.m. on Vineyard Road in Novato cut off service to 12 customers for 45 minutes.

The Sonoma-Marin Fair in Petaluma came to a windblown conclusion with carnival tents flapping loose and attendance held down by the weather. Yesterday's parade saw flagbearers struggling to keep their footing and beauty queens trying to save their hairdos.

Fair manager Arthur F. Canavan blamed winds and cool weather for a drop in attendance of more than 5,000 from last year.

A limb blown off a tree on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo at 2:20 p.m. hit a car driven by William Feldman of 250 Redwood Road, San Anselmo, smashing the windshield and denting the roof.

A traffic signal was blown down at the intersection of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Tunstead Avenue in San Anselmo.

In Novato, one tree was broken off and six others bent on Grant Avenue, and branches blown off five trees on Ignacio Boulevard.

Wind aided another grass and brush fire which burned 30 acres in Loma Verde on land owned by the Trousdale Corp.

PLANNED PARENT GROUPS

Their Target—Teen Pregnancies

By C. P. McCARTHY

Marin teen-agers need birth control information and supplies, according to the Planned Parenthood Association of Marin, and Planned Parenthood is providing both.

Last month, 126 teen-agers showed up at the group's San Rafael office for one or the other, and the number is increasing every month, said Thomas A. Knight, executive director.

But apparently enough of them are not going soon enough. In addition to the teen-agers seeking information or contraceptives, 45 young, single women showed up with unwanted pregnancies.

Hoping to cut the number of unwanted teen pregnancies, Planned Parenthood began a program for teen-agers last September.

The program begins with a mandatory "rap" session, in which the teenagers discuss sex, marriage, love, birth control, their parents and other subjects.

Following the rap session, a teen-age girl can make an appointment with a Planned Parenthood doctor for medical examination. About half of them do.

If the doctor decides birth control is needed, the girl will get a prescription. The major requirement is that the girl already be sexually active.

The sexually inexperienced teen-ager will not get the pill from Planned Parenthood.

Parental consent or knowledge is not needed. Knight conceded there is some legal risk in dispensing contraceptive supplies to minors, but said the Planned Parenthood board had decided the need was greater than the risk.

The need he blamed on a society which saturates young people with sex and a lack of communication between parents and children.

The second point is discussed at length during the rap sessions. Clinic director Barbara George, a registered nurse who conducts the sessions, urges the teen-agers to keep trying to break down the walls between themselves and their parents.

Thirteen young people attended the session last week. Three said they were there with their parents' knowledge and permission. One boy said his family would probably move if they knew he was there.

Mrs. George said most parents become irate if they learn their children have been to Planned Parenthood. The parents are usually asked, she said, which is better for their daughter, since they can't prevent sexual activity, pregnancy or contraception.

Only one father has chosen pregnancy, she said. The father reasoned that if the girl were pregnant he could claim she was raped, or forced to submit, or on drugs or drunk. Mrs. George invited him to come down to Planned Parenthood and talk with her at the clinic, but he refused. The girl eventually left home, Mrs. George said.

The teen program has never been advertised, Knight said, but word-of-mouth publicity among teen-agers has led to a constant stream of young people to Planned Parenthood.

The program began with a rap session and a medical clinic every other week. The demand has led to a rap session and two medical clinics every week.

Attending last week's session were three boys. Girls are encouraged to bring their boy-

Screening Panel To Submit Lone Name For Mental Health Post

Only one name was to be submitted to the Marin County Board of Supervisors and Marin Hospital District Board this afternoon for selection as director of the county's community mental health center.

The name reportedly was that of a Dr. Peck of New York.

It was learned reliably that the nine-member committee set up to screen candidates for the position eliminated all but one at a session on Saturday. The committee had been instructed by the board of supervisors to submit three names.

County Administrator Alan Bruce, a member of the screenisg committee, refused today to say whether one name or three was to be submitted, but told the Independent-Journal:

"I don't recall anything that I would call an instruction that we submit three names."

The proposal for a nine-member committee to ssbmit three names was drawn up by Thomas F. Campanella, Bruce's assistant, and submitted in February to the Marin Mental Health Advisory Board. It was approved by that board and subsequently by the board of supervisors and the hospital directors. At a June 8 meeting at which makeup of the committee was criticized, the board of supervisors voted 3-to-2 to have the screening committee complete its work and submit three names. Supervisors Louis H. Baar and William A. Gnoss wanted to either reorganize or scrap the committee.

Baar was the only supervisor reached today who had heard of the decision to submit only one name, but Mrs. Marion C. Ibach of the hospital board said she had been so informed.

"It sounds like a lead pipe job," commented Baar.

Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. called "very interesting" the report that only one name would be submitted.

Arrigoni said he did not expect an appointment to come out of this afternoon's joint meeting with the hospital board. Bruce, however, said the meeting was set up to make the appointment.

Supervisor Gnoss said he had heard nothing about the screening committee decision. Chairman John F. McInnis and Supervisor Michael Wornum could not be reached this morning.

Death Toll Rises In Belfast Riots

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—The death toll in a weekend of death and destruction in Northern Ireland rose to six today when one of the victims of Catholic-Protestant rioting died in a hospital. Shotgun blasts by snipers wounded two more British soldiers today.

Prime Minister Edward Heath called his cabinet into emergency session in London and announced he was sending 3,000 more troops into Northern Ireland to try to enforce peace. Previously 8,000 troops had been sent there.

An army spokesman said in addition to the two soldiers hit by snipers another six soldiers were injured in Belfast and 32 in Londonderry during clashes Sunday night. Police said "hundreds" of persons were being treated in hospitals, many for gunshot wounds.

Rioting erupted when Bernodette Devlin, 23, member of parliament and civil rights leader of the Catholic minority in Northern Ireland, was sent to prison Friday for six months for her part in rioting last year.

In Belfast, burned out buses and automobiles lay where mobs used them for barricades. Dozens of buildings were smoldering ruins. British troops patroled with orders to shoot anyone seen with a gun.

Police said special security precautions were being taken to protect Heath's home secretary, Reginald Maudling, who will arrive Tuesday for a 30-hour inspection of the Northern Irish problem he is charged with solving.

The army said it had fired 225 gas grenades in Belfast and 208 in Londonderry Sunday night and this morning, arrested 89 persons in the two cities, and been the garget of 49 Molotov cocktails.

Police said 16 women and girls, five of them under 17, were among 48 persons arrested in the outbreaks Sunday and today. Four were boys about 11 or 12.

Belfast bus depot officials said 15 buses had been seized and used as barricades or transportation for rioters from one area of the city to another. Many of them were deliberately destroyed by fire.

The Rev. Ian Paisley, the militant Protestant leader, arrived in London to take his newly won seat in the British Parliament and said he would not try to prevent Miss Devlin, his arch foe, from taking her seat when she gets out of jail.

Jarcik Nine Wins Twin Bill

The slugging of former Redwood High School star Steve Joses and pitching of Mike Timmel and Hal Shively led Jarcik Insurance of San Rafael to a sweep of a semi-professional baseball doubleheader with Pacific yesterday at Albert Park, San Rafael.

Timmel, Stanford University righthander from Terra Linda, pitched a one-hitter as San Rafael romped to a 12-1 victory in the opening game abbreviated to five innings because of the lop-sided score. Joses helped make it that way with a double and single that drove in three runs.

In the nightcap, Joses hammered a home run and made a great diving catch in left field as the Jarcik team posted an 8-3 victory in seven innings. Sandy Ingersol drove in four runs with a double and triple and Fred Daniele contributed a pair of hits for the winners.

Shively pitched four innings of hitless, scoreless relief after starter Bill English gave up three runs and five hits in the first three innings.

Jarcik now has a 2-1 won-lost record and will resume its schedule on July 12 after a Fourth of July weekend holiday.

Mir Takes Back Her Yacht Lead

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Canada's representative in the Los Angles to Tahiti yacht race, the 78-foot ketch Mir, was back in the lead of the longest scheduled ocean rave in the world today.

Mir, owned by George W. O'Brien of Vancouver, B.C., reported her position Sunday as 1,72 miles from landfall in Tahiti. By late today the leader should be more than two-thirds of the way in the 3,571 miles race.

Closest to the leader was Kenneth W. Demeuse's Blackfin, a 73-foot ketch from Hayward, Calif. In third place was Aries, owned by William Ward of Gardena, Calif., which briefly replaced Mir as the leader Saturday.

WINNERS FROM AAU MEET

U.S. Trackmen To Tour Europe

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (UPI)—America's best track and field athletes, determined by the national AAU championships this past weekend, begin a tour of Europe on July 6 with a big dual meet against Russia in Leningrad, everyone's No. 1 target.

Only three NCAA champions were able to also win AAU titles Friday and Saturday and only Ivery Crockett in the 100, Ralph Mann in the 440 hurdles, Bob Seagren in the pole vault and Randy Matson in the shot among 1969 AAU champions were able to make it two in a row.

FADING

Obviously, with the American track and field program now midway between Olympic years, some of the old stars are fading and new ones are emerging to take their places and probably be the nation's representatives when the 1972 Olympic Games open in Munich.

Among that newer category are such as Tom Hill of Arkansas State in the 120 high hurdles, Crockett, Ken Swenson of Kansas State in the 800, John Smith of UCLA in the 440 dash, Howell Michael in the mile, Bill Reilly in the steeplechase and Frank Shorter in the three and six mile runs.

Crockett, who also won at the NCAA championships, took the 100 at the AAU championships but not until after he had survived a protest, while Senson, who also won at the NCAA, scored in 1:47.4 to win the AAU 880.

JAVELIN

The only other NCAA champion toa lso win in the AAU was Bill Skinner of Tennessee in the javelin with a throw of 276-7. The big disappointment in the javelin was American record holder Mark Murro, who finished 11th with a best throw of 237-7 iompared to his all-time best of 300. That, naturally, left him off the team which goes to Europe since only the first three finishers in each event at the AAU championships won a berth.

The tour starts in France, progresses to West Germany and then goes to Russia before working the way back home via stops in the Scandinavian countries.

BITTER

Vaughan, bitter as he could be with the decision, came back Saturday night to nip NCAA champ Willie Turner and win the 220 in 20.8.

Mann, the world record holder, won the 440 hurdles with ease in 49.8, while Seagren took the pole vault at 17-2 and Matson the shot, with a throw of 67-10 1-4.

Hill whipped Olympic hero Willie Davenport and the veteran Leon Coleman in winning the 124 hurdles in 13.3, while Smith, a 20-year-old soph overlooked on his own team by Wayne Collett and elsewhere by Larry James, Lee Evans and Curtis Mills, turned in the upset of the meet by winning the 440 in 45.7.

Michael, a tough runner from William and Mary, proved another surprise as he won the mile in 4:01.8. Among those who finished in his wake were Marty Liquori, the NCAA champ and America's best miler these days, and the veteran John Mason.

FAVORITES LOSE

Bob Price was the favorite in the 3,000 meter steeplechase and Jack Bachelor the pick in both the three and six mile runs but things didn't turn out that way as Reilly took the steeplechase in 3:34.8, the third fastest time ever by an American, and Shorter won the other two.

Shorter took the three mile in 13,24.2 and was a couple of steps ahead of Bachelor and the apparent winner of the six mile when in a gesture of comradeship he slowed up and extended his hand to Bachelor. The two then crossed the finish line side by said and officially it was delared a dead heat in 27:24.0. The gesture and the two fine performances were not lost on covering newsmen who voted Shorter the meet's outstanding athlete.

Now, it's off to Europe and another shot at the Russians with America's newst stars.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Newsman Ousted

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today ordered the expulsion of CBS correspondent William Cole for "activities incompatible with the status of a foreign journalist," Tass said.

A one sentence item by the Soviet news agency did not elaborate on the order.

Cole, who has been in Moscow since Aug. 1, 1968, said he was summoned to the Soviet foreign ministry today and was told he must leave the country. No time limit was set by the ministry but Cole said he will leave within a week.

Factory Bombed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Seven fire bombs were hurled into a factory building early today in the predominantly Negro Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn.

No one was injured and only slight damage was caused by the bombs, which started small fires.

Fire authorities were investigating a possible link between the bombings and plans by firms in the building not to close down in support of today's Italian-American Unit Day observances.

Fiery Deaths

KAWASAKI, Japan (UPI) — A motorbike collided with a dump truck loaded with boiling asphalt Sunday. The load splashed on two youths, burning them to death.

Tourist Money

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Commerce Department has announced Americans spent a record $5.4 billion last year on foreign travel, an increase of 14 per cent over 1968.

The excess of U.S. payments to foreigners over receipts from foreign visitors was $.2 billion, the department said Sunday, aggravating the nation's chronic balance of payments problems.

City Birthday

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — San Francisco began a two-day birthday celebration Sunday with a wreath laying and concert in Golden Gate Park.

The city, celebrating its 194th birthday, will continue the activities Monday morning with a Mass at Mission Dolores and a luncheon at the Presidio Officers Club where Mayor Joseph L. Alioto will speak.

Sunday, a wreath was laid at the base of the statue of Father Junipero Serra. A concert featuring Spanish dancer Teresita Osta and a Mariachi band followed.

An estimated 2,000 persons filled the park to watch the ceremonies.

Iowa Governor Safe After Plane Mishap

CRESCO, Iowa (UPI)—A single engine Cessna 172 carrying Gov. and Mrs. Robert D. Ray, a press aide and the pilot went off the runway at the Cresco airport Sunday. No one was injured and the aircraft was undamaged.

William Jackson, the governor's press aide, said the plane nosed into a ditch at the end of the runway. He said wind gusts of up to 35 miles per hour apparently caused the plane to bounce on landing and carried the craft off the runway.

It takes 25,000 gallons of water, five tons of air and 700 horsepower hours of electricity to produce one ton of steel.

Prince Hurt

LONDON (UPI) — Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth, injured his shoulder Sunday in a fall from his polo pony. His son, Prince Charles, also fell off a horse in the same game but was not hurt.

More Teachers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Office of Education says the post World War II shortage of public school teachers has finally ended, but that is no guarantee of "quality education."

In a weekend report, assistant commissioner Don Davies said there were more than two million full and part-time public school teachers last fall for a pupil-teacher ratio of 22.7 to 1.

Interest Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Home Loan Bank Board reports the interest cost of conventional mortgages for new homes reached an average of 8.44 per cent in May.

Hatfield Issues Warning To Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Unless the administration ends the Vietnam War and swings the economy upward, President Nixon may be denied renomination in 1972, says Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore.

"If the war is still going on by 1970, that is in November of this year in any great intensity, and the economics of the country continue to slide and disintegrate, there just may not be a Nixon-Agnew ticket in 1972," Hafiteld said Sunday.

He also said continued administration policies on inflation and Southeast Asia could send GOP congressional candidates reeling to defeat in November.

Hatfield accused Nixon of leading the Republican Party toward destruction through the so-called "Southern Strategy."

He added Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, at Nixon's behest, is engaged in a campaign that is alienating moderates from the Republicans and is polarizing the country.

Hatfield's attack on the Nixon leadership was made in a radio interview, "Profile"—Metromedia.

"The President feels, and the vice president speaking for the President feels, that he can sacrifice any of the so-called more moderate groups who we might seek to attract, and can even sacrifice the possibility of further splitting his counry and disuniting this country," he said.

Hatfield, a leading Republican liberal, said the strategy is to undermine support for George Wallace in case the former Alabama governor runs for president again in 1972.

"You can't be a national party on that kind of a narrow base," he said, adding that a shift to the right would set he party up for "some kind of insurgency" by Gov. Ronald Reagan of California in 1972.

"Mr. Nixon has to deliver," he said. "The people are not going to tolerate, in my opinion, a continued slump in the economy, high unemployment, high inflation, cruel tax robbing the people of their money, and still sending their sons to die in Vietnam."

Hatfield, who has cosponsored legislation to force a pullout of U.S. troops from Vietnam by the end of 1971, also accused the White House of conducting a "grand strategy" to avoid a confrontation on the issue in the Senate.

"Thet think they will lose and...I believe they will lose," he said.

Some of his Republican business friends have told him they will not contribute to the party in the fall election campaign, Hatfield said, because they are "terribly disturbed by the direction of the economy."

The senator assailed Nixon for receiving at the White House hardhat construction workers who had clashed with antiwar demonstrators un New York; for his southern appointments; and for his "Southern Strategy."

"For me this spells possible disaster for the Republican Party in the future, beyond 1972," he said. "The Southern Strategy tends to create a more exclusive party, and that, to me, spells an end to the Republican Party."

Postmen Look For Teen Jobs

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Postmaster General Winton M. Blount says a pilot program to find summer jobs for youth is being expanded into 500 cities.

Under the program, letter carriers on business routes take time to ask employers if they have any summer jobs available for teens.

PRESIDENT'S JET FLEET IS DEPLETED

SAN CLEMENTE (UPI) — The departure today of Julie Eisenhower for Japan in Air Force Two depleted the entire presidential jet fleet, leaving President Nixon with a top secret C135 cargo plane.

Mrs. Richard M. Nixon flew to Peru Sunday in Air Force One to deliver relief supplies to earthquake victims.

Julie and David Eisenhower are scheduled to leave today for Japan on Air Force Two as the president's special representatives at the World Far in Osaka.

If the President should need an aircraft in a hurry, it would be supplied by the National Emergency Airborne Command Post, which has a converted C135 equipped with the most sensitive top secret communications facilities he can use.

Nixon tried out the secret craft last year on a return trip to Washington from his Florida White House. Former President Johnson kept four Air Force 707 jets, but Nixon reduced the White House fleet by half.

Pablo Casals, 93, Sits To Conduct, Still Gets Cheers

STANHOPE, N. J. (UPI)—At 93, Pablo Casals needs help getting to the swivel chair from which he conducts.

Once there, however, the master cellist is his own man, conducting with vigor and inspiration.

Casals received ovations Saturday night following the performance of Mozart's Symphony No. 41, the "Jupiter," at the Waterloo Village Music Festival here.

Smiling, sometimes humming, Casals often stood up from his chair to encourage his musicians — occasionally tapping a foot to set the tempo.

End Of Surtax Has Economists Worried

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The weekly paychecks of the average American will be a dollar or so fatter next week and middle income groups will soon get an even bigger boost in take home pay as the surtax and some Social Security withholding come to an end.

Although government economists minimized the effect of the added overall purchasing power on the economy, others believed it would only add to the inflation still plaguing the nation.

The first tax reduction occurs midnight Tuesday when the surtax, imposed to defray costs of the Vietnam War, expires. It is expected to put an additional $2 billion into the collective pockets of the nation's taxpayers.

The surcharge was 5 per cent for the first half of this year. It was originally 10 per cent of regular income tax bill from April 1, 1968 until Dec. 31, 1969.

Even more significant for middle-income groups is the annual phase out of Social Security contributions that will begin in mid-August for those earning $12,000 a year and early July for those earning $15,000, adding $11 and $14 respectively to their takehome pay.

Each worker covered by Social Security is taxed 4.8 per cent of the first $7,000 he earns in a year. After the income ceiling is reached, the worker pays no more Social Security taxes for the rest of the year.

Administration economists contend the present inflationary trend is caused by the "push" of rising costs — including labor —on the price of finished goods than it is by the pull of excessive demand in the form of spendable income. They say inflationary pull, in the form of excessive buying power bidding up the price of scarce goods, has been brought under control through monetary controls and resulting unemployment.

But other economists believe the present round of tax reductions is ill-timed and will only slow down efforts to halt inflation.

The government has been reported considering new "value-added" taxes which would affect the consumer much as a sales tax, but they would not be applicable until next year at the earliest if enacted.

The Nixon administration has estimated the federal budget will show a deficit of $1.3 billion during the business year that begins Wednesday.

The government collected about $2 billion as a result of the surtax during the first half of this year.

A single person earning $10,000 annually will get to keep an extra $1.10. The amount withheld from his check will decline from $34.50 to $33.40 a week.

A married couple with two children earning $7,500 a year will get an extra $1.10 takehome pay. Their withholding will decline from $13.50 to $12.40.

A family of four earning $10,000 annually will get $1.70 when the withholding rate declines from $23 to $21.30

Ak family of four with income of $15,000 would take home $1.60 more. The withholding for that family would decline from $41 to $38.40 a week.

Surging Pirates Take On Mets

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Pittsburgh Pirates may be leaving Forbes Field but the way things have been happening in the National League East, they may be entering first place before they move into new Three Rivers Stadium.

By sweeping both ends of a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs Sunday, the Pirates celebrated the Forbes Field swan song by moving to within two points of the first place New York Mets, while the slumping Cubs dropped their ninth and 10th losses in a row.

FINALE

The Pirates, who drew 40,918 fans to the Forbes finale, have not caused so much enthusiasm in Pittsburgh since 1960 when they surged to the world championship.

In defeating the Cubs 3-2 and 4-1, the Pirates now move into New York for a crucial three-game series with the Mets which could vault them into first place.

Only two Pirates remain from the 1960 championship club, Bill Mazeroski and Roberto Clemente, but significantly the 1970 Pirates have come to life with the return of their 1960 pilot Danny Murtaugh. Murtaugh came out of a self-imposed three-year retirement and, it would appear, he hasn't lost the winning touch.

LOSING WALK

In the first game Sunday Cub reliever Phil Regan walked home the winning Pirate run with the bases loaded in the eighth inning. Then in the second game Matty Alou's two-run single in the fifth broke a 1-1 tie and rookie Jim Nelson combined with Dave Giusti to check the Cubs the rest of the way.

Giusti, who has apparently solved the Pirates' long-standing relief pitching problem, picked up his fourth win without a loss in the first game and his 11th save in the nightcap.

The Mets, who initiated the Cubs' current plight by sweeping them five straight in Chicago earlier in the week, fell victims to Rusty Staub's two run homer in the ninth inning and dropped a 3-2 decision to Montreal.

Staub's homer dealt Met starter Ray Sadecki his first defeat from the Expos since their league debut in 1968. He had whipped them five times.

Dave Marshall's two run htmer in the eighth accounted For two New York runs.

Critics Fear U.S.-Asian Ties Growing

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Nixon administration is seeking to stabilize disturbing developments in Cambodia with a series of moves some congressional critics fear will widen U.S. involvement in Southeast Asia.

The administration plan for "stabilizing" Cambodia appeared to consist of increasing U.S. military assistance to the government of Premier Lon Nol, encouraging Thailand and South Vietnam to come to the government's defense, and supporting an Asian initiative to seek a negotiated settlement.

Nixon will report to the nation Wednesday that all U.S. troops have been withdrawn from Cambodia following the Allied strike against North Vietnamese sanctuaries announced by the President April 30.

ASIA CONFERENCE

Officials here said he is likely to emphasize diplomatic efforts stemming from the recent conference of 12 Asian nations in Jakarta which sought to convene an international conference on ending the war in Indochina and to reactivate the International Control Commission in Cambodia.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers, scheduled to meet with President Nixon today at the Wesern White House in San Clemente before embarking on a two-week Asian tour, has already discussed the Asian peace initiative with representatives of the Jakarta conference.

NIXON TELEPHONES

Rogers conferred with a three-nation delegation — Indonesia, Japan and Malaysia — at the State Department Saturday. Nixon also communicated with the delegaion by telephone from San Clemente to express his support for the Asian peace initiatives.

After the meeting, Rogers and delegation leader Tan Sri Mohammad Ghazali of Malaysia, said they hoped efforts to revive the Control Commission for Cambodia, established by the 1954 Geneva Conference on Indochina, would be successful.

But administration moves on other fronts aroused fears among war critics in Congress the United States would be drawn into deeper and deeper military involvement in the defense of the Cambodian government and away from disegnagement in Indochina. These included:

—U.S. consideration of Cambodian arms request with the likelihood the Lon Nol government will be given small arms aid in 1971 substantially exceeding the $7.9 million given in 1970. The exact figure is still uncertain as officials here tally up what kinds of equipment the poorly trained Cambodian army effectively could absorb.

—Possible U.S. underwriting of Thai troop costs if Thailand decides to send troops into Cambodia to fight there.

—Administration plans to strengthen diplomatic ties with the Lon Nol government shortly by naming an ambassador to Phnom Pehn.

Soldier Arrested For Being AWOL

Roy Lee Jones, 19, of Santa Rosa, was arrested Saturday by Rohnert Park police for being absent without leave efrom the Army.

Police said that Jones had been missing from Fort Ord since June 3. He was turned over to military police.

Draft Officials Ready Capsules For Lottery

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Selective Service officials today began stuffing 730 plastic capsules with dates and numbers that will determine the 1971 draft sequence of hundreds of thousands of youths with 19th birthdays this year.

The dates of the year were inserted into 365 red capsules and the numbers one through 365 were placed in an equal number of green capsules.

The red and green capsules will be placed in separate plastic drums under tight security until Wednesday when they will be drawn out to determine the order in which the new draft eligible youths will be called for military service next year.

In order to ensure more impartiality in the lottery, draft officials this year have added refinements to the process since the first post World War II lottery was held last December.

For instance elaborate procedures were taken today to ensure a random selection of the sequence in which the dates and numbers were inserted into the capsules and in turn the sequence in which the capsules were placed into the drums.

On Wednesday, the drums will be rotated for an hour before the drawing begins and between the drawing of each capsule to ensure a good mix, Selective Service officials said.

In the drawing Wednesday, dates and numbers will be drawn in turn to determine the draft sequence for youths whose 19th birthdays fell this year on those dates. For instance, if the first number drawn was 12, and the first day was June 29, all youths who were 19 years old would be 12th in the draft sequence.

This differed from last December when only birthdayes were drawn in order of one through 365.

Larry Sumner, president of the student body at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and one of three official observers for the lottery, started the procedure off today by selecting one of 25 sealed envelopes containing computer selected random arrangements of dates.

Hope Shrugs Off Threat To Mar Rally

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Comedian Bob Hope said today he expects no trouble from dissidents of the New Left during his July 4 pro-American rally which he predicts will bring "around 400,000" people to the Lincoln Memorial.

Hope was asked to comment on plans, announced by Chicago 7 defendant Rennie Davis last week for a hippie-style marijuana "smoke-in" to counter the Honor American Day program.

Hope quipped, "After this is all over, I may smoke some of that myself." Then, growing serious, he said, "I don't expect any trouble."

Hope said he has invited the Smothers Brothers to join the entertainment bill which is heavily weighed with the stars of the 1940s and 50s with a sprinkling of rock groups.

He said he also invited black comedian Dick Gregory, but "I don't think he can make it."

Gregory and the Smothers Brothers have been outspoken in their opposition to the Vietnam War. Hope said he wanted antiwar entertainers, but would not permit the show to be used for political speeches by anyone.

The progam was originally devised to counter demonstrations which Hope and Evangelist Billy Graham consider anti-America. But Hope insisted at a news conference, "We're not trying to sell any political message here. We are just trying to observe July 4 like we used to."

Hope predicted the attendance would be "the biggest crowd that has ever gathered for any show." Asked for numbers, he said, "around 400,000."

Hope was asked if the New Left would be invited to share the platform. "The New Left can come in if they have some entertainers to present. I'd be happy to audition them if they have any talent," he said.

JACKSON STATE INQUIRY

Biracial Grand Jury Set

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—A biracial 23-member federal grand jury was empaneled here today to investigate the violence last month at Jackson State College which left two Negro youths dead and nine others wounded.

U.S. District Judge Harold Cox, in his opening statement to the panel stressed the special jury session was called to determine whether any violation of federal laws was involved in the May 15 disturbance.

The panel included five Negroes.

Cox said the district court would "not provide a sancuary for militant anarchists or revolutionaries of any kind..."

He also told the jury that "no peace officer has any right to unnecessarily kill anybody" or inflict bodily injury without provocation

The special grand jury was ordered aftr Assistant Attorney General Jerris Leonard accused Mississippi officials of failing to cooperate in the government probe of the incident. Leonard charged state officials would not permit highway patrolmen to undergo FBI interrogation and refused to turn over the weapons used in the shooting.

Attorney General John Mitchell said in granting the request for the special jury the U. S. District Court directed the panel "to make a complete investigation of all aspects surrounding the incidents . . . to determine whether any federal laws were violated . . ."

The inquiry was expected to center on whether Mississippi officers violated federal civil rights laws in the deaths of the youths during the gunfire. Both Mississippi highway patrolmen and Jackson City policemen were present during the violence. Mayor Russell Davis said an investigation by his biracial committee showed the local police did not fire a single round.

Two Negroes were shot to death and nine others wounded May 15 during the predawn hours when law enforcement officers fired a barrage of shots into a women's dormitory on the predominantly-Negro campus of the state college.

The gunfire came on the second night of rock and bottle-throwing by students and others on the campus near the end of the school's spring semester. Police maintained the officers responded to sniper fire during the long night of violence when they pened up a 30 second volley of fire.

The federal probe precedes a Hinds County grand jury investigation next Monday in which District Attorney Jack Travis of Jackson said he would determine "where the responsibility lies" for the violence. Travis subpoenaed 150 persons, including top federal, state and local officials, for his investigation.

The district attorney said he had the Justice Department's pledge of full cooperation in his investigation.

Three Suspects In Cell Stabbing

San Quentin Prison officials said today they have three suspects in the ice pick stabbing of a 30-year-old inmate found unconscious yesterday in front of his cell with four wounds in back.

Thomas D. Peters, serving five years to life for a 1961 Los Angeles burglary, is in good condition at the prison hospital, officials reported today.

They said the prison could not release the names of the three inmates suspected of the attack until further investigation.

Roman Catholic Priest Is Republican Senate Hopeful

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UPI)—The Rev. John M. McLaughlin, who hopes to be the first Roman Catholic priest to sit in the U.S. Senate, admits some Rhode Islanders are finding his clerical collar "disquieting."

McLaughlin was nominated Thursday by Rhode Island Republicans as their candidate to oppose Sen. John O. Pastore, D—R. I., who recently announced he plans to run for re-election to a fifth Senate term.

Pastore, known for his oratorical skills and popularity with the voters, is the heavy favorite.

But McLaughlin's toughest opposition may come from members of his own faith, rather than from Pastore.

"The clerical collar is giving some people pause," McLaughlin says, "Chiefly some older Catholics of Irish extraction." McLaughlin, 43, attributes this to a common belief his candidacy is causing him to neglect parish duties.

"I have never been assigned to a parish," the Jesuit insists.

"I have been a teacher, writer, a lecturer, a social and political critic, a counselor, and from time to time, I have publicly administered the sacraments," says the former associate editor of the Jesuit weekly "America."

The priest, who describes himself as a "progressive Republican," views his candidacy as an extension of his priestly role of public service. "The ministry that goes with holy orders is my most exalted form of public service, a form that permits me to meet the religious and moral needs of men through administering the sacraments to them," he says.

"But the other expressions of my public service-teaching, writing, lecturing, counseling and now, politics—these are all valid extensions of my public service," he added.

The cleric claims there is a distinct line between legality and morality.

"So, too, I can support the legality of, let us say, federally-subsidized birth control clinics without in any way compromising whatever my beliefs may be on the morality of contraceptive birth control and without compromising my personal and internal compliance with what the Pope teaches about the morality of birth control," he says.

Coaches A-A Football Game Finds A Home

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—American Football Coaches Association officials said Sunday the Coaches All-American football game may stay in the city where 42,150 fans watched the 10th annual game.

"We think, and this year's game would certainly tend to prove it, that we have found a home," said Bill M. Curry, executive director of the AFCA. "We certainly didn't come to Lubbock for a one-year stop.

BE BACK

"As long as we are welcome and treated as royally as we were this year, we'll always be back," he said. "It's hard to believe that crowd."

The performance of the players in the 34-27 East victory Saturday, at least, matched the impressive crowd figures that topped the old attendance high by 5,000 fans.

A total of 10 game records were bettered and two tied during the game. Most Valuable Player Jim Otis of Ohio State set two of them and West quarterback Dennis Shaw of San Diego State set four more.

"I think this game was a tribute to both teams," said Dan Devine, coach of the losing West team. "The 90-degree heat hurt some but the players were in excellent physical condition. They did a remarkable job."

"I've said everywhere I've been, you are all-Americans," said winner Charles McClendon of LSU. "Neither team gave up in this contest. Shoot, we didn't win until the last second and you can't ask for any more than that."

An official for the American Broadcasting Company which televised the game nationally said: "You couldn't have had a better finish if we had written a script and give it to the teams to follow. It was just one of those games people don't walk away from."

The game ended with West on the East's nine yard line. Seconds before Shaw had brought his team downfield from his own 25-yard line to the East three in less than one minute.

The teams together scored 61 points, surpassing the old mark by a touchdown and an extra point. The 34 points by the East tied the record of most points scored by a team. Team records also were set in most yards passing, 384; most yards total offense, 505, and most first downs, 24.

RECORDS

Shaw garnered the total offense record with 376, the most passes ever attempted, 44; most passes completed ever 25, and most yards gained, 384.

Otis carried the ball more times than anyone had, 27, and most yards rushing, 145. Frank Foreman of Michigan State caught two touchdown passes to tie the record for the most points by one player.

Notre Dame's tackle Mike McCoy and Ron Gardin of Arizona were chosen co-receivers of the Ernie Davis Memorial Award.

Races Started October 1870

BALTIMORE (AP) — Organized thoroughbred racing began at the present site of Pimlico race course on Oct. 25, 1870.

However, the Maryland Jockey Club, which operates the track, is 227 years old. It was founded in 1743 at Annapolis.

He Never Misses

DENVER (AP) — Jerry Hendren of Idaho, leading collegiate pass receiver last season who has been signed by the Denver Broncos, started every game for his high school and university football teams—52 straight.

Bob Foster Might Turn Into Heavy

BALTIMORE (UPI) —Bob Foster, discouraged by the small purses he's been getting as light heavyweight champion, is ready to turn his attention to Joe Frazier's heavyweight title.

Foster successfully defended the light heavyweight title Saturday night for the fourth time by knocking out Mark Tessman in the 10th round. After the bout, the 31-year-old champion said he will fight in the heavyweight division, and the decision may cost him his light heavyweight title.

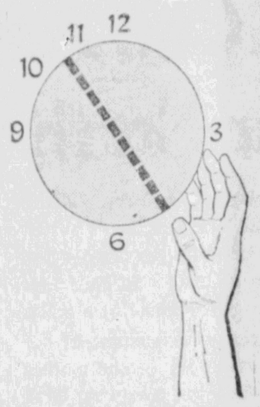
The World Boxing Assocation has ordered Foster to sign for a title bout with No. 1 contender Jimmy Dupree within 30 days. If he fails to meet the deadline, the WBA has threatened to withdraw its recognition of his title.

Football Record

NEW YORK (UPI)—Professional football attendance in 1969 rose to an all-time high of 12,567,501—an average of 47,246 for every game played.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



Get plenty of hook by setting your thumb between the 10 and 11 o'clock position as you prepare to deliver the ball. Then hold it at that angle as you make your follow-through. This places the fingers enough to the side, while still mostly behind the ball, to give you a medium hook at the finish.

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP) — Sam Brunelli, offensive tackle for the Denver Broncos of the National Football League, is coaching the track team at Mesa Junior College.

Playoffs On Tap In Ruth League

Campbell-Bishop outlasted Bon Air Shell, 10-8 Saturday to win the second half championship in the Central Marin Babe Ruth League. It will meet first half champion KFRC on Wednesday to decide the overall league championship.

The first place Tigers downed the Legionaires, 4-1 in the Northgate League Saturday, and the second place Builders outslugged the Giants, 15-13.

In the Novato league Saturday, the Native Sons defeated the Machinists, 7-3, the Realtors edged the Shamrocks, 9-8 and Pini beat Nave Center, 4-1. Young Brothers shut out the Machinists Sunday, 5-0.

New Coach

Paul Westhead, former assistant coach at St. Joseph's College, is the new head basketball coach at La Salle College in Philadelphia. The Drexel Hill native is 31. He led last season's St. Joseph's freshman team to a 21-2 record.

Risch Wins In Golf Finals

PEBBLE BEACH (UPI)—Bob Risch, a 22-year old strong man from Gardena, today held the California Amateur Golf Championship. But it took the former Trojan golfer 39 holes to shake off a dogged Vic Loustalot, 23, of Sacramento, and win the title.

It was the longest state final since 1959 when Mac Hunter outlasted former U.S. Open Champ Gene Littler over the same length.

Oddly enough, both Risch and Loustalot were teammates on coach Stan Wood's USC Trojans for two years and both are considered professional tour potentialities.

Risch, who also holds the Southern California Public Links title, won the thriller when he dropped a 32-foot birdie putt on the third extra hole, just after Loustalot had thrilled the largest state gallery in the past 10 years by blasting out of a bunker to within two feet of the hole for his par.

After Loustalot had won the final hole of the 36-hole match to send it into extra holes, the bespectacled Sacramentan put on a Houdini-like display of escape artistry to halt the first two extra holes.

Vic went over the first green but made a miraculous approach shot back and dropped a four footer for his par. Then he hit two traps on the par five second hole while Risch was on the green in two. However, Vic dropped a 10-footer for the halving birdie and seemed on his way to another extra hole, when the new champ dropped his putt.

A Milestone For Kentucky

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky's 116 to 86 basketball victory over Georgia last season marked another milestone for the Wildcats.

In addition to being a home floor scoring record for Kentucky, it also marked the 10th time the Cats passed the century mark in their last 24 games against Georgia.

A Four Bagger

Bud Harrelson, New York Met shortstop, hit his first major league home run inside the park in Pittsburgh in 1967. This season he hit a four bagger in Shea Stadium against the Phillies. It was the first Met homer of the season. It came in game No. 8.

5 State Initiatives Fail To Make Ballot

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Five initiative measures proposed for the November general election ballot, from legalizing abortions to prohibiting student tuition, have failed to get enough signatures to qualify for the ballot.

Secretary of State H. P. Sullivan reported today that all of the measures were far short of the number of signatures needed by Thursday's deadline.

This will be the first general election for at least a decade that will not include a measure submitted by the people under the state's 60-year-old initiative plan.

The proposal to legalize abortions came closest, but only got about 170,000 of the 325,173 signatures it needed. Sullivan reported. It would have repealed all antiabortion laws and permitted a woman to decide whether to have an abortion. Any physician would have been allowed to perform an abortion.

The other four measures required 520,276 signatures each, since they called for amendments to the state constitution.

They were:

TUITION — A proposal to bar levying tuition and other fees of any kind against students at the University of California or the state colleges did not qualify because petitions for it were not filed. However, because it got a late start, its backers have until October to circulate petitions, and it still could qualify for the 1972 ballot.

SINGLE TAX — A proposal by Dr. Irene Hickman, Sacramento County assessor, to provide for taxation only of land got 1,078 signatures. Improvements on land would have been exempted from property taxes under the measure.

TAX LIMIT — A measure to limit taxes on owner-occupied dwellings got 15,002 signatures. Sponsored by Assemblyman Joe A. Gonsalves, D-Norwalk, the measure would have required $150 million in revenue from other unspecified sources to cover to loss of taxes on homes.

BINGO — An initiative to permit cities and counties to license bingo games for charitable and nonprofit organizations got only 263 signatures.

Measures that fail to qualify cannot be revived without starting the petition campaign from scratch.

final vote on an amendment denying the President funds after June 30 to retain American combat forces in Cambodia.

In Phnom Penh, Cambodian Premiere Lon Nol said the Communist threat to the Cambodian capital had diminished, but he appealed again for continued U.S. air support.

"I certainly hope the Americans will return to Cambodia if the situation deteriorates," Lon Nol added.

As the last Americans were leaving Cambodia the South Vietnamese opened a new offensive. Military sources said a 5,000-man armored column was driving inland across northeastern Cambodia toward the new Communist supply route down the Mekong River Valley.

The sources said the offensive was moving along Route 19 toward Stung Treng, 160 miles northeast of Phnom Penh. Stung Treng has been in North Vietnamese hands for six weeks and is one the new supply routes running down through Laos.

BUDGET

The committee also restored a $10 million Senate-approved cut in the state's medical care program for the poor and aged and replaced $100,000 for the Coordinating Council on Higher Education.

"We added language to say (to the council) "shape up," said Lanterman.

The academic senates of the university and state colleges also had their appropriations restored.

Lanterman said the $102 million for schools included an $88 million "cost of living" increase plus $14 million for programs which had been underestimated previously.

He said the $102 million maintains the current level of school spending.

Legislators writing the compromise budget bill encountered unanticipated snarls Sunday night while wrapping up final details.

The Republican governor, seeking re-election, recently proposed an additional $70 million in school aid but Assembly Democratic leaders had insisted on at least $304 million as their price for support of the spending program.

The Senate version of the budget proposed $98 million for schools, financed mostly from a drastic 2.25 per cent across-the-board reduction in the budget.

Lanterman previously ruled out $304 million on the basis that such an increase would require new taxes, a move Reagan has rejected as a last resort action.

He said it was the 2.25 per cent reduction proposed by the Senate that caused the last-minute hangup.

Assembly Democratic leaders have indicated they are prepared to again stall passage of the budget if demands for more school aid are not satisfied. They did so last year for three days in a successful effort to gain more state aid for schools.

At the same time, however, they tempered their implied threat with the statement that they wanted to study the conference committee's report before making any final decision.

the hospital board somewhat agreed with Bruce, saying, "I think they were to sort the applicants down to at least three —not more than three."

Dr. Donald P. Wilson, who has been director of the mental health center since its inception, was among the candidates for thepermanent appointment. The criticism of the screening committee at the June 8 supervisors' meeting was on the basis that it was loaded against Wilson through inclusion of several who had sided with Dr. Clyde G. Miller, mental health director, in his feud with Wilson.

A 21-year-old Woodacre man was arrested on suspicion of possessing marijuana Saturday afternoon by California Highway Patrol officers who were investigating a traffic accident.

Booked into Marin County Jail and held in lieu of $985 bail was Steven J. Steen-Larson, of Box 64.

Officers said Steen-Larson's car ran off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Railroad Avenue near Greenbrae and crashed through a fence. Officers making a routine investigation said they found marijuana in the car. Steen-Larson was treated for cuts at Marin General Hospital and then booked.

He was freed on $985 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Art Student Dies In San Francisco Blaze

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A 24-year-old art student died early today trying to save his guitar when fire swept through a battered wood frame building that housed a "family" of young people.

About 40 artists, musicians, craftsmen and students escaped barefoot and clad only in night clothes before the four-story structure became enveloped in flames.

Richard Johnson, a senior majoring in art at the College of Marin, was found crumpled over his guitar in a first-floor hallway.

College of Marin reported a 25-year-old student, Richard D. Johnson, was enrolled for the summer session but had not been a student there before. His address was given by the college as 3 Castle Rock Drive, Woodacre.

Arson inspector Jim King said the blaze started in a first-floor flat occupied by seven persons working on a rush order of candles. King said a cigaret might have started the fire.

Fireman William Murray estimated the damage from the three-alarm fire at $40,000. The first alarm sounded at 4:56 a.m. and the fire was brought under control at 5:25 a.m.

Two other pinball machines were pried, but not opened, and two newspaper vendors, a cigar display case and an office door were forced open but nothing taken, according to the report.

The amount of small change taken from the vending machines was not known.

'A MEMORABLE DAY' — That's how President Nixon described the wedding as he kissed the bride, the former Lawrene Nixon, his niece, who was married Saturday at Newport Beach to Thomas E. Anfinson, an accountant. (UPI Telephoto)

Nixon Clan Gather For Wedding; 'Uncle Dick' Happy, Kisses Bride

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—"Now look happy," President Nixon advised the pretty schoolteacher as they posed for photographers.

"I am very happy, as a matter of fact," replied the bride, niece of the Chief Executive.

Moments earlier Saturday, the President kissed his brunette niece, Lawrene Nixon, 26, when she became the beaming bride of Thomas E. Anfinson in a simple, candlelight Presbyterian ceremony.

"This has been one of the more memorable days since I took high office," Nixon told the new Mrs. Anfinson in the yard of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian church.

"Uncle Dick" gave his niece a kiss on the cheek and gathered the Nixon clan around him, joking the group was too large for one family picture.

Pat Nixon went around hugging the bridesmaids and ushers. She said it was "a beautiful wedding."

It was the first time the first family had met the bridegroom, a 28-year-old accountant and fourth generation California.

Donald Anthony Nixon, 24, the bride's brother, escorted Mrs. Nixon, wearing a pink linen jacket dress, and Tricia, 24, was taken down the aisle by her cousin, Richard Nixon, 17, the President's namesake.

Lawrene is the daughter of Nixon's brother, Donald, vice president of the Marriott Corp., a hotel and catering firm. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Anfinson of South Gate, Calif.

The bride wore a gown of silk organza embroidered with handmade French lace. Her chapel length veil was attached to a tiara of appliqued roses. She carried a bouquet of lillies of the valley and white roses.

Four of the eight bridesmaids, who all wore floor length crepe gowns, were cousins of the bride. The President's daughters, Tricia and Julie, were not included in the wedding party for security reasons.

The newlyweds planned a northern California honeymoon.

Outside the church after the ceremony Mrs. Anfinson introduced Nixon as "my uncle" to her new husband and threw her arms around the minister, the Rev. Charles Dierenfield.

"We made it," she exclaimed.

She said she took the pill on advice of a physician for five months and claimed she suffered pulmonary embolism, pneumonia, damage to the left eye, high blood pressure and sensitivity to other drugs.

Ex-Treasury Secretary Says LBJ Policies Damaged U.S. Economy

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Former Treasury Secretary Joseph W. Barr says the Johnson administration, in which he served, did "grave damage" to the nation's economy by failing to press for wage-price controls as soon as the Vietnam War intensified.

Barr, asserting it is now too late to impose such controls, suggested a "rule of thumb" that would require the government to accompany future military operations with immediate calls for higher taxes and standby controls.

"My rule of thumb, if I ever have any public service again," he said, "is that if anyone deploys as many as 100,000 troops on foreign soil, you go for a tax increase and complete standby controls across the board."

Barr held the treasury post for less than a month at the end of the Johnson administration, between the resignation of Henry Fowler on Dec. 23, 1968, and the takeover of the Nixon administration on Jan. 20, 1969. He is now president of American Security and Trust Co., one of Washington's biggest banks.

The former treasury official was asked, in UPI Washington Window interview Sunday, if his "rule of thumb" would tend to discourage overseas military adventures by generating strong opposition to the accompanying war taxes.

"I'm sure this would be true" he said. "They would look at it a lot longer."

In his final appearance before a congressional committee during his brief tenure as treasury secretary, Barr predicted the country would face a "taxpayer's revolt" unless the tax laws were reformed to remove inequities and close loopholes.

The phrase was quickly picked up by tax reform enthusiasts and helped to mobilize opinion behind the tax reform act passed by Congress last year.

Barr indicated his satisfaction with reform legislation and said the only flagrant loophole "left for the very rich" was the tax exemption on income derived from municipal bonds.

The bank official emphasized the important role of economic controls when the nation is involved in major overseas troop deployment.

'There is no question that we did grave damage to the country —we in the (Johnson) administration and in Congress —by refusing to raise taxes until 1968 and by not going to controls early on," he said.

The failure to do so has been cited by some economists and congressional war critics as the basic cause of the nation's soaring inflation.

But Barr said he agreed with President Nixon that imposing controls on wages and prices would do little good now because "it is probably too late in the game."

ROTC Goes Co-ed At Atlanta School

ATLANTA (UPI)—The Air Force ROTC program at Emory University will open its ranks to women students this fall.

Vice President Judson C. Ward said Emory will be one of the first coed schools to take advantage of a change in Air Force regulations opening its reserve officer training program to women students.

Maj. Henry Mathews of the Emory unit said officers have no idea how many women cadets the ROTC program will attract. The program had about 80 male students from an enrollment of 5,500 last year.

Generation Gap In Spotlight As Unitarian Parley Opens

SEATTLE (UPI)—The traditionally liberal Unitarian Universalist Association opens its ninth annual general assembly today, exhibiting the same generation gap that affects other institutions of society.

About 1,000 Unitarians are expected for the convention but the distance between the older and younger church members is a physical as well as psychological one.

The majority of delegates will stay at the posh Olympic Hotel, the center for convention activities. About 200 young persons have set up a radical Unitarian headquarters in the aging Fremont hotel outside the central business.

Unitarian minister — without pulpit — the Rev. James L. Stoll said the old hotel was chosen to dramatize the differences between the radical and the establishment delegates.

The bearded Stoll was formerly a Unitarian minister in Kennewick, Wash., and then joined the Institute for Sex Research as a researcher. H left the research position following the Kent State slayings and the Cambodian invasion to devote himself to breaking down social barriers.

He said the radical caucus at the old hotel was an attempt to unite all of the elements within the church rather than to further divide it. "We decided to make one last attempt to bring people together, to bring down the barriers," he said.

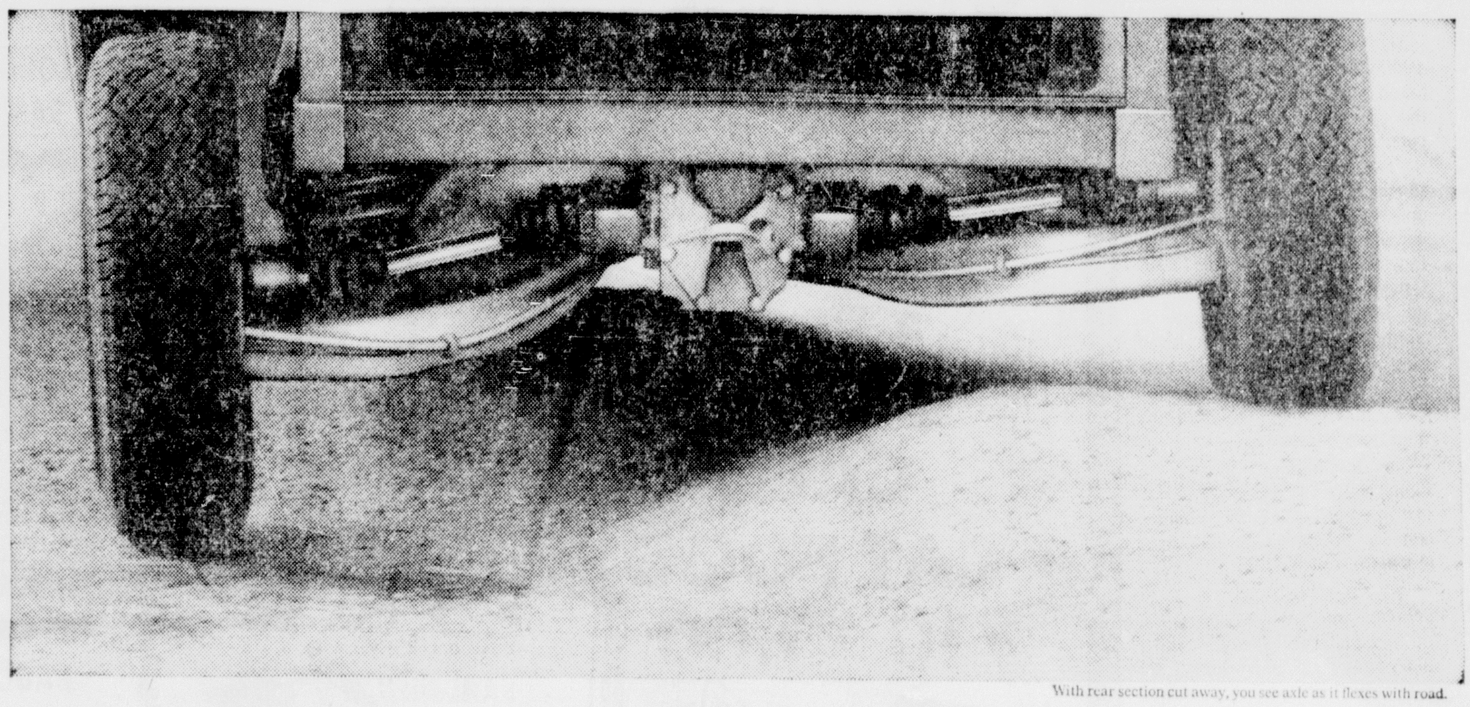
"If you want the kids, the third-world people, the low income people to be involved, you don't hold the general assembly in a hotel where rooms are $18 a day," he said.

The radical caucus expressed dissatisfaction with the convention agenda as well as the physical setup. The young persons were unhappy that resolutions asking for an end to discrimination against homosexuals and another asking legalization of marijuana were not placed on the agenda.

Resolutions before the assembly include a proposal for a $50,000 grant to Chicanos and another calling for U.S. withdrawal from Southeast Asia and an end to American commitments there.

Among the featured speakers scheduled to address the Unitarians are author Jessica Mitford and theologian Dr. Howard Thurman.

The Rev. Andrew Young, executive vice president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, will speak Thursday and will be followed by an appearance by the cast of "Hair."



With rear section cut away, you see axle as it flexes with road.

"Mercedes-Benz cars have to cope with the roughest roads in Europe. That's why we build our axles this way—not as a rigid, one-piece beam."

EVER make the mistake of taking what you thought was a shortcut?

You chose a road that looked quicker on the map. But you were soon jolted into admitting your error. You had to fight to keep control as your car bottomed and bounced at every rut and bump.

That's because most cars are designed to provide a "boulevard ride." Provided you stay on boulevards and turnpikes.

Articulated rear axle tames rough roads.

Try that same shortcut with a Mercedes-Benz. You'll appreciate the feeling of control when you slam into that first unexpected chuckhole. And you'll notice less pitching and bouncing over bumps and railroad crossings. Even washboard surfaces and cobblestones won't produce that skitterish, you're-about-to-lose-it feeling.

Independent rear suspension

Our secret: An articulated rear axle. A sophisticated and tough combination of shafts and joints that allows each rear wheel to move up and down independently of the other. Just as the front wheels do. To give you a smooth ride without compromising road-holding.

But the advantages of independent rear suspension aren't limited to rough going. On a turnpike the benefits are more subtle, but perhaps even more important.

Tracks like an arrow

When you aim a Mercedes-Benz down an expressway, you'll find it tracks like an arrow, without those tiny steering corrections you used to make for "road wander."

Slap it over tar strips. The suspension soaks them up with firm control. Not four or five reverberations.

And if you've ever been lulled by high-speed expressway driving into taking an exit just a bit too fast, you'll appreciate the adhesive cornering power of Mercedes-Benz' independent suspension. It gives you an extra margin of control that somehow keeps your palms a little drier and your brake foot a little less itchy.

Disc brakes on all four wheels

Automotive editors and engineers agree that disc brakes are superior to common drum brakes. So when it comes to brakes, our philosophy is simple. Use disc brakes. Not just on the front wheels. Not as optional extras. Use them on all four wheels. Offer no options.

The four disc brakes on a Mercedes-Benz will help you stop surer, smoother and reduce the chances of fade and lockup.

How to judge a car

Before you judge the character of a car, you should view it as a totality. Somewhat the way you judge the character of a person. So here are a few more points to help you judge a Mercedes-Benz.

1. Our overhead camshaft engines are precisely machined, balanced and bench tested to withstand the rigors of Germany's Autobahns. At American speed limits, a Mercedes-Benz is literally loafing.

2. Subtle characteristics of tires have profound effects on the overall performance of a car. Tires used on our cars are tuned to the movements of our suspension, so they'll work as integral parts of the total system.

3. All the engineering and automotive theory in the world isn't going to build a great car. The actual building is up to the craftsmen in the factory.

That's why we use skilled cabinetmakers to craft and fit the wood trim. Former dressmakers to sew the upholstery. And an assembly line that pokes along, always willing to switch off an imperfect car when one of our 2,000 or so inspectors says, "No that's not good enough."

A Challenge: Help Restore The Derelicts

By ROBERT D. INDERMAN

DALLAS (UPI)—Phillip Lewis, 26, is in jail this summer to rub elbows and swap stories with society's derelicts — the drunks and drifters who spend their lives bouncing in and out of jails.

Lewis is the Dallas Police Department's new sociologist, the city's first. He is a graduate of Sam Houston State University and is charged with trying to help those who need help to stay out of trouble — and out of jail.

He knows the job will be tough.

"Solving the problem of a man who has spent every other week in jail for the past 10 or 20 years isn't going to be easy," he acknowledged in an interview. "I have a long and difficult job before me. It's no one day or overnight affair. Not only must I try to find the root of the problem of our habitual offenders but also some way in which to solve it."

He does not lack for patients . . . Jimmy the Up and Down Man who works off another sentence between booze binges by running the city jail's elevator . . . Bill the Cook, a 50-year-old wino who acts as chef for other down and outers . . . Harmonica playing Oscar— . . . Screaming Jeff . . . Bayou Billy.

All told, 200 or more of society's misfits who have taken up virtual residence in the city jail. Every city in the country has their like.

"The goal of any society is to reach a point where law and order prevail among its people with minimal enforcement," Lewis said.

"But, ironically, despite all the advances we have made in our technology and our styles of life, we have not reached that level of discipline. And we can trace the problem essentially back to our society."

Our fast-moving society, in many ways, is responsible for the offender being an offender and for the alcoholic being an alcoholic, Lewis said.

"We live in such a high pressure society that inadequacy is constantly springing up—inadequacy in our jobs, our education, our social standing, or even in our role as parent and family provider. The inability of the individual to cope with his particular inadequacy leads him to some form of escape, such as drinking or some other social deviation."

Lewis explained that these down-and-outers do not accept this form of life because they like it.

"Alcoholics don't drink necessarily because they like the taste of liquor," he said. "Many of them want to stop, but they don't have the strength or the drive to do so. This holds true for most of the other derelicts. They want help, but they don't know how to go about finding it."

And in that, Lewis said, lies the major portion of the police departmental sociologist job.

"One of my first tasks will be a study to determine the best meethods for serving those brought to jail," he said.

Lewis, who holds a Master's degree in social rehabilitation and social services from the Institute of Contemporary Corrections at Sam Houston State, has strong feelings about the concept of rehabilitation.

"You can take a drunk or derelict out of jail, bathe, clothe and feed him, but you still haven't removed his problems," he said. "A person burdened by problems—family dissension, lack of education, lack of job skills—will continue to get into trouble until his problems are solved."

Lewis places primary interest on establishing a stable family atmosphere to which the offender can return.

It will also consider wage increases for all city employees, including department heads.

CDC Delays Nod For Tunney On Boycott Issue

FRESNO (UPI)—Because he has not openly supported the California grape boycott, U.S. Senate candidate John V. Tunney has yet to receive the blessing of the California Democratic Council, but the group's support may come in time.

During a weekend meeting here, the CDC directors voted to delay a vote on endorsement of the Democratic nominee until their next meeting Sept. 12.

The CDC executive committee called on the directors to vote in favor of supporting the entire Democratic ticket.

But another motion urged the volunteer political group to endorse only those candidates who support the grape boycott fostered by Cesar Chavez's farm workers union.

Tunney, a congressman from Riverside representing the grape growing areas of the Coachella Valley, has so far refused to take a stand.

Man Refuses Aid After Car Flips

A Novato man lost control of his car and overturned at 6:45 a.m. yesterday on Mill Road near Trumbull Avenue, Novato, the California Highway Patrol reported today.

Other agenda items include salary hike proposals from the district's nonteaching employees, approval of a 6.8 per cent across-the-board pay increase for teachers and discussion of a districtwide recreation program.

Car Rolls, Hurts 3 Near Novato

A San Francisco couple and a Petaluma man sustained minor injuries about 6:30 p.m. Saturday when a car overturned on Highway 101 just north of Novato.

All three were treated at Novato General Hospital for cuts and bruises and released.

Black Africa: Where Life Ends At 40

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—For many of the world's people, life does not begin at 40. Because by 40 life has ended.

The people of Black Africa die at an average age of 35. In Asia, life expectancy in several developing countries runs from somewhat above 40 to around 50. A similar situation prevails in Latin America.

The long-living people are the inhabitants of Europe, North America, Australia and Japan. They live to be an average 70 years or older. In the United States the average life span for men is 67 years, for women 74.2.

Figures on life expectancy in various regions of the world are contained in the newest demographic yearbook published by the United Nations. They are based on findings gathered mostly during the 1960s, either from official census results or from sample surveys.

DATA ON LIVING

When compared with other U.N. data on living standards and economic progress, they convey one certain message, poverty—lack of food, housing and health facilities—is still the number one shortener of human life.

According to the yearbook, the male population of Gabon in West Africa is the national group with the shortest life line —an average of 25 years. Their opposite, at the top of longevity lists, are the women of Iceland, who live an average of 76.2 years, more than three times as long as the male Gabonese.

Other African countries listed with low life expectancy (ages for male and female population respectively,) are Guinea 26 and 28; Chad 29 and 35; Upper Volta 32.1 and 31.1; Togo 31.6 and 38.5.

Kenya, with a 40-year average for both sexes is one of the highest in Africa except for the non-self-governed territories which register an average age of up to 50 years for their black populations and 70 for the whites.

Among Asians on the list, India is at the bottom with 41.89 and 40.55 respectively, followed by Burma 40.8 and 43.8, and Cambodia 44.2 and 43.3.

Asians with a long life expectancy include China (Taiwan) 65.84 and 70.44, Hong Kong 66.74 and 73.29, Japan 68.35 and 73.61, and Malaysia 62.4 and 64.

HEART DISEASE

Heart disease, cerebral strokes and cancer are the worst killers of the well-fed peoples of the world. The poorer succumb in larger numbers to tuberculosis, if they survive high infant mortality due to birth injuries or infections.

As an affluent nation, the Japanese still show a remarkably low rate of death by heart attacks. The United States figure, one of the highest, is 216.2 per 100,000 population, far ahead of the two other U.S. killers, cancer (157.2) and cerebral strokes (102.2).

On an average, the cancer death rate is at least twice as high in Europe as it is in Asia. South Americans have somewhat lower rates than the Asians.

Concerts Set

The College of Marin Community Band will present summer outdoor concerts Sunday at 4 p.m. at the Marin Art and Garden Fair, Ross, and July 26 at 4:30 p.m. in front of the college's Fine Arts Building.

Explosion Rips Drake's Science Hall

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—An explosion believed to have been caused by dynamite tore through a block-long science building at Drake University today, the fourth such predawn bombing across Iowa in six weeks.

The blast came shortly after police quelled a night of rock throwing in the campus area.

Police Chief Wendell Nichols said damage to the science building and its contents could run as high as $200,000.

Nichols said circumstances fit the blast "into the same pattern of the other bombings."

The explosion knocked out windows in five university buildings, including two student dormitories in the central Drake campus area.

No one was reported injured.

Nichols called today's bombing "a direct attack against the university." One policeman said, "I think they're trying to tell us they're fighting the establishment. This is the start of guerrilla warfare against the establishment."

Police moved in about 4 am., a few minutes after the blast, to rope off the science center area. Men with geiger counters were called in soon after the blast because it was feared radioactive material might have been stored in the laboratory areas. No such material was found. Police said the building would stay closed until acid and other chemicals sprayed throughout the building were cleaned up.

The explosion occurred shortly after police had succeeded in quieting a six-block area along University Avenue after a night of rock throwing. Officers said what started out as a firecracker and noise disturbance in the predominantly black area erupted into rock throwing at about midnight, and officers had calmed the area by about 3 a.m.

Nichols said he thought the bombing was engineered by the same group of persons who earlier bombed the Des Moines police station, the Ames City Hall and the Des Moines Chamber of Commerce Building. Damage from the three previous dynamite blasts has been placed in excess of $500,000.

Dove Hits Nixon, Press Over War

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI)—Rep. Allard Lowenstein, D-N.Y., an antiwar congressman, says President Nixon has been misinforming the country on the Indochina war and the news media have helped him.

"We deal with a terrible problem with the media giving the President endless opportunities to express his point of view with no way to reply to it," Lowenstein said Sunday.

"How do you answer that? How do you get the facts across to the people?" Lowenstein asked a youth caucus at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

"The only way we can get facts to the people is through human beings doing the work, one by one, one by one, one by one," he said.

Lowenstein, a freshman congressman credited with starting the antiwar movement that ended in former President Johnson's decision not to run for re-election, said, "The country is being increasingly squandered by paying for the war."

He said the government spends $91 billion on the military budget and only $1.9 billion on the war against poverty.

"The time has come," he said, "when if we want to make America whole ... the way to do it is to reverse the course the country is on, to stop the President from misleading people with his speeches as to what his purpose is, to show that what we are doing in Vietnam is not an orderly withdrawal, as he likes to say, but a disorderly staying-on."

More than 1,000 persons attended the youth caucus sponsored by the Movement for a New Congress.

Fairgoer Arrested On Drug Sale Count

James Allen Byrd, 22, of Santa Rosa, was arrested Saturday on suspicion of selling LSD and benzedrine at the Sonoma-Marin Fair, Petaluma.

Byrd was booked into the Sonoma County Jail for arraignment today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court. Police made the arrest after an amusements operator at the carnival complained that Byrd had tried to sell his son the drugs.

Cardinal Cooke Assails New York Abortion Law As 'Tragic Chapter'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cardinal Terence Cooke says New York state's liberalized abortion law that goes into effect Wednesday will begin a "tragic chapter" in the state's history. He urged all Roman Catholics to reject it.

Speaking Sunday for the Roman Catholic bishops of New York, Cooke said, "We call upon all people of goodwill to join with us in a campaign to reverse the life-destroying trends in society which abortion and euthanasia represent."

The new law permits a woman to have an abortion performed by a licensed physician during the first six months of pregnancy. New York City may become the nation's abortion capital because it has few residence requirements and treats married and unmarried women equally. It will give first consideration to a resident, however.

A Blue Cross official estimated Sunday 100,000 abortions will be performed in the New York City metropolitan area alone within the year—with Blue Cross providing some hospital benefits to 65 per cent of the women.

A spokesman for Planned Parenthood of New York City said the organization has "been getting 50 to 60 telephone calls a day on abortion." Hospitals throughout the state appear to be setting their own guidelines. The New Rochelle Hospital, for instance, will limit abortions to city residents with the only exceptions being nonresidents who have been treated by a New Rochelle physician prior to the current pregnancy.

There may be some problems initially implementing the law in New York City. The City Board of Health only last week established stringent guidelines for clinics. Board officials believe it will take several weeks to approve the clinics for abortion operations.

Another problem is a potential strike by nonmedical workers at the city's 33 voluntary hospitals. City officials have indicated only emergency abortions would be performed in the city's 18 municipal hospitals that have affiliations with the nonprofit institutions if the strike occurs Wednesday.

The New York City Health nounced last week city hospitals would perform abortions on minors without parental consent if the patient is married, and Hospital Corporation an- "emancipated," or at least 17 years old.

Blue Cross of Greater New York also announced last week it would file plans with the state insurance commissioner to cover hospital fees for abortions.

Blue Shield, which covers doctors' fees, is expected to file similar plans.

Capital Outlay Is Due Discussion

Capital outlay items in the 1970-71 budget will be considered by the Petaluma City Council today at 7:30 p.m.

Also to be considered are requests for travel and meeting expenses by department heads.

Fairfax Budget Talks To Begin

The Fairfax City Council will begin discussion of a proposed $556,171 1970-71 budget at 8 p.m. today.

The meeting, adjourned from a meeting last Monday, will include consideration of extra engineering charges for slide repair work on Forrest Avenue and a report from Police Chief James R. Orr regarding procedures for handling abandoned automobiles.

The council has scheduled future budget sessions at 8 p.m. Thursday and July 6, 9 and 16.

Court Paves Way To Challenge Panel

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court paved the way today for a federal court trial challenging the constitutionality of the House Internal Security Committee, formerly called the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

In a brief order, the Court refused to hear an appeal by the Justice Department, which sought reversal of a ruling Aug. 5, 1969, by the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago. This meant the circuit court ruling was left standing.

The circuit court's decision, which reversed a lower court ruling ordered to trial a suit by three Chicago residents who contended that the committee's investigations of alleged subversion violated the First Amendment guarantees of freedom of speech and association.

The lower court directed the three plaintiffs to present evidence and legal arguments concerning the constitutionality of the act giving the committee its authority, not just the circumstances of their own cases. It could call for court review of the committee's controversial 31-year history.

The three Chicagoans were indicted on contempt of Congress charges for refusing to testify before a subcommittee of the House group in 1965. They have not yet been tried.

In its petition for Supreme Court review of the Circuit Court decision, the Justice Department said such a court hearing would put the committee "on trial for its life."

"The basic charter of a Congressional committee—what is attacked in this case—is necessarily committed to the discretion of Congress," not the courts, the Justice Department said.

In contrast, the Circuit Court ruling said, "Congress has no more right, whether through legislation or investigations conducted under an overbroad enabling act, to abridge the First Amendment freedoms of the people, than do the other branches of government."

The suit was brought by Dr. Jeremiah Stamler, a Chicago heart specialist nad executive director of the Chicago Health Research Foundation; Mrs. Yolanda F. Hall, research nutritionist for the same foundation and Milton M. Cohen, executive director of a home for the aged in Chicago.

They were subpoenaed to testify before subcommittee hearings in Chicago concerning alleged Communist activity in Illinois. All three appeared May 25, 1965, but refused to answer questions.

In its final actions before adjourning until probably early October, the Court also:

—Agreed to rule on a controversial Charlotte, N.C., school busing dispute in the future but for the time being reinstated a federal district judge's order directing complete segregation of the city's schools.

—Rejected an appeal by the Norfolk, Va., school board opposing a 4th circuit ruling which struck down a local desegregation plan for the city. The plan had been approved by Federal District Judge Walter E. Hoffman of Norfolk, but —The 4th circuit said the plan "preserves the traditional racial characteristics of Norfolk schools and has the effect of excluding many black pupils on account of their race," and ordered a new plan to be submitted by July 27.

—Put off until next fall a decision on whether a draftee may claim conscientious objector status solely on his moral opposition to the Vietnom war.

—Ruled unanmously that a state may not imprison an indigent for more than the legal minimum time permitted by law because of his inability to pay a fine and court costs.

—Agreed to decide next term a complaint by a group of Negro employes of the Dan River station of the Duke Power Co., in North Carolina that they were illegally denied job promotions by use of achievement tests which had nothing to do with the work involved.

—Delayed until next fall any ruling on eight cases that had been heard in the term that just ended They involved a variety of cases dealing with federal involvement in state court procedures, including a Boston case on whether prosecutions should be banned in that area for film distributors showing the Swedish sex film "I am Curious (Yellow).

—Refused to reopen consideration of the El Paso natural gas antitrust case which was sent back to federal district court in Denver a year ago.

—Ordered more Interstate Commerce Commission hearings on the price the Penn Central Railroad must pay for the bankrupt New York, New Haven and Hartford line.

WEATHER CUTS TURNOUT AT FAIR'S FINALE

The Sonoma-Marin Fair came to a wind blown conclusion yesterday with carnival tents blowing loose and a drop in attendance.

Arthur F. Canavan, fair manager, said the total attendance for the four-day fair was 51,831 for a drop of more than 5,000 from last year. He blamed cool weather and the high velocity winds for the decrease.

Floats and marching units struggled against the wind in a one-hour parade yesterday that saw beauty queens trying to save their hairdos and flag bearers trying to keep in step.

Dairymen gathered at the Petaluma Fairgrounds today for the annual heifer replacement sale and bidding on animals that won top awards in 4-H and Future Farmers of America competition.

Mrs. Nixon Arrives In Peru With U.S. Relief Package

LIMA (UPI)—The First Ladies of Peru and the United States walked side by side into Peru's most impressive church today to attend a traditional holiday mass before flying into the Andes to view the damage of Peru's most catastrophic earthquake.

President Juan Velasco Alvarado aso attended the special mass along with the members of his cabinet. He walked half a block from the presidential palace and entered after the first ladies. He did not meet Mrs. Richard Nixon but nodded to her when he entered.

The president's schedule called for him to remain in Lima while Mrs. Nixon and Consuelo Velasco, wife of the president, fly into the once beautiful Andean valley of Callejon de Huaylas to view at first hand the earthquake destruction. More than 50,000 were killed in the May 31 quake, most of them in the narrow volley Peruvians call their "Little Switzerland."

Because it was a national holiday the streets in downtown Lima were largely deserted. Those curious who did gather to catch a glimpse of the first ladies were held at a distance by police.

The historic Plaza de Armas where the mass was held was ringed by government troops carrying submachine guns.

Mrs. Nixon had on a knee-length turquoise suit and a black lace mantilla and Mrs. Velasco wore a grey tweed suit and a beige mantilla.

The first ladies arrived in a black Cadillac limousine flying both the Peruvian and American flags.

Immediately after the mass they were whisked away to the Lima Airport for their flight into the Callejon de Huaylas valley 250 miles northeast of Lima.

Mrs. Nixon brought with her two planeloads of relief supplies for thousands of the earthquake survivors left homeless. She said the supplies and cash she carried, including a check from her husband, were only the beginning of American aid Peruvians can expect.

Shortly after her arrival she was briefed on the "terrible holocaust" by members of the Peruvian disaster relief organization.

Augusto Zimmerman, national information director, said the stricken area covered more than 53,000 square miles—as big as Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg combined.

He showed Mrs. Nixon photograpns of the former site of the town of Yungay, wiped out by a landslide triggered by the quake.

Mrs. Nixon today will walk in part of the valley that is now a vast tomb. U.S. Ambassador Taylor Garrison Belcher, who will be Mrs. Nixon's host while she is here, described the quake as feeling "like a thousand express trains all coming through at once."

Belcher Sunday night hosted a dinner at the embassy residence for Mrs. Nixon.

Why Dubcek Lost His Party Card

PRAGUE (UPI)—Alexander Dubcek refused to save his career and Communist party membership by denouncing his own policies as the party's reformist leader, Czechoslovakia's leading newspaper said today.

Miroslav Moc, editor of the official party newspaper Rude Pravo, wrote that Dubcek did not "make a contribution to clarifying the causes of the (reform) developments in the country and his share in them."

Dubcek was expelled from the party by the Central Committee last week. Moc's article was the first official comment on that expulsion.

Moc listed Dubcek's "violation of rules, his responsibility for ideological and organizational disruption, his double-faced policy, ideological capitulation, lack of principles and firmness, which enabled the disruption of a political organization of socialist society and caused serious damage to the national economy, his responsibility for violating ... the alliance with the Soviet Communist party ... capitulation to counter-revolutionary forces."

Diplomatic sources said the party is intensifying purges of Dubcek's supporters.

Hardline party officials had complained that purges were more lenient in some parts of the country than in others.

44,224 degrees°

can put a lot of heat under your business

44,224 is the degree of "heat" that I-J circulation gives your store's message.

And does it penetrate! In every neighborhood in Marin and So. Sonoma Counties . . . in almost 7 out of every 10 Marin homes.

This puts your store where the buying decisions are made, and in the ONE medium where most people make them. Simply because Marin families look to the I-J for merchandise, for values, for news of new things, new prices.

This is why advertising in the I-J generates immediate buying action . . . connects your store, your merchandise, with people who WANT to buy . . . but who must know first what they're buying and where.

If you've slackened off on advertising you can be sure people will "slacken off" on your store. Out of sight, out of mind. And it takes still more promotion to get them back!

Don't make this mistake. Successful merchants know that only consistent advertising builds a store, builds customer confidence and all-important store traffic. And only the daily newspaper can do the job.

The I-J's dominant circulation is the true measure of its acceptance. For the I-J is bought to be READ . . . something you can't say for direct mail or neighborhood throwaways. And that acceptance is why YOUR message will be accepted, read, digested, and acted upon.

If you want more business, turn on the heat. Put the I-J's 44,224 "degrees" to work for you. Hottest thing in advertising!

IF BUSINESS IS DOWN . . .

New Round On British Market Entry

LUXEMBOURG (UPI) — Foreign ministers of the six European Common Market countries Tuesday begin preliminary discussions on Britain's third bid to join the prosperous economic club from which it was twice barred by French vetoes.

Officials said success could provide a major boost to the goal of European unity. Another failure, they warned, would end any hopes of a united Europe in the foreseeable future.

The six Common Market countries are France, West Germany, tIaly, The Netherklands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

Their foreign ministers meet Tuesday for the formal opening of negotiations with Britain and three other countries which also have applied for membership—Ireland, Denmark, and Norway.

Real horsetrading discussions were not scheduled to begin until fall. Officials predicted they would last 18 months to two years.

Opening of this new round of talks followed France's withdrawal of the two-time veto against Britain by former President Charles de Gaulle.

Britain's new conservative government is committed to joining, provided it can obtain acceptable conditions.

It will be represented at the opening session by Foreign Secretary Sir Alec Douglas-Home and Anthony Barber, new British minister for European affairs. British sources said that in a statement to the conference Tuesday Britain will stress three main points:

—Western Europe sooner or later must shoulder a greater share of its own defense burden from the United States. This will involve closer cooperation between Britain and the six in defense, including the nuclear field.

—Britain and the Six must work increasingly closely together in foreign policy in which they have more and more interests in common.

—Britain wants to be brought in on political, economic and financial planning by the Six, even before it becomes a Common Market member.

British sources said Britain will seek a fairly quick agreement on the broad principles for joining, without becoming bogged down in minor trading details.

However, both British and Common Market officials conceded a major roadblock is likely to be the market's common farm policy and the price Britain would have to pay to join.

The British have estimated it could cost them up to $2.64 billion annually in payments to the fund for subsidizing continental farmers and could add up to one fourth of the British housewives' food bill.

Roman Catholic Conservatives Protests Sweeping Mass Changes

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—More than 100 Roman Catholic conservatives, protesting sweeping changes in the Mass, prayed through the night Sunday in St. Peter's Square within view of the apartment window of Pope Paul VI.

The "Traditionalists," as they call themselves, oppose disappearance of Latin as the language of the Mass as well as other radical changes in the celebration of Mass.

Hundreds began the sit-down vigil around the Egyptian obelisk at dusk Sunday after marching nearly two miles across Rome. Several priests and nuns were among them.

The reformed Mass becomes mandatory worldwide Nov. 1, 1871, by order of Paul. But many Traditionalists said they would continue to attend Latin Masses in defiance of the papal order.

Sunday the Traditionalists attended a Latin Mass in the Colosseum where Christian martyrs were once thrown to the lions.

The group, estimated at 2,000 by Traditionalist leaders, took oaths in St. Mary Major cathedral and St. Peter's Basilica to uphold the old Mass.

In St. Mary Major, they swore separately in Latin with their hands on the tomb of St. Pius V, the 16th Century Pope who promulgated the Latin Mass. In St. Peter's they took the oath in unison with their right hands upraised.

Elizabeth Gerstner of Immekeppel, West Germany, said the pope had refused the Traditionalists an audience.

The vicariate of Rome, which has jurisdiction over the Colosseum, barred a suspended French priest from celebrating the Mass there. A German priest substituted.

The Rev. Annibale Bugnini, secretary of the Vatican department which drew up the new liturgy, watched the oath-taking in both churches. Few Traditionalists noticed him.

The procession between the two churches lasted about two hours and was trailed by five truckloads of police as it crossed the city. The orderly demonstrators sang hymns in Latin almost every step of the way.

Most of the Traditionalists were German and French, but the organizers said there also were persons from Spain, Italy and Portugal, Britain and Switzerland.

In St. Peter's they prayed and sang in Latin. Outside they remained quiet while hundreds of Italians and tourists watched.

Romney Pledges Berlin Protection

Romney gave his pledge Sunday in a statement issued after a tour of East Berlin and Communist-built wall.

Operation Wheat Haul Under Way

ADA, Kan. (UPI)—A train of empty railroad cars finally came to town Sunday and workers began hauling to the freight depot to move to market 60,000 bushels of wheat piled along three blocks of Main Street.

The Ada Grain Co. stored the mountain of grain in the street after its 350,000-bushel elevator was filled in this tiny central Kansas town.

"It's the first train of empty cars we've had here in some time, said Carl McGavran, elevator manager. "We've got men down there now moving the grain off the street, down to the tracks and out of town."

The small train did not solve Ada's wheat overflow problems, however. The boxcar shortage remained critical for farmers in the nation's largest wheat-producing state.

Kansas' railroad officials blame eastern railroads for the boxcar shortage. Officials say the eastern roads rent cars from the midwestern lines during growing season and are supposed to return the cars in time for harvest.

Crash On Bridge Injures Man, 37

A San Francisco man was injured in a two-car accident on the Golden Gate Bridge Friday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Ronald Eugene Sarff, 37, said he would see his own doctor after he complained of pain in his forehead and right arm caused when the car he was driving hit one driven by Larry Wesley Forsyth, 38, also of San Francisco.

The highway patrol said Forsyth's vehcile was stopped on the bridge with engine trouble when it was struck from behind by Sarff's vehicle.

AFTERMATH TO ROCK FESTIVAL

3 Wounded, 26 Arrested In Brawl

IOLA, Wisc. (UPI)—Three persons were hospitalized with gunshot wounds and 26 persons were in custody after an outdoor rock festival erupted into a brawl between a motorcycle gang and festival patrons Sunday.

The 26—19 men and seven women—were held overnight at the Portage County Jail in Stevens Point, but District Attorney William A. Bablitch said charges were uncertain and contingent on getting identifications.

The fight, which began about 7 a.m. Sunday, brought an end to the order which had generally prevailed at the festival since noon Friday and the estimated 45,000 young people began leaving the 200-acre grounds. Only one disorderly conduct arrest had been made prior to Sunday. The show itself, featuring 35 rock and blues groups, closed down early Sunday evening, several hours ahead of schedule. However, 3,000 to 4,000 young people continued to mill about the cluttered area early Monday.

In addition to the three youths who were shot, uncounted others were treated on the grounds or at hospitals in Stevens Point, Iola and Waupaca for cuts, bruises and drug reactions.

Not all injuries were related to the brawl. Terry Morgan, 18, of Davenport, Iowa, was in critical condition at a Marshfield hospital with injuries suffered when he fell from the hood of a moving car near the grounds. The driver was arrested.

There were rumors of up to 45 rapes or attempted rapes, but Bablitch said authorities had received no formal complaints of rape.

Those wounded by gunshot were identified as Michael Maclaurin, 26, of Madison, Wis., in good condition with arm wounds; Frank Reese, 21, of Bellwood, Ill., in satisfactory condition with a chest wound, and Kevin Henry, 19, of Downers Grove, Ill., in good condition with a wound in the groin.

Henry and Reese were at St. Michel's hospital in Stevens Point and Meclaurin was transferred to a Madison hospital. Authorities said the cyclists, some of whom apparently had been drinking heavily, began harassing other spectators early Sunday. Some of them began ganging up and beating a small group of young people, while other spectators came to their defense by throwing rocks at the attackers from the top of a hill.

The cyclists then charged up the hill on their vehicles and a shot was fired. Authorities were uncertain whether it had been fired by a spectator or by the cyclists.

Other shots were fired, and the cyclists fled. A sheriff's roadblock stopped them nearby, authorities ordered the cyclists to strip so they would make no further attempt to flee, then rounded them up.

Sheriff Nick Check went to the stage and appealed for witnesses to the fight. He said many of the young people were highly cooperative.

Fortune Magazine Sees An Upswing In Economy

NEW YORK (UPI)—The U.S. economy has turned the corner and will accelerate during the next 18 months, say the editors of Fortune magazine.

A magazine survey also concluded the federal budget will move back toward a surplus within the 18-month period.

The nation's economic growth will take place despite a continuing reduction in defense expenditures, the editors said, maintaining the reduction rate will be the same as that of the past 18 months to the lowest level since 1965.

Inflation will slow down from the peak annual rate of 6 per cent reached in the first quarter of this year to 3 per cent in 1971 the survey predicted. It said savings will pick up to a real annual rate of 3 per cent and consumer spending will rise only 1 per cent this year and possibly 2 per cent next year.

The editors said capital goods spending will continue to decline at an annual rate of 4 per cent, but said there would be an upturn in capital outlays by 1972 because total industrial capacity will have fallen 3.6 per cent by then.

They said inventories already appear to have stabilized, credit conditions have begun to ease a bit and residential housing has improved enough to indicate the nation may be starting a housing boom.

Is Novato Freeway History About To Repeat Itself?

A decade ago, many residents of Novato protested strongly against plans of the California Division of Highways to convert Highway 101 through their community to a full freeway.

The highway already split the community, they objected. To turn it into a freeway would be to divide Novato into two pieces forever and irretrievably.

There was, however, only one way they could prevent this from happening. That was to incorporate. State law provides that a freeway cannot be run through an incorporated city without the approval of that city's government.

WHEN NOVATANS voted overwhelmingly for incorporation in 1960, they were at the same time voting against a freeway through the heart of the city. The first city council, elected from a field of 27 candidates, was aware of that. And it went to bat immediately to change the state's plans.

Two years later, a route was finally agreed upon between city and state. Taking off from the present Highway 101 a short distance north of the Black Point Cutoff interchange, it crosses the Northwestern Pacific Railroad on an overpass, crests a hill and proceeds on a curve via Olive and Atherton avenues.

There was much discussion and many meetings before the route was approved by both city and state. And repeatedly, the Division of Highways warned that the delay in selecting a route would mean further delay in building the road. In the meantime, the highway would continue to run where Novato didn't want it — on its present route.

All that is history. Also history is the obvious dislocation of Novato development caused by a highway running through what should be the heart of the principal business district.

BUT IT IS HISTORY which appears about to start repeating itself.

Last week, the city council reneged on a May 26 agreement on alignment of Atherton Avenue with San Marin Drive which is part of the freeway bypass plan. Councilman George C. Quesada, who had been in the minority in voting against the alignment earlier, succeeded in winning over his fellow councilmen. And the council ordered the public works director not to sign the agreement with the state.

The basis of Quesada's objection was that by moving the intersection 200 feet north, considerably less cut of the hillside would be required.

This appears valid on the face of it. However, one wonders whether eight years of engineering work can be so easily second-guessed.

AT ANY RATE, the result of the council's action will be to further delay construction of the freeway bypass. The odds are good that after more complete inspection of the plans, and after hearing the reasons for locating the intersection as proposed, the new city councilmen will agree to what the Division of Highways wants to do.

In the meantime, they have added another delay during which Novato's development will be hampered by the present highway location.

And when other elections come along, voters disgruntled at the way their city is growing will vote these councilmen out and a new batch in to protest — as they have done before.

This could keep going on indefinitely. The harm to Novato would be much greater than that caused by cutting the side of one hill.

Lawmaker Soundly Attacks Noise; How About Proliferating Boards?

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

A grove of whispering pine is hereby awarded to Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, for trying to do something about the bane of modern life — noise.

Knox, in a resolution requesting the state director of public health to recommend how to control noise, offered a legislative finding that said "some of the blame for the disorientation and frustration of today's urban life can be placed on the high noise levels that act as subliminal irritants."

Knox's resolution, citing the "irritation and harmful effects of noise," proposed that the state consider controlling noise from "industrial equipment, construction, motor vehicles, boats, aircraft, home appliances, electric motors, combustion engines and any other noise-producing objects."

He did not mention dogs, but they certainly are noise-producing objects in our suburbia. With this four-legged amendment, Knox would have a really fine measure.

GROWING ALMOST as fast as the noise level is the number of state boards and commissions, most of them barely visible to the public. There are now 368 of them in the executive branch alone, according to the California State Chamber of Commerce.

Serving on these boards and commissions are 2,663 persons, of whom 1,939 are appointed by the governor, the chamber reported. These figures did not include hundreds of additional advisory committees to statutory boards, for which no central record exists, the chamber noted.

To top off this fine record of governmental efficiency, California legislators have introduced bills this session which, if enacted, would add 112 new boards and commissions. Only 13 of these would replace existing boards and commissions, according to the chamber's count.

Of the 112, 99 would need 1,050 appointments. The number of members on the other 13 was not detailed in the bills. Only 11 of the 112 would have automatic termination dates.

Virtually all of the bills were silent on the cost of the new boards and commissions.

SACRAMENTO subsidizes its bus system, just as all public systems must. That city's experience may hold lessons for Marin as local officials work toward solutions to this county's transportation problems.

Sacramento subsidized its bus operation to the tune of $125,500 in fiscal 1961-62. The subsidy for 1970-71 is to be $1,535,000.

Thanks To Ecology Drive Participants

We wish to express our appreciation to the Novato 4-H Clubs, Boy Scout troops, schools, Teen Club, and Blue Birds whose hard work helped to make the Ecology Drive held June 20, at the parking lot of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints such a success. . .

Bridge Connection Better Than Tube

My purpose of this letter is to promote my plan for a double deck bridge from San Francisco to Marin County over Alcatraz and Angel Islands to Tiburon, a natural foundation for such a structure, with a connecting span from Angel Island to Richmond.

. . .I think the people of the Bay Area are making a mistake in not bridging this route, which I have advocated for some 10 years or more, instead of looking to a tube across this area, which to me seems impractical, very costly, and doubt in fact that it would be feasible and would carry only the rapid transit trains. . .

Why put this system underground and deprive the commuter, visitors and people of the Bay Area the beauty San Francisco Bay offers?. . .

Money spent on this crossing would fulfill a greater need than the so-called southern crossing, which is really not needed as they will have rapid transit service by 1971.

I do hope that this bridge will be built and by the time it is completed that we will have smog-free motor cars or that the electric car will be perfected to a point that it will afford adequate transportation and that we will again have pollution free air and water throughout the Bay Area.

'Romantic' Rodeo Brutal Spectacle

It is disheartening to all who deplore violence and cruelty to see on the front page of your June 22 issue a young calf being roped and flung wildly in the air. Your endorsement of the various rodeos in the area is most discouraging for all who work so diligently for animal welfare. Do you, the various other newspapers, sponsoring clubs, and the people who patronize these affairs ever stop to think of the pain inflicted on these helpless animals?. . .

More than 3,000 commercial rodeos are held in the United States every year. Many thousands of animals are abused and injured in these events. Animals are injured until they bleed — by spurs, by violent falls, and by ropes. They are whipped, clubbed, kicked, and goaded mercilessly. Tired old horses are driven to frenzied bucking by a strap cinched to agonizing tightness. The tails of calves and steers are twisted violently to make them run. And all of this is done in the name of sport and under the guise of entertainment.

Promoters have glamorized rodeo as a tradition and glory of the early West. Their propaganda ignores the use of pain-producing techniques and cruel devices. The general public has accepted this image and each year pays millions of dollars to see a glamorized form of entertainment that is, behind the scenes, a really brutal exploitation of animals for profit. . .

It is time for humanitarians and humane societies to take a strong stand against cruelty in rodeos at every opportunity. The phony romanticism connected with rodeos does not alter the fact that they are spectacles of brutality.

Thompson Attack Called Unwarranted

I deplore exceedingly, as a fair-minded citizen, the kind of attempt at villifying the character of Mr. Austin J. Thompson, executive director of the Human Rights Department of Marin County, which appeared in (David) Dietz' column in the I-J for June 22. . .

As a volunteer, but one who has been working with the Human Rights Commission and department as editor of the newsletter, "We Not They," I have had occasion to be in the office at the Civic Center very often. I have seldom seen such a hard-working or dedicated staff. I believe that whatever "coolness' we have enjoyed in Marin County has been in a large measure due to the behind-the-scenes efforts of Mr. Thompson and his able staff members. The commissioners, too, have been dedicated, but they could not have achieved what has been accomplished without long hours on the part of the staff.

It appears to me that at this time, when the county is taking drastic measures to reduce the tax rate, many causes of more value than the tax dollar are on the block. Economy measures should not cause us to lose our perspective, for we would thereby lose much more in the end. The efforts to cut down the Human Rights Department director by character assassination appear to be part of this effort to economize. I believe this is not to be condoned under any circumstances.

THE DRUMMONDS

Pentagon Fails To Adapt To Role In Nixon Doctrine

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Substantial cuts in military spending must be made to get the money to deal with pressing domestic needs.

There's little argument about that.

The defense budget will probably be reduced an additional $6 billion next year. That's all right, too.

But there is a very serious danger that the cutting will be done by a meat ax instead of a scalpel and that we will end up with a military establishment little related to the post-Vietnam world and poorly designed to serve emerging U.S. foreign policy.

THIS DANGER is already coming into view. It results from this rather appalling development:

No adequate planning is being done in the Pentagon to implement the Nixon doctrine.

This means that while the President is reshaping U.S. foreign policy, the Defense Department is not reshaping its defense posture to carry out that policy.

Even at a time of expanding military spending, this would be a hurtful and wasteful mistake.

At a time of contracting military spending — now and for some years ahead — this can be a dangerous and fateful mistake.

IT'S HAPPENING now — and three things contribute most to bringing it about: haste, pressure and traditional thinking within the services.

The Pentagon is being harried and heckled by many in Congress to cut back the military budget substantially, to cut it now and to find out later whether the cuts were the right ones.

It is being pushed by the President to make a good showing as rapidly as possible so that before the voting this fall Republican candidates can get the political advantage of new priorities on spending.

Finally, the tendency of the military is to keep it as it is rather than to re-examine the total defense posture to adapt it to serve the new post-Vietnam policies Mr. Nixon has laid down.

THE NEED to reshape the contracting defense establishment to carry out the Nixon doctrine is beginning to be discussed at high level strategy conferences of the military planners. But there is a wide gulf between planning to do something and getting it done.

The premise of the administration is no more Koreas and no more Vietnams. Since that is the premise of the commander-in-chief, it must also be the premise of the Pentagon, and reduced post-Vietnam defense spending must be shaped around it.

The announced intention of the President is that the United States is going to reduce its role in peace-keeping. President Nixon says that the central thesis of his doctrine is "that the United States will participate in the defense and development of allies and friends, but that America cannot — and will not — conceive all the plans, design all the programs, execute all the decisions and undertake all the defense of the free nations of the world. We will help where it makes a real difference and is considered in our interest."

This certainly suggests that the United States will be disposed to help only those allies willing and able to help themselves and that U.S. troops will not be used unless vital American interests are directly at stake.

ONLY THE MILITARY planners can well decide how the reduced defense establishment can be shaped to carry out the Nixon doctrine. But just somewhat less of the same is not the way to do it. The post-Vietnam defense posture needs to be reappraised with a fresh eye to the special needs of the Nixon doctrine, if the Nixon doctrine is to be made to work. Defense and the new Nixon foreign policy must not be kept in separate compartments.

Thus far little has been done to take them out of their separate compartments and match them up. Right now we are in the never-never land of knowing that it needs to be done but not coming to grips with it. Military spending must be cut, but what is left must be reshaped to fit the world of post-Vietnam.

Military Budget Squeeze Revives Service Rivalries

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon's budget squeeze is apparently causing a revival of old inter-service rivalries which have been mostly dormant in recent years.

With the money pie to be baked a little smaller, the armed services are becoming more interested in the other guy's slice. Already there are indications that some of the service brass are less than enthusiastic about weapons planned for other services.

Insiders report, for example, that Navy and Air Force staff officers are noticeably cooling on the Army's Safeguard anti-ballistic missile system. On the other hand, the Navy may face renewed opposition from the other services to its aircraft carrier plans.

By next year it appears that the Nixon administration will have trimmed Pentagon spending by some $9 billion a year to about $70 billion. Much of the reduction has been in reduced Army manpower, and the other services will almost certainly acquiesce in further force cuts.

THE CLIMATE is beginning to resemble that which prevailed after World War II and into the 1950s. It has not yet reached the point where the services propadandize more or less publicly against one another.

One intra-Pentagon dispute could reach that stage, however. It involves Army plans for the Cheyenne helicopter and Air Force plans for the A-X, a single-seat, subsonic attack plane.

Both aircraft are designed to provide close support for ground troops. So the two programs reopen an old controversy: does the Army or the Air Force have the job, or "mission," of supporting troops with tactical air strikes?

Complicating the controversy over close air support is the fact that the Marine Corps is buying a plane of its own. The Marines' air support plane is the Harrier — a V/STOL aircraft, one designed for almost vertical take-off and landing with the use of rotating jet engines.

Harrier is a British plane, built by Hawker-Siddley, and that has caused some congressional concern. The Marines have therefore arranged that Harriers be assembled under license in the United States — at an additional cost of $1.4 million for each of 18 planes.

RESURGENT controversies of this sort can make life difficult for Adm. Thomas Moorer, who takes over this week as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Some Pentagon experts think revived service rivalries constitute one of two problems which will be increasingly difficult for Moorer.

The other is a different sort, the manpower problem: how to keep the armed services supplied with experienced officers and enlisted men at a time when an unpopular war casts an unpleasant shadow over military careers.

Public Works' 'Empire Building' May Get Scrutiny From Outside

If one message was clear throughout the cacophony of county budget hearings, it was that the board of supervisors views with growing alarm rising costs in the public works department.

In fact, public works Director Donald R. Frost has been accused of being as guilty of "empire-building" as former Planning Director Paul C. Zucker, fired by the board earlier this month.

As a result, an outside effort is under way to form a fact-finding committee to delve into the operations of Frost's department, which has a budget of $4.7 million.

Supervisor Louis H. Baar is a leading critic of Frost's spending program and opposed an employee increase during budget sessions. In an unexpected flurry of actions at the close of the hearings, Baar won board approval to reduce the civil engineering staff by one, contending the overall department workload was the lowest on record because of the slumping economy.

Another department critic, though less vocal, is Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr.

MEANTIME, David Greenlee, a representative of the industry-backed Marin Builders Exchange, quietly appeared during the hearings to pose questions to Frost about his staffing and expenditures.

Although Frost's answers were quick and cordial, Greenlee said later it was impossible to assess them because of a lack of knowledge about the department. Subsequently he said his organization would be willing to help form a committee of retired engineers to look into department operations with an eye on cost-trimming measures.

The effort has Baar's endorsement.

"We have nothing against Don," Greenlee said. "We realize he's trying to do the job as he sees it and that his staff is trying to do the best job it can."

He explained the exchange was merely acting in response to board concerns about overstaffing.

"Who knows how much an employee should do?" he said. "All the committee could do is look at a man's workload and see whether he's not doing it or he is."

FROST WAS suprised to learn of the committee proposal but said he felt questions raised by Greenlee and other members of the audience during the hearing were valid.

But he added: "I feel these questions are raised because we are a big department. And we've grown simply because we've added a lot of services we weren't providing before."

He cited the new traffic section, which provides technical services to cities as well as dealing with the unincorporated area; the flood control division, which had no staff six years ago; the addition of responsibility for the county airport, and a tripling in maintenance responsibility for county buildings.

Meantime, he said, the road force has been reduced by 10 since he became director and the county has "not been trapped" into hiring a large janitorial staff, choosing to contract for services.

Our Avowed 'Nonconformist' Is A Parrot And A Fraud

The practicing, posturing, professional nonconformist of our times is a ludicrous character. He is a caricature of a nonconformist. With his wild-eyed enthusiasms, his blatant and flatulant evaluations of the social and political milieu and his formalized taboos — patriotism, the flag, duty and responsibility, etc. — he is far more predictable than the conformists he so loudly despises.

His bizarre dress, his tasteless behavior, his automatic reactions, gestures, words, even the stereotyped phrases and slogans he uses, reveal him not as the nonconformist he likes to believe he is, but more as a third-rate actor parroting lines from an obscene play.

It's amusing how the would-be nonconformist berates in speech and print the conforming behavior of the "straights" and the "squares." Our nonconformist friend would have us believe that a conformist must necessarily be a zombie who has accepted the values, tastes and judgements thrust upon him without thought or examination.

NONCONFORMITY in its richest, most productive sense is found in thought and independent responsible action. In its most superficial sense it is reflected in undisciplined action, behavior and dress. Unhappily, the so-called nonconformist in our midst has deluded himself into believing that the latter course is nonconformity at its best.

If the practicing nonconformist were to remove his blinders, he would discover the conformists, the conservatives and the "straights" have granted more freedom to dissent than the nonconformists dare grant in return.

Public figures, exposed to the crudest possible behavior, are prevented from voicing their views directly from the open forum. Even the President would find it embarrassing to speak at any number of our universities that curiously enough, take pride in their liberalism and "academic freedom."

This simple fact seems to have escaped our ubiquitous nonconformist. Or perhaps he is simply and conveniently disregarding this fact since the realization of it would conflict with his infantile beliefs — just as he refuses to acknowledge the astonishing range of freedom the western world permits all sorts of outlandish and widely deviant behavior and the remarkable toleration it has for destructive actions and disruptive ideas.

IT'S CURIOUS to note that our nonconformist seems to be aloof to the unconscious forces that compel him to flaunt and advertise his "differences". Or to note how he is blind to the dictator within his own breast, or how he yearns for the "Big Brother" he so roundly disavows.

And it's odd indeed, how he sees his world as a flat, two-dimensional, black and white still life. It is this pathetic soul who "speaks with a forked tongue" crying for toleration, love and peace when by his actions he stands revealed as a petty tyrant or a flimsy imitation of a filthy Rasputin.

Nonconformism as it now exists is a shabby and cheap facade. It is dishonest, deceptive and hypocritical. In other times it may have been the trademark of the intellectual, the delineation of the individual, the stamp of the maverick. Today, it is almost totally bankrupt. Mob action, mob emotionalism and mob technique is its forte for it is a thoroughly regulated, hobnail booted, regimented robot — and a monstrous fraud.

Grass Fire Hits 50-Acre Tract

A grass fire blown by winds which gusted to 75 miles per hour raged across 50 acres near Jewell yesterday before being contained by Marin County Fire Department firefighters.

The fire broke out about 12:30 p.m. and burned until almost 2 p.m. before firemen were able to contain it. Cause of the blaze is unknown.

The fire burned grass and brush on land owned by the Truppman Brothers Ranch and the Don McIsaac Ranch, firemen reported.

Water District To Eye Budget Draft, Candidates

The Marin Municipal Water District's proposed 1970-71 fiscal budget will be discussed by the district board at its meeting tomorrow at the district office.

The meeting will begin at 1 p.m., with the board interviewing nine candidates for the Division 2 seat on the board.

Discussion of the budget will include consideration of Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger's recommendation that water rates be increased 25 per cent.

The Division 2 seat was made vacant by the death last month of William Herup, who had served on the board since 1942.

Nine persons have filed for the seat. They are: Robert J. Brusatori, retired secretary-treasurer of the water district; William R. Cannon Jr., a student at the College of Marin; J. Mansfield Lewis, retired Marin County director of communications; Ronald A. MacMillan, financial investigator and a director of the Marin Conservation League; John M. MacPhail Jr., executive vice president of McPhail's Inc.; Eugene Morrison, head of Morrison Tree Experts of San Anselmo; Richard Oesterman, San Rafael mortgage broker; Herbert Walton Jr., San Rafael attorney, and Harry M. Williams, San Rafael mortician.

The board will make the appointment at its regular meeting July 8.

Group To Challenge Cutbacks In Budget

A group calling itself Marin County Employees for a More Effective Government will appear tomorrow before the board of supervisors asking reconsideration of budget cuts in "People-centered services."

Claiming such services are the first to be cut back or eliminated, the group has indicated it will present the "other side of the picture" given Thursday by 300 irate taxpayers who demanded a rollback in next year's county spending program.

A spokesman for the group, James Edmondson, employed in the probation department, said the county's refusal to grant more than a 5 per cent pay raise to management employees is part of the issue.

This, coupled with the board's refusal to allocate additional positions in county departments to meet predcited workload increases, could decrease government's effectiveness, the group says.

He explained that without automatic hiring of new employees by departments as workloads increase, existing staffs in such agencies as probation, social services, human rights and the sheriff's office will have to spread themselves thinner.

Other agenda items for tomorrow's board session, beginning at 9 a.m., are approval of a directive giving emergency powers to the county administrator in event of a walkout by probation and social service employees Wednesday, a report from the public works director on plans and specifications for landscaping South San Pedro Road, and a 3 p.m. hearing on the extension of the natural resources interim ordinance.

Larkspur, Corte Madera Open Recreation Programs

Playground programs, tennis, baseball and other sports are included in the summer recreation program of Larkspur and Corte Madera.

Playgrounds will be open from 10 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday at Granada, San Clemente, Larkspur-Corte Madera, Henry C. Hall, and Greenbrae schools, and at Town Park in Corte Madera.

Activities include baseball, softball, volleyball, hiking, football, nature study, arts and crafts, music, storytelling and drama, and instruction in soccer, tumbling, basketball, crafts, knitting and folk dancing.

Parents are to register their children at the playground today or tomorrow.

A junior baseball instruction program for boys six through eight will be held at Town Park and Larkspur's Bundy Field. Registration will be at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at Henry C. Hall playground.

Tennis lessons for children between 9 and 12 will be given at the town park tennis courts at 10 a.m. daily, and for adults at 11 a.m. daily.

Six field trips are planned, the first on Wednesday to Candlestick Park to watch the Giants.

Redwood High School gymnasium will be open on Tuesday and Thursday nights for adults, and on Wednesday nights for high school students, for unorganized basketball, volleyball and other sports.

Recreation program details are available at Larkspur City Hall.

Graham Pleads For Spiritual Awakening

NEW YORK (UPI)—Evangelist Billy Graham, winding up his five-day crusade here, said Sunday that a national spiritual awakening could provide a solution for the wave of turmoil on campuses in the United States.

"Spiritual renewal has happened to America before in the hours of national despair," Graham told a crowd of 36,000 at Shea Stadium. "It needs to happen again."

Moral uplift could help reduce other problems in the country in addition to campus troubles, Graham said, including increasing narcotics use and environmental pollution.

Driver Arrested On Drug Charge

Frank Leslie Grant, 25, of 1116 Skillman Lane, Petaluma, was arrested on suspicion of possession of marijuana Friday.

Police said they stopped Grant for a traffic violation on Petaluma Boulevard South near Mountain View Avenue and found marijuana cigarettes on the dashboard. Police said a passenger in the car escaped on foot.

Grant was released on his own recognizance for arraignment today in Southern Municipal Court.

New Abortion Eligibility

NEW YORK (UPI) — Seventeen-year-old "emancipated" unmarried girls will be eligible for abortions in New York City when the state's liberalized abortion law goes into effect Wednesday, it was announced Friday.

At the same time, Blue Cross of Greater New York decided for the first time to provide maternity benefits for single females, including dependent children of subscribers, provided the original contract originated in a group. Blue Shield was expected to follow suit, a spokesman said.

Blue Cross covers hospital bills and Blue Shield covers doctors' bills. It was estimated that cash payments would range up to $150 for Blue Cross; and up to $100 for Blue Shield, when approved.

Officials of city hospitals said abortions would be performed without parental consent if the patient is married, "emancipated," or at least 17 years old. It was noted the new state law does not have age limitations.

THE NEW LAW, passed recently in Albany after an emotional legislative battle, repealed the old measure that allowed abortions only in the event the patient's life was endangered.

By "emancipated," authorities meant a girl "who is self supporting or living away from home under such circumstances that she makes most of her own decisions," a spokesman for the City Hospital Corporation said.

The board of directors of the corporation gave its unanimous approval to the new policy, the spokesman said. The body takes control of the city's 18 hospitals on the same day the liberalized abortion law takes effect.

Under the new abortion law, women may obtain abortions from licensed physicians during the first six months of pregnancy. Abortions may be performed in a doctor's office provided it is properly equipped.

THE HOSPITAL board said it intended to make every effort to provide medically sound abortions for New York City women seeking them and to make the availability of the service widely known.

The change in the Blue Cross policy will affect about half of Blue Cross contracts in New York City and surrounding counties.

The community relations coordinator of Blue Cross, William Walpole, said the cash benefits probably will range from $80 to $150 for subscribers treated in member hospitals as in-patients or out-patients. The amount depends on the type of contract.

He said Blue Shield payments would range from $50 to $100. The change will not become official until approved by the New York State Insurance Department, but Walpole said he was certain such approval would be forthcoming. He said the approval for payments will be retroactive, providing benefits from July 1.

Mentally Ill Children Benefitted From Massive Doses Of Vitamins

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —A San Diego psychologist said today that 40 per cent of 200 mentally ill children benefitted from treatments with massive vitamin doses.

Dr. Bernard Rimland of the Institute of Child Behavior Research reported on the study before the closing sessions of the Second Annual Conference of the National Society for Autistic Children.

Rimland reported on data he has collected during the past two years on the condition of children suffering from schizophrenia and autism. He said Nobel Laureate Linus Pauling is conducting similar tests at Stanford University.

Dr. Rimland said that about 40 per-cent of the nation-wide group with which he worked were reported "as noticeably improved by the parents and physicians who judged the behavior of the children."

Rimland said massive doses of Vitamins C and B were used in the experiment, which he said was conducted to test theories that certain types of mental illnesses are caused by defects in the body's ability to absorb certain vitamins.

He contended that other evidence recently has shown biochemical normalities in children "whose withdrawn and disturbed condition used to be attributed to faulty environment."

In other reports to the conference:

—Dr. Edwin W. Martin of the Bureau of Education for the Handicapped in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare said the government is putting high priority in increasing public understanding for emotionally disturbed children.

—Parents of three autistic children who recovered to become self-supporting adults reported that they turned out to have surprising skills. One of the three youths is a shipping clerk and two are piano tuners. All are considered top workers by their bosses.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'We Aren't Guilty Because We Leave Our Keys In The Car

DEAR HELEN:

I'm an avid radio listener. Like so many others, I am constantly being blasted by a familiar voice telling me I'm a big "baddy" if I leave my keys in the car — thus leading some poor innocent child astray.

Now I mean really! I was a teen-ager not too long ago (I'm 21 now) and I knew when a car didn't belong to me, whether the keys were in it or not.

So why don't they place the blame where it belongs? We aren't guilty because we leave our keys in the car — dumb maybe, but we certainly aren't turning a good boy into a thief. A kid who will jump in a car which doesn't belong to him and drive away isn't "innocent." He'd cross the wires just as readily.

It's bleeding hearts like this announcer who may turn kids bad, not careless car owners. Right? — GUILTY BEFORE PROVEN INNOCENT

DEAR GBPI:

Right on! A straight reminder to "lock your car before leaving it" would irritate a lot less people. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am married to a dear, dear man who may be the death of me. Helen, for 22½ years, he has worked me to a frazzle. I have had an outside job in all except two years of our life together, when I was having babies.

Every time my husband got into debt, because of a whim or a good deal that went sour I was always there to supply the extra money. About 10 years ago we bought a cabin at the mountains so we could rest over the weekends. Some rest.

I crowd all my home work into my after-work week day so I can spend a weekend housecleaning and cooking at the cabin. I even do men's work like cleaning the basement and garage, washing the car and making minor repairs. My husband comes in, eats my nice dinner, goes to sleep on the davenport, awakens at 11 p.m. for a cup of tea (which I make), and so to bed.

I don't mind working, but I could use some help. A lot of my money has gone for skis, a boat and equipment for the cabin, but I never get any time to use them as I'm always busy in the house.

Arguments don't change my husband. When I point out how much I do, he just gets lazier. Solution please? — IN A BAD WAY

DEAR IABW:

It's going to rile you, but I must say this: You've dug the rut you're in; and if you didn't secretly enjoy self-pity, you'd long ago have stopped being so darn efficient.

Are you a perfectionist who takes over jobs so they'll be done right? No man will compete with a compulsive cleaner. Result: You slave trying to show him up, and he gets lazier out of resentment.

My suggestion: Simmer down. Ignore some of the chores that make you feel important while wearing you to a frazzle. Spend those mountain weekends on the lake with your husband. Be a companion, not a harried maid. Let him know he's got a new, relaxed, somewhat helpless woman on his hands — and she can be quite a handful. Your two houses may look unkempt for a while, until he realizes you've really shucked the super-manager role, but my guess is he'll gladly take on some responsibilities in exchange for a less duty-ridden wife. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

In reply to the man who can't sleep because of his wife's snoring: Stop trying to blot out the noise — it will only irritate you more. My solution is — listen. The rhythmic snort or puff or whatever will soon lull you to sleep, like listening to raindrops on the roof. I learned this when I worked nights and my mother did home typing. I tried wrapping my head in the pillow to no avail. Then one day I listened, and I was bored to sleep. Try it. — G.A.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

New Federal Restrictions On Fourth Of July Fireworks

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — The Food and Drug Administration is making sure that Americans are getting less and less of a bang out of July Fourth celebrations.

The aim is not less patroitism but fewer injuries, especially to youngsters. An estimated 10,000 persons are hurt each year, some fatally, by fireworks. About 6,000 are children 15 years of age or less.

And the toll is rising, according to the National Fire Protection Association, despite enactment of the Child Protection Act of 1966.

The FDA has used its increased authority under this law to crack down on the more dangerous types of explosives. "Make-it-yourself" fireworks kits have been almost completely driven off the market as a result of prosecutions by the federal agency.

THE LATEST regulation went into effect Saturday. It seeks to broaden a previous rule barring interstate sale of the most dangerous types of fireworks to adults as well as children.

The only exception has been for fireworks "intended solely for bona fide crop protection purposes." The FDA has found widespread diversion of high-powered fireworks from farm use to the general public. Eight deaths and 41 serious injuries are blames on these products.

Principal targets of the FDA are cherry bombs, M-80 salutes, silver salutes, aerial bombs and other large firecrackers.

Not included under the interstate ban are so-called "Class C fireworks." These are paper caps, cone fountains, cylinder fountains, whistles without blasts and sparklers.

But even these can be dangerous, especiallly if not used properly, says the National Fire Protection Association. The organization recently leveled a blast at the FDA for not also banning Class C products.

IT SAID A survey of 2,000 incidents involving fireworks indicated that 42 per cent of all injuries came from these firecrackers, including sparklers, Roman candles and similar devices.

These injuries, said the association, accounted for about half of all eye injuries and 40 per cent of all hand injuries.

Sparklers alone, said the association, caused six per cent of all injuries, including 28 eye injuries. It pointed out that the temperature of sparklers reaches 1,800 degrees, a powerful hazard in the hands of a child.

The association, a clearinghouse of fire safety information located in Boston, cited "the critical deficiency" of the Child Protection Act, but it was even more critical of the FDA's handling of the law.

"As administered by the FDA," said the association, "the only present requirement is that (Class C fireworks) carry a hazardous warning label, with the pious hope that children will read and heed the warning."

Three who didn't were burned severely in Nebraska last year when they accidentally caused an explosion with gasoline inside a large water tank which they entered to show off the sparklers better in the dark. Four others were injured when they tried to make a "jet" engine of sparklers propel a skateboard.

An article in the June issue of "Today's Health" tells the story best: "Safe fireworks? There aren't any in the hands of children."

Ban The Bra?

Ban the bra? No. So said nine out of 10 designers interviewed by the Contour Council, whose members keep the innerwear industry going. The designers supported underpinnings for their softer, slinkier, longer, sexier-than-ever collections for fall and winter.

Your Own Formula For Housework

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI) — Memo to housewives: Faith Prior, home economist with the University of Vermont Extension Service, has some help for you if you're looking for a 25-hour day.

"There's no magic formula for saving time and energy," she advises. "You have to develop your own formula that works best for your home and family."

She's written a pamphlet, "What To Do About Housework," which contains a couple of quick hints:

— Question the job: Why do it? Who should do it? When and how well should it be done.

— Question setups: What's the best place to store needed equipment and is the equipment all it should be.

— Question work conditions: Am I dressed comfortably. Is the room warm or cool enough.

— Clutter: Have a central spot for unclaimed clutter, such as a chest, deep drawer or cupboard and as claimants appear, let him or her dig out the item. Works wonders on childhood clutterbugs.

Drape Meant Drab

NEW YORK (UPI) — The word "drape" comes from a corruption of the word "drab." In earlier days the word "drab" was applied to dull, lackluster fabrics used as hangings at doors and windows.

Their Husbands Aren't Listening

URBANA, Ill. (UPI) — A survey of about 300 young married couples in Peoria and Decatur, Ill., seems to confirm what some wives have suspected all along. Their husbands aren't listening.

"More wives than husbands reported having had discussions," a report on the ongoing project by the Survey Research Laboratory of the University of Illinois noted. For example, nine out of 10 wives reported discussing the purchase of a new car with their mates. But only eight out of 10 husbands indicated discussing new cars with their wives.

DRAMA REVIEW

Title Of Play Misleading; Not Another 'Oh! Calcutta!'

By JAC KGAVER

NEW YORK (UPI) — Let's face it. A production titled "The Dirtiest Show in Town" has to pique the interest.

It stirs up thoughts of naked orgies — possibly another "Oh! Calcutta!" — Heaven forfend!

This Saturday arrival at the off-Broadway Astor Place Theater turns out to be a document by Tom Eyen supporting the current ecological crusade, as witness this statement in the program:

"A documentary of the destructive effects of air, water and mind pollution in New York City."

Who can quarrel with such high purpose? There is also this author's note of some possible import that would seem to have been transmitted by Western Union:

"We no longer lead complete lives — stop — only parts — stop — and even those parts are not our own — STOP!"

It is well that these guidelines are spelled out, for the words that Eyen has given his 11 players are less enlightening during the intermissionless show.

It is impossible to call it a play. And it is not a musical, nor is it a ballet with words, although there is a sort of chanted dialogue at times and more movement than you'll find in a performance by a dance company.

The dialogue does have the merit, if that is the proper descriptive, of being couched largely in what might be called basic English, which can be learned by even those with the lowest reading ability in any comfort station. Antipollution words, of course.

And if you think that the show's title indicates that it joins in the current trend toward stage nudity and orgy —what a nasty thought! -be advised that the program carries this credit —"costumes by Victor Bijou." Which seems rather a coincidence — "Bijou" has one meaning as "something small."

So, there it is —you can't fault Eyen for being against pollution, per se. But his show leaves you wondering if he realizes that inducing boredom is one of the worst types of pollution.

Anyway, the members of the cast, who may or may not be thankful for lack of identification here, seem, on rather close inspection, to be a cleanly lot that bathes regularly —all over.

MUSIC REVIEWS

Fine Pianists Abound At Dominican Opener

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Last night's chamber music recital in Caleruega Hall, the first program in the four-concert Dominican College summer series, showed the unmistakable guidance of that master pianist-chamber musician, Adolph Baller, its director.

There was an especially strong group of fine pianists performing either as full-fledged members of ensembles or skillful accompanists.

The three outstanding numbers for me were the Beethoven trio, Opus No. 1, performed by violinist Michael Gerling, cellist Elizabeth Musser and pianist Carol Roth; the Brahms trio, Opus 114, played by clarinetist Bert Baylin, pianist Barbara Baum with Miss Musser again the cellist; and soprano Jean Murphy's Beethoven song cycle. This was the "An Die Ferne Geliebt," Opus 98, accompanied on the piano by Judith Storss.

Rapport was admirable in the trios, though balance was not always perfect owing to slight predominance of the pianos in forte passages. Gerlin and Baylin were in complete command of their instruments, but the big contrast was in Miss Musser's playing. In the Beethoven trio it was often not quite forceful enough whereas in the Brahms trio the song of the cello was one of its greatest attractions.

In the Beethoven cycle Miss Murphy was most impressive with a powerful, well controlled voice of lovely quality, effective in communicating meaning and emotion. She has matured and gained assurance since I last heard her.

Miss Baum and Baylin proved a well matched pair as they demonstrated their technical skill in the rather dry and percussive but often dramatic Hindemith sonota for clarinet and piano.

The other numbers on the program were the opening "Premiere Sonate" by Milhaud, performed quite well by violist Elizabeth Birnbaum and pianist Emily Ross; and Ravel's "Chansons Madescasses" sung by soprano Jan Leidel, accompanied by a trio composed of flutist Jean Chandler, with Miss Baum and Miss Musser again performing on the piano and cello, respectively.

Miss Leidel was very successful in conveying mood with understandable French diction so that the program notes were hardly necessary, but her vocal quality needs mellowing.

Dances To Help Music Magazine

The Mill Valley publishers of a soon-to-be-distributed music magazine, called Hard Road, will sponsor dances Friday, Saturday and Sunday from 8 p.m. to midnight at Brown's Hall, Mill Valley.

Michael Goldberg, partner in the magazine slated for release April 20, said profits from the dances will help defray publishing costs.

Tickets for the dances, which will feature Clover and the Muskadine Blues Band on Friday, Beefy Red and Wide Hole on Saturday and Ofoedian Den on Sunday, are on sale at the Sound Shop in San Rafael, Village Music and Prune Music in Mill Valley.

Virginia GOP Snubs Byrd As Candidate

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Virginia Republicans unwilling to adopt incumbent Sen. Harry F. Byrd, a former Democrat, as their candidate for the U.S. Senate have nominated one of their own in an effort to end the Byrd family dynasty in the state.

The action at the Virginia GOP convention in Richmond was a victory for Republican Gov. Linwood Holton, who had insisted the party had enough strong candidates without endorsing a former leader of the opposition.

Byrd, who bolted from the Democratic ranks earlier this year and is running for re-election as an independent, never formally sought the GOP omination but got strong support from many convention delegates, including Rep. Joel Broyhill.

The new GOP candidate is Ray L. Garland, 36, a member of the state House of Delegates. He was chosen on the first ballot over two other aspirants. In addition to Byrd, Garland will have to battle a Democratic nominee to be elected in a July 14 primary.

While the Virgnia Republicans were meeting Saturday, Democrats in Connecticut convened in New Haven to fill the void created by another defection —that of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, who withdrew as a candidate for renomination but has not ruled out an independent race.

The Connecticut Democrats settled on Alphonsus Donahue, a millionaire who is credited with forcing Dodd to pull out of the party contest. But Donahue did not receive enough votes to head off a unique primary fight. Two of his rivals, the Rev. Joseph Duffey of West Hartford and State Sen. Edward L. Marcus of New Haven, polled enough ballots to force a primary in August.

Any candidate who gets 20 per cent of the convention cote can demand a primary, although the state has never had one. The Connecticut GOP, which held a convention the previous weekend, will hold a primary August 12.

Rep. Emilio Q. Daddario, D-Conn., won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Across the Connecticut border in Massachusetts, delegates to another GOP convention Saturday endorsed Josiah A. Spaulding to oppose Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's bid for re-election.

Spaulding, an outspoken critic of President Nixon's war policy, won the endorsement by a 2 to 1 margin over John J. McCarthy, a former Massachusetts administration and finance commissioner who had the unofficial blessing of the White House after voicing support of Nixon's policy.

Spaulding still must be chosen by the voters in a September primary and McCarthy said he would be in the race.

Performances of these plays will rotate with six special performances of "Brigadoon" also to be given.

By LARRY MOWELL

A reminiscing horse lover who doubles as governor of Vermont stole the show from a movie star turned senator as the National Park Service dedicated its Morgan horse farm at Point Reyes National Seashore Saturday.

Governor Deane C. Davis, president of the national Morgan Horse Club, outlined his life-long affection for the breed which originated in Vermont after the wisecracking ex-dancer, Sen. George Murphy, R-California, explained his interest in America's first native horse breed and his role in recent Point Reyes appropriations.

Garbed in a field jacket and, occasionally a ranger hat, Murphy told of cornering President Richard M. Nixon at a White House cocktail party to tell him that subdividers were about to gobble up Point Reyes if the federal government didn't act.

Nixon, according to Murphy, looked into the matter and promised to appropriate the money.

"My interest in Morgan horses may amaze you," he said. "I wasn't always interested in being Shirley Temple's grandfather and soft-shoe dancing."

He said his uncle, a harness racing driver, raced a famous Morgan, and a friend, actor James Cagney, has a stable of them.

The governor, of course, had richer stories about the official animal of Vermont.

He recalled his experiences as a child with Morgans at his grandfather's farm. He said the all-purpose horses were used to plow the fields, pull the milk wagon, race and take the family to church.

"It was a matter of great prestige to be able to drive up with good-looking pair of Morgans," he said.

Noting the esteem that Vermonters have for the horse, he said, "It is not only their stability and endurance and temperament, but their ability to associate with human beings. They are the family horse. They can do anything another horse can do in closer association with people than any other horse."

The National Park Service, which already has a Morgan farm in Wakefield, Va., is breeding the horse for use by park rangers throughout the country precisely because of its steady character, according to Nathan L. Bill, deputy director of the National Park Service, who spoke first.

The seashore has about 20, some of which are on loan, according to Supt. John L. Sansing.

A speech by Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, was sandwiched between Murphy's and Davis'. He credited testimony by Supervisor Louis H. (Bud) Baar, Marin County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney and West Marin rancher Boyd Stewart before the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee for breaking the logjam holding up land appropriations.

He pointed out that the horse farm would "give some of those people locked up in the asphalt jungle a sample of our country livin'."

According to Davis, Justin Morgan is the only horse in history given credit for beginning a breed all by himself. "That takes some doing, I can tell you, but he did it," Davis said.

Justin Morgan was born in 1789 and became the property of the Vermont singing master he was named after. The graceful, compact mutant imprinted his features on so many offspring that a breed was created.

The park rangers held a "barn warming" following the dedication and accepted gifts for the barn and pastures near the main gate to the Seashore.

Murphy gave a picture of Nixon signing a Point Reyes appropriation and the pen he used. Davis gave something more practical: a harness with decorative yarn bails made by his wife.

A plaque for the farm carved in a 10-foot section of Redwood driftwood by Redwood City artist Jim Loree was unveiled by the assembled dignitaries

Neighbors Bring Feud Into Court

Tiburon's feuding neighbors, the Marans and the Greens, finally made it to Marin Superior Court today, where Judge Thomas F. Keating is being called upon to settle a barrage of complaints and cross-complaints.

The attorney for Nathaniel and Violet Marana, William O. Weissich, cliamed today that a dispute over the boundary line between the two houses on a hill overhooking Raccoon Straits was only a pretext.

The real basis, he said, was testimony given by Mrs. Marans in a case in municipal court in 1967 where James Lewis Green was convicted of resisting arrest.

It was at this time, Weissich said, harrassment by Green and his wife, Claire, began which continued until as recently as two weeks ago when the two arrested each other after an incident involving wet cement and garden hoses.

The feud's highlights, as outlined by Weissich, include ripped-out fence posts and vines, a torn-up peach tree, strategically placed floodlights and flat tires.

Green, according to Weissich, has at times hidden in a hedge and shaken it to frighten Mrs. Marans, and the Marans have found calla lilies, symbol of death, in their mailbox.

Green's attorney, James Murray, said that he did not wish to go "into these miserable little details," but if they had to be aired in court he felt that actions by the Marans against the Greens would balance out.

The Marans are asking the judge to determine the property line and to award them $5,660 damages, including $10 for mental emotional distress.

The Greens have set a higher price on their misery, asking $75,000 for assault and "intentionally caused emotional distress."

Their cross-complaint alleges that the Marans have taunted and mocked them, and that Green has uttered "obscene and loathsome oral declarations to them."

Judge Keatings' first task in the case today was to hear testimony by a surveyor in an effort to determine if the two couples could agree on his determining the biundary line.

Settlement Near In Social Workers Rift

The threat of a walkout on Thursday by more than 160 Marin County social and probation workers may be averted by successful negotiation on new contracts.

Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella said negotiations were concluded Friday night pending new instructions from the board of supervisors.

"We're getting very close at this point," Campanella said. "After we get some new instructions, hopefully we can settle tonight."

Campanella, who is heading the three-member county negotiating team with the unions, said he would meet in closed session with the supervisors late today to get instructions.

Local 535 of the social workers union, which represents both unions in the bargaining talks with the county, is scheduled to seek strike sanction fror some 90 probation employees tonight from the Marin County Labor Council.

No formal sanction request has been made for more than 70 social workers.

Contracts with both groups will expire at midnight Wednesday.

Campanella said wages are the major issue, but said details would be disclosed only after agreement was reached. William Schutt, chairman of the social workers' negotiating team, said it has asked for a 7.5 per cent hike, although indicating it would be willing to settle for 5 per cent if caseloads are reduced.

I-J Takes Two National Paper Awards

I-J Special Report

DES MOINES — The San Rafael Independent-Journal has won two awards in the 1970 National Newspaper Contest in the freedom of information and best feature picture categories.

The National Newspaper Association, presenting the awards at its annual convention here on Saturday, awarded the I-J the first place award for freedom of information.

The judges said the I-J "consistently brought to light through news columns, special columns and editorials the folly of closed-door official sessions."

Photographer Jim Kean won the second prize for his picture of Novato Little League players exploding with joy when they won last July's Marin County All-Star Tournament at Corte Madera. The judges said that Kean's "lively action shot, 'Winners,' tells the story. It is clear and sharp in detail and has a great deal of human interest."

The Novato Advance won third place for excellence in typography for newspapers with 3,000 to 6,000 circulation.

Prizes in 42 categories went to 175 newspapers from 41 states. There were 3,491 entries submitted to the judges.

Looking The Wrong Way Can Be Costly—Two Extra Losers

"I don't know what happened to me," South muttered bewilderedly. "I started the hand with only two losers, and while I was looking the other way two other losers suddenly developed. If a man can't trust a six-card trump suit, nothing in the world is safe any more."

FIRST TRICK

South correctly played a low spade from dummy at the first trick and ruffed with the three of hearts. Then declarer led the seven of trumps to dummy's king and returned dummy's low trump.

East discarded a diamond, and South saw that his planned trump finesse was not going to work. Still fearing nothing, South took the ace of hearts and continued with the jack to force out the queen.

West led another spade, and South had to ruff again. This left declarer with only one trump, which he had to use at once to draw West's last trump.

SEES DANGER

Too late, South saw his danger. He could take his four diamonds in addition to the five trumps he had already won, but then he was through. As soon as South touched the clubs, East was ready to take the ace of clubs and his good spades.

South should make his contract by looking the right way. When South leads a trump at the second trick, he must try a finesse with dummy's nine. When this succeeds, declarer can cash the king of hearts and enter his hand with a diamond to lead the ace of hearts. Then he concedes the ace of clubs and the queen of hearts to make his contract.

SAFE WAY

South would be safe even if East had the queen of hearts because East would be unable to continue the attack on spades with the K-5 in the dummy. South had to keep West, the dangerous opponent, out of the lead to prevent a second spade lead through dummy's king.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two spades.

This weak raise promises trump support but practically nothing else. If the intervening player had passed instead of doubling, you would have passed also; but the double gives you the chance to show your trump support and your pitiful weakness at the same time.

Politician's Right?

CHANDIGARH, India (AP) — During a recent political crisis in northern Punjab state, one member of the State Assembly changed his affiliation three times in one day. Basant Singh, the only member of the conservative Swatantra party in the assembly, voted to support Chief Minister Gurnam Singh, later said he was neutral and in the afternoon told newsmen he had gone over to the opposition.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, June 29, the 180th day of 1970 with 185 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury and Saturn. The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

Draft-age men in the United States born on this date are number 353 in the lottery.

On this day in history:

In 1852 American statesman Henry Clay died in Washington, D.C.

In 1946 the British arrested 2,700 Jews in an attempt to put down terrorism in Palestine.

In 1961 the United States orbited three satellites at the same time.

In 1964 the sister of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro defected to Mexico.

A thought for the day: British poet Lord Byron said, "I speak not of man's creeds. They rest between man and his maker."

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Reader Gets Advice On Investing $10,000

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I will inherit $10,000 soon and wish to invest this wisely toward retirement in 10 years. I am buying two mutual funds through the Keogh Plan and own a few shares of Teledyne. What is my best course? — C.J.

A. One of your funds and your shares of Teledyne are somewhat speculative. For that reason I would invest new money in more conservative issues with long-established dividend records. Teledyne shoruld be retained, despite its discouraging market performance, ont he basis of its long-range potential.

Three companies, representing as many industries, with a history of rising dividends and earnings are Kellogg Co., Plough, Inc., and Simplicity Pattern. Annual dividend increments have more than doubled payments on these three issues in the last decade. Kellogg is expected to report record sales and earnings for the year, reflecting increased product prices and including results of Salada Foods, acquired late in 1969. Although Plough, Inc., shares have dropped 30 per cent from the early 1970 all-time high, in the last 10 years shares have appreciated 500 per cent. Simplicity has made a practice of periodically distributing small stock dividends in addition to cash payments.

Q. I hold 200 shares of Tenneco, purchased in 1965 and 1967 at about $24. I am over 70, a widow, looking for income and security. Should I hold? — A.E.

A. Yes, Tenneco shares are currently selling to yield a generous and secure 6.6 per cent. First-quarter earnings reflecting the economic slowdown dropped 19 per cent year-to-year. There is no indication that this profit squeeze will relax its grip in the immediate future.

However, long-term outlook is enhanced by Tenneco's recent oil strike in the North Sea. The 2,000 barrel-a-day discovery is on a million-acre offshore Holland concession held jointly with two other companies. Tenneco's widely diversified operations include shipbuilding, chemicals, packaging and petroleum production, refining and distribution. Shares should be retained for gradual appreciation and secure income.

Transamerica Sets Dividends

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — The board of directors of Transamerica Corp. have declared the following dividends on stock of the corporation.

A regular quarterly cash dividend of 13¾ cents a share was declared payable on the $1 par value Transamerica common stock on July 31 to holders of record on July 10.

A regular quarterly dividend of $1.20 on the corporation's $4.80 convertible preferred stock was also declared, payable on Aug. 1 to holders of record on July 10.

Flying Tiger Packs Record Cargo Load

LOS ANGELES (BW) — A record cargo load of 117,481 pounds, consisting mostly of fresh fruit, was flown 2,400 miles non-stop from Los Angeles to Philadelphia aboard a Flying Tiger DC8 super 63F jet frieghter, the airline announced.

A Tiger official said the tonnage figure topped a previous record of 117,111 pounds of cargo flown out of Seattle in January by FTL.

Stocks Drop With Selling Pressure Up

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks, off sharply last week, encountered further selling pressure today in the absence of constructive news. Trading was light.

The UPI Marketwide Indicator was off 1.25 per cent with 1,539 issues on the tape. Of these, 926 declined and 353 gained.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average, the blue chip barometer, showed a loss of 4.93 at 682.91.

Turnover of about 8.75 million shares compared with 9,160,000 shares Friday.

The market was in "a period of acute dullness," an analyst remarked.

Lucien Hooper, senior analyst for W. E. Hutton & Co., said that over the near term "I don't think the market will go far in either direction, but will likely go down more than it goes up."

Other analysts generally observed that Wall Street is worried about second quarter profits and wondering when the predicted turnaround in business will come.

The withdrawal of U.S. troops from Cambodia ahead of President Nixon's June 30 deadline got little reaction from Wall Street. Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., said the pullout "would hasten the time of our departure from Vietnam, but was still an open question if the Cambodian action was worth its cost."

Boat Member Still Missing

A sailboat that tipped in the wind and spilled its three occupants seven miles off San Francisco's Great Highway beach was recovered off Muir Beach at 5 p.m. yesterday, the Coast Guard reported today.

Two of the boat's three occupants, V. R. Dennis of Berkeley and Russ Saunders of Oakland, were rescued at 12:15 p.m. moments after the mishap by a nearby boat, the Defiance.

Joe Brooke, 35, no address available, was listed as missing after two Coast Guard helicopters and an 82-foot patrol boat searched the area of the accident.

Rogers, Romanian Leader Have Discussion On War

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Secretary of State William P. Rogers, en route to Asia for talks on the Indochina War, stopped off in San Francisco Sunday and talked for 90 minutes with Corneliu Manescu, foreign minister of Romania.

"We discussed world problems, particularly East-West problems," Rogers said after the second high-level talk within the year between the United States and the Balkans nation which shares a border with the Soviet Union. President Nixon visited Romania last year. U. S. officials, before Rogers left Washington, said he plans to announce increased military assistance for Cambodia at a meeting in Manila of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) foreign ministers.

After the talk with Manescu, Rogers flew to the summer White House in San Clemente, Calif, to brief President Nixon today on his talk here. He returns today to address the National Conference of Editors and Broadcasters

Officials in Washington said Rogers' hopes of a peaceful settlement in Cambodia were bolstered by a 2 1-2 hour talk Saturday with a three-man delegation from a Jakarta Conference.

Concerning Romania, Rogers said the United States would provide increased assistance for flood control and that he and Manescu had agreed on a cultural exchange program. Romania has suffered from widespread floods.

"I'm encouraged by our discussions and encouraged that our relations with Romania have improved," Rogers said

Manescu, who had been in San Francisco for the United Nations' 25th anniversary celebration, requested the session with Rogers.

Angry Citizens Battle Police

PESCARAK, Italy (UPI)— Citizens angered by reports a rival city will be named capital of a new region fought police in the streets again early today, and erected more barricades in the center of the city.

Police fired tear gas into groups of demonstrators as they tried to invade the railway station.

There were no reports of injuries. More than 30 persons were hurt in clashes Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Fires Unchecked In Southwest Forests

SILVER CITY, N. M. (UPI) —Fatigued firefighters, spread thin over 1,700 charred acres, battled early today to confine 43 fires raging in New Mexico and Arizona national forests.

Officials estimated 1,700 acres of grass and timberland were destroyed by fires caused by lightning and careless weekend campers. Some 135 fires were contained Sunday, but fire lines still were manned today against danger of high winds and possible new outbreaks.

The largest single blaze Sunday swept across 800 acres of New Mexico's Little Hatchet Mountains southeast of Lordsburg, N. M.

Harlan Smith, a Bureau of Land Management official, said the blaze began during a lightning storm Friday.

"We're holding our own and hope to bring it under control today," he said.

Don Webb, Forest Service regional fire coordinator, said a fire swept across 600 acres of Arizona's famed Coronado National Forest Sunday on the U. S. -Mexico border near Nogales, Ariz.

Firefighters also were battling a second fire in the Coronado that moved northward from Mexico and destroyed an additional 100 acres of national forestland.

Webb said many firefighting crews and aircraft dropping chemical fire retardent were being shifted from smaller blazes into the Coronado.

He said 10 fires were on the San Carlos Apache Indian reservation east of Phoenix, Ariz., but the remainder were "in pretty remote spots."

Some 1,500 men, including Apache, Zuni and Taos Indians, were called to fire lines. Smoke jumper units from Silver City, N. M., were used to combat blazes in remote locations.

Webb said 13 converted World War II bombers stationed at Aalmogordon and Silver City, N. M., had dumped more than 100,000 gallons of the fire retardent on the fires.

Webb said the forests were "dry as a tinderbox," and it would be impossible to determine how many of the fires were caused by lightning and how many by carless campers.

He said fire units had been called to 425 fires since the fire season began Wednesday.

The study is to include detailed cost estimates and assessment spreads necessary for the possible formation of a special improvement district to undertake the construction of said sewage disposal system. The improvement district will bear only the portion of the cost of the engineering study and design allocable to the territory of the improvement district. The portion of the cost allocable to the territory within Annexation No. 6 will be borne by the owners thereof.

Engineers Urge More Freeways

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Thirty-two miles of new freeway should be built in San Francisco to close gaps forced 10 years ago in the city's "freeway revolt," a panel of engineers has urged.

Citing a 75 per cent increase in traffic on the Golden Gate Bridge in the past 10 years, it urged freways to connect the bridge to the Embarcadero, Central and Junipero Serra freeways. It also called for a fourth freeway up the Panhandle to link the Central and proposed extension north of the Junipero Serra Freeway.

The panel was set up by the San Francisco section of the American Society of Civil Engineers, and its report endorsed by the section's board of directors. The section said the study was done as "a public service."

Past objections to freeways no longer are valid, the panel declared, because of improved standards for design and landscaping, and because more federal money is available to relocate residents in the path of freeways.

Members of the panel were C. F. Greene, deputy district engineer for the state Division of Highways; Harry Moses, an engineer with the Bay Area Rapid Transit District; Ross Shoaf, an assistant city engineer, and Henry K. Evans, senior vice president of the traffic engineering firm of Wilbur Smith and Associates.

The panel argued that new freeways were needed also to reduce the accident rate on city streets. "A continuously rising accident rate may not be acceptable to many San Francisco residents, and freeways would lower it significantly," it said.

The report said that the lack of freeways also was responsible for increased vehicle operating expanses and for "wasting time and money in traveling."

While the engineers said they did not intend "to detract from the need for mass transit," they insisted it was a fallacy to believe that rapid transit will cut deeply into street traffic.

"It is a fact that there are still enough motor vehicle trip desires by those who can't be served by a transit system, to justify the need for a freeway system," they reported.

The report said freeways can be beautified through compactness, conformity to the terrain, separation of roadways, landscaped medians and more attention to overall landscaping and plantings.

"The 1966 Federal-Air Highway Act requires that not one but two hearings be held in regard to all such design features," the report said.

To reach the market you have to thread the needle

For big or small-space advertisers, knowing this can help you build more profitable volume

Every store wants to reach as many customers as it can. But how many customers "reach" the store to buy—and when—is something else again.

For new findings in retailing show that at any one time only a small percentage of the market is ready to buy. The "market" then, is not what many a businessman thinks it is.

It is not a huge, faceless mass of people just waiting for the store ad to trigger it into buying action. Rather, it is a small set of people on any given day, with the set changing on Friday, for example, from what it was on Tuesday, or Wednesday.

Another finding shows an enormous shift, one week to another, in those "planning to buy" and those who didn't plan to buy but ended up doing most of the buying! Example: 61% of actual buyers of women's shoes in a given week were not even planning to buy just the week before! New people, new decisions.

This buying behavior goes for everything from women's dresses to refrigerators, tires to cameras. (The only general exception is drug/sundries and food. . .items of necessity).

The point is: if your store wants to capture the business, you must be in the market consistently with your advertising. This keeps you up in the forefront of buying decisions—at the time they're made. And they're being made by different people on different days for different reasons.

Since you can't know who is going to buy, only advertising can keep you in the market with changing groups of buyers.

And in Marin County, only the Independent-Journal can keep your advertising before the total market. Gets your message into 70% of all households. Gets you real readership. Gets you immediate sales.

That's what we mean by "threading the needle." Sews up the business.

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

Tricia Nixon Scored High In TV Ratings

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—President Nixon will be hard-pressed to match the ratings popularity of his daughter Tricia when he appears in a one-hour, three-network television conversation Monday night.

The attractive Miss Nixon gave a terrific ratings boost to CBS-TV's news series "60 Minutes" when she offered a partial tour of the White House in a segment of that program on May 26.

The series zoomed to third place among all shows in the national rankings. Only the Emmy awards telecast and an episode of the medical tale "Marcus Welby, M.D." finished ahead of "60 minutes" in the rating for the two-week period from May 25 to June 7.

Wednesday's three-network endeavor with the chief executive, entitled "A Conversation with the President," will be seen live and in color at 7 p.m. PDT, on ABC, CBS and NBC.

It will originate in the presidential compound at San Clemente, Calif., and Nixon has indicated he will discuss various aspects of foreign policy with his three network interviewers.

They are John Chancellor of NBC, Eric Sevareid of CBS and Howard K. Smith of ABC.

Nixon's informal, prime-time discussion with the newsmen will be the fourth such presidential conversation that television has presented. The practice was started by President Kennedy a week before Christmas in 1962. His successor, Lyndon Johnson, took part in the next two broadcasts, in 1964 and 1967.

The latest conversation will take place three days before the July 4 "Honor America Day" cremonies in Washington that will be televised in detail by all the commercial networks Saturday.

Wednesday, by the way, will be a busy day for watchers of public affairs broadcasts on video. In addition, to the nighttime Nixon discussion, NBC will cover the draft lottery drawing in a series of reports and special programs starting at 7 a.m. PDT at the Department of Commerce auditorium in Washington.

Tuesday night, meanwhile, CBS will have an hour special, "Where We Stand in Indochina," assessing America's military movement into Cambodia, and broadcast on the day U.S. forces have been scheduled to withdraw from that nation.

Tonight, ABC's news series "Now" takes a look at the "Silent Majority" in a program entitled "Straight from the Hartland," a half-hour in which residents polled in and around Grand Island, Neb., express confidence in the overall performance of President Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

The poll, conducted for ABC by Audits and Surveys Inc. of New York, also showed that 87 per cent of the persons in Grand Island and surrounding Hall County believe there is a "silent Majority," and that 68 per cent "feel they are part of that group."

Concerning the Southeast Asia war, 85 per cent said Nixon is "working for a just and honest peace." In performance ratings, "The president and vice president received the most overall support from persons 65 and older and least support from the 25-34 age group."

As for polling about religion: 46 per cent of the adults who responded to questions on youth felt that the majority of young persons in the nation "are religious and god-fearing."

Powell To Form 'People's Party'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, defeated at the polls for the first time in his life, has announced the formation of a "people's party" to put his name on the November ballot.

Powell said Sunday that his new party will include rent strike leader Jessey Gray and John Young, two of his opponents in the five-way Democratic primary won by State Assemblyman Charles Rangel.

Powell, seeking a 14th term in the House, had demanded a vote recount and charged some election machines had been "tampered with". The city elections board announced Saturday that Powell had received 7,882 votes to Rangel's 8,034.

Citizens Council Backed Protest

The Sausalito Citizens Council did officially support the taxpayer protest Thursday before the Marin County Board of Supervisors, according to vice president Donald K. Olsen.

Olsen said the Independent-Journal erred Thursday in listing the association with nine other groups who said they were not officially backing the protest.

Olsen wrote that the board of directors unanimously supported the protest and sent the supervisors a letter asking them to "take firm steps to bring a halt to the ever increasing and intolerably high costs of county government."

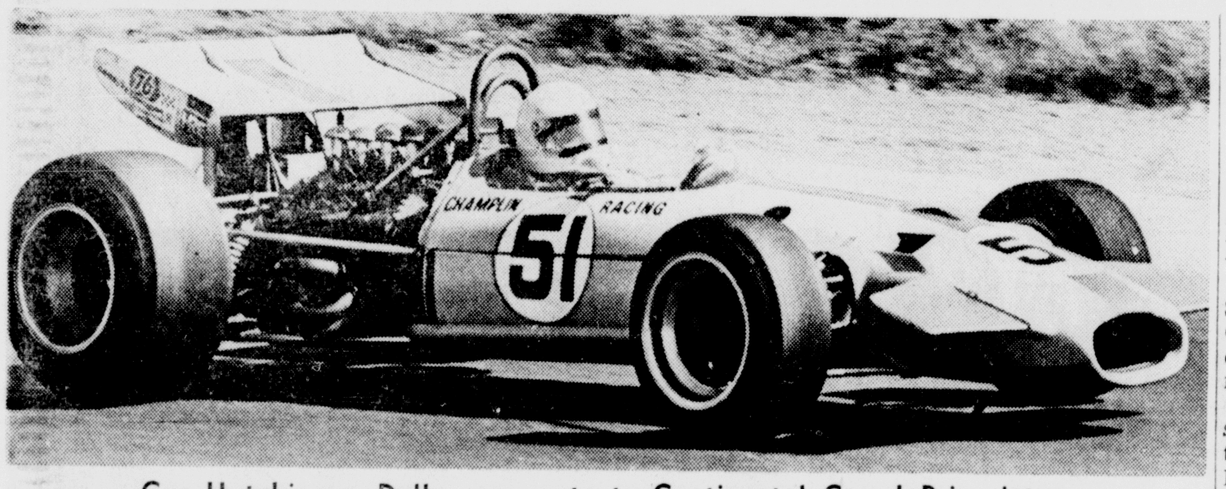
Hutchinson Is Winner In Sonoma Race



Gus Hutchinson, Dalles, en route to Continental Grand Prix victory.

Tough Luck Grable Runs Out Of Gas On Last Lap

SONOMA, Calif. (UPI) — Unheralded Gus Hutchinson of Dallas, Tex., has won the Continental 49er Grand Prix for Formula A sports cars at Sears Point Raceway.

Hutchinson took the victory Sunday after local favorite Ron Grable of Cupertino, Calif., ran out of gas with one lap remaining.

Grable was bidding for his second straight victory after taking the Continental at Monterey, Calif., two weeks ago.

SLOWING

Grable was obviously slowing in the last stages of the 39th lap. He managed to get enough gasoline to the injectors to come within a couple of feet of the finish line, but was unable to cross it under his own power.

Grable was placed last in the field of 32 drivers, according to the rules, although he completed more laps than anyone other than Hutchinson.

An extra lap had been added because Grable and George Wintersteen of Villanova, Pa., were too quick on the first lap. That extra lap cost Grable the race. Hutchinson had enough fuel for two more laps on the 2.53-mile circuit.

SECOND

Finishing second behind Hutchinson was John Gunn of Miami, Fla. Rex Ramsey of Sherman Oaks, Calif., placed third.

Gunn and Ramsey had dueled throughout the 100-mile race for third place. They ran nose-to-tail for the last 12 laps but Ramsey just couldn't get past a tight 12-turn course.

The "did not finish" ruling cost Grable the point lead in the 14-race Continental series and $5,000 first prize.

He could have passed Canadian John Cannon, who blew an engine on the seventh lap. Cannon, of Montreal, entered the race with 50 points and Grable had 40. The winner gets 20 points for first place.

PROBLEMS

Two other favorites, Wintersteen and teammate Dick Smothers of television fame, were also plagued by mechanical failure. Both suffered left inboard suspension breakdowns on their Lotus Chevrolets.

In the companion Formula B and C car feature, where the vehicles are powered by smaller engines than the Formula A cars, Mike Eyerly of Salem, Ore., romped home the winner.

Mike Hiss of Huntington Beach, Calif., was second and Alan Lader of Gresham, Ore., finished third.

YOUNG 40

McMahon Is Tough

By STEVE TOOMAJIAN

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Don McMahon found draped over his locker a white towel with the words "Thank You Ace" in big red letters.

The 40-year-old veteran had just appeared in his 700th and 701st big league games, winning the first and saving the second. The Giants took the opener 6-4 in 10 innings and won the nightcap 4-3 Sunday to send Atlanta down to its seventh straight loss.

McMahon is a brawny 6-2 Irishman, noticeably overweight around the middle, who belies his age by throwing a tough fastball more than any other pitch.

FASTBALLS

"I threw about 90 per cent fastballs," McMahon said as he put a match to a half-smoked cigar.

"I thought sure Charlie Fox was coming to get me, though, after I loaded the bases in the ninth."

McMahon got the first two batters in the final frame of the second game. Then he gave up a double to Hank Aaron and walked Rico Carty and Orlando Cepeda before inducing Tony Gonzalez to ground out and end the contest.

"I was fine until I had to pitch from the stretch," McMahon said. "Then I lost it. My first pitch to Carty was right down the pike. I was lucky he didn't blast it."

Fox, the San Francisco manager, stuck with McMahon despite the reliever's wavering control.

SURPRISED

"I was surprised he let me pitch to Gonzalez, since Tony's a lefthanded batter," McMahon said. "The pitch I got him on was actually a ball, but he went for it and got jammed."

McMahon threw the final two innings of each game. He picked up his fifth save in the nightcap, allowing starter Rich Robertson to even his record at 6-6. In the opener, McMahon got the victory and improved his record to 4-1.

McMahon has pitched his 700-plus big league games for seven different clubs. He was picked up by San Francisco from Detroit last year and now is in his 14th season. He has been a reliever almost exclusively and he ranks high in all career statistical categories.

Alan Gallagher rewarded McMahon in the opener of the twinbill by driving his second major league homer over the rightfield screen in the 10th. Ken Henderson was aboard after singling.

GIFT TRIPLE

Frank Johnson drove in three runs in the nightcap with a single and a gift triple.

Johnson's triple, misplayed by leftfielder Carty, brought home two runs and broke a 2-2 tie in the fifth inning of the second game. Carty ran in to field the ball and watched it bounce high over his head off the artificial grass of Candlestick Park.

Willie McCovey raised his team RBI leadership to 60 by driving in a run with a

WIMBLEDON TENNIS

Billie Jean, Rosey Win

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI)—Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., and Rosemary Casals of San Francisco advanced to the women's semi-finals of the $100,000 Wimbledon Open tennis championships today.

Mrs. King, a three-time Wimbledon winner and the second seed this year, overcame a first-set loss to beat seventh-seeded Karen Krantzcke of Australia, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2, and Miss Casals, the No. 5 seed, routed Winnie Shaw of Scotland, 6-2, 6-0, in only 40 minutes.

Miss Shaw had reached the quaterfinals by upsetting fourth-ranked Kerry Melville of Australia on Saturday. But today she was no match for the quick-moving, hard-hitting Miss Casals.

Graebner, 26, will pit his booming serve in a quarter-finals match against Taylor, 28, a burly steelworker's son who demolished four-time Wimbledon champ Rod Laver of Australia Saturday in one of the biggest upsets in the 84-year old history of the All-England lawn tennis championships.

The last American to win the men's crown at this temple of tennis was Chuck McKinley in 1963. The last Briton was Fred Perry in the 1930's.

In two all-Australian quarter-finals matches, Tony Roche meets Ken Rosewall, defeated 1954-56 finalist, and the 1967 Wimbledon winner John Newcombe faces Roy Emerson, who won the crown in 1964-65.

Spain's Andres Gimeno, who scored Saturday's other big upset by knocking off third-seeded Arthur Ashe of Gum Spring, Va., plays Bob (Nails) Carmichael, a former Melbourne carpenter and the lone surviving unseeded male, in the other quarter-finals match.

The men's quarter-finals will probably be played Tuesday.

The other quarter-finals today matched top-seeded Margaret Court of Australia against Helga Niessen of West Germany and Cecilia Martinez of San Francisco against Francoise Durr of France.

The last eight men enjoyed a day of rest before playing their semi-finals Tuesday. Five Australians were among the quarter-finalists along with New Yorker Clark Graebner, England's Roger Taylor and Spain's Andres Gimeno.

Leach Third In NCAA Tournament

Ray Leach of Novato, sophomore at Brigham Young University, staged a strong rally Saturday, then slipped a bit, and finished third in the 72-hole National Collegiate Athletic Association golf championships at Columbus, Ohio.

The 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Leach of 69 Cambridge Heights totalled 286 — 2 under par — for the four rounds.

The individual championship went to University of Houston All-American John Mahaffey who shot a final round 68 for 284 to beat out Wake Forest's Lanny Wadkins who wound up second at 285.

Leach, who won a carload of junior championships while starring at Novato High School from 1964 through '68, shot himself into contention at the completion of the third round when he birdied four of the last five holes to go four under par at the end of 54 holes. However, he could not maintain the blistering pace and dropped two strokes on the final 18.

Houston won the team title followed by Wake Forest and Brigham Young. Behind Leach's 286 came Tom Kite of Texas at 287, and Andy North, Florida, and Tom Watson, Stanford, 289 each.

Burton Leads Pro Bowlers

FRESNO, Calif. (UPI)—Nelson Burton Jr. of St. Louis is the leader going into today's finals of the $32,000 Fresno Open Bowling Tournament.

The slender righthander, who has won two Professional Bowling Association titles this year, closed out the 24-game qualifier Sunday night with a 268 game.

Burton, whose father is a bowling hall of famer, had a 1,300 saries in his six game block. With 5,338 pins for four rounds, he held slim lead of two pins over Mike McGrath, a tenacious lefthander from El Cerrito, Calif.

A's Still Five Games Out After Double Win

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — The Oakland Athletics had a day of rest today after their big doubleheader sweep of the Milwaukee Brewers which still left them five games out of first place in the American League West.

The A's may be glad they had the rest when they move on to Chicago Tuesday night.

IDENTICAL

In their doubleheader sweep Sunday, the A's took both games by identical scores of 4-1.

Two-run homers by Bert Campaneris and Dave Duncan made the difference in the first game and the big blow in the second was a two-run single by Tommy Davis.

Davis' hit chased Al Downing, making his first start as a Brewer and appearing in his first game since June 2.

Campaneris singled to start the game and then, after Felipe Alou walked, Reggie Jackson doubled home Campaneris.

After Downing retired Sal Bando on a foul pop, Davis singled bringing home Jackson and Alou. Ken Sanders then came in and served up a run-scoring triple to Joe Rudi.

DOBSON WINS

Chuck Dobson won his seventh game in 15 decisions while walking none and striking out six.

The only run off Dobson came in the seventh inning on singles by Tito Francona and Ted Kubiak, a fielder's choice

Rain Helps Devlin Capture Cleveland Open Top Prize

AURORA, Ohio (UPI)—Raindrops fell on the head of Bruce Devlin and brought with them a $30,000 check.

The 32-year-old Australian pro golfer took first prize money in the $150,000 Cleveland Open, and he said he was thankful for the rain storm that postponed the second round of the tournament.

"I was three over par for the seven holes I played Friday, and I was three under par for the same holes when we played them over again," Devlin said. Friday's round, washed out, was played along with the final round Sunday.

SIX SHOTS

"That rain saved me six shots," he said.

Devlin toured the par 70, 6,661-yard Aurora Country Club course with four sub-par rounds, scoring 69s Thursday and Saturday and 66 and 64 Sunday, for a 12-under-par 268.

His final round, which included seven birdies and one bogey, tied the course record set last year by Arnold Palmer and Charles Coody, defending champion in the Cleveland Open.

In second place with 272 was Steve Eichstaedt, 23, who last year was serving in Vietnam as an Army medic, and last month was the driving range attendant at the Miami Lakes, Fla., Country Club.

Eichstaedt had played in only two tournaments this year and failed to make the cut both times.

69-68

But he withstood the pressure of the final two rounds better than any one but Devlin, shooting a 69 and 68. After he scored an eagle two on the second hole of the final nine, he briefly held the lead.

His $17,100 check was triple that of his two-year Army pay.

Grier Jones, 24, who had led after Saturday's second round, fired rounds of 77-74 to finish tied for 38th.

Bob Murphy and Larry Hinson, the first day leader, tied for third with 273s. Lou Graham, Dave Hill and Lee Trevino had 274s for fourth.

Farther back were Tom Weiskopf, 275, Bob Goalby and Homero Blancas all at 276, Ray Floyd at 278, Frank Beard at 279, Bert Greene at 281, Julius Boros 282, Gene Littler 283, Doug Sanders 286 and Coody 288.

Steady Putter Wins For Golfing Coed

EL CAJON, Calif. (UPI)—A steady putter was credited by 20-year-old Cathy Gaughan, for her victory over Arizona State teammate Jan Bastanchury in the championship round of the National Women's Intercollegiate Golf Tournament.

Miss Bastanchury, the defending champion, lost her bid to become the first woman in the 29-year history of the tournament to score a repeat victory, losing two up.

Jarcik Nine Wins Twin Bill

The slugging of former Redwood High School star Steve Joses and pitching of Mike Timmel and Hal Shively led Jarcik Insurance of San Rafael to a sweep of a semi-professional baseball doubleheader with Pacific yesterday at Albert Park, San Rafael.

Timmel, Stanford University righthander from Terra Linda, pitched a one-hitter as San Rafael romped to a 12-1 victory in the opening game abbreviated to five innings because of the lop-sided score. Joses helped make it that way with a double and single that drove in three runs.

In the nightcap, Joses hammered a home run and made a great diving catch in left field as the Jarcik team posted an 8-3 victory in seven innings. Sandy Ingersol drove in four runs with a double and triple and Fred Daniele contributed a pair of hits for the winners.

Shively pitched four innings of hitless, scoreless relief after starter Bill English gave up three runs and five hits in the first three innings.

Jarcik now has a 2-1 won-lost record and will resume its schedule on July 12 after a Fourth of July weekend holiday.

Willie Mays, however, remained 11 hits away from No. 3000. He went hitless and struck out four of his six times at bat in the twinbill.

The Giants, taking advantage of a slumbering Atlanta batting order, will be working on a four-game win string when they open a two-game series against San Diego Tuesday night. San Francisco trails first place Cincinnati in the National League West by 16 games.

Mir Takes Back Her Yacht Lead

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Canada's representative in the Los Angles to Tahiti yacht race, the 78-foot ketch Mir, was back in the lead of the longest scheduled ocean rave in the world today.

Mir, owned by George W. O'Brien of Vancouver, B.C., reported her position Sunday as 1,72 miles from landfall in Tahiti. By late today the leader should be more than two-thirds of the way in the 3,571 miles race.

Closest to the leader was Kenneth W. Demeuse's Blackfin, a 73-foot ketch from Hayward, Calif. In third place was Aries, owned by William Ward of Gardena, Calif., which briefly replaced Mir as the leader Saturday.

WINNERS FROM AAU MEET

U.S. Trackmen To Tour Europe

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (UPI)—America's best track and field athletes, determined by the national AAU championships this past weekend, begin a tour of Europe on July 6 with a big dual meet against Russia in Leningrad, everyone's No. 1 target.

Only three NCAA champions were able to also win AAU titles Friday and Saturday and only Ivery Crockett in the 100, Ralph Mann in the 440 hurdles, Bob Seagren in the pole vault and Randy Matson in the shot among 1969 AAU champions were able to make it two in a row.

FADING

Obviously, with the American track and field program now midway between Olympic years, some of the old stars are fading and new ones are emerging to take their places and probably be the nation's representatives when the 1972 Olympic Games open in Munich.

Among that newer category are such as Tom Hill of Arkansas State in the 120 high hurdles, Crockett, Ken Swenson of Kansas State in the 800, John Smith of UCLA in the 440 dash, Howell Michael in the mile, Bill Reilly in the steeplechase and Frank Shorter in the three and six mile runs.

Crockett, who also won at the NCAA championships, took the 100 at the AAU championships but not until after he had survived a protest, while Senson, who also won at the NCAA, scored in 1:47.4 to win the AAU 880.

JAVELIN

The only other NCAA champion toa lso win in the AAU was Bill Skinner of Tennessee in the javelin with a throw of 276-7. The big disappointment in the javelin was American record holder Mark Murro, who finished 11th with a best throw of 237-7 iompared to his all-time best of 300. That, naturally, left him off the team which goes to Europe since only the first three finishers in each event at the AAU championships won a berth.

The tour starts in France, progresses to West Germany and then goes to Russia before stops in the Scandinavian countries.

Crockett, Ben Vaughan of the Army, who lodged the protest, Charlie Green, NCAA champ Eddie Hart and Bob Taylor all were clocked in 9.3 for the 100 with Crockett declared the winner.

BITTER

Vaughan, bitter as he could be with the decision, came back Saturday night to nip NCAA champ Willie Turner and win the 220 in 20.8.

Mann, the world record holder, won the 440 hurdles with ease in 49.8, while Seagren took the pole vault at 17-2 and Matson the shot, with a throw of 67-10 1-4.

Hill whipped Olympic hero Willie Davenport and the veteran Leon Coleman in winning the 124 hurdles in 13.3, while Smith, a 20-year-old soph overlooked on his own team by Wayne Collett and elsewhere by Larry James, Lee Evans and Curtis Mills, turned in the upset of the meet by winning the 440 in 45.7.

Michael, a tough runner from William and Mary, proved another surprise as he won the mile in 4:01.8. Among those who finished in his wake were Marty Liquori, the NCAA champ and America's best miler these days, and the veteran John Mason.

FAVORITES LOSE

Bob Price was the favorite in the 3,000 meter steeplechase and Jack Bachelor the pick in both the three and six mile runs but things didn't turn out that way as Reilly took the steeplechase in 3:34.8, the third fastest time ever by an American, and Shorter won the other two.

Shorter took the three mile in 13,24.2 and was a couple of steps ahead of Bachelor and the apparent winner of the six mile when in a gesture of comradeship he slowed up and extended his hand to Bachelor. The two then crossed the finish line side by said and officially it was delared a dead heat in 27:24.0. The gesture and the two fine performances were not lost on covering newsmen who voted Shorter the meet's outstanding athlete.

Now, it's off to Europe and another shot at the Russians with America's newst stars.

Coaches A-A Football Game Finds A Home

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—American Football Coaches Association officials said Sunday the Coaches All-American football game may stay in the city where 42,150 fans watched the 10th annual game.

"We think, and this year's game would certainly tend to prove it, that we have found a home," said Bill M. Curry, executive director of the AFCA. "We certainly didn't come to Lubbock for a one-year stop.

BE BACK

"As long as we are welcome and treated as royally as we were this year, we'll always be back," he said. "It's hard to believe that crowd."

The performance of the players in the 34-27 East victory Saturday, at least, matched the impressive crowd figures that topped the old attendance high by 5,000 fans.

A total of 10 game records were bettered and two tied during the game. Most Valuable Player Jim Otis of Ohio State set two of them and West quarterback Dennis Shaw of San Diego State set four more.

"I think this game was a tribute to both teams," said Dan Devine, coach of the losing West team. "The 90-degree heat hurt some but the players were in excellent physical condition. They did a remarkable job."

"I've said everywhere I've been, you are all-Americans," said winner Charles McClendon of LSU. "Neither team gave up in this contest. Shoot, we didn't win until the last second and you can't ask for any more than that."

An official for the American Broadcasting Company which televised the game nationally said: "You couldn't have had a better finish if we had written a script and give it to the teams to follow. It was just one of those games people don't walk away from."

The game ended with West on the East's nine yard line. Seconds before Shaw had brought his team downfield from his own 25-yard line to the East three in less than one minute.

The teams together scored 61 points, surpassing the old mark by a touchdown and an extra point. The 34 points by the East tied the record of most points scored by a team. Team records also were set in most yards passing, 384; most yards total offense, 505, and most first downs, 24.

RECORDS

Shaw garnered the total offense record with 376, the most passes ever attempted, 44; most passes completed ever 25, and most yards gained, 384.

Otis carried the ball more times than anyone had, 27, and most yards rushing, 145. Frank Foreman of Michigan State caught two touchdown passes to tie the record for the most points by one player.

Notre Dame's tackle Mike McCoy and Ron Gardin of Arizona were chosen co-receivers of the Ernie Davis Memorial Award.

Races Started October 1870

BALTIMORE (AP) — Organized thoroughbred racing began at the present site of Pimlico race course on Oct. 25, 1870.

However, the Maryland Jockey Club, which operates the track, is 227 years old. It was founded in 1743 at Annapolis.

He Never Misses

DENVER (AP) — Jerry Hendren of Idaho, leading collegiate pass receiver last season who has been signed by the Denver Broncos, started every game for his high school and university football teams—52 straight.

Bob Foster Might Turn Into Heavy

BALTIMORE (UPI) —Bob Foster, discouraged by the small purses he's been getting as light heavyweight champion, is ready to turn his attention to Joe Frazier's heavyweight title.

Foster successfully defended the light heavyweight title Saturday night for the fourth time by knocking out Mark Tessman in the 10th round. After the bout, the 31-year-old champion said he will fight in the heavyweight division, and the decision may cost him his light heavyweight title.

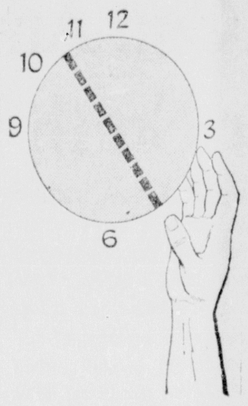
The World Boxing Assocation has ordered Foster to sign for a title bout with No. 1 contender Jimmy Dupree within 30 days. If he fails to meet the deadline, the WBA has threatened to withdraw its recognition of his title.

Football Record

NEW YORK (UPI)—Professional football attendance in 1969 rose to an all-time high of 12,567,501—an average of 47,246 for every game played.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



Get plenty of hook by setting your thumb between the 10 and 11 o'clock position as you prepare to deliver the ball. Then hold it at that angle as you make your follow-through. This places the fingers enough to the side, while still mostly behind the ball, to give you a medium hook at the finish.

FROM GRID TO TRACK

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP) — Sam Brunelli, offensive tackle for the Denver Broncos of the National Football League, is coaching the track team at Mesa Junior College.

Playoffs On Tap In Ruth League

Campbell-Bishop outlasted Bon Air Shell, 10-8 Saturday to win the second half championship in the Central Marin Babe Ruth League. It will meet first half champion KFRC on Wednesday to decide the overall league championship.

The first place Tigers downed the Legionaires, 4-1 in the Northgate League Saturday, and the second place Builders outslugged the Giants, 15-13.

In the Novato league Saturday, the Native Sons defeated the Machinists, 7-3, the Realtors edged the Shamrocks, 9-8 and Pini beat Nave Center, 4-1. Young Brothers shut out the Machinists Sunday, 5-0.

New Coach

Paul Westhead, former assistant coach at St. Joseph's College, is the new head basketball coach at La Salle College in Philadelphia. The Drexel Hill native is 31. He led last season's St. Joseph's freshman team to a 21-2 record.

Risch Wins In Golf Finals

PEBBLE BEACH (UPI)—Bob Risch, a 22-year old strong man from Gardena, today held the California Amateur Golf Championship. But it took the former Trojan golfer 39 holes to shake off a dogged Vic Loustalot, 23, of Sacramento, and win the title.

It was the longest state finals since 1959 when Mac Hunter outlasted former U.S. Open Champ Gene Littler over the same length.

Oddly enough, both Risch and Loustalot were teammates on coach Stan Wood's USC Trojans for two years and both are considered professional tour potentialities.

Risch, who also holds the Southern California Public Links title, won the thriller when he dropped a 32-foot birdie putt on the third extra hole, just after Loustalot had thrilled the largest state gallery in the past 10 years by blasting out of a bunker to within two feet of the hole for his par.

After Loustalot had won the final hole of the 36-hole match to send it into extra holes, the bespectacled Sacramentan put on a Houdini-like display of escape artistry to half the first two extra holes.

Vic went over the first green but made a miraculous approach shot back and dropped a four footer for his par. Then he hit two traps on the par five second hole while Risch was on the green in two. However, Vic dropped a 15-footer for the halving birdie and seemed on his way to another extra hole, when the new champ dropped his putt.

A Milestone For Kentucky

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky's 116 to 86 basketball victory over Georgia last season marked another milestone for the Wildcats.

In addition to being a home floor scoring record for Kentucky, it also marked the 10th time the Cats passed the century mark in their last 24 games against Georgia.

A Four Bagger

Bud Harrelson, New York Met shortstop, hit his first major league home run inside the park in Pittsburgh in 1967. This season he hit a four bagger in Shea Stadium against the Phillies. It was the first Met homer of the season. It came in game No. 8.
